Sunday in Ordinary Time

“You are the light of the world. A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden.” —Mt 5:14

Dear Friends,

This letter is being sent to all our school parents, but I would like the entire parish to support this raffle. Details are in the letter.

Rev. Robert C. Rizzo

January 31, 2017

Dear St. Hubert Families,

As we kick off Catholic Schools Week, we wanted to send you another letter, as a gentle reminder about our school raffle. For many years St. Hubert School parents and students participated in an annual Track-a-thon. This is the first year a Track-a-thon was not held. Typically, funds raised through Track-a-thon helped to keep tuition costs down. In past years, the income from the annual Black and Gold Gala was also used for various improvements to our academic program. In place of this year’s Gala, families may participate in the First Annual Golf Outing to be held in the spring. Look for more details about this event in early 2017.

Both the Track-a-thon and the Black and Gold Gala require a great deal of work and many volunteers. Unfortunately, this year, it was difficult to secure a Track-a-thon committee leader and enough volunteers to hold this event. As a result, the School Advisory Board voted to hold a raffle as part of this year’s fundraising effort. Fundraising efforts have always helped to bridge the gap between tuition and the cost of educating each student. Our budgeted fundraising goal for this school year is $75,000.

The goal is to have all families participate in the “We Hold God in our Heart’s 2016-2017” raffle by having each family sell ten $25 tickets. We are asking for 100% participation from our families. If all our families participate in this fundraising effort, we will be able to reach our goal. With the introduction of this raffle, the family registration envelope and fees will be collected in mid-March in an effort to alleviate the financial burden of asking our families to participate in this fundraiser and at the same time pay the required annual family registration fees. The registration envelope and fees help us to determine our staffing needs for the next school year.

For our 2017 Raffle, there will be three separate drawings. The following are a few details about this important raffle fundraiser:

| Second Prize: $250 | First Prize: $500 | Grand Prize: $1,500 | Ticket Price: $25.00 |

Each family will receive 10 raffle tickets to sell before the “early bird” raffle drawing on February 15, and the Grand Prize drawing on February 26, 2017. Please encourage your child to reach out to family and friends, relatives and neighbors to sell these tickets, while parents can reach out to co-workers. Keep in mind that children should never be allowed to solicit alone and should always be in the company of a responsible adult when tickets are being sold. No “door to door” ticket selling. As part of our scheduled all-school assembly on Friday, students will be kicking-off the raffle by learning more about ticket sales and a chance to win a classroom field day.

Ticket purchase option will include cash, credit card, and PayPal. As part of the raffle, each student will receive a raffle T-shirt that can be used for various events throughout the school year.

Thank you for your continued support of St. Hubert Catholic School, your 2014 National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence.

Sincerely in Christ,

Vito C. DeFrisco          Marcia I. Larson          Fr. Robert Rizzo          School Advisory Board

"You are the light of the world." Speaking to his followers, Jesus tells them of the influence they are meant to have. Like the seasoning that gives food its flavor, they are to be "the salt of the earth" and like a lamp on a lamp stand that "gives light to all in the house." Clearly, their influence on the people around them is meant to be positive and substantial. But what is the source of this irreplaceable influence?

Elsewhere in the Gospels, Jesus declares that HE is "the light of the world" (cf. Jn 8:12). So when he tells his disciples that "your light must shine before others," he is speaking about the light that comes from following him, from believing in him, from living their lives for him and with him. The light of Christ brightens the world, showing us the truth and meaning of our existence. And to the extent that we have that light in our hearts, it naturally spreads out to impact those around us.

So, today we must ask ourselves whether or not we are shining the way we are meant to as Christians. Do we brighten up our families, our workplaces, our neighborhoods, and our parishes? Are people encouraged, inspired, edified, and supported by our presence? Do we bring the kind of flavor that enriches life with a taste of the authentic truth, beauty, and goodness that comes from God alone? Or have we become a bit bland, like salt that "loses its taste" or light that is hidden "under a bushel basket"? It's important to be on guard against any tendency to let our faith be reduced to a mere routine or ritual. Rather, when we nurture our faith to be a living force that defines us and our actions, it will be a source of joy and renewal not only for us, but for the whole world.

ANOINTING OF THE SICK AT MASS

Sunday, February 19th at the 9:00 AM Mass

One of the Church’s most beautiful and consoling rituals, this sacrament keeps the Church’s promise: “We will not abandon you” in your sickness, suffering, weakness, or struggle. Please join us! Whether you want to receive the sacrament yourself or pray with and for those who are receiving it, we invite your participation in this liturgies.

Those desiring to receive the sacrament are asked to follow these steps:

1. Sign in at a table in the Narthex of the church and receive a name badge. Wear it plainly visible so the priest can call you by name.
2. Sit near the end of a row so that the priest can reach you easily. You need not stand during the whole anointing ritual; if you are able, rise when the priest is about two people away from you. If not, have your companion stand.
3. If you are with a family member, friend, or caregiver that person should sit with you and place a hand on your shoulder as a sign of support while you are being anointed.
4. One of the St. Hubert Ministers of Care will also stand with you as a sign of community support.

It is a privilege to join you in prayer and to have you witness to us faithful and hope filled movement to Christ, even in the midst of suffering. For more information, please contact Lynn Howard at 847-885-7703 or Godsgal56@aol.com.
Dating Violence with Teens

Anyone can be a victim of dating violence. Both boys and girls are victims, but boys and girls abuse their partners in different ways. Girls are more likely to yell, threaten to hurt themselves, pinch, slap, scratch, or kick. Boys injure girls more and are more likely to punch their partner and force them to participate in unwanted sexual activity. Some teen victims experience physical violence only occasionally; others, more often.

Dating violence is controlling, abusive, and aggressive behavior in a romantic relationship. It can happen in romantic relationships at any age. It can include verbal, emotional, physical, or sexual abuse, or a combination.

Controlling behavior may include:
Not letting you hang out with your friends; calling or texting you frequently to find out where you are, whom you're with, and what you're doing; telling you what to wear; having to be with you all the time.

Verbal and emotional abuse may include:
Calling you names; jealousy; belittling you (cutting you down); threatening to hurt you, someone in your family, or himself or herself if you don't do what he or she wants.

Physical abuse may include:
Shoving, punching, slapping, pinching, hitting, kicking, hair pulling, or strangling.

Sexual abuse may include:
Unwanted touching and kissing; forcing you to have sex; forcing you to do other sexual things.

Get Help
Being a victim of dating violence is not your fault. Nothing you say, wear, or do gives anyone the right to hurt you. If you think you are in an abusive relationship, get help immediately. Don't keep your concerns to yourself. Talk to someone you trust like a parent, teacher, school principal, counselor, or nurse.

Help Yourself
Think about ways you can be safer. This means thinking about what to do, where to go for help, and who to call ahead of time.

Help Friends in Abusive Relationships
Be a good listener; offer your friendship and support; encourage your friend to seek help; educate yourself about dating violence and healthy relationships; avoid any confrontations with the abuser. This could be dangerous for you and your friend.

Jesus tells us: "You are the salt of the earth." What does it mean to be salt? Think about what salt does. It adds flavor to foods that lack sufficient taste.

Jesus also raises the point that if we lose our flavor, how can it be restored? The answer is: Only by letting God renew us.

In your baptism, you were made flavorful – alive with God's love, peace, joy, etc. Fruitful Christians are those who evangelize by adding the seasoning of God's life – God's love, peace, joy, etc. – to the lives of the people around them.

But beware of trying too hard! What happens when food is over-salted? It tastes horrible. No matter how good our intentions might be, if we come on too strong, we do more harm than good.

People are much more likely to turn to Jesus if they first experience his love from us, and his peace in how we treat them, and his joy in the way we live our lives. They need to discover that Jesus loves them just the way they are, that he is gentle but sincere when inviting them to grow spiritually, and that he can help them turn hardships and troubles into blessings and joys.

Jesus also tells us to be a light that others cannot help but notice – but not a light that blinds. To flavor the lives of others with the presence of Jesus, we have to let his light shine in us. We have to be so lit up by Christ that others cannot help but notice.

Additionally, Jesus says that we have to be a city. We cannot evangelize alone. A “city” is a group of Christians: a parish, a family, a church organization. Being Christian means being in community. When our light is joined to the light of others, our collective glow is much more effective in revealing Christ to the world.

We are the light of Christ for each other. We are seasoning for each other. Without each other, our light dims, our flavor fades, and we become useless to God's kingdom.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. In what ways have you over-salted someone by trying too hard or too often to evangelize? What were the results? What will you do to rectify this?

2. What obstructs the light of Christ within you? What in you needs to change so that the people around you can see him better?

3. What clues help us identify people whose lives are lacking the full flavor of Jesus' love? How could their lives be seasoned with the love of Jesus that is in you? And in your parish?
“Be in the world, but not of the world!” Great advice, but not easy to follow.

We struggle with this tension. On the one side, the temptation is to keep ourselves pure and unstained by the world, but at the cost of excessively separating ourselves from it, not loving it, not leaving ourselves vulnerable as Jesus did to feel its pains, and not modeling how someone can live inside the world and still have a vibrant faith and church life. The other temptation is the opposite: To enter the world and love and bless its energy, but to do so in a way that ultimately offers nothing in the way being salt and light for the world.

We will never be free of this tension. Such is the price of paradox. However in order to live within it more healthily, we need a certain theology and spirituality to guide us and we need a greater personal maturity to sustain us.

What kind of theology and spirituality can help us? What kind of personal and collective maturity is being asked of us?

In terms of a theology and spirituality, what we need is a vision that holds in proper tension our love for the world and our love for God. One may not be sacrificed for the other; they must be brought into proper relation.

We need to be able to love the world in such a way that we bless and honor its goodness, its energy, its color, its zest, and its moral strengths, even as we stand where the cross of Jesus is forever being erected and speak prophetic words of challenge in the face of the world’s moral deficiencies, injustices, self-preoccupation, proclivity to greed, and less-than-full vision. But prophecy is predicated on love. Unless we first honor and bless what is good in the world we don’t have the moral right to criticize it.

We need to be in solidarity with the world in everything but sin, blessing it with one hand, even as we hold the cross of Christ with the other.

But that’s not easy. We don’t just lack the vision, we also lack the moral and emotional strength needed to imitate Jesus. He could walk with sinners, eat with them, embrace them, forgive their sins, feel the pain and chaos of sin, yet not sin himself. He could challenge the world, even as he blessed and enjoyed its energies.

And the struggle to do that is not abstract, but earthy: Mostly we can’t live as Jesus did simply because we lack the maturity to walk amidst the temptations, distractions, and comforts offered by the world without either losing ourselves in them, selling out our message, or unhealthily withdrawing into safe enclaves to huddle in fear, against the world, protected from it, but at the cost of denigrating its goodness, energy, color, and zest.

It’s no accident that our church communities sometimes look fearful, grey, sexless, and uninviting in comparison to the freedom, color, eros, and energy that’s manifest in the world. We remain religious, but often at the cost of being unhealthily fearful, timid, frigid, and depressed.

But Jesus was never fearful, timid, frigid, or depressed. We often are because we need to protect ourselves, given that we haven’t got Jesus’ maturity. And our timidity has its own wisdom, but …

In the 16th century, Ignatius of Loyola looked at the church and thought a new maturity was needed. He founded the Jesuits in response.

We need that today. Someone needs to found a religious community with no rules because, for its members, none would be needed. Everyone would be mature enough to live out a poverty, chastity, and obedience that does not need to be externally prescribed and over-protected by symbols that set it apart. Attitudes and behavior would be shaped from inside and would emanate from a commitment to a community, a vision, and a God that puts one under an obedience that is more demanding than any outside rule. The community would be mixed, men and women together, but strong enough to affectively love each other, remain chaste, and model friendship and family beyond sex and without denigrating sex. The community would be radically immersed in the world. Its members, sustained by prayer and community, would be free, like Jesus, of curfews and laws, to dine with everyone, saints and sinners alike, without sinning themselves. This community would give itself to the world, even as it resisted being of the world.

Perhaps that’s naive, but whenever I voice this fantasy to an audience the reaction is always very strong: Where can I find that? I’ll join tomorrow!

The world needs mature Christians who, like Jesus, have the strength to walk inside the world, right inside the chaos of sin itself, without sinning themselves. Like the young men in the Book of Daniel, Christians must be able walk around inside the flames without being consumed themselves, safe, singing sacred songs in the heart of the blaze.

5th Sunday in Ordinary Time

February 5, 2017
In English the seventh graders are currently working on their argumentative writing and research skills. The Common Core State Standards require seventh graders to write convincing arguments and acknowledge a counter-argument. To start, they read a mentor text that introduces a debatable topic and complete an argumentative writing planner. Using the planner, they find evidence from the text to support their argument and acknowledge the counter-argument. Next, the students use the Chromebooks to research other sources on the debatable topic. By doing this, they are identifying credible and reliable sources of information. The last step in the process is to compile the research and the text evidence into an essay.

In Literature, the seventh graders are reading The Adventure Of Ulysses by Bernard Evslin. During novel studies, the students work in small groups to discuss the novel. Students are challenged to make inferences, ask questions, synthesize ideas, and identify the main idea/theme. During this unit, students are working in their groups to re-teach one chapter from the novel. They will spend time collaborating and preparing for how they are going to re-teach the chapter to the class. Not only does this encourage teamwork, but it also lets the students take charge of their own learning experience.

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born. Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
