We give thanks to God for being ever present to us, even when we confuse our priorities. We lift up to the Lord those who are sick and those who have died. We give thanks to almighty God for providing all peoples their every need. We pray for those who struggle with illness, grief or addiction and we remember those who work to feed, house and clothe the world. May our daily prayer always include those who labor selflessly for our well being and safety, especially our first responders and military.

Eighteenth Week in Ordinary Time, Year C, 18° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año C del evangelio de San Lucas August / Agosto 3-4, 2019

From Deacon John...

"You fool!" is God's response to the wealthy farmer because that very night his life will be taken away. To whom will everything belong then, God asks. The rich man's world is small, just him and his possessions, and now he learns that he is to lose his life. What good are things now? Jesus reminds us this is how it is for everyone who stores up treasure for themselves but is not rich in what matters to God. St. Gregory taught that when we care for the needs of the poor, we are giving them what is theirs, not ours. We are not performing mercy; we are paying a debt of justice. Life does not consist in possessions but in sharing what we are given with others. The earth's goods are God's gifts to everyone.

"Tonto" es la respuesta de Dios al granjero rico porque esa misma noche su vida será arrebatada. A quién pertenecerá todo entonces, Dios pregunta. El mundo del hombre rico es pequeño, solo él y sus posesiones, y ahora se da cuenta de que debe perder la vida. ¿De qué sirven sus posesiones ahora? Jesús nos recuerda que así será para todos los que acumulen tesoros para sí mismos, pero no sean ricos en lo que le importa a Dios. San Gregorio Magno enseñó que cuando nos preocupamos por las necesidades de los pobres, les estamos dando lo que es suyo, no nuestro. No estamos realizando obras de misericordia; estamos pagando una deuda de justicia. La vida no consiste en posesiones sino en compartir lo que se nos da con los demás. Los bienes de la tierra son los regalos de Dios para todos.

Bishop McKnight's August prayer intention for our Local Church

For the education of our youth in the faith. May parents and teachers share their knowledge with gentleness and patience, and may students thirst for knowledge of the things of this world while always pursuing God's wisdom.

Intención del mes de agosto del Obispo McKnight por nuestra Iglesia Local Por la educación en la fe de nuestros jóvenes. Que los padres de familia y maestros puedan compartir su conocimiento con tacto y paciencia, y que los estudiantes tengan sed de conocimiento por las cosas de este mundo, siempre tendiendo a la sabiduría de Dios.

Question of the Week

Week Eighteen – Luke 12:13-21

Key Passage: Then Jesus said to the crowd, "Take care to guard against all greed; for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions."

Question for adults: Life is expensive and demanding. How do you keep your money and your possessions from becoming an overriding concern in your life? Truthfully, what is your life focus.

Question for children: Do you think God cares about how much money or how many clothes, toys and games you have?

Pregunta de la Semana

18° Semana--Lucas 12:13-21

Pasaje Crucial: Y dirigiéndose a la multitud, dijo: "Eviten toda clase de avaricia, porque la vida del hombre no depende de la abundancia de los bienes que posea".

Pregunta para los adultos: La vida es cara y exigente. ¿Cómo evitas que tu dinero y tus posesiones se conviertan en una preocupación primordial en tu vida? A decir verdad, cuál es el enfoque de tu vida.

Pregunta para los niños: ¿Crees que a Dios le importa cuánto dinero o cuánta ropa, juguetes y juegos tienes?

Scalabrinian missionaries decry killing of indigenous leader in Amazon Rainforest

Missionaries in Brazil say the murder of an indigenous leader in the country's rainforest sounds the alarm on recent policies that have opened up protected Amazon territory to mining.

By Linda Bordoni, July 31, 2019

VATICAN CITY (CNS) The Scalabrinian Missionaries in Brazil say the murder of an indigenous leader in the Amazon shines the light on a “truly alarming” situation that allows for the destruction of an extraordinary habitat for economic gain.

ered by the Amazon Rainforest and much of the area is officially protected, but recent government policy has opened the Amazon up to mining and this has led to growing encroachment on indigenous land – especially forests – by miners, loggers and farmers.

Pope Francis greets representatives of indigenous communities of the Amazon basin during a visit to the Peruvian city of Puerto Maldonado in 2018

Emrya Wajãpi, leader of the indigenous Wajãpi people, was killed on July 23 in Amapá, a region in the far north of Brazil, bordering French Guyana.

According to witnesses he was stabbed to death by gold miners who entered the protected reserve of the Wajãpi community.

90% of the Amapá region is cov-

In a statement released after Emrya Wajãpi's murder, Sr. Neusa de Fatima Mariano, superior general of the Scalabrinians, condemned his killing which she described as the “fruit of hate campaigns perpetrated against indigenous peoples.”

Calling it an “operation to destroy the indigenous peoples of Brazil,” Sr Neusa said “It is incredible how today there are exploiters of natural riches who, for their economic interests, have the possibility of entering the northern Amazon Forest and of killing a leader of the Wajãpi community.”

She said they are openly allowed “to invade a territory, destroy a society, and devastate an extraordinary habitat”.

Appeal to support the rights of indigenous people

Sr Neusa went on to declare the support of her Order for a campaign launched by the Brazilian bishops' Indigenous Missionary Council that has forcefully condemned the operation conducted by the government.

She expressed her belief that instead of nurturing hate talk, the Brazilian government should “encourage respect for indigenous peoples, take measures against the 'invasion of their land, uphold their rights”.

Rights monitors have denounced the killing of Emrya Wajãpi and expressed concern that it is part of a global trend of attacks on environmentalists.

Statistics show that in 2018, more than 160 land and environmental defenders were killed—many of them Indigenous.

Pan-Amazon Synod of Bishops

Highlighting both his own, and the universal Church's concern for our common home and for the rights and dignity of all peoples, Pope Francis has called for a Special Assembly for the Amazon of the Synod of Bishops on the theme: Amazonia: New Paths for the Church and for an Integral Ecology.

The assembly will take place in the Vatican in October 2019.
