29TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

"I tell you, he will see to it that justice is done for them speedily. But when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on earth?" - Lk 18:8

Dear Friends,

Since we are in the process of searching for a new Music Director, I thought that this would be a good time to review some music/liturgical principles. As a result of the Long Range Pastoral Plan, our PPC thought that part of our response should include catechesis about Liturgy and Music. A series of articles on the liturgy entitled Liturgy Corner: Why Do We Do That? was published in the bulletin earlier this year on May 29, June 12, June 26, and July 3. Today is the first music article, and it will be followed by two others in the weeks to come. It was written by our former Music Director, Siobhan McGuire, along with our Liturgy Board. Hopefully, these articles will help us understand how we plan music here at St. Hubert.

For your information, I will be out of town until October 31.

Rev. Robert C. Rizzo

LITURGY CORNER: What Guides our Choices for Ritual Music? Part 1 of 3

Every Mass has the same order: Introductory Rites, Liturgy of the Word, Liturgy of the Eucharistic, and Concluding Rites.

The Introductory Rites are intended to be brief and to prepare us to hear the Word of God and to receive the Body and Blood of Christ: Entrance Song, Sign of the Cross, Greeting, Penitential Act, Glory to God, and Collect.

The Liturgy of the Word consists of the First Reading, Responsorial Psalm, Second Reading, Gospel Acclamation, Gospel, Homily, Creed, and Universal Prayer.

The Liturgy of the Eucharist consists of the Presentation of Gifts, Eucharistic Prayer, and Communion Rite (Lord’s Prayer, Sign of Peace, Communion Procession, and Prayer after Communion).

The Concluding Rites, like the Introductory Rites, are intended to be brief. We are sent out into the world, having been nourished at the Altar of the Word and the Altar of Sacrifice, to change the world by our living. The Concluding Rites consist of the Final Blessing and Dismissal. The final hymn is an American adaptation. The Rite calls for a Hymn of Praise after Communion, but in most Catholic parishes in the U.S., including Saint Hubert, this is omitted and instead a hymn is sung after the Dismissal.

There are several Church documents which instruct us when we are making decisions about liturgy, specifically about music. The two books we use during Mass are the Lectionary (scripture readings) and the Roman Missal (prayer texts). Each of those books bears an edifying Introduction which includes instructions for celebrating Mass. The Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, the first document published by the Second Vatican Council, offers guiding principles toward our desire to lead the faithful in full, conscious and active participation. In addition, we rely on the U.S. bishops’ beautiful document Sing to the Lord.

These documents are much more than dry, boring prescriptions for who does what when. Rather, they are inspiring assertions that the public prayer of the Church has the power to evangelize, to encourage the faithful, to strengthen those who are weak; that art is a gift from God; that our singing is pleasing to God who created us.

In these documents, we read that the Church’s allows for the parts of the Mass mentioned to be sung, either a formally composed song or using a simple or elaborate chant. For pastoral reasons, a more common parish experience is to recite some of these elements.

Next week, we’ll look at some of the principles which help us make these decisions.

29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Will not God then secure the rights of his chosen ones who call out to him day and night?" The widow in today's parable didn't give up. She kept "bothering" the judge by coming to him and asking for a decision in her favor. Ultimately, her persistence caught his attention and influenced his behavior. Jesus seems to be teaching us today that this quality of faithful persistence is a good one to have. Thus, he advises us to call out to God not once, not twice, but "day and night." This is a fitting image for the idea of continual prayer; it goes on all the time without ceasing.

As this Gospel reading says in the opening line, Jesus wanted to teach his disciples how to "pray always without becoming weary." It's interesting that the method he used for this instruction was to emphasize the reward of such persistent prayer. The parable's conclusion assures us that for those who pray without giving up, God "will see to it that justice is done for them speedily." Perhaps this attractive promise is supposed to keep us from losing hope, from throwing in the towel, from becoming "weary" when our requests don't seem to be getting heard.

Following the example of this determined widow, we need not fear to repeatedly make our requests known to God. In fact, we should make a point of it! If we only offer our prayers of petition halfheartedly, without real conviction, persistence, or sincerity, they are not as powerful as they could be. But when we truly commit to taking these requests before the Lord, day after day (and night after night!) then we are displaying a kind of profound faith in God's ability to act on our behalf. So, full of hope and trust, let's keep "bothering" this truly just Judge!

Thanks to all who helped with COMMUNAL ANOINTING of the SICK

The communal celebration of the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick was held last Sunday at the 6:00 PM Mass. This celebration calls for the collaboration and services of a number of people. A special gratitude to all who participated – whether you received the anointing or prayed for those who were being blessed and prayed over. Thank you to the Ministers of Care who assisted those receiving the Sacrament by giving directions or offering support. And thanks also to the liturgical ministers – priests, musicians, cantors and choir – whose ministry adds so much to the beauty and meaning of the celebration.
My name is Lollie Niemann Guiney and I have been a member of the St. Hubert community for over 50 years. I have five children, ten grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Over the years, I’ve filled my time with sports, adding new ones as I went along--I am about to run out of them!

I recently attended the Illinois Senior Games in track and field and swimming—a new set of aches and pains to nurse, and I wonder if this is an omen. I earned five gold and two silver medals, which qualifies me to compete in next year’s national games in Alabama.

Oh! Did I mention I’m 86?"
In our Gospel reading, God promises to secure the rights of his faithful ones who seek his justice. When we are abused, neglected, rejected, betrayed, or falsely accused, God comes to our rescue. And speedily, he says! What? He’s not helping you fast enough? Is he breaking his promise with you?

Although God often seems way too slow, whether it takes months or years (and it often does) before your problem gets resolved, Jesus is in fact at your side immediately delivering you from evil, in the very moment you begin to cry out to him.

Reflect & Discuss:
1. What injustices are frustrating you today? What evil is being done against you?
2. What will you do right now to be a faith-filled follower of Christ? What action will you take to conquer your fears and choose to give God your trust?
3. Describe an injustice that you recently witnessed or experienced. What shocked and dismayed you the most about it?
4. What is fearsome about it? And what does trust for the Lord encourage you to believe about it?
If Christ was born into the world to redeem it, why doesn’t our world look more redeemed? Why is our world still full of loneliness, anxiety, betrayals, sickness, poverty, violence, war, and death? What did Christ’s birth into our world really change?

These aren’t irreverent questions; they’re the right questions. Only in struggling to answer them do we begin to understand more deeply the mystery of Christ. What is that mystery?

In the gospels, one of the angels who announces Jesus’ birth, tells us: “They shall name him Emmanuel” (which means ’God is with us.”) What do those words mean?

Sometimes it’s helpful to proceed by the via negativa, namely, by explaining what something doesn’t mean. In this case, the fact that Christ is born into our world does not mean that those who believe in him will be spared the pain, loneliness, seasons of sickness, heartaches, betrayals, anxieties, fears, and humiliations that afflict everyone else. Faith offers no one an escape from pain. Moreover, believers, just like unbelievers, will suffer too the darkness of doubt, the painful fear that the heavens are empty. Faith in Christ doesn’t remove any of the pains inherent within the human condition, including the pain of doubting God’s existence. Faith promises no magic passes.

What it does promise is that God will be with us so that we do not have to walk through loneliness, sickness, violence, anxiety, fear, and death alone. We have a hand to grasp, a love to embrace, a truth to cling to, and a power to sustain us (even through death itself). We walk in the same world as everyone else, but, like a young child holding on to her mother’s hand as she walks into school for the first time, we are not alone, a trusted, sustaining, guiding love walks with us. God doesn’t remove us from what can hurt us, but walks with us amidst it all.

But that explanation too can feel pretty empty on any given day. If God is walking beside us, hand in ours, why don’t we feel that more really? Why does God often seem non-existent, not with us at all?

Because believers, like everyone else, are not exempt from the trial of faith, from the darkness of doubt, from those emotional and spiritual dark nights that can crush us, bring us to our knees, and can make us cry out in fear that God has abandoned us, as happened to Jesus on the cross. Part of being human (and faith isn’t some magic bullet immunizing us against the human condition) is the experience of God’s seeming absence.

So how can we say that “God is with us” when mostly it feels like God isn’t there for us? That’s a complex question and a full answer would necessitate a discussion on why, in the nature of faith, God’s reality is often felt more like an absence than a presence. But, without entering into a full-blown discussion on this, allow me to give just one perspective:

In the Jewish scriptures there’s a famous incident where Moses asks God to see his face. God answers that this is impossible because nobody can see God’s face and live. When Moses persists in his demand, God offers a compromise: He tells Moses that he will place him in a cleft in the rocks, put his hand over Moses’s face, and then pass by, so that Moses will get to see his, God’s, back, though never his face.

What’s meant by this? Among other things, that we are wise not to be overly naive about the powerful, sacred, archetypal energies that flow through us. Even when something is beautiful and good, like sex for instance, it doesn’t mean we don’t have to treat with sacred caution. We’re wise to accord things their proper respect, to keep our shoes off before the burning bush.

But there’s a wonderful sub-text here too which can help explain why we so often think that God is absent in our lives. Generally we struggle to feel God in the present moment, to see God’s face in the here and now. In the present, God often seems absent. Yet, when we turn around and look back in our lives, when we look back on our story, we more easily see how God has been there all along and how we have walked in a divine presence, protection, guidance, and love that were imperceptible at the time but are clear in retrospect. We see God more clearly in our past than in our present. We see God’s back more than we see God’s face.

This can be helpful in understanding how Christ is present to us, even when it doesn’t always feel like it.

Faith doesn’t promise us a ladder to crawl out of the pains of life, it promises a friend to walk through those pains. Mostly though it’s only when we look back in our lives that we see that this friend has always been there.

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
