We give thanks to God for being ever patient with us, even when we neglect our priorities. We lift up to the Lord those who have died, especially Coy Miller, grandson of Jim and Darlene Miller. We pray for those who struggle with disease, illness, grief or addiction. We are especially grateful for those who work to feed, house and clothe the world. Also, may our daily prayer always include those who labor selflessly for our well being and safety, particularly our first responders and military.

Nineteenth Week in Ordinary Time, Year C, 19° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año C del evangelio de San Lucas August / Agosto 10-11, 2019

From Deacon John...

Peter asks if this parable is meant for the apostles or the crowd gathered to listen to Jesus. Without answering, Jesus responds with another parable about awaiting the return of the master. This parable explains how to wait and reminds us of the reward for faithful ones. If it is addressed to the apostles, then it could also be for the leadership in the early Church. Either way, we are reminded that we should be doing our jobs when the master arrives. If so, our reward will be great. But if we neglect our duties, and begin to act like the greedy rich man, eating, drinking, and making merry, we will not have a place in the kingdom. Watchfulness means living in a consistently moral and obedient way.

Pedro pregunta si esta parábola es para los apóstoles o para la multitud que se ha reunido para escuchar a Jesús. Sin responder la pregunta de Pedro, Jesús responde con otra parábola acerca de los sirvientes que esperan el regreso de su amo. Esta parábola explica cómo esperar y nos recuerda la recompensa para el seguidor fiel. Si está dirigido a los apóstoles, entonces también podría estar dirigido al liderazgo en la Iglesia primitiva. De cualquier manera, las parábolas nos recuerdan que deberíamos estar haciendo nuestro trabajo cuando llegue el maestro. Si es así, nuestra recompensa será excelente. Pero si descuidamos nuestros deberes y comenzamos a actuar como el rico codicioso, comiendo, bebiendo y divirtiendonos, no tendremos un lugar en el reino. La vigilancia significa vivir de una manera consistentemente moral y obediente.

Bishop McKnight's August prayer intention for our Local Church

For the education of our youth in the faith. May parents and teachers share their knowledge with gentleness and patience, and may students thirst for knowledge of the things of this world while always pursuing God's wisdom.

Intención del mes de agosto del Obispo McKnight por nuestra Iglesia Local

Por la educación en la fe de nuestros jóvenes. Que los padres de familia
y maestros puedan compartir su
conocimiento con tacto y paciencia,
y que los estudiantes tengan sed
de conocimiento por las cosas de este mundo, siempre tendiendo a la sabiduría de Dios.

Question of the Week

Week Nineteen – Luke 12:32-48

Key Passage: Jesus said to the disciples, “Do not be afraid any longer, little flock, for your Father is pleased to give you the kingdom. Sell your belongings and give alms. Provide money bags for yourselves that do not wear out, an inexhaustible treasure in heaven that no thief can reach nor moth destroy. For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be.”

Question for adults: What treasures do you bring to your household and community?

Question for children: What do you think is treasure besides money?

Pregunta de la Semana

19ª Semana--Lucas 12:32-48

Pasaje Crucial: Jesús dijo a sus discípulos: "No temas, rebañito mío, porque tu Padre ha tenido a bien darte el Reino. Vendan sus bienes y den limosnas. Consíganse unas bolsas que no se destruyan y acumulen en el cielo un tesoro que no se acaba, allá donde no llega el ladrón, ni carcome la polilla. Porque donde está su tesoro, ahí estará su corazón.

Pregunta para los adultos: ¿Qué tesoros traes a tu hogar y comunidad?

Pregunta para los niños: ¿Qué crees que es un tesoro además del dinero?

Surrogacy in any form is morally unacceptable says Indian Catholic scientist

According to Dr. Pascoal Carvalho, the Surrogacy (Regulation) Bill, 2019 passed by India's lower house of parliament on Monday, is morally unacceptable even though it claims to protect women and children.

By Robin Gomes, August 8, 2019

VATICAN CITY (CNS) A bill banning commercial surrogacy was introduced in the upper house of Indian parliament on Monday after gaining the approval of the lower house.

Altruistic surrogacy

The Surrogacy (Regulation) Bill, 2019 allows "ethical altruistic surrogacy" to the intending infertile Indian married couple, between the age of 23 and 50 years for the female and 26 and 55 years for the male.

The Bill says the surrogate mother must be a relative of the couple seeking surrogacy who offers her womb for altruistic motives without any compensation except for medical expenses and her insurance coverage.

Foreigners, Non-Resident Indians (NRI), Person of Indian Origin (PIO) and Overseas Citizens of India (OCI) cannot avail of the provision. Neither can singles, homosexuals, live-in couples, and married couples who already have children.

Also, a woman can be a surrogate only once in her lifetime.

The bill was passed by the lower house in December 2018 but lapsed as it failed to get the approval of the upper house.

Safeguarding women, children?

The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, which framed the Bill, says that the new law will not only protect women from abuse but will also ensure legal rights and protection of children of surrogacy.

The child, thus born, will be deemed to be the legal offspring of the intended couple.

"A rough estimate says there are about 2,000-3000 surrogacy clinics running illegally in the country and a few thousand foreign couples resort to surrogacy practice within India and the whole issue is thoroughly unregulated," Health Minister Dr. Harsh Vardhan said, emphasizing the need to keep a check on surrogacy to prevent exploitation of women.

Surrogacy morally unacceptable

Despite all these claims by the government, any form of surrogacy is morally unacceptable says Dr. Pascoal Carvalho of Mumbai.

The Catholic microbiologist and immunologist, who does scientific research especially in tissue culture, is a member of the Vatican's Pontifical Academy for Life as well as of the Human Life Committee of Bombay Archdiocese.

IVF immoral

Explaining the Catholic teaching regarding the Indian surrogacy bill, Carvalho said that any surrogacy is a

"moral offence". This is because an unethical technique, namely in vitro fertilization (IVF), is used to fertilize an embryo that is implanted into another woman's womb, which is also wrong. Hence, the creation of a child through "unnatural means of conception" is "morally unacceptable" to the Catholic Church.

"The Church," Carvalho said, "cannot condone any act of surrogacy", as the procedure involves the means and techniques that are morally illicit.

Dignity of women

Secondly, the scientist said, people in general who think that surrogate mothers are doing good to families, are mistaken. These women could be exposed to "great danger", especially in joint or extended families, such as in India, where relatives, children and grandparents live together.

In such a situation, where males dominate, Carvalho observed, a woman could be pressurized into surrogacy in favour of another infertile woman in the family.

Moreover, the dignity of women is at stake because surrogacy regards women as "commodities" and instruments, like "renting a machine", to produce babies.

So in every respect, surrogacy is unacceptable and "totally a moral offence" not just against women but also against humanity. "I think all people of sane views", and not just the Catholic Church, would have the same idea.

People at large, Carvalho said, feel the government is doing something good but they don't know the moral implications of the technology involved
