Jesus said to his disciples: “I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing!” - Lk 12:49
Dear Friends,

Our teachers have been preparing their classrooms for the beginning of the school year on August 22. The school was cleaned during the summer to prepare for the new school year. We are in the process of negotiating with the Archdiocese about the sprinkling of our school. This is mandated by the Village of Hoffman Estates. Hopefully, this work will be done next summer.

Anyone who has retrofitted or made any improvements on their home know that almost always there is more work involved than the first task at hand. You may want to get a new vanity in the bathroom and discover that you need new plumbing and new drywall, which involves painting, etc. We are facing a similar thing with the installation of a sprinkling system. It involves the removal of asbestos, new ceiling tiles and light fixtures, at least in the corridors. Of course, because of the complexity of the job, we need permits, a contractor, sub-contractors, and consultation with an engineer, etc. This has pushed the price tag to more than $1 million. Presently, I am waiting for direction from the Archdiocese on how to proceed. Please pray that we can proceed smoothly with this enormous project.

As you read this article, the sharing parish picnic will be over. Each year, we celebrate with the people of St. Aloysius and also concelebrate the 4:30 Mass with their Pastor. As of July 1, they have a new Pastor, Fr. Claudio Diaz, who agreed to preach at that Mass. Here is his brief bio and photo of Fr. Diaz.

Rev. Robert C. Rizzo

Fr. Claudio was born in Brooklyn, New York. He is the oldest son born to the Diaz family. He attended school at the University of Puerto Rico from 1980 to 1984 where he studied Hispanic Studies and Comparative Literature.

He was ordained a priest for the Archdioceses of Chicago on May 20th, 2000. In June of 2004 he was appointed by Francis Cardinal George to be the Director of Hispanic Ministry for the Archdiocese of Chicago.

He was the Vice-president of the National Association of Hispanic Priests of the United States also know as ANSH (Asociación Nacional de Sacerdotes Hispanos) from 2009 to 2013. He is part the faculty at the Instituto de Liderazgo Pastoral, located at Mundelein Seminary, where he teaches Liturgy, Homiletics and Pastoral Theology.

He is regularly invited to offer retreats locally, nationally and internationally and continues in his commitment to Hispanic communities, youth and faith formation.

20th Sunday in Ordinary Time
"From now on a household of five will be divided, three against two and two against three." What a sad image Jesus paints in today's Gospel. Causing family strife--fathers against sons and mothers against daughters--is not the effect we like to imagine Jesus having on people. But as he says today, "Do you think that I have come to establish peace on the earth? No, I tell you, but rather division." The fact is, and always has been, that not everyone chooses to follow Christ. This causes conflict.

Perhaps it is most tragic when this tension takes place within families. When certain members of the family desire to live a full Christian life, to follow the commandments and worship God as he asks, this can be irritating at best and infuriating at worst to other family members who want nothing to do with Jesus or his church. But faith must persist in spite of domestic turmoil. Following Jesus is the ultimate good; preserving peace is secondary. In a sense, today's Gospel gives faithful Christians permission to move forward in their faith even if it doesn't make everybody happy.

However, all of this needs to be understood in the light of Jesus' desire to bring peace. He often used the greeting, "Peace be with you," and clearly promised peace to his disciples. Today's Gospel should not be taken to mean that Jesus desires division. Rather, he is acknowledging the fact that division will inevitably result as people declare their differing allegiances. But thankfully, when we align ourselves with Christ, we are also uniting ourselves to the One who can restore peace even in the midst of conflict. So when we see turmoil arise, let's call upon the power of the true Prince of Peace.

Everyday Stewardship
Politics and religion are supposed to be two topics you never bring up at family gatherings. These topics too often seem to drive wedges between people who love each other. It would be easier to talk about pop culture and other frivolous topics. I remember when I was a teenager my uncle became a born-again Christian. Suddenly, his siblings wanted to talk to him less. When there was the rare family gathering, great effort was put into bringing up topics of less substance so as to crowd out of the conversation of his take on faith.

But that seems pretty unfortunate. In fact, faith seems like the most important topic to bring up with those you love. Jesus knew his message would bring division and conflict to many a household. Fear of conflict was not to be a reason for not sharing one's faith. It is through our witness and testimony that others see what a difference Jesus makes in life.

Perhaps the best way of giving witness is by how we live our lives. If we are striving to live an authentic stewardship way of life, we will be speaking volumes about faith without saying a word. We need to share with family our journey because we love them.

My uncle had found a path, but he wanted to forcibly tell everyone what he or she needed to do, rather than simply demonstrate that through his actions. Will the good news of Jesus Christ sometimes cause a rift in the fabric of a family? Yes, because the way of the cross is not easy. But if at the next family gathering you take the time to give of yourself freely and completely to those around you, then those you love may take notice and may want to know the reason for your generosity and graciousness.

Parents and Children are coming back to the Church!

Families have heard God’s call and want to reconnect to the life of the church and Children’s Ministry of Initiation (CMI) is here to help them.

We are in need of a Catechist to work with adults/parents in CMI on Sunday mornings. If you are willing to share your faith and journey with these families as their children complete their sacraments, then call today and explore this idea a bit further.

Contact Marie Staffa at 847 885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainhubert.org. We begin in October. You would meet with the parents after the 9:00 AM Mass. It is not every Sunday, so it allows for a little flexibility.

For Adults interested in becoming Catholic

RCIA stands for Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults. RCIA is the process whereby adults may be initiated into and fully enter the Catholic Church. It is for non-Catholics who may be considering joining the Church, and also for Catholics who have not completed their own sacraments of Initiation.

Practicing Catholics are needed in this ministry to share in the RCIA experience as sponsors and team members.

For more information contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainhubert.org.

The Year of Mercy – A time for JOY

Fear. Guilt. Shame. Break free from these negatives and cultivate spiritual joy as we move through this Year of Mercy. That’s the message of Father Fred Licciardi C.PP.S. as the Catholic Minds – Catholic Matters Speakers Series returns August 10, 17, and 24. A dynamic, engaging speaker, Father Fred is associate pastor at St. Hubert.

Sessions are 7:00 to 8:30 PM in the lower level of the church. They are presented by the parish’s Catholic Adult Formation and Education (CAFÉ) ministry.

While the programs are free, registration ensures seating and refreshments for the group. However, walk-ins are always welcome. To register or for information, phone 847-885-7700, ext. 101 or e-mail speakersseries@sainthubert.org.

JUBILEE OF MERCY

RESOLVE

Once the mercy of God really and truly takes hold in our lives, we know clearly what we must do. We resolve to live now in light of that mercy. We cannot carry on as before, when we did not fully know or grasp the dimensions of God’s mercy.

“Look, half of my possessions, Lord, I will give to the poor; and if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I will pay back four times as much.” (Luke 19:8)

20th Sunday of Ordinary Time

In the Gospel reading, Jesus says that he did not come to bring peace to earth. He came to light a fire. The fire that he longed for with great anguish was the presence of the Holy Spirit alive and active within each of his followers. This is what changes the world. This is what brings lasting peace, first within us and then flowing out from us.

The Holy Spirit is a fire that purifies us from impurities — the unloving behaviors and attitudes — that cause disharmony, disunity, conflicts and war. This purification makes us capable of feeling peaceful even in the midst of trials and attacks from others. This is what makes us channels of God’s peace in a world that desperately needs it. If you do not yet feel the fire of the Holy Spirit impassing you to spread the peace of Christ, Jesus feels anguish over you.

Think of the evil around you that you’ve been wishing would stop. What does Jesus want you to do about it? What impurities in your own spirit needs to be burned off by the fire of the Holy Spirit so you can overshadow the evil with divine goodness? Look at what Jesus had to do. What baptism was he talking about? Not the water baptism he’d already received. It was the baptism of painful self-sacrifice, which he willingly accepted in order to rescue us from evil.

To stop evil, we have to become like Jesus. Our willingness to make sacrifices for others is a sign of Christian maturity. We should be burning with so much love that we are not happy unless we’re pouring our hearts and souls into works and prayers that to make a difference in someone else’s ability to receive eternal peace.

Jesus noted that this fire divides households. It divides us from anyone who remains self-centered and unwilling to make sacrifices that will lead to peace. Nevertheless, we must continue to give them love. This heats up the fire within us, which purifies us further. And gradually, the world changes.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Who has "burnt" you? What pain has been inflicted on you by others? See this as happening to Jesus, too. Instead of retaliating to try to stop the pain, choose a sacrifice that you’re willing to make for them.
2. Jesus appreciates the sacrifices you make for others. How does his appreciation make you feel?
3. How is it possible to experience peace after making a sacrifice for someone who is unloving toward you? Give an example of an everyday sacrifice you’ve made. How does the Holy Spirit bring God’s kingdom to earth through this?

I have come to set the earth on fire and how I wish it were already blazing. … Do you think that I have come to establish peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division. From now on a household of five will be divided, three against two and two against three.

This saying of Jesus is one of the most misunderstood teachings in all of scripture and, because of this, from the time of Jesus’ birth until this very day, we have been able to cloak a lot of our lack of charity, lack of respect, bitterness, and hatred inside the mantle of prophecy, claiming that the divisions we cause are the divisions to which Jesus is referring when he said he is bringing fire to the earth. But we are wrong. Why?

First, the fire that Jesus passionately longs to bring to this earth is not the fire of division and polarization, but the fire of the Holy Spirit, the fire of Pentecost, namely, the fire of charity, joy, peace, goodness, understanding, and forgiveness. And this fire unites rather than divides. Moreover, in answer to his question: “Do you think that I have come to establish peace on earth?” the answer is: absolutely, without doubt. Jesus came precisely to bring peace to this earth, as the angels proclaim at his birth, as his entire ministry attests to, and as he powerfully witnesses to in his death. Jesus came to bring peace to the world; no one may doubt that.

Then how does division enter? And why does Jesus tell us that his person and teaching will bring about polarization, hatred, and division? If the fire that Jesus brings to this earth is meant to unite us, why does it so often divide us?

It is not Jesus’ message that divides; it is how we react to that message that divides. We see this already at the time of his birth. Jesus is born, and some react with understanding and joy, while others react with misunderstanding and hatred. That dynamic has continued down through the centuries to this very day when Jesus is not only misunderstood and seen as a threat by many non-Christians, but especially when his person and message are used to justify bitter and hate-filled divisions among Christians and to justify the bitterness that invariably characterizes our public debates on religious and moral issues. Jesus still divides, not because his person and message are one-sided, divisive, or hate-filled, but because we too often use them in that way.

In effect, from the time of his birth until today, we have perennially used Jesus’ to rationalize our own anger and fears. We all do it, and the effects of this are seen everywhere: from the bitter polarization within our politics, to the bitter misunderstandings between our churches, to the hate-filled rhetoric of our radio and television talk-shows, to the editorials and blogs that demonize everyone who does not agree with them, to the judgmental way we talk about each other inside our coffee circles. We are all venting, mostly unhealthily, but forever under the guise of the fire of love and truth to the planet. However, if the truth be told, more often than not, the fire we are bringing is more the fire of Babel than of Pentecost. Our moral fevers invariably bring about more division than unity.

Several years ago, for example, I was at a clergy meeting at which each of the priests present was asked to state publicly what he felt was the salient gift that he brought to his ministry. One of the priests, who had a long history of being a problem-child to both his bishop and his parishioners, self-confidently described himself in this way: “My gift is that I’m an agitator! I stir things up! I don’t let people get comfortable. I bring Christ’s fire! I’m prophetic!” He was certainly right about the agitation, the discomfort, and the fire. His bishop had no end of phone calls attesting to that. But there was a lot of skepticism as to his being a prophet. His approach to things and his rhetoric too much resembled that of an ideologically-driven talk-show host who divides the world up too-neatly between angels and demons, absolute right and absolute wrong, and has a too-facile division as to who is on God’s side and who is on the devil’s side. That kind of talk is mostly bitter, hate-filled, one-sided, and high divisive, but it justifies itself under the banner of truth and love, self-proclaiming itself as prophetic.

Daniel Berrigan rightly suggests that a real prophet makes a vow of love, not of alienation. It is easy to get this in reverse, and we frequently do.

Granted, there is a fire that divides, even while remaining the fire of love and Pentecost. But it is as fire that is always and everywhere respectful, charitable, and inclusive, never enflaming us with bitterness, as does so much of our contemporary religious and moral rhetoric.

Sharing the Gospel
Mary was humble. She loved and trusted God. God had been good to Abraham and to the people of Israel. Mary would do as God asked. God, the mighty one, chose her out of many women to be the mother of his only Son. Be like Mary. Do not brag about your goodness. Do not act like you are better than others. Then God will lift you up to a place of high honor with him in heaven.

Prayer
Lord, help me be humble, kind, and loving.

Mission for the Week
I will hear and do what God asks in a humble manner.

Welcome New and Returning Families
2016–2017 School Year!

Friday, August 19
8:00 – 11:00 AM
Student Information Day

In an effort to streamline our enrollment procedures, parents are only required to complete, sign and return the Student Emergency Cards distributed to all families on Student Information Day scheduled for Friday, August 19, 2016. The Student Emergency Cards are in the students’ homerooms and must be completed and returned to your child’s homeroom teacher on Student Information Day. Please make sure all information is legible for efficient use in the event of an emergency.

Previously, parents and guardians needed to download, complete and sign various forms and return them to the school office. This year, by signing the Student Emergency Card, parents will be acknowledging their acceptance of the Parent/Student Handbook, the Student Technology Acceptable Use Policy, and the school’s policy on bullying. Parents and guardians should also sign off on the photo/academic release form.

You may find it convenient to download information from the school’s website for easy reference. Keep in mind that parents and guardians will be required to complete, sign and return only the Student Emergency Card to your child’s homeroom teacher on Student Information Day.
