Gospel of St. Matthew / El evangelio de San Mateo

From Deacon John...

Jesus tells the story of a wealthy man about to go on a journey. He calls his servants to "entrust his possessions to them." As Christian stewards, we know that all the gifts we have been given are, in truth, the possessions of our Heavenly Father, who has entrusted them to us for our good and His glory. The master gives to each one commensurate with that servant's abilities. The first two prove to be faithful, doubling what was entrusted to them. The third servant reacted with fear. He hid the master's talent, burying it in the ground. He took the safe and easy way out. What a tragic response! This servant did not understand his master at all. He failed to see the privilege given him to help grow his master's kingdom. This is what our Father wants for us, too, the incredible privilege of helping to advance the coming of the Kingdom of God.

Jesús cuenta la historia de un hombre rico que estaba a punto de emprender un viaje. Llama a sus siervos a "confiarles sus posesiones". Como mayordomos cristianos, sabemos que todos los dones que se nos han dado son, en verdad, las posesiones de nuestro Padre Celestial, quien nos los ha confiado para nuestro bien y Su gloria. El maestro le da a cada uno de acuerdo con las habilidades de ese sirviente. Los dos primeros demuestran ser fieles, duplicando lo que les fue confiado. El tercer sirviente reaccionó con miedo. Escondió el talento del maestro, enterrándolo en el suelo. Tomó el camino fácil y seguro. ¡Qué trágica respuesta! Este sirviente no entendió a su amo en absoluto. No pudo ver el privilegio que se le otorgó para ayudar a hacer crecer el reino de su amo. Esto es lo que nuestro Padre Celestial también quiere para nosotros, el increíble privilegio de ayudar a promover la venida del Reino de Dios.

Background on the Gospel Reading

This week's Gospel speaks of how Jesus' disciples are to conduct themselves as they await the Kingdom of Heaven. In the preceding passages and in last week's Gospel, Jesus taught that there is no way to predict the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven. His disciples must, therefore, remain vigilant and ready to receive the Son of Man at any time.

Jesus' parable talks about Christian discipleship using economic metaphors. Before he leaves on a journey, the master entrusts to his servants a different number of talents, giving to each according to their abilities. A talent is a coin of great value. Upon the master's return, he finds that the first and second servants have doubled their money, and both are rewarded. The third servant, however, has only preserved what was given to him because he was afraid to lose the money. He has risked nothing; he did not even deposit the money in a bank to earn interest. This servant is punished by the master, and his talent is given to the one who brought the greatest return.

Read in light of last week's parable of the wise and foolish bridesmaids, this parable teaches that God's judgment will be based on the service we render to God and to one another in accordance with the gifts that God has given to us. Our gifts, or talents, are given to us for the service of others. If we fail to use these gifts, God's judgment on us will be severe. On the other hand, if we make use of these gifts in service to the Kingdom of Heaven, we will be rewarded and entrusted with even more responsibilities.

This Gospel reminds us that Christian spirituality is not passive or inactive. Our life of prayer helps us to discern the gifts that have been given to us by God. This prayer and discernment ought to lead us to use our gifts in the service of God and our neighbor. God's grace allows us to share in the work of serving the Kingdom of Heaven.

Bishop McKnight's November prayer intention for our Local Church

For a greater sense of gratitude to God for all blessings received, and a greater sense of our responsibility for the mission of the Church in our parishes.

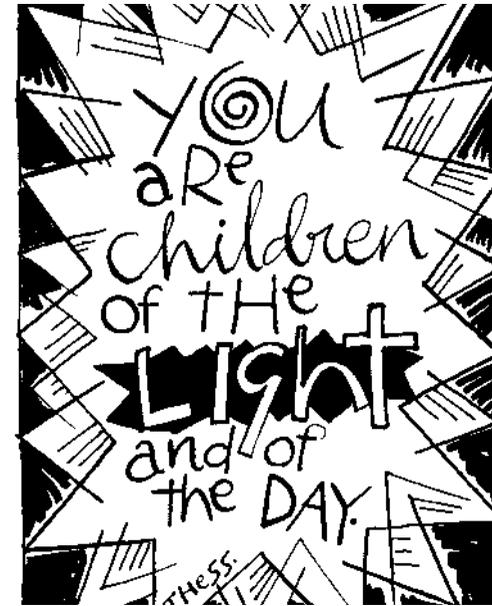

Intención del mes de Noviembre del Obispo McKnight por nuestra Iglesia Local Por un mayor sentido de gratitud a Dios por todas las bendiciones recibidas, y un mayor sentido de nuestra responsabilidad por la misión de la Iglesia en nuestras parroquias.

Family Connection

In today's Gospel, Jesus talks about the correlation between faithfulness and responsibilities. Both family and community life provide many opportunities to demonstrate and illustrate this connection. As an individual's behavior and practice proves someone more trustworthy, it is natural to allow them a greater role or responsibility in our life. Jesus teaches us in this parable that if we show ourselves to be trustworthy in small matters, we can be trusted to participate more fully in other ways. This includes being trusted to share in the work of serving the Kingdom of Heaven where we may now exercise and expand our talents in service to others in a more faithful and trust-worthy manner.

Because of public health regulations, we may not be able to seat everyone who wishes to attend mass. If you have questions, call Deacon John at (660) 265-4110.

We lift up to the Lord all those who have died, may they enjoy the fullness of Christ. As this pandemic continues in our communities, we pray too, for those suffering from illness, disease or stress, especially those touched by this massive public health crisis. May we be strong and persistent in our desire to live our faith. As the gospel reminds us, the kingdom of heaven is an unimaginable reward to be pursued.
