We lift up to the Lord all who have died. We pray for those who struggle with migration, aging, disease, illness, grief or addiction, especially Joe Koenen and Jan Scobee. We are grateful for those who feed, house and clothe the world, and those who labor selflessly for our safety, growth and well being, including our catechists, first responders and military. May we always heed our baptismal call to share the Good News of Jesus Christ to all peoples.

The Second Sunday of Ordinary Time, Year A, El Segundo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año A del evangelio de San Mateo January-Enero 19, 2020

From Deacon John...

John the Baptist sees Jesus approaching and cries out, giving witness about who Jesus is. In John's testimony he says that he saw the Spirit descend upon Jesus. By this sign, John the Baptist knew that Jesus was the one who is to come after him. He uses two titles for Jesus familiar to us. John calls Jesus the "Lamb of God" and the "Son of God." Using these titles, John the Baptist identifies Jesus' ultimate purpose: to redeem sinful humanity. John baptizes with water; Jesus will baptize with the Holy Spirit. The purpose of John's baptism was to make Jesus known to Israel, to prepare for and make known the ministry of the One who was to follow. By our Baptism, we are called to make Jesus known to all the world by our words and by the witness of our lives.

Juan el Bautista ve a Jesús acercarse y grita, dando testimonio de quién es Jesús. En el testimonio de Juan dice que vio al Espíritu descender sobre Jesús. Por esta señal, Juan el Bautista sabía que Jesús era el que vendría después de él. Él usa dos títulos para Jesús que nos son familiares. Juan llama a Jesús el "Cordero de Dios" y el "Hijo de Dios". Utilizando estos títulos, Juan el Bautista identifica el propósito último de Jesús: redimir a la humanidad pecadora. Juan bautiza con agua; Jesús bautizará con el Espíritu Santo. El propósito del bautismo de Juan era dar a conocer a Jesús a Israel, prepararse y dar a conocer el ministerio de Aquel que debía seguir. Por nuestro bautismo, estamos llamados a hacer que Jesús sea conocido en todo el mundo por nuestras palabras y por el testimonio de nuestras vidas.

Pope at Mass: the little prayer that moves God

By Editor, Vatican News, January 16, 2020

During the homily at Mass Thursday morning at the Casa Santa Marta, Pope Francis says that Jesus is close to us, “His compassion will take upon itself our problems, our sins, our interior diseases”.

VATICAN CITY (VNS) Thursday’s Gospel tells how a leper approached Jesus, saying “Lord, if you will, you can make me clean”. In his homily, Pope Francis said that the leper’s request is a simple prayer, “an act of confidence” — but at the same time, “a true challenge”. It is plea that comes from the depths of his heart, which also reveals something about

The leper was able to make this prayer, Pope Francis said, “because he saw how Jesus acted. This man had seen the compassion of Jesus”. Compassion, not pity, is a “refrain in the Gospel” — a common theme seen in the story of the widow of Nain, and in the parables of the Good Samaritan and the Prodigal Son:

Compassion gets involved, it

Pope Francis celebrates Holy Mass at the Casa Santa Marta

Jesus and His compassion for us. Jesus, the Pope said, suffers “with and for us”, He takes the suffering of others upon Himself, comforting them and healing them in the name the love of the Father.

A true challenge

Reflecting on the “simple” story of the healing of the leper, Pope Francis said that the phrase, “If you will...” is a prayer that “gets God’s attention”. “It is a challenge”, he said, “but also an act of confidence: I know that He can do it, and so I entrust myself to Him”.

comes from the heart and gets involved, and it leads you to do something. Compassion is “suffering with”, taking the suffering of the other person upon yourself in order to resolve it, to heal it. And this was the mission of Jesus. Jesus did not come to preach the law and then leave. Jesus came in compassion, that is, to suffer with and for us and to give us life itself. The love of Jesus is so great that compassion led Him precisely to the Cross, to give His life.

Jesus does not wash His hands, but stands beside us

The Pope invited us to repeat “this little phrase” often. Because Jesus has compassion, the Pope explained, “He is capable of involving Himself in our sorrows, in the problems of others”. Jesus, he said, did not come simply to give a few sermons and then return to heaven; not to wash His hands. He came to be close to us, and He remains always at our side.

Pope Francis explained how this expression can be turned into a prayer that we can use every day:

“Lord, if you will, you can heal me; if you will, you can forgive me; if you will, you can help me.” Or, if you want, [you can make it] a little longer: “Lord, I am a sinner, have mercy on me, have compassion on me”. A simple prayer that can be said many times a day. “Lord, I, a sinner, ask you: have mercy on me”. Many times a day, inwardly, from the heart, without saying it out loud: “Lord, if you will, you can; if you will, you can. Have compassion on me”. Repeat this.

A miraculous prayer

The leper, with his simple and “miraculous” prayer, was able to obtain healing thanks to the compassion of Jesus, who loves us despite our sinfulness.

He is not ashamed of us. “O Father, I am a sinner, how can I say this?...” [This is] better! For He came precisely for us sinners, and the greater a sinner you are, the closer the Lord is to you, for He has come for you, the greatest sinner; for me, the greatest sinner; for all of us. Let us make a habit of repeating this prayer, always: “Lord, if you will it, you can do it. If you will it, you can do it”, with confidence that the Lord is close to us; and with His compassion, He will take upon Himself our problems, our sins, our inner diseases, everything.
