Fourteenth Week in Ordinary Time, Year C, 14° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año C del evangelio de San Lucas July / Julio 6-7, 2019

From Deacon John...

After addressing the difficulties of discipleship, Jesus appoints 72 people to go ahead of him to every town and place he plans to visit, proclaiming that the Kingdom of God is at hand. He sends them in pairs because in the Law of Moses two witnesses were needed for a testimony to be credible. Regardless, it was probably also a safer way to travel. Jesus admits he is sending them out like lambs among wolves. Yet, they are to bring nothing with them, not even money. Their mission is so important that they are to greet no one on the way because the Kingdom of God is at hand.

Después de un lenguaje fuerte acerca de las dificultades del discipulado, Jesús nombró de inmediato a 72 personas para ir por delante de él a cada ciudad y lugar que planea visitar, proclamando que el Reino de Dios está cerca. Los envía en pares porque en la Ley de Moisés se necesitaban dos testigos para que un testimonio fuera creíble. En cualquier caso, probablemente también era una forma más segura de viajar. Jesús admite que los está enviando como corderos entre los lobos. Sin embargo, no deben traer nada con ellos, ni siquiera dinero. Su misión es tan importante que no saludan a nadie en el camino porque el Reino de Dios está cerca.

Question of the Week

Week Fourteen – Luke 10:1-12, 17-20

Key Passage: "Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household.' If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest upon them, but if not, it will return to you." Stay in the same house and eat and drink what is offered to you... eat what is set before you, cure the sick in it and say to them, 'The kingdom of God is at hand for you.'

Question for adults: How can you bring greater peace to your household?

Question for children: How can you bring happiness into your home?

Pregunta de la Semana

14ª Semana--Lucas 10:1-12, 17-20

Pasaje Crucial: Cuando entren en una casa digan: 'Que la paz reine en esta casa'. Y si allí hay gente amante de la paz, el deseo de paz de ustedes se cumplirá; si no, no se cumplirá. Quédense en esa casa. Coman y beban de lo que tengan, porque el trabajador tiene derecho a su salario. No anden de casa en casa. En cualquier ciudad donde entren y los reciban, coman lo que les den. Curen a los enfermos que haya y díganles: 'Ya se acerca a ustedes el Reino de Dios'.

Pregunta para los adultos: ¿Cómo puedes traer mayor paz a tu hogar?

Pregunta para los niños: ¿Cómo puedes llevar la felicidad a tu hogar?

Pope to Ukrainian Greek-Catholics: I hold you in my heart

By Christopher Wells, July 5, 2019

VATICAN CITY (CNS) In his remarks to the leaders of the Ukrainian Greek-Catholic Church, Pope Francis acknowledged the "difficult and delicate situation" in Ukraine, which has suffered more than five years of war in its eastern provinces. The Pope work, and face the risk of searching a more human future elsewhere, far away.

Pope Francis said that each day, in the morning and at night, he looks upon an icon of the Blessed Virgin Mary, presented to him by Major Archbishop Shevchuk.

"It may be said that I begin and end the days 'in Ukrainian', looking at Our Lady," the Holy Father said, ensuring the Bishops that he entrusted them and their churches to "the tenderness of Our Lady, who is Mother."

Pope Francis with the leaders of the Ukrainian Greek-Catholic Church noted the so-called 'hybrid' nature of the conflict, "composed as it is of acts of war in which those responsible camouflage themselves; a conflict where the weakest and the smallest pay the highest price; a conflict aggravated by propagandistic falsifications and by manipulations of various types, also in the attempt to involve in the religious aspect."

"I hold you in my heart"

The Holy Father assured the visiting prelates, "I hold you in my heart, and I pray for you, dear Ukrainian brothers." He said, too, that his prayer goes out for all those affected by the fighting: "I ask of the 'God of all comfort' to comfort the souls of those who have lost their loved ones due to the war; those who bear wounds in their body and in their spirit; those who have had to leave their home and

Witnesses of Christian hope

In the face of "complex situations, caused by the conflicts," Pope Francis said the main role of the Church is "that of offering witness of Christian hope." For this reason, he said, "the priority for believers" should be "that of remaining united to Jesus, our hope." He called on Ukrainians to look to the example of the Saints, who, "in the violent field of history... planted Christ's Cross. And they bore fruit." This way of acting, the Pope said, is a rejection of the "logic of the world, according to which one responds to violence with violence."

Pope Francis encouraged the Pastors to be concerned primarily for prayer, and for the spiritual life of themselves and of their flocks. "It is the first occupation," he said. "No other goes before it."

Fostering a spirit of closeness

He also recommended that the Bishops should be close to their people. "That is what the Lord had asked of His Apostles" on Holy Thursday, the night before He was crucified. "The closeness of the Pastors to the faithful is a channel that is built day by day, and which brings the living water of hope."

In that "spirit of closeness," the Pope recalled the humanitarian initiative in favor of Ukraine. He expressed his gratitude to all who "contributed to the realization of this collection, both on the economic level, and on the organizational and technical levels." The Pope added that he hoped to see other special projects follow the first initiative, which was now substantially concluded. "We cannot forget our brothers and sisters who are suffering, wherever they come from," he said.

Synodality

In addition to "prayer" and "closeness," Pope Francis added, as a third feature of their pastoral activity, the concept of "synodality" – a word, he said, that is already familiar. He highlighted three important aspects of synodality: listening; shared responsibility; and the involvement of the laity. Synodality, the Pope said, "leads to broadening horizons, to living the wealth of one's own tradition within the universality of the Church... The unity in the Church will be far more fruitful, the more the understanding and cohesion between the Holy See and the particular Churches will be real."

Pope Francis concluded his remarks with the hope that the meeting would be a "powerful" time of "sharing, of mutual listening, of free dialogue, always inspired by the search for good, in the spirit of the Gospel."
