Dear Friends,

As we celebrate the third Sunday of Easter, we are reminded of the appearances of the Post-Resurrection Jesus, along with all the stories of the Apostles and their miracles. I suggest that you take some time with our church tour book, which you can pick up in the narthex, and revisit our bas-relief panels and their explanation on page 24. They are of particular interest at this time of year.

At the Easter Vigil, I had the privilege of baptizing 7 individuals in the font and confirming them along with 14 others, as they all received their First Eucharist. Their pictures were in last week’s bulletin. It was a glorious night for their families and our parish. We witness to each other in the breaking of bread and continue to pray for each other as we proceed on the journey of faith.

Also, I am grateful to all those who made the Triduum possible. Scores of people worked behind the scenes to make the 3 sacred days a beautiful experience. This includes our choir, Environment and Art, cleaning of the church, and all the liturgical ministers. Without their support and hard work, Fr. Fred and I would not be able to adequately preside at those liturgies. This is yet another sign of the Risen Lord working in the community.

As you read this letter, Bishop Kane will have confirmed 106 of our students from our school and Religious Education program. Two Confirmation liturgies were celebrated on Saturday, April 29. Congratulations to all our Confirmandi. Their names are on the front cover of the bulletin

Confirmation, along with Baptism and Eucharist, is considered one of the sacraments of initiation. Although the Holy Spirit comes to us in all 7 sacraments, and in many other ways, we are asking the Holy Spirit to enrich our spiritual journey in a special way at Confirmation. It is considered the completion of Baptism. If you have been confirmed, you received these gifts:

Wisdom, Understanding, Right Judgment, Courage, Knowledge, Reverence, and Wonder and Awe. There are times in our life when we need to ask the Holy Spirit to open these gifts. An example might be when we are racing through life and cannot take time to savor the moment. We can ask the Holy Spirit to open the gift of Wonder and Awe and help us show down so that we are aware of the wonders of nature and the people around us.

We are also given the Fruits of the Holy Spirit. Here is an opportunity to pray that the Spirit open the fruit of patience. You see how these are tied together. When we slow down and ask to open the gift, we then receive the fruit of that gift. The fruits of the Spirit are: charity, joy, peace, patience, generosity, gentleness, faithfulness, modesty, kindness, self-control, goodness, and chastity. Clearly, this is a lifelong journey, but I am surprised at how many do not ask the Holy Spirit to help open the gifts which were given to us many years ago so that the 12 fruits can take root in us.

3rd Sunday of Easter

"Jesus himself drew near and walked with them, but their eyes were prevented from recognizing him." The disciples on the road to Emmaus had already heard reports about Jesus' resurrection. It was at the forefront of their minds, but in spite of this, they did not recognize Jesus when he stood right before them.

Why not? Perhaps because they weren't looking for him. Maybe they didn't really believe that he was alive. Or it could be that his appearance was not the same as it had been before. Whatever the case, it's very interesting to learn that it was actually while celebrating the Eucharist that these men finally realized who was right there with them! "He was made known to them in the breaking of bread."

Living as we do some two thousand years later, it is easy to imagine that recognizing Jesus was a snap for those who walked the earth when he did. We can run the risk of feeling sorry for ourselves that we don't get to see Jesus in person the way THEY did. But look here! It was through the Eucharist that Christ was made known to them, and we too have that gift right in front of us. We celebrate every week the same "breaking of bread" at the altar during Mass. Jesus is present with us, body, blood, soul, and divinity, even if we don't recognize him! He is there, present in our midst.

If our eyes of faith are feeble, we can pray that the Lord will help us to know his presence in the Eucharist. Just as he came to comfort and accompany his first disciples, he wants to do the same for us through the Most Blessed Sacrament. We only need to be sure that we are always on the lookout to find him in our midst.

The spirit of Vatican II and the Mass (1964-1967)

Liturgical reform - its hopes and challenges

On November 29, 1964 — a year after the Second Vatican Council’s Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy was enacted — the “New Mass”, as it was then called, was introduced into US parishes. Join us in examining the liturgical reforms of Vatican II which proclaimed the Mass as “source and summit of Christian life” and encouraged the “full, conscious and active participation” of all in the Eucharistic celebration.

My name is Nicholas Johnson. I am a Boy Scout in Troop 399 and a freshman at Hoffman Estates High School. My Eagle Project is to build shelving units for WINGS in Elk Grove Village, Illinois. This project will benefit women and children that face domestic violence because all items stored on these shelves will go to them.

To offset the cost of the project and help these women & children, I will need your help. I will be selling candy after all Masses on May 6 & 7 and the proceeds will help pay for materials for the shelving units. Donating any of the items listed will also help and be given to these women & children in need. Thank you in advance for helping and allowing me to achieve my goal of completing my Eagle Project this summer.

Items Most needed:
- Adult and Children's Slippers (all sizes)
- Adult and Children Flip Flops (all sizes)
- Adult and Children's Spring/Summer Pajamas
- Laundry Detergent, Fabric Softener, Bleach

The two disciples of today’s Gospel reading did not recognize Jesus until after they heard him explain the scriptures and then broke bread with him. It was a two-part process. First, while listening to him teach about the scriptures, only their hearts recognized him. (“Were not our hearts burning within us?”) Their eyes didn’t see his true identity until Jesus shared a meal with them, raised the bread, blessed it, broke it, and gave it to them to eat.

If we have opened our hearts to Jesus during the first part of Mass, and if we are still paying attention, we see more than a piece of bread and a chalice of wine. We see Jesus. We recognize him with our hearts and our heads. We know beyond all doubt that the resurrected Jesus is truly present in the Eucharist.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. In what area(s) of your life does Jesus seem to be absent? How can the Mass help you recognize Jesus and feel his closeness?

2. What else can you do to discover the presence of Jesus when you are not able to sense his nearness?

3. When did you first discover that Jesus is truly present in the Eucharist? What helped you with that discovery?

4. How do you know that the bread and wine change into the substance of Jesus while retaining their original form (which is called “transubstantiation”)?

5. How easy is it for you to recognize Jesus in the Eucharist? Why?

Jesus himself were teaching us the meaning of the scriptures. But even when the reader or homilist does a poor job, we can open our hearts to hear Jesus speaking to us directly.

Then we move into the Liturgy of the Eucharist. When the presiding priest consecrates the bread and wine, it is Jesus himself who is actually doing it, using the priest’s hands and vocal chords. Jesus is doing for us what he did for those two disciples at Emmaus.
Nearly 2,000 years ago, two disillusioned youths consoled each other as they walked that seven-mile stretch of road separating Jerusalem from Emmaus. They moved slowly, depression having taken the spring from their steps. A double feeling clung to their hearts that day. They were hurting and there was reason. Their messiah and their dreams had just been crucified. A deep dark disappointment dampened their spirits. And there was fear. Most of all, there was fear. Not fear that they themselves might be crucified. That prospect loomed more welcome than the thought of going on. Theirs was that more horrible fear, the fear that comes from the realization that perhaps nothing makes a difference after all, maybe our dreams and our hopes point to nothing more real than Santa and the Easter Bunny. Maybe hope is only for children and the naive? They had been so excited, so full of hope. The Uncrucified Christ had filled them with a dream. With that dream had come a new innocence, a freshness, an energy, a feeling absent since they had been children and which, prior to meeting Jesus, they had, long ago, unconsciously despaired of ever feeling again.

One weekend, one black Friday, had changed it all. They walked now, realistic again, more than 48 hours older, their dreams, like their messiah, dead, entombed. They had grown up a lot in one weekend. Their naiveté had died as it hung exposed, mocked and ridiculed by the wise. There was a lesson hard learned, but it brought a hurt and a disappointment beyond words. But another feeling clung to them too, like a demon refusing to be exorcised. The dream still burned holes in their hearts. Mocked and dead – maybe it didn’t matter? Maybe something was more real than even death! Hurt beyond words, confused beyond doubts, they searched for words, grasped for trust. Then a stranger caught their step and caught their mood. They didn’t recognize him. How could they? In their loss of trust, their messiah had died.

But the stranger begins to find the words: “Do they not yet understand the ways of God? Isn’t it always when they don’t understand, and have to trust, that they understand the most deeply? Wasn’t it necessary for naiveté to be so exposed and ridiculed? Is that not its glory?” His words burned in them, touching and soothing that same deep part of the heart where the dream had lain. But they were only words, a balm, a momentary salve, nothing more. The doubt, the hurt, the fear, these lingered on. Emmaus and twilight appeared at the same time. The stranger had been a consolation. Why not ask him to stay? They continued to share, bread and consolation. Suddenly their eyes were opened. Their minds and hearts were opened even further. They understood. Jesus was with them again. The dream exploded anew like an atom split. They split, immediately, for the ends of the earth, hanging their naiveté and their dreams on crosses everywhere. The dream never died again. Easter Sunday had eclipsed a godless Friday. Christianity goes through multiple moods and feelings. Each age must struggle with its own emotions. Today, in terms of feeling, we live in that time between Good Friday and Easter Sunday. We are trudging along the road to Emmaus. Like the two disciples, we live with crucified dreams. Aesthetically, romantically, ethically, and religiously, we are surrounded by despair and its child, cynicism.

Dreams are giving way before the caveat of the cynical; faith is daily being displaced by doubt; and perseverance and long-suffering are all but extinct in a culture and church of release and enjoyment. Worst of all, there is fear, an unconscious fear whose tentacles are beginning to color every facet of life. It is the fear that perhaps our Christian hopes and dreams point to nothing beyond our own hopes and dreams. Perhaps faith is, after all, only a naiveté. Isn’t Christ as dead as he was on Good Friday? Who, save perhaps for a few good thieves, is still turning to a cross for salvation? Yet there is something else: The dream still clings to us, refusing to let us go. It burns holes in us still, hanging on to us, even when in infidelity and despair we can no longer hang on to it. Hope is still more real than death. In our hurt, we are struggling for words and grasping for trust. We need to remain on the road to Emmaus. The stranger now stalks that same road. In his company we need to discuss our doubts, discuss the scriptures and continually offer each other bread and consolation. At some moment too, our eyes will be opened. We will understand and we will recognize the risen Lord. Then the dream will explode anew like a flower bursting in bloom after a long winter. We will be full of a new innocence. Easter Sunday will happen again.

Family #28
Our family is a single African American female fleeing a domestic violence situation. She has three sons ages 14, 10, 8, two daughters 9 and 16, and a new granddaughter. She currently works part time as a CNA. She is currently looking for more clients.

This family’s situation seems to be steady now. Mom is currently working from home. She reports that when her daughter is away at school she watches her granddaughter and when she returns back home her daughter is on duty. Meanwhile, she is still going to therapy for her arm and feels it is helping. She continues to go through the process to receive death benefits for her children and has a pending case.

Current Goals:
- Save at least 3 to 6 months’ worth of rent.
- Save 90% of income taxes.
- Make sure that her daughter is linked with services for her and the baby.
- Take advantage of the Women’s Program at Harper to pursue a career in the medical field

This mom is very grateful to have the support of the Peace and Justice Cluster.

Family #29
Our mom is a single white female with a three year old son who became homeless due to low income status. Her child’s father does not work and is not financially stable. She was staying with her child’s father and they were not getting along living with his parents. They stayed with friends for about two months before she went to the shelter in November of 2016.

Our mom got a new job! She now works as the General Manager for a chain of pizza restaurants. She is very excited and will be working a lot of hours. She is still working very hard on her goals, focusing on repairing her car, and increasing her savings. She is almost finished with repairing her car. She is very focused on saving, but she is finding it hard as she tries to catch up on other bills while working on her credit. She is excited to be a manager with a guaranteed 40 hour work week.

She is happy to be able to see her doctor and get medication to stabilize her mental health. Her son is doing well and her friend has been helping her out with child care. Our mom is in the process of finding her son an affordable preschool to attend. She is trying to work out child support arrangements with her ex-husband. Things are moving very slowly, yet she is trying to give him a chance to get a job since he is currently unemployed.

Current Goals:
- Save at least 3 to 6 months’ worth of rent.
- Save 100% of income taxes.
- Continue to keep mental health stabilized.
- Find affordable childcare.

New Hope is also grateful for the support the Peace and Justice Cluster has done for the program.

St. Hubert
Alleluia! Christ is risen!

At the Easter Vigil Mass, St. Hubert student Matthew Bussen received the Sacrament of Baptism and the Sacrament of First Communion. Matthew’s fifth grade class celebrated with him during Easter week as he received the Eucharist for the first time with them. Congratulations Matthew and welcome to the Church!

First Graders enjoyed recalling stories and singing songs for their parents, grandparents, and special guests on Thursday, April 20. The performance was a cross-curricular activity that joined Literacy and Music. The theme of Thursday’s performance was Treasures! In their literacy lessons, children read stories and learned about how people or things can be treasures. This big idea was extended in music class as students learned songs with similar treasure themes. It was a wonderful way to extend their learning. The students did an outstanding job!

ST. HUBERT JOB & NETWORKING MINISTRY NEEDS YOUR HELP

The Job Ministry continues to assist from 25 to 40 people per meeting as they struggle with finding full-time work in a part-time, temporary, contract work society. This has recently created a need for two additional team members to join us, to help us direct and re-position our Public Relations and social media – media visibility presence.

We are seeking:
• A Marketing professional – ecommerce knowledge
• An Information Technology professional – Social media knowledge

We are seeking the above expertise to work together to help us develop a workable and coordinated visibility and P.R. strategy, as well as to help with the complexities of our social media presence and updates. If you have the above capabilities and are interested in assisting us, please contact our job ministry coordinator, Bob Podgorski at: careerguy1@gmail.com. Bob and our current media coordinator, Don Sutenbach, will work with you to help position the Job Ministry to its prominence as a best-in-class Job Networking Group. This, to continue to bring our message of Faith into the job search, to over 60—80 people per month who visit with us for career help, guidance, and sincere caring.

Weekly Mass Schedule

- Saturday: 4:30 PM; Reconciliation after Mass
- Sunday: 7:30, 9:00, 10:45 AM; 12:15 & 6:00 PM
- Monday & Friday: 7:00 AM Mass
- Tuesday: 8:30 AM Mass
- Wednesday & Thursday: 7:00 AM Communion Service

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
