Fr. Wojciech's Corner -

On June 5th 1999, 20 years ago, Mr. Al McLaughlin was ordained as a Permanent Deacon (all together 26 ordained), and we know him as Deacon Al. He has since served Immaculate Conception Church in Norwood for two years and the rest of those years to our family of OLV. Please join me in Congratulating and Thanking him and his wife Mary Clare and his whole family for the dedicated service to the Church in so many different ways, "on the ladder, under the car" wherever it's needed, Deacon Al is there. For those who are also interested, June 5th 2019, he will be joining his brother deacons at St. Stephen's in Kearny at 12 Noon for a Mass. If anybody would like to be present at that Mass, you are very welcome. Our parish family at OLV wants to thank God and Deacon Al on June 2nd with the Solemn Mass at 12 NOON and reception in the parish gym. God gave us great Deacons, Al and Tom. Blessed be God.

Thank you to all who so faithfully and generously give to different causes, especially to St. Cecilia's food pantry. I invite you to consider two initiatives below.

Open Meeting of the OLV Pro-Life Committee

Anyone interested in developing pro-life activities for our parish is invited to attend an open meeting of the OLV Pro-life Committee on Monday, June 10th at 7:30pm in the Adamcik Meeting Hall. Call Richard Mayer for details at 646-206-4491.

Family Promise of Bergen County

The program that provides assistance to working families with children who are temporarily experiencing homelessness is in need of volunteers. St. Andrew's Episcopal Church graciously acts as host several weeks each year. Please consider joining Sr. Elizabeth and other Harrington Park residents in staffing this remarkable program. For more information contact OLV rectory or Paul Shackford at pshackford@gmail.com or 201-768-6885.

Church Attendance – Fringe Benefits???

Can faithfully attending worship actually raise your income? MIT economist Jonathan Gruber thinks so. In a study, he found that income increases by 10% when people double their church attendance.

Gruber proposes these possible reasons:

- Churchgoers join in fellowship with one another, resulting in social and job networking.
- They support one another during losses and setbacks.
- Such encouragement helps people to do their best in all of life endeavors.
- Churchgoers tend to be less stressed by everyday life, enabling them to work creatively and be more productive.
- Boosting one's bank account isn't the reason most people go to church of course. But it's interesting to note that worshipers reap both spiritual and earthly rewards.

DRAW A REVERENT A WEARNESS

People generally have no real problem wearing proper clothing when entering places that demand such attire. Would you ever consider attending a formal dinner or a wedding dressed in a tee-shirt and shorts, or a tank top and swimming trunks? Why be rebellious in God's house? Yes, it is God's HOUSE, not the shore. Please keep it in mind, especially now in the summer months. Let us be an inspiration for others rather than a distraction. We evangelize also by the way we dress.

EASTER DUTY

The time for fulfilling the Paschal Precept (Easter Duty*) extends from the First Sunday of Lent to the Solemnity of the Holy Trinity, June 16, 2019. *Canon 920, §1. All the faithful, after they have been initiated into the Most Holy Eucharist, are bound by the obligation of receiving Communion at least once a year.

A pastor's prayer to the Good Shepherd

O Christ, my God, you stooped down to me, poor straying sheep, to take me on your shoulders (Lk 15:5) and have set me down in green pastures (Ps 23[22]:2). You have quenched my thirst at the springs of true doctrine through the mediation of your pastors, whose shepherd you were before entrusting to them your flock... And now, O Lord, you have called me... to serve your disciples, by what design of your Providence I know not; only you know.

But, Lord, lighten the heavy burden of those sins of mine that have so gravely offended you; purify my mind and heart. Lead me by the right way (Ps 23[22]:3) as by a light enlightening me. Enable me to proclaim your word boldly; may your Spirit's tongue of flame (Acts 2:3) give perfect freedom to my tongue and make me constantly attentive to your presence.

Be a shepherd to me, O Lord, and together with me be the shepherd of your sheep, that my heart may not cause me to swerve either to right or to left. Let your good Spirit lead me in the right way that my actions may be carried out according to your will – even to the end.

F Y I

Just as a reminder the maintenance envelope, air conditioning, heat, snow removal and parish assessment envelopes 100% of the revenue stays in the parish to address those issues, as does money in the poor box, candle money, and memorials.

Contributions to the first collection, Holy Days and Christmas and Easter, the Archdiocese assesses or takes a 12%-18% cut to fund schools and the diocese.

Mission collections, as well other national collections - Peter's Pence, Communicating God's Word etc., 100% of those collections go to the identified recipient.

Mother Teresa: "Do It Anyway"

People are often unreasonable, irrational, and self-centered.

Forgive them anyway.

If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives.

Be kind anyway.

If you are successful, you will win some unfaithful friends and some genuine enemies.

Succeed anyway.

If you are honest and sincere people may deceive you.

Be honest and sincere anyway.

What you spend years creating, others could destroy overnight.

Create anyway.

If you find serenity and happiness, some may be jealous.

Be happy anyway.

The good you do today, will often be forgotten.

Do good anyway.

Give the best you have, and it will never be enough.

Give your best anyway.

In the final analysis, it is between you and God.

It was never between you and them anyway.

Since "Unplanned" Released, 94 Abortion Clinic Workers Have Said They May Quit Their Jobs

Abby Johnson's powerful conversion story is moving hearts inside the abortion industry. Chuck Konzelman, who is a co-writer/co-director of "Unplanned," the new film detailing Johnson's life, said nearly 100 abortion workers have reached out to them in the past few weeks because they are thinking about quitting, The Western Journal reports. Johnson quit her job at Planned Parenthood a decade ago after watching an ultrasound-guided abortion and seeing the unborn baby fight for its life. Now, she runs a ministry called And Then There Were None, which provides support for abortion industry workers who want to quit. -Micaiah Bilger/Lifenews.com

THE VISITOR

One day, a man went to visit a church, He got there early, parked his car and got out. Another car pulled up near, the driver got out and said, "I always park there! You took my place!" The visitor went inside for Sunday School, found an empty seat and sat down. A young lady from the church approached him and stated, "That's my seat! You took my place!" The visitor was somewhat distressed by this rude welcome, but said nothing. After Sunday School, the visitor went into the sanctuary and sat down. Another member walked up to him and said, "That's where I always sit! You took my place!" The visitor was even more troubled by this treatment, but still he said nothing. Later as the congregation was praying for Christ to dwell among them, the visitor stood up, and his appearance began to change. Horrible scars became visible on his hands and on his sandaled feet. Someone from the congregation noticed him and called out, "What happened to you?" The visitor replied, as his hat became a crown of thorns, and a tear fell from his eye, "I took your place."

Did an Italian youth save an American man's life - from Heaven?

Tall, young, and obviously athletic, Kevin Becker seems a completely normal and healthy man in his late 20s. Yet, little more than seven years ago, Kevin almost died in a debilitating fall. Today, he stands unscathed and with no markings of that injury — a feat he contributes to the miraculous intercession of Bl. Pier Giorgio Frassati and which might lead to Frassati's canonization. There was nothing to betray that, less than 10 years before, the fall had shattered his skull in five places and left him next to dead.

In 2011, the Friday before he was to start his final year at East Stroudsburg University of Pennsylvania, Becker stepped out onto the roof of his two-story college house, a place where he had often spent time. Kevin doesn't remember what brought him to the roof that evening, nor does he remember the fall. He was found on the ground by his friends, his head fractured and his body broken. When Kevin's family received the phone call that their son was in the hospital, comatose and near death, they were told that their son had only a 30 percent chance of survival — a survival that would leave him in a vegetative state.

The doctors explained to his mother that their only option would be to place him in a deeper coma, in the hopes it would reduce brain pressure. The chances of the procedure working and Kevin exiting the coma were near impossible—his survival was left in the hope of a miracle. "On this day, [Kevin's cousin] had had a friend ... who was ordained a Catholic priest," his mother explained, "and at his ordination, he spoke of Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati and shared his story with her and the congregation." "And she said, 'Well, he's a young athlete,'" she continued, "...well, maybe he [Kevin] could be the miracle for him to become a saint." That day, Kevin's family began a novena to Frassati and placed an image of the young man in Kevin's room. "On this day, he stabilized," said his mother. By day three of the novena, Kevin was able to open his eyes. By day 13, he was released from the ICU, walking and talking — he who, little more than a week earlier, was expected to be perpetually comatose, at best. The doctors were dumbfounded; even then, talk circulated about a miracle. Kevin was talking, too, though about an angel, not a miracle.

While his family was rushing to the hospital, Kevin recalled waking up in what appeared to be his college house. There was, however, one large difference—a man whom Kevin had never met before. "I'm your new roommate," Kevin recalled the man saying, whom he later described as an angel. "My name is George." With George's help, Kevin went about putting his house in order — building furniture, painting walls, and other moving activities. During breaks, he and George would play some video games. All of this happened in what Kevin described as one unending day — a day that slowly drove Kevin stir-crazy. He attempted to leave the house, but was stopped by George. "I will let you know when it is safe to leave."

The next thing Kevin remembers is waking up at the hospital, unsure where he was or how he got there. He was out of the coma, stable, and on his way back to full and miraculous health. A week after being dismissed from the ICU, Kevin returned home, a full bill of health absent the broken bones still mending. The doctors were flabbergasted, but to Kevin it all made sense — he had been accompanied by his angel, by George, about whom he spoke incessantly to both his mother and younger brother. Kevin continued discussion of this angel who had accompanied him throughout his recovery, which spurred a thought in his mother's mind.

"Finally, I kind of thought about it, and I thought of Pier Giorgio," his mother said. "And I said to Kevin, 'Kev, if I showed you a picture of this angel, do you think you could put a face to it?'" She found the image of Frassati, the one that had been placed in the ICU unit, and showed it to Kevin for the first time. "The picture was out in the ICU unit, but once we left the ICU unit, the picture went away. We didn't have room for it in the step-down unit," his mother explained, "so he really didn't see it."

"That's the son of a b**** who was with me. That's him," Kevin allegedly stated, still frustrated that "George," now identified as Frassati, had kept him cooped up in an ephemeral house for so long. (cont'd next column)

Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati

Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati (cont'd) ...

This identification solidified for both Kevin and his mother what many were already suspecting — Kevin's miraculous healing came through the intercession of Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati. In thanksgiving for the perceived miracle, Kevin and his mother now travel around the country - to parishes, schools, youth groups, anyone who will listen - to tell their story and spread devotion to Frassati.

Giorgio was, in many ways, like Kevin. He, too, was young, college-educated, and exceptionally athletic — mountain climbing was one of his favorite activities. He also loved Dante, the theater, and the opera, and was active in a political movement known as the "People's Party," which based its political ideas on Pope Leo XIII's encyclical Rerum novarum ("Of the New Things").

More than all of these pastimes, Frassati had an intense love for others, filling up his little free time with service to the poor of Turin. FrassatiUSA, the official U.S. website for his cause, claims that, "just before receiving his university degree, Pier Giorgio contracted poliomyelitis, which doctors later speculated he caught from the sick whom he tended." At his funeral, the multitude of poor and needy whom Frassati has served with love lined the streets of the city.

In 1990, St. Pope John Paul II beatified Frassati. During the beatification ceremony, he cited the young man's intense faith and prayer life as the foundation of his holiness and charity: "The secret of his apostolic zeal and holiness is to be sought in the ascetical and spiritual journey which he traveled," the pope said, "in prayer, in persevering adoration, even at night, of the Blessed Sacrament, in his thirst for the Word of God, which he sought in biblical texts; in the peaceful acceptance of life's difficulties, in family life as well; in chastity lived as a cheerful, uncompromising discipline; in his daily love of silence and life's 'ordinariness.'"

In 1981, Frassati's remains were exhumed and found to be incorrupt, interpreted by many faithful as a sign of his sanctity. His body was then moved to the cathedral in Turin, and his remains often travel to the site of World Youth Day, of which John Paul named him patron.

The story of Frassati has captured the attention and devotion of more than just Kevin and his mother. In 2017 more than 1,500 people from more than 50 countries petitioned Pope Francis to canonize the young man.

Though Frassati is, as of yet, not a saint, Kevin and his mother have hope that he soon will be - thanks to his intercession for Kevin's miraculous healing. All documentation of Kevin's injuries and miraculous healings have been submitted to the Vatican's Congregation for the Causes of the Saints.

(EN)TRUSTING HANDS

A little girl and her father were crossing a bridge. The father was kind of scared so he asked his little daughter: "Sweetheart, please hold my hand so that you don't fall into the river." The little girl said: "No, Dad. You hold my hand." "What's the difference?" Asked the puzzled father. "There's a big difference," replied the little girl. "If I hold your hand and something happens to me, chances are that I may let your hand go. But if you hold my hand, I know for sure that no matter what happens, you will never let my hand go." In any relationship, the essence of trust is not in its bind, but in its bond. So hold the hand of the person whom you love rather than expecting them to hold yours...

DID YOU KNOW?

The Solemnity of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus recalls Christ's love for us. Here are five facts that you may not know about this important feast of Our Lord.

1. The devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus took centuries to become a universal celebration. Devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus goes back to the 11th century. St. Margaret Mary Alacoque had multiple visions of the Sacred Heart between 1673 and 1675. However, it wasn't until 90 years later in 1765, that the feast was officially celebrated in France. In 1856, Pope Pius IX made the feast of the Sacred Heart into a universal celebration.

2. The first feast of the Sacred Heart was actually celebrated in 1670. Even before St. Margaret Mary Alacoque had her visions of the Sacred Heart there was a recorded celebration of this feast. St. Jean Eudes composed the first Office and Mass of the Sacred Heart. The first feast of the Sacred Heart was celebrated on Aug. 31, 1670 in Rennes, France.

3. The feast takes place on the 19th day after Pentecost. The feast of the Sacred Heart is scheduled to be celebrated on the Friday after the octave (eighth day) of the feast of Corpus Christi. Corpus Christi is traditionally the Thursday after Trinity Sunday. However, in the United States, Corpus Christi is instead celebrated on the following Sunday. Despite this, the feast of the Sacred Heart still takes place 19 days after Pentecost.

4. Jesus made 12 promises to those who honor the Sacred Heart to St. Margaret Mary Alacoque:

1. I will give them all the graces necessary for their state in life.
2. I will establish peace in their families.
3. I will comfort them in their trials.
4. I will be their secure refuge during life, and, above all, in death.
5. I will shed abundant blessings on all their undertakings.
6. Sinners will find in My Heart an infinite ocean of mercy.
7. Lukewarm souls will become fervent.
8. Fervent souls will rapidly grow in holiness and perfection.
9. I will bless every place where an image of My Heart shall be exposed and honored.
10. I will give to priests the gift of touching the most hardened hearts.
11. The names of those who promote this devotion will be written in My Heart, never to be blotted out.
12. I promise thee, in the excessive mercy of My Heart, that My all-powerful love will grant to all those who receive Holy Communion on the First Friday of nine consecutive months, the grace of final penitence; they shall not die in My disgrace nor without receiving their Sacraments; My Divine Heart shall be their safe refuge in this last moment.

5. Congregations, states, and groups are consecrated to the Sacred Heart. In 1873, President Gabriel Garcia Moreno issued a petition that led to Ecuador becoming the first country consecrated to the Sacred Heart.

A Little Humor...

A priest was talking to a group of kids about "being good" and going to heaven. At the end of his talk, he asked, "Where do you want to go?" "Heaven! Heaven!" Yelled Little Lisa. "And what do you have to be to get there?" asked the priest. "Dead!" Yelled Little Johnny.

The Sacred Heart beat inside the chest of St. Lutgarde

In the 1200s, St. Lutgarde was visited in a vision by Christ Himself. During the vision, Christ offered St. Lutgarde whatever she wished. She requested a simple gift: to understand the Latin language better so that she could worship Christ in a more full way.

The grace of learning was given to her, but St. Lutgarde returned to Christ feeling empty and requested a gift exchange of sorts. Christ asked what He could replace the gift with and St. Lutgarde requested Christ's heart. So Christ reached into Lutgarde's chest, removed her heart and replaced it with His own Sacred Heart.

Pope Innocent VI instituted a Mass that honored the Sacred Heart of Jesus in 1353 AD. The most recent affirmation of this devotion came from Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, when in 2006, he re-affirmed the devotion in a letter to Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach, Superior General of the Society of Jesus.

The Other Way Around

In a novel called, "Caught in That Music," a woman named Debbie is going to marry a man named Norman. Debbie's brother Jonas doesn't like Norman. He thinks Norman is dull, cold, disagreeable and unworthy of his sister. Debbie tells her brother to be more tolerant and tries to explain why. She says, "Nothing is ever completely the way you think it is, or the way you'd like it to be. I didn't love Norman right away. He loved me -- so much that I wished I could love him in return. Some people have to see love before they can love." "Is that the way it works?" Jonas asks. "Because he loves you, you love him?" Debbie replies, "Because I am loved, I see what you don't see."

It is not science that redeems man: man is redeemed by love.

This applies even in terms of this present world. When someone has the experience of a great love in his life, this is a moment of "redemption" which gives a new meaning to his life. But soon he will also realize that the love bestowed upon him cannot by itself resolve the question of his life. It is a love that remains fragile. It can be destroyed by death. The human being needs unconditional love. He needs the certainty which makes him say: "neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Rom 8:38-39). If this absolute love exists, with its absolute certainty, then - only then - is man "redeemed", whatever should happen to him in his particular circumstances. This is what it means to say: Jesus Christ has "redeemed" us. Through him we have become certain of God, a God who is not a remote "first cause" of the world, because his only-begotten Son has become man and of him everyone can say: "I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me" (Gal 2:20). — Benedict XVI, pope from 2005 to 2013, Encyclical "Spe Salvi", § 26 (© copyright Libreria Editrice Vaticana)
