“When you are invited by someone to a wedding banquet, do not recline at table in the place of honor. A more distinguished guest than you may have been invited by him.” - Lk 14:8

22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

AUGUST 28, 2016
Dear Friends,

On behalf of all the people of St. Hubert, I wish a very Happy Birthday to Trudy Casper, mother of Carol Blotteaux, as she celebrated her 100th birthday on Tuesday, August 23rd.

In her many years, she has been known as daughter, sister, wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, great-great grandmother and friend. In all these phases of life, she has been a woman of strong faith, which has seen her through sickness, death, loneliness and all the stresses which are a part of everyday life. This same strong faith has been apparent in the good and happy times, as well, as Trudy has remembered to express to God often her gratitude for all the wonderful people and events which have enriched her life in so many ways. She was blessed with wonderful parents, 2 sisters, a devoted husband, three children, and numerous “grands” - grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great grandchildren! Along with her family, her many friends completed the picture of a life filled with love, given and received.

Having lived through a good portion of history (100 years encompasses many monumental changes in society and in the world), Trudy has experienced, in wonder and awe, moments that many of us have only heard or read about. She saw the invention of cars, jet airliners, washing machines, microwaves, motion pictures, air conditioning, voice in radio, television, and computers. She lived during the eruption of wars – World War I, World War II, Korean War, War in Viet Nam, the Gulf War, the War on Terror (Afghanistan, Iraq, Pakistan) – events that can change the world – war and peace. She also saw the wonders of change – things like the Berlin Wall erected, and many years later, torn down; space travel and man walking on the moon; women’s suffrage; advancements in the world of medicine and in the world of technology. She lived during the terms of Presidents Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, Ford, Carter, Reagan, Bush (George H.W.), Clinton, Bush (George W.), and Obama. And, as part of her Catholic heritage, she has experienced the leadership of Popes Benedict XV, Pius XI, Pius XII, St. John XXIII, Paul VI, John Paul I, St. John Paul II, Benedict XVI, and Francis.

Trudy received a special blessing last weekend at the 7:30 Mass, and we wish her continued blessings in all the days still to come.

Let’s remind ourselves often of the amazing gift of life and remember to be grateful for the gift of each day God has given to us.

22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

3 August 28, 2016
Liturgy Corner

22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

"When you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; blessed indeed will you be because of their inability to repay you." Today Jesus instructs us to be generous enough to serve others without expecting repayment. At least, without expecting to be repaid in THIS life. It's interesting that the Gospel concludes with Jesus' promise that if we follow this teaching, we "will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous." In other words, God will "repay" our generosity on earth by welcoming us into heaven. Really, what better investment could there possibly be?

It can be tempting to think of our money as purely our own. We work hard to earn it. Or we receive it from others who wanted US to have it. Or luck came our way (and too bad for you that it didn't come your way). We thus feel possessive of our money and often struggle with the idea of giving it away or lending it without hope of being paid back (with interest!). But today's Gospel challenges us with a different perspective. In essence, Jesus tells us to use our money for the sake of others, not just to assure our own earthly comfort. As difficult as this request may be, it's important to remember that Jesus honors the sacrifice! This is why he promises repayment in heaven. He understands that it "costs" us a great deal to part with the security of using our money for ourselves alone. He understands that in caring for the poor, we risk putting ourselves in their company.

But God's ways are not the ways of the world. Instead of investing everything in a bank, Jesus asks us to invest in the poor. After all, no bank on earth can possibly provide the infinite rate of return that Jesus promises.

Everyday Stewardship

I really loved watching Tim Russert, former NBC News Washington bureau chief and moderator of "Meet the Press," who passed away in 2008. I guess what I loved the most about him was his tremendous sense of humility. He was a brilliant political mind, but he always conducted himself as a humble servant of the people and, being a devout Catholic, of his God.

There is a story about Russert's audience with then Pope John Paul II. Saint John Paul II said to Russert, "You are the one called Timothy, the man from NBC? They tell me you are a very important man." The response? "There are only two of us in the room and I am certainly a distant second." This story is quite something standing on its own merit, but many say that Russert was like that with most people, whether they be successors to St. Peter or not.

This type of gracious humility is so very important in our walk as good stewards. When it is through God's gifts that we achieve a certain standing in the world, city, or our parish community, we must never lose sight of the generosity of God that made that possible. It is through and because of God that we are parent, son, daughter, spouse, friend, or companion. The constant striving to keep God front and center allows us to more clearly see the opportunities to use our gifts because it is through this gracious humility that our grip on them is loosened.

People like the late Tim Russert serve as examples of the assertion, "God is God, and I am not." To live in right relationship with God means that we have the chance to rejoice in the gifts given to us and share them freely, knowing that we are sharing with others not just ourselves, but God himself. By our stewardship, we become instruments of grace and windows into a reality much greater than ourselves.

Interested in Becoming Catholic?
Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA)

St. Hubert invites non-Catholics interested in learning more about the Catholic Church.

R.C.I.A. (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) is the process by which non-Catholic adults learn about the Catholic Church and gradually become full members. Every year adults are welcomed into the Catholic Community through RCIA. It is a learning and loving process in which conversion of the heart brings you to Jesus Christ who is our Lord and Savior.

This process will present the Catholic faith journey in an open and comfortable environment.” Participants in past RCIA classes have come from many different backgrounds, yet all have a common interest in learning about the Catholic Faith. Classes are held year-round on Sunday mornings.

The RCIA is a tour of faith through the:
- initial stages of asking and seeking,
- beginning involvement with Christian/Catholic people
- hearing of the Gospel proclaimed and by faithful reflection and prayer on this Word of God
- study and discussion about the Catholic experience
- doubts and hesitations
- discernment of God’s call for them as individuals
- steps of commitment
- Sacraments of Initiation (Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist)

The RCIA is for adults who:
- are interested in learning more about the Catholic Church.
- have never celebrated Baptism.
- have celebrated Baptism in another faith and are interested in the Catholic Church.
- are baptized Catholics who have not yet received Eucharist or Confirmation.
- are married to a Catholic and attend Mass, but just don’t know what the next step is to become one of the Catholic faithful.

For more information, contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

We Are In Need of Ministers of Care!

Celebrating the Eucharist is at the very heart of our faith. However, because of illness or injury, many of our fellow Catholics in the St. Hubert area cannot join in the celebration. To ensure that these community members stay connected to us, we invite individuals to consider becoming a minister of care. These ministry volunteers are a wonderful “invisible army” that works quietly, diligently, and lovingly to bring our Lord to those who could not otherwise receive communion. As Ministers of Care, we bring communion to Catholics in area nursing homes and retirement homes, individual homes, and hospitals.

If you can join us in this ministry, we guarantee you will find it extremely rewarding. Training for Ministers of Care consists of two Saturdays, October 8th & October 15th from 8:30 AM–3:00 PM. It will be held at St. James Parish, 820 North Arlington Heights Road in Arlington Heights, IL 60004.

If you are interested or if you want to explore whether this ministry is for you, please contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org. We want to get everyone interested in this ministry interviewed and registered for this fall program by September 28.

Communal Celebration of the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick
Sunday, October 9th at the 6:00 PM Mass

The Sacrament of Anointing is extended to those who are experiencing a physical, emotional or spiritual challenge. In this sacrament the priest lays hands on the one requesting healing, prays over them in the faith of the Church, and anoints them with oil blessed by the bishop.

For more information, please contact Lynn Howard at 847-885-7703 or Godsgal56@aol.com. Watch the bulletin for further details.

Reminder! There will be an all day Fundraiser for the Knights of Columbus is on Wednesday, September 7th at Moretti’s. You must bring a flyer to participate. Flyers are available online and will also be published in next weekend’s bulletin.
DID YOU EVER WONDER HOW MANY MINISTERS ARE NEEDED TO RUN A SUCCESSFUL RCIA PROCESS?

Much like it takes a village to raise a child; it takes the whole community to initiate newcomers. Initiating new members to the Catholic Church is a community process. We are all called by baptism to be priests (a ministry of service), prophets (a ministry of evangelization), and kings (a ministry of charity/concern for others).

The opportunities to be involved in the RCIA process are many and varied! Even those who cannot attend Sunday sessions, particular Sunday liturgies, or occasional rituals can participate. There are even opportunities for those who live too far away, which don’t drive at night, who have other scheduling commitments, or may even be homebound.

Everyone can be involved!

This Sunday’s Gospel reading raises the question: What are my expectations (my motivations) when I do good? How other-centered are they? How self-centered?

If benefiting others is done for the sake of receiving something in return, our motive is not Christ-like. Jesus explains this with the example of inviting to a banquet those who cannot return the favor. He’s not saying that we have to do this to be holy. That interpretation would be too literal; it misses the point.

The real message is that whatever we do, we should do it for the sake of love, rather than for repayment, i.e., for our own gain. We should do good to others for the sake of the benefit it will give to them. This seems like a no-brainer, but stop for a minute to think about how much you’d like to be thanked and appreciated. What else do you hope to get from the good you do?

Even when someone sins against us and we pray for them to repent, our prayer should be offered out of concern for their souls. Sure, we also wish they would change so that our own lives will be easier, but that should not be our primary concern.

As followers of Christ, if we receive any blessings in return for the good we do, that’s our bonus, not our motive. We can rightly look forward to such bonuses, but our joy does not depend on them.

By becoming aware of our motives and expectations, we gain the freedom to choose to be more like Jesus. As he promised, “You will receive your reward at the resurrection of the righteous.” The fulfillment of this promise begins now, in the moment that we decide to be like the Resurrected One, our Lord Jesus.

The reward he gives us here and now is the grace that enables us to do whatever he asks and to do it generously and cheerfully. We’ll receive other blessings besides, but that’s not our main motive.

Reflect & Discuss:
1. How upset do you get when others treat you unkindly after you’ve been nice to them?
2. When the give-and-take in a relationship is unequal, do you withhold goodness from that person?
3. Ask the Holy Spirit to help you notice your selfish motives this week. Take your anger to the Sacrament of Reconciliation and ask Jesus to empower you to care more about those people who have been upsetting you.
4. Describe a situation when you gave more than you received. How did God bless you in that? How was your sacrifice an example of Christ?
Some years ago I was challenged by a Bishop regarding an article I’d written. We were talking in his office and the tone eventually got a little testy: “How can you write something like that?” he asked. “Because it’s true,” was my blunt reply. He already knew it was true, but now, realizing that, he became more aware of his real agenda: “Yes, I know it’s true, but that doesn’t mean it should be said in that way in a Catholic newspaper like ours. This isn’t a university classroom or the New York Times. It’s a diocesan newspaper and that’s not the best context within which to say something like that. It will confuse a lot of readers.”

I’m not immune to pride and arrogance and so my spontaneous reaction was defensive. Immediately there were certain voices in me saying: “I am only saying what’s true. The truth needs to be spoken. Why are you afraid to hear the truth? Are we really doing people a favor by shielding them from things they’d rather not hear?”

But I’m glad I swallowed my pride, bit my tongue, muttered a half-sincere apology, and walked out of his office without saying any of those things out loud because, after my initial feelings had subsided and I’d had a more sober and prayerful reflection on our conversation, I realized he was right. Having the truth is one thing, speaking it in a place and a manner that’s helpful is quite another. It’s not for nothing that Jesus challenged us to speak our truth in parables because truth, as T.S. Eliot once quipped, cannot always be swallowed whole and the context and tone within which it is spoken generally dictate whether it’s helpful or not to speak it at a given time or to a given person. Simply put, it isn’t always helpful, or charitable, or mature, to throw a truth into someone’s face.

St. Paul says as much in his Epistle to the Romans in words to this effect: We who are strong must be considerate of those who are sensitive about things like this. We must not just please ourselves. (Romans 15, 1) That can come across as patronizing, as if Paul were telling a certain elite to tone down some of their enlightened views and actions for the sake of those who are less enlightened, but that’s not what’s at stake here. Undergirding this kind of admonition is a fundamental distinction that’s critically important in our teaching, preaching, and pastoral practice, namely, the distinction between Catechesis and Theology, the distinction between nurturing and shoring-up someone’s faith as opposed to stretching someone’s faith so as to make it more universally compassionate.

Catechesis is meant to teach doctrine, teach prayers, teach creeds, clarify biblical and church teachings, and give people a solid, orthodox framework within which to understand their Christian faith. Theology, on the other hand, presupposes that those studying it are already catechized, that they already know their creeds and prayers and have a solid, orthodox foundation. Theology’s function, among other things, is then to stretch its students in function of giving them the symbolic tools with which to understand their faith in a way that leaves no dark, hidden corners into which they are afraid to venture for fear of shaking their faith. Catechesis and Theology have different functions and must respect each other since both are needed: Young seedling plants need to be protected and gently nurtured; just as older, mature plants have to be given the wherewithal to live and thrive inside all the environmental challenges in which they find themselves.

Thus the challenge coming to me from the bishop was, in effect, to be more careful with my audience so as to distinguish theology classrooms and academic periodicals from catechetical situations and church newspapers.

It carried too a special challenge to humility and charity, such as was, for example, shown by the scientist-philosopher, Pierre Teilhard de Chardin: Elderly, retired, and in declining health, he still found himself “silenced” by the Vatican in that we has forbidden to publish his theological thoughts. But, rather than reacting with anger and arrogance, he reacted with charity and humility. Writing to his Jesuit Provincial, acknowledges needs beyond his own: “I fully recognize that Rome may have its own reasons for judging that, in its present form, my concept of Christianity may be premature or incomplete and that at the present moment its wider diffusion may therefore be inopportune. … [This letter] is to assure you that, in spite of any apparent evidence to the contrary, I am resolved to remain a child of obedience. Obviously, I cannot abandon my own personal search – that would involve me in an interior catastrophe and in disloyalty to my most cherished vocation; but I have ceased to propagate my ideas and am confining myself to achieving a deeper personal insight into them.”

Recognizing the importance of sensitivity as to where and how we speak the truth, Jesus advises: “Speak your truth in parables.”

Food Pantry

Last month I didn't think there was much food brought in. All I saw was the generous amount of canned goods from the same kind person who brings them in every month. They were stacked against the wall so high! (I use them to measure myself to see if I've started shrinking yet.) Here I am worried about shrinking, and I come to find out my eye sight is going! How could I not see the 2 truck loads of food you brought in? It was record breaking! I think I brought some in too, but I can't quite remember!

Thank you SO VERY MUCH!!! You have no idea how you are helping families with children. Can you imagine growing up without food in your house? Please be as kind as you were last month! Collection dates are September 3rd & 4th.

Thank you,

The short woman who can't see and can't remember... hold on, it'll come to me.

Emotional Abuse

Emotional abuse leaves few physical scars. Its victims suffer no broken bones, torn flesh or spilled blood. Still, those wounded might describe it as the most painful and destructive form of domestic violence.

While statistics are elusive, experts agree that emotional abuse—for mostly women, but some men as well—have reached epidemic proportions. And despite its everyday occurrence, few of us recognize it, identify it or even do anything about it.

SIGNS OF EMOTIONAL ABUSE:

You're on a daily emotional roller coaster - One minute your significant other is loving and the next, punishing you for not doing things correctly.

They isolate you - It’s one thing for your spouse to love spending quality time with you but that person should not isolate you from family and friends.

Arguments tend to escalate, quickly – And these arguments have no end point.

Fear of Partner - Abusive partners will use any tactic they can to keep you down, including threats of violence as a way to assert their dominance over you.

Constant put downs - No matter what you do in the relationship, it’s never right and it's never enough. They put you down and make you feel small.

You feel trapped - Helplessness is an ever-present emotion in emotionally abusive relationships. Often times, abusive partners will try controlling all aspects of your life, including personal items like your car and phone and what you do with your spare time.

You start believing you're the problem - After all the arguments and put downs, you start believing that you're not worth any more than the abuse.

If you or someone you know is being abused, seek help. In an emergency, please dial 911. For all other help, please call: Illinois Statewide Domestic Violence Helpline 877 TO END DV (877-863-6338), 877-863-6339 TTY or call WINGS 24-hour hotline 847-221-5680.

22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

August 28, 2016
Sharing the Gospel

If you act bossy, you might get your way, but you won’t make many friends. Jesus shared a secret about making friends. When you treat other kids with kindness, they will want to be your friends. Instead of telling other kids what to do, ask other kids to choose a game. If you want to play tag with other kids, offer to be "it" first. If it is time to line up to go outside, offer to go to the back of the line and let other kids in front of you.

Prayer

Dear God, help me to be a good friend.

Mission for the Week

When you sit down with your family for dinner tonight, ask if you can serve the food. You may surprise your parents and get some pretty big smiles from them.

Children’s Ministry of Initiation (CMI)

The Catechumenate for Children/Teens, which is an Adaptation of the Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (R.C.I.A.), is the process by which unbaptized young people of the age of reason come into The Church. (Infant Baptism is only for those children under the age of reason.) Older children who are already baptized, but who are uncatechized, also can prepare to celebrate the sacraments of Confirmation and Holy Eucharist together with their peers during the Easter Vigil or at a Rite of Full Communion.

The following is the criteria for attendance for CMI:
- Unbaptized
- Baptized in another Christian tradition and now wants to be a Catholic.
- Baptized in the Catholic Church but has had little or no Religious Education, training, catechism classes, etc. and wants to celebrate First Communion.

JUBILEE OF MERCY
UNKNOT

The mercy of God is able to un knot the impossibilities that can beset us. When we do not know where to turn, when we feel powerless, God’s mercy breaks through these impossible knots in our lives. Trusting faith relies on that mercy. “Your daughter is dead; do not trouble the teacher any longer.” When Jesus heard this, he replied, “Do not fear. Only believe, and she will be saved.” (Luke 8:49–50)

Male Spirituality
As a son, a young man, mature man, and father … every male has suffered hurts/wounds (small or large) while growing up. In their unconscious lives, men may be driven by forces and psychic energy they don’t understand and refuse to examine. Then, when life circumstances occur, they may blame others for their problems and failures. Join us to explore the effect this woundedness has on men, their relationships with others, and their spiritual lives.

This session is for men only.

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born. Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
