Solemnity of All Saints, Year A Solemnidad de Todos Los Santos, el año A Gospel of St. Matthew / El evangelio de San Mateo November / Noviembre 1, 2020

From Deacon John...

An excerpt from the U.S. Bishops' Pastoral Letter on Stewardship. The life of a Christian steward models the life of Jesus. It is challenging and even difficult, yet intense joy comes to those who take the challenge. They learn that "all things work for good for those who love God". After Jesus, we look to Mary as an ideal steward. As the Mother of Christ, she lived her ministry of fidelity and service; she responded generously to the call. We must ask ourselves: Do we also wish to be disciples of Jesus Christ and Christian stewards of our world and our Church? Central to our human and Christian vocations, as well as to the unique vocation each one of us receives from God, is that we be good stewards of the gifts we possess. God gives us this divine-human workshop. The Spirit shows us the way. Stewardship is a part of that journey.

Un extracto de la Carta pastoral sobre corresponsabilidad de los obispos de EE. UU. La vida de un mayordomo cristiano modela la vida de Jesús. Es desafiante e incluso difícil, pero una alegría intensa llega a quienes aceptan el desafío. Aprenden que "a los que aman a Dios, todas las cosas les ayudan a bien". Después de Jesús, miramos a María como una administradora ideal. Como Madre de Cristo, vivió su ministerio con espíritu de fidelidad y servicio; ella respondió generosamente a la llamada. Debemos preguntarnos: ¿Deseamos también ser discípulos de Jesucristo y administradores cristianos de nuestro mundo y nuestra Iglesia? Un aspecto central de nuestras vocaciones humanas y cristianas, así como de la vocación única que cada uno de nosotros recibe de Dios, es ser buenos administradores de los dones que poseemos. Dios nos da este taller divino-humano. El Espíritu nos muestra el camino. La corresponsabilidad es parte de ese viaje.

Background on the Gospel Reading

Every year the Church recalls the example, witness, and prayer of the holy women and men who have been identified by the Church as Saints. These saints are more than just role models; they are family members with whom we continue to share relation, in a bond of prayer, called the Communion of Saints. Every year when we celebrate this day, the Gospel we proclaim recalls for us Jesus' teaching about happiness, the Beatitudes.

We quickly note in this reading that none of those Jesus names as "blessed" or "happy" are expected . . . the poor in spirit, the meek, the persecuted. Jesus' blueprint for happiness reflects little of what the world might call happiness.

What does Jesus mean when he uses the word

"blessed?" This word is sometimes translated as "happy" or "fortunate" or "favored." In other words, Jesus is saying that divine favor is upon those who are poor, who mourn, who are persecuted. This might have been welcome and surprising news to the crowds who heard Jesus that day.

The Beatitudes can be understood as a framework for Christian living. Because of this, it is natural that we proclaim this Gospel on the Feast of All Saints. Saints are people who lived the spirit of the Beatitudes as Jesus lived. On this day, we too are challenged to model our lives on the spirit and promises of the Beatitudes.

Feast of All Souls

On the Feast of All Souls, we pray for the souls of all those who have died. There are many choices of readings for this day, all focusing on our belief in the resurrection of the dead and Jesus' promise of eternal life. The Gospel story of the raising of Lazarus offers us many important insights about this aspect of our faith.

Jesus was good friends with Lazarus and his sisters, Martha and Mary. Lazarus had fallen ill, and Martha and Mary had sent word to Jesus. Jesus delays his journey to them, however, and when he arrives in Bethany, he finds that Lazarus is dead and has been buried for four days.

The scene described at Bethany is a sad one; Lazarus and his family have many friends who have come to mourn his death. Martha goes out to meet Jesus when he arrives. She cries with him, saying that if Jesus had been there, Lazarus would not have died. Yet she remains confident that God will do whatever Jesus asks. Jesus consoles her with the promise that Lazarus would rise from the dead. Martha affirms her belief that there will be resurrection of the dead in the last days. Jesus promises her even more; he says that he himself is the Resurrection and the life for all those who believe in him. Martha professes her faith in this, acknowledging that Jesus is Christ, the Son of God.

This is the profession of faith we continue to make, and it is the promise on which we base our hope for eternal life for ourselves and for all those who have died. In his death and Resurrection, Jesus has conquered death for all those who believe in him.

We believe that we continue to share a relationship with those who have died. When we pray for the souls of the faithful departed, we are praying for those whose souls are journeying through purgatory, being prepared for eternal life in heaven. We believe that our prayers for them will help to speed their journey to eternal life with God in heaven.
