Padre's Corner

Dear family,

There are many people who know the pain of feeling almost invisible. Whether it was because their cries were never heard or because they were labeled and excluded from a group, perhaps even a family, there is a particular sting which comes from feeling unwanted or unlovable. Until someone really sees us and acknowledges our dignity, we may even start to identify with the labels we have been given or by our particular state in life. This is where we meet Bartimaeus in today's Gospel. He's both blind and a beggar, but he has a heart set on heaven, on union with God. As he heard Jesus was passing by, he called out to him in a humble, but confident way, "Jesus, Son of David, have pity on me." He is rebuked and basically told to stop crying out, but we're told he calls out to Jesus all the more! Jesus hears his plea, calls him over, speaks to him and hears his hurt and faith and then heals him, bidding him to become a disciple. Friends, while we can be invisible to many, Jesus sees us for who we are. While others may associate us with our limitations, Jesus sees us as His children, seeing our worth beyond the superficial labels. In this same city where God once tore down walls to proclaim His people's rightful place, He now tears down walls of exclusion and judgments so that all of His children may be seen and appreciated. Bartimaeus was no longer the blind beggar after his encounter with Jesus, he now is able to stand tall as a disciple of the Lord, healed and empowered to be light to others. Jesus always sees you, dear family.

In His Joy, Fr. Daniel
