CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

COMMUNITIES OF FAITH, KNOWLEDGE, AND SERVICE
Today begins Catholic Schools Week. I am grateful to our School Administration, faculty, parents and students for the sacrifices they make for Catholic Education here at St. Hubert. We are very fortunate to have a wonderful school and religious education program servicing about 900 children in our parish. Please pray that we will continue in this important ministry.

Below is a letter from Cardinal Cupich. His reference to groupings includes for us: St. Hubert, St. Matthew, St. Marcelline, and Church of the Holy Spirit Parishes. We will know more in the months to come as we dialogue with these Schaumburg parishes.

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

As a new year begins, I want to assure you of my prayers for you, your families, and your parish communities. I also want to share some important information about Renew My Church.

As you may already know, Renew My Church is an archdiocesan initiative that involves all the people of the archdiocese and their faith communities. The goal of Renew My Church is to make our parishes more vital and more sustainable. We do this not on our own initiative but in response to the call of Christ, which was first heard by those disciples recounted in today’s gospel. The call is the same as it was in those early days of the Church: to be His disciples and take responsibility for carrying on His mission in our time. The place to start is by working together to make our parishes vibrant communities that form missionary disciples of Jesus. This will also mean being realistic about our limited human and material resources and evaluating how our present structures may need to be organized differently to keep pace with changing realities.

A very important part of the process of Renew My Church is the parish groupings that will work to plan for the future and discern where God is leading us. After receiving consultation and feedback from you, the priests of the diocese, and parish pastoral councils, we are announcing the groupings today. Your parish will be part of a grouping that will enable you to assess, plan, and discern how best to meet the needs of the future in a way that is both reasonable and in conformity with God’s will for us.

Each grouping will have guidance for its process of reflection and discernment. Everything, however, begins with building relationships across parishes in a given grouping. That means getting to know each other and perhaps sharing some common projects or events, such as retreats, lectures, or community service for those in need. With future guidance and facilitation, this will develop in more specific planning and discernment directions. Today, your pastor will share a list of the parishes in your grouping.

Renew My Church will undoubtedly involve leaving behind familiar patterns and demand that we move outside our comfort zones. In a word, it will require sacrifice, but that has always been true for the Church whenever we have taken up new challenges. I am convinced that we are up to the task and willing to do whatever it takes to build our capacity to pass on our faith to future generations. That is what is at stake in the Renew My Church process. I encourage you to become involved and pray for its success.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich
Archbishop of Chicago
Is it a school with a parish, or is it a parish with a school? It is a question I always consider when people ask me about Catholic Schools Week, though you might look at that opening question and ask, "What?"

It is a good question, because our parish communities have a mandate from the Gospel to preach the good news. Moreover, that is exactly what a good Catholic school does. It is another one of the ministries of a parish: to educate well-rounded individuals in Gospel values, preparing those young individuals to take their eventual place in the larger secular community. All the educational efforts of the parish school are focused on the life of faith. That faith is formed in knowledge of the teachings of the Church and of the Gospel, and those qualities are demonstrated through a life of service to the community.

A Catholic school is a community of faith, knowledge, and service, as a ministry of the parish community; and Catholic Schools Week provides a wonderful opportunity for us to reflect on whether we have "a school with a parish, or a parish with a school," and make sure our parish school is living its mandate from the Church.

"Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven." Here, in a nutshell, is the Christian belief about the afterlife. We trust that heaven is open to believers who accept the gift of salvation and follow the way of the Lord, even (or especially) when that way is difficult!

The beatitudes in today's Gospel give us a program for following the path to heaven. These famous words offer a kind of twofold image. There are, on the one hand, the beatitudes about what we should do and be: poor in spirit, meek, merciful, clean of heart, and peacemakers. Such qualities are reflections of the nature of God in whose image we are meant to live. When we embrace and reflect this image to the world, there is no doubt we are walking on the path of God's will.

Then, there are also the beatitudes about what we are called to endure: mourning, hunger for righteousness, persecutions and insults due to our belief in Jesus. These are the trials that often beset the life of a faithful Christian—admittedly more so in some ages and areas than in others. But Jesus makes it clear that even these trials and struggles are a sign that a Christian is on the right path, not that God has abandoned him or her, but that the reward of heaven lies around the corner.

One of the greatest consolations of our faith is that even when life does not unfold according to our own perfect designs, even when there is suffering to deal with, even when we do not have great success in the eyes of the world, we can maintain hope and peace as we await the "reward" of the just. The eternal happiness of heaven will be worth every ounce of temporary trial here on earth.

ANOEING OF THE SICK AT MASS

_Sunday, February 19th at the 9:00 AM Mass_

One of the Church’s most beautiful and consoling rituals, this sacrament keeps the Church’s promise: “We will not abandon you” in your sickness, suffering, weakness, or struggle. Please join us! Whether you want to receive the sacrament yourself or pray with and for those who are receiving it, we invite your participation in this liturgies.

Those desiring to receive the sacrament are asked to follow these steps:

1. Sign in at a table in the Narthex of the church and receive a name badge. Wear it plainly visible so the priest can call you by name.
2. Sit near the end of a row so that the priest can reach you easily. You need not stand during the whole anointing ritual; if you are able, rise when the priest is about two people away from you. If not, have your companion stand.
3. If you are with a family member, friend, or caregiver that person should sit with you and place a hand on your shoulder as a sign of support while you are being anointed.
4. One of the St. Hubert Ministers of Care will also stand with you as a sign of community support.

It is a privilege to join you in prayer and to have you witness to us faithful and hope filled movement to Christ, even in the midst of suffering. For more information, please contact Lynn Howard at 847-885-7703 or Godsgal56@aol.com.

Minister Schedules

Please send all of your unavailable dates to Jackie Green no later than February 5th for the period of March through May. Jackie’s email is jaygee222@sbcglobal.net.
Liturgical Feasts of Winter Ordinary Time

February 2—Presentation of the Lord, Candlemas

When Jesus was 40 days old, Mary and Joseph brought him to the Temple in Jerusalem to present him to the Lord. Anna and Simeon, two elderly people of great holiness, recognized Jesus. Simeon called Jesus “a light to the nations.” Simeon’s prayer, known as the Canticle of Simeon sung at Night Prayer each day, is one of peace: Now, Lord, you may let your servant go in peace, according to your word, for my eyes have seen your salvation. What an envied sense of fulfillment that came with seeing the Light of the World.

This feast is also referred to as Candlemas. In the earliest celebrations of Candlemas, and still in some churches today, the liturgy begins with a candlelight procession. Today, we still seek Jesus, our Light, and symbolize his presence in the worship space with our Paschal candle that stands near our baptismal font. We are to carry the Light of Christ to all the nations, the same light received at our baptism.

Our children will receive a blessed birthday candle when they attend Mass on Tuesday and Religious Education class on Wednesday prior to the feast. These can be part of the candles on their birthday cake in the coming year.

February 3—St. Blaise

Blaise, bishop and martyr, is said to also have been a physician. The legend handed down is that Blasie saved the life of a boy who was choking on a fish bone. Blaise is now the patron saint of all that have diseases of the throat. On this memorial of St. Blaise, in many parishes of the United States, people have their throats blessed. It’s no coincidence that this custom is observed during cold and flu season. Not that many years past, and still in some parts of the world, these illnesses were very dangerous and life threatening. This feast and its blessing is a sign of God’s care for every part of us. Our throats help us to eat, speak our words, and sing our praise to God. Let us ask God’s blessing for good health of the body, especially against diseases of the throat.

We keep our Cardinal Blase Cupich in our prayers on his feast day!

At our 7:00 AM Mass on Friday, February 3, an individual blessing of throats will be given. A priest, deacon, or lay minister of care can also give this blessing when they are visiting those in hospitals or homebound residences.

In the Gospel reading this Sunday, we get a glimpse of our own sainthood. The eight Beatitudes in Matthew 5:1-12 describe the holiness of those who imitate Jesus. The first four deal with our relationship with God; the last four deal with our relationships with others.

How can we call ourselves saints? Remember that you are a saint, as imperfect as you are at this time on your journey, because God has sanctified you through your baptism, thanks to what Jesus did for you on the cross. This means that he has blessed you. And blessed are you because you love as Jesus loves.

Everything that God blesses is made holy! Therefore, any person who lives the lifestyle of the Beatitudes (which is the lifestyle of Jesus) is blessed by God and can rightfully be called a saint: the poor in spirit who recognize that they need God’s love, those who mourn and turn to the Holy Spirit for comfort, those who meekly (i.e., without arrogance) stand up for what is right because they love God, and so on down the list of Beatitudes. Meditate on each blessing and notice your sainthood AND the challenge to become more saintly by improving how well you imitate Jesus.

The Church canonizes Saints (which we signifies with a capital “S”) so that we have role models. Even though we’ve not reached their level of holiness, we belong to the same communion of saints. A saint is anyone who is following Christ toward heaven, with or without a lay-over in purgatory. As we strive to improve, we can ask the Saints for help and receive their spiritual guidance.

Reflect & Discuss:

† Looking over the list of the Beatitudes, which do you implement best?

† Which do you need to improve?

† Which one do you find least desirable? Why? Discuss this with a Christian friend, priest, counselor or spiritual director to figure out how this weakness is really based on a misunderstanding of God’s love for you. Then you will be set free to grow in this area of holiness!

† How do you avail yourself of help from the Saints?

† How does this enable you to grow in holiness? Give an example.
A recent article in Time magazine, entitled The Fraying of America suggests that over-sensitivity, political correctness, and a culture of complaint is leading to the breakdown of community.

Perhaps the article isn’t everywhere correct in its analysis as to why community is, at so many levels, fragmenting, but it is depressingly accurate in its documentation of the anger, polarization, hatred, and hypersensitivity that today mark community life in both civic and church circles. We are indeed a culture of complaint.

But the presence of so much factionalism, concern for political correctness, and outright anger and complaint is, in the end, not the problem. It’s a symptom.

Ultimately, what’s wrong is that community is falling apart. Lately, all of us, are finding ourselves precisely more and more alone, cut off from each other, especially in terms of moral affinity. Factionalism reigns in place of family and, on virtually every moral issue, we find ourselves in a cold war.

Never before, I suspect, has a whole culture (and a whole church) been more morally lonely. We ache for community, especially moral community, and, daily, we become more acutely aware that it is slipping from us.

What should we be doing—beyond complaining and nurturing the paranoia that we have been unjustly done to? I think that if Moses came down from the mountain today, he might, after first smashing a few of our ideological golden calves, promulgate some further commandments… for special use during trying community times:

1) Thou shalt not get into personalities, name calling, and into the narcissism of taking everything personally. This pain and anger is, in the end, not about personalities but about how tough is the long-haul struggle for community.

2) Thou shalt not fall into excessive self-pity. A “holier-than-thou” attitude is no worse than a “more-wounded-than-thou” one.

3) Thou shalt not let the archetypal warrior possess you. Warriors tend to be more interested in winning battles than in winning love. The battle for a community of the heart depends more on the beatitudes than on political fire-power.

4) Thou shalt not rationalize impatience with ideology and high metaphysical theories of history. This life is a vigil demanding great patience. Impatience remains impatience, irrespective of whether or not we attempt to invest it with positive moral meaning by defining ourselves as warriors of truth.

5) Thou shalt not rationalize disrespect and a breakdown of fundamental charity. Disrespect is disrespect, and it remains an obstacle to every kind of community. No cause, be it ever so imperative, justifies abdicating respect and charity!

6) Thou shalt not let the rhetoric of the right or the left create, in you, false dichotomies which force you to choose between good things and good people. Don’t buy rhetoric which separates the good from the good and makes you line up on one side… Are you for women or for children? Are you for laws or for people? Are you for obedience or for conscience? Be for both!

7) Thou shalt not lose the sense of sacred intimacy within the family. Practice the ancient discipline arcani. Intimacy is sacred so don’t discuss the family’s deepest secrets with the whole world—and especially avoid doing this on talk shows!

8) Thou shalt not succumb to the temptation to justify excess and lack of self-criticism. Two wrongs do not a right make! It is not justifiable to say: “Because we have been treated wrongly for so long we can now enjoy certain excesses ourselves.”

9) Thou shalt not become so pompous, puffed-up, and full of self-importance so that you see healthy humor as an affront to your “cause” and dignity. When you no longer have the capacity to take a joke, you lack the proper resiliency for healthy living and should leave political arena for the therapeutic couch.

10) Thou shalt not lose the sense of the Body of Christ. In Christ’s body no one part can ever say to another: “I don’t need you!” We are, on both sides of eternity, forever bound to each other.

We can grow angry and fight with each other, and even for a while go on sabbatical from community, but this concrete bunch of people on earth, for all its faults, is the only family we have. We bear its birthmarks and can never leave it even when we try. In the end, our final imperative is to come to peace with the family… and to die with a warm heart!

Myths Concerning Abuse In The Home

PART IV

Myth: The survivor did something to provoke the violence.

Fact: No one deserves to be beaten, battered, threatened or in any way victimized by violence. Batterers will rarely admit that they are the cause of the problem. In fact, putting the blame for the violence on the survivor is a way to manipulate the survivor and other people. Batterers will tell the survivor, "You made me mad" or "You made me jealous" or will try to shift the burden by saying "Everyone acts like that." Most survivors try to placate and please their abusive partners in order to deescalate the violence. The batterer chooses to abuse, and bears full responsibility for the violence.

Myth: Most batterers simply lose control during violent incidents and do not know what they are doing.

Fact: If batterers were truly out of control, as many claim to be during violent incidents, there would be many more domestic violence homicides. In fact, many batterers do "control" their violence, abusing their victims in less visible places on their bodies, such as under the hairline or on the torso. Furthermore, researchers have found that domestic violence often occurs in cycles, and every episode is preceded by a predictable, repeated pattern of behavior and decisions made by the batterer.
