The Ascension of the Lord

May 8, 2016
Dear Friends,

Below is a copy of the letter which was sent on April 5 to Mayor McLeod regarding the sprinkling of St. Hubert School. I believe it is important for you to know what we are planning to do.

However, we also have two major happenings at St. Hubert this weekend. First, we thank God for the gift of Mothers, and we wish all Mothers a very Happy Mother’s Day. May God bless them with joyful hearts and peaceful spirits.

We also congratulate our Communicants who are receiving First Communion on Saturday, May 7, and pray that they find great joy in this day and remain close to Jesus throughout their lives.

April 5, 2016

Mayor William D. McLeod
Village of Hoffman Estates
Hoffman Estates Village Hall
1900 Hassell Rd.
Hoffman Estates, IL 60169

Dear Mayor McLeod:

I understand that the Village has decided to resurrect the Fire Sprinkler ordinance, which would include our school building. We received the letter toward the end of 2015.

Since that time, we have been diligently seeking bids for this project. This process is going much slower than we anticipated, primarily because companies do not return calls or submit their bids in a timely manner. Furthermore, I must receive the permission from the Archdiocese of Chicago before I sign any contract.

We have discovered that we will have to remove asbestos which will take about 2 months. The school must be completely shut down during this work. Obviously, this can be done only during the summer, preferably from June 7 to August 7.

In addition, we have discovered that the Archdiocese is requiring us to attend three sessions of three hours each for homeland security to make our campus more secure.

Since this is coinciding with sprinkling our school, our intent is to move forward with this project and make it more comprehensive. Specifically, we want to hire a project manager to develop a scope of work which would include asbestos removal, fire suppression (sprinklers) and whatever we can do with the recommendations from Homeland Security.

I am hoping to get funding from three possible sources: a federal grant, if that exists; the Archdiocese of Chicago, since they own the property; and a fundraising campaign in the parish.

Our goal is to work with your office and the Fire Department of Hoffman Estates so that we can better protect our children, parishioners, employees, and property.

I will keep you informed as to the progress of this endeavor.

Thank you for your support and all you do for the people of Hoffman Estates.

Sincerely,

Rev. Robert C. Rizzo

JUBILEE OF MERCY
RESTORE

God’s mercy restores us. What had been lost comes back to us restored. This is a great source of our hope: in God’s mercy, nothing is ever irrevocably lost. Jesus asked him, “What do you want me to do for you?” He said, “Lord, let me see again.” Jesus said to him, “Receive your sight; your faith has saved you.” (Luke 18:40–42)

Ascension of the Lord

"They did him homage and then returned to Jerusalem with great joy." Jesus had just left the disciples. In a dramatic and supernatural moment, he had bid them farewell and then "was taken up to heaven." One might think this departure would have left the disciples feeling very melancholy, but apparently it was not so. They were full of joy as they went back to the city where Jesus had told them to stay, "until you are clothed with power from on high."

This, of course, is a reference to the coming of the Holy Spirit that would happen soon enough at Pentecost. But the disciples did not know the details. They only knew that Jesus was promising them the "Advocate" and some amazing power from heaven, and sending them off with a great mission to preach "repentance, for the forgiveness of sins... to all the nations." And this filled them with joy, even while they waited.

What we often need to remind ourselves is that after the Ascension, the disciples were in a very similar position to us. They were no longer in the physical presence of Jesus. They no longer walked with him, watched him, or heard his voice. Now, carrying on the work of the Gospel was up to them.

And so too, now it is up to us. The mission of preaching the good news to all the nations is our mission. And, thankfully, the powerful "clothing" from on high is ours as well.

So, like the disciples we have cause for rejoicing. Jesus reigns in heaven. His Spirit has come upon us. And we are entrusted with the most noble and rewarding task of all, to share our faith with others and bring them to experience the joys of belonging to the kingdom of God.

The Ascension of the Lord: When do we celebrate?

We know that the celebration of Easter is the oldest yearly festival of the Church. In the earliest times of the Church, once a year at Passover time, Christians celebrated the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus. Although they expected his imminent return, they recalled his promise to send the Holy Spirit to guide them.

During the last few weeks, we’ve listened to stories of Jesus as the shepherd, the true vine, and the risen one who stood among his disciples and ate with them. Feasts that celebrated Jesus’ life and who he is for us—Christ the King, The Body and Blood, a person of the Trinity—these were introduced into our calendar gradually. In the late fourth century, Christians began to celebrate a day in memory of the Ascension of the Lord. In many places, this was celebrated on the fortieth day of the Easter feast—40 being a significant number in Hebrew storytelling. We recall naming the feast Ascension Thursday since the 40th day fell on a Thursday. Catholic Christians observed this day as one of holy obligation, attending Mass on Ascension Thursday.

In recent years, observance with Mass attendance fell in number among Catholic Christians. The bishops of the United States conference made the decision to move the observance of the Ascension of the Lord to the 7th Sunday of Easter. Perhaps, more important than which day of the week on which it occurs, is what is being celebrated—the presence of Christ without human form. This day is not about Christ being absent from us, for we have been assured that he will be with us always. In faith, we know that we too, will rise with Christ and into eternal life. What greater sign than Jesus ascending to God for eternity?

The readings for today are from the Ascension: Acts 1: 1-11; Ephesians 1: 17-23; and Luke 24: 46-53. Of course, the readings of the Seventh Sunday offered much for our reflection on what it means to be a follower of Jesus. Spend time with these scriptures, too.
Mother's Day Blessing

The Synod on the Family was last October, and we now wait for Pope Francis to release his statement on what to do to strengthen the family in the twenty-first century. Many say that the family is under attack and we need to focus more intently on family values. It is a central role of mother that draws family together. As we celebrate the tradition of Mother’s Day, let us pray for our mothers, both living and deceased.

Let us pray...

Good and gracious God, creator of all good things in the universe, your Son, Jesus Christ, loved his Mother and modeled for us how we should love our mothers.

Bless all the women in our lives who model for us the love of a mother. Protect them and encourage them to love as you have loved us.

Bless and protect those men in families who have no female partners and give them courage and strength to love their children in the absence of a mother.

We ask all this in your name.

Amen.

Baptism Ministers

The Baptism team needs help! We need extra hands to help with Sunday Baptisms. It will not take a lot of your time and I promise you will find it rewarding.

Time/Talent Needs:

Baptismal Ministers provide a climate of hospitality for the parents of the babies coming for baptism, as well as their relatives and friends. These ministers also assist the priest or deacon, as necessary.

Qualifications:

A sense of hospitality. An ability to make others feel comfortable and welcome. A love for children.

Training will be provided on the baptismal ritual and theology, as well as the opportunity to observe a couple of Sunday afternoon baptisms.

Level of Commitment:

Baptismal Ministers are scheduled in teams of 2 based on their availability. Baptisms take place every other Sunday afternoon at 1:30 PM, except during the Lenten season. This amounts to attending a baptism once every six weeks.

Contact:

Please contact Mike Keenan at 847-885-7703 or mkeenan@sainthubert.org.

Why did Jesus ascend to heaven? Imagine how readily people would have converted if he had resumed his public ministry after his resurrection.

However, God's salvation plan for the world was much bigger than that. While Jesus walked the earth, he was but one man. Afterward, by giving himself in the Eucharist to his disciples, he became every human who takes this Sacrament seriously. When we receive Jesus in the Eucharist, we unite ourselves to his mission. In every eucharistic liturgy, we are "commissioned" (i.e., placed into mission with Jesus) to continue the ministry he began.

Before Jesus ascended to heaven, he commissioned every disciple — including you — for this task. And it is renewed during every Mass.

It's a difficult mission. Humanly we are quite inadequate, so Jesus gave us his Holy Spirit. By uniting our spirit to his Spirit and then relying on God in every situation, adequacy is not the question. It's willingness. Are we willing to put time, effort and spiritual growth into being Christ's hands and voice for the world?

Because Jesus ascended to heaven, he has no hands but our hands, and he has no voice but our voice. Are you unhappy about the evils that exist in this world? God has great plans to bring his kingdom into these situations. Are you concerned about the abuses you see? Immorality on television? Injustices in your workplace? Divisions in your parish or hurtful behavior in your leaders? Jesus is far more disturbed by those evils than you are. However, he has no hands but your hands, and he has no voice but your voice.

Ever since Jesus ascended into heaven and sent his Holy Spirit to earth, God has chosen to minister to the world through us, first in our homes, then in our parishes and work-places and play-places.

Lord Jesus, fill me with the presence of Your Holy Spirit and with the gifts You want me to use. Show me when and how to use these charisms. And help me to overcome my pride and fears and any other sins that are holding me back from the works that You are calling me to do. I want to be Your hands, Your feet, and Your voice, Lord Jesus. Amen!

Reflect & Discuss:
1. What thresholds or new beginnings are you facing?
2. How are these opportunities for the continuation of the ministry of Jesus?
3. In what ways are you doing the works of Jesus?
4. Which parish ministries could use your gifts and talents?
5. How do you rely on the Holy Spirit to get it done?
Someone needs to write a book with one of these titles: The Metaphysics of a Goodbye, The Anatomy of a Farewell, The Pain of Moving On, or, better still, A Spirituality of the Ascension. Why such a book?

Because we experience many painful goodbyes in life. There are so many times when someone we love has to go away, or we have to go away. There are many times when, for whatever reason, someone has to move on and irrevocably change a relationship. Almost always this is painful, sometimes so painful that it leaves us feeling restless and empty, as if all the color, energy, and joy have gone out of our lives.

But, as we know, usually this isn’t the end of the story. Most of the time, after the restless, dark heartache of a painful goodbye has worn off, we experience the opposite, a deep joy in sensing now our loved one’s presence in a different way.

Parents, for example, experience this when their children grow up and leave home to start lives of their own. At first, when a child leaves home to go to college, to get married, or to take a job elsewhere, we are often left with a restless heartache that leaves us feeling empty. But, after a while, especially when our child, in the full bloom of adulthood, comes back to visit us our heartache can just as quickly disappear because our loved one, now no longer a child, can offer us a richer love and presence than he or she could when they were little. The pain of losing someone turns into the joy of finding something deeper in the one whom we thought we had lost.

When Jesus was preparing his disciples for his ascension, he told them: “It is better for you that I go away! You won’t understand this now. You will grieve and have heavy hearts, but, later, this will turn to joy and you will understand why I have to do this because, unless I go away, I can’t send you my spirit.”

These are the unspoken words that children say to their parents when they leave home to begin lives of their own; these are the unspoken words we say to our friends when we have to move on from a certain circle of friendship to get married; these are the unspoken words spouses sometimes say to each other when they have to grow in ways that, at the end of the day, will make their marriage stronger, but which, on a given day, leave their partner with a heartache; and these are the unspoken words we say to each other every time we have to say a goodbye, even if it’s just to go off to work for the day: “It is better for you that I go away, even if there is sorrow now!”

The paradoxical interplay of presence and absence in love is a great mystery. We need to be present to each other physically, but we also need to be gone from each other at times. We bring a blessing both when we visit someone and when leave after the visit is over. Presence is partly predicated on absence and there is something of our spirit that we can only give by going away. Why is this so?

Because absence is sometimes the only thing that can purify presence. When we are physically present, there are always certain tensions, irritations, disappointments, flaws in our bodies, and faults in our character that partially block full love and blessing. That’s why we rarely appreciate our loved ones fully, until they are taken away from us.

Absence can help wash clean. What the pain of absence does is stretch our hearts so that the essence, the beauty, the love, and the gift of the one who is absent can flow to us without being colored by the tensions, disappointments, and the flaws of everyday life. As well, the other’s absence can work to stretch our hearts so that we can receive him or her in a way that more fully accepts and respects who he or she really is. That’s why our children have to go away (and we have to feel that bitter heartache) before we can accept that they are no longer children, but adults like ourselves, with lives of their own.

The mystery of saying goodbye is really the mystery of the Ascension, the most under-understood mystery both inside and outside of religion. The Ascension is about going away so that our loved ones can fully receive our spirit. It’s about the mystery of saying goodbye, when goodbye isn’t really goodbye at all, but only love’s way of taking on a different modality so that it can be present in a way that’s deeper, purer, more permanent, less-clinging, and less-limited by the tensions, disappointments, inadequacies, wounds, and betrayals that, this side of eternity, forever make our intimacy a work in progress.

MONTH 5 – Developing Baby
“Mommy felt me kick today!”

Spiritual Adoption Program

Your spiritually adopted baby weighs over one pound now, and his mother can feel his movement. Before this time he was too small for her to feel. Although he swam with ease in his watery world, he needed to be big and strong enough to kick hard against the outside wall and dent it – - the inside wall of the uterus has little feeling.

We are mid-way through the pregnancy now. Your prayers have helped your baby’s mother continue with her pregnancy and seek the help she needs.
