23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

“For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.” - Mt 18:20

He’s In Our Midst!

In today’s gospel, Jesus tells us “where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I in the midst of them” (Matthew 18:20). Those are comforting words to hear. He is talking about coming together in prayer and how powerful praying together is. When we come to Mass or experience other liturgies, we come with our lives, our prayers and all we’re going through. But we also come to pray together for what is important and needed for all us.

The Prayers of the Faithful (also called the Universal Prayer) is the moment when our prayer as a community—gathered in Jesus’ name—is lifted to God. We pray for the Church and what’s going on in our world, which involves justice issues, such as all that’s happening with immigration, for those affected by prejudice, for the dignity of human life, and so much more. We pray for the sick in our parish and for those among our community and their loved ones who have died.

I know there are some here at St. Hubert who have long standing prayer groups, bible study groups, and other ways they come together in prayer and faith. What an awesome thing. Our faith opens up when we share it with others. In praying with others, God notices what’s on our minds.

When we pray together, Jesus is there…in the midst of us.

Two Ways We’re Helping Those in Need

In the second reading, Paul says “we owe nothing to anyone, except to love one another.” That’s a definition for justice: to give someone what’s due to them. As Christians, it always involves love and care for the other.

So as we pray for others, one of the things top of mind are those suffering from the effects of Hurricane Harvey. Our second collection today will be sent to Catholic Charities USA who are on the ground working and helping provide basic necessities. St. Hubert has a strong history of generosity and reaching out to help those in need and in times of crisis. So thank you very much for all those who have been giving to funds that are supporting the relief efforts. As St. Paul says, “Your kindness should be known to all. The Lord is near.” (Phil 4:5)

Thank you also for bringing food each month to help stock the food pantries in our local community. It really is a touching thing to see all the cartons and bags of food, because it represents the heartfelt desire to share from our bounty with those who are trying to get by.

We have recently learned that Catholic Charities here in the Archdiocese of Chicago has asked parishes with schools to help with a food drive so that they can be prepared for winter. Lack of food is unfortunately a growing need here in our archdiocese—and it affects children as well as adults. Every year more than 150,000 people rely on the Catholic Charities food pantries in Cook and Lake Counties.

So, the students in St. Hubert School and our Religious Education Program are going to take the lead in a special food drive, which they will open up to all of us. You will be hearing more about this next week. But in a nutshell, the students will be involved in Catholic Charities’ Soup-er Stadium Challenge, which coincides with Hunger Action Month. The challenge is to collect enough food to fill every seat in Soldier Field—twice. Catholic Charities says if all of us working together in the archdiocese can reach this goal, it will provide over 100,000 meals; but this challenge is nothing without prayer. So the students will not only be focused on the food drive but praying for all those who need help. Prayer is a way to nurture one another, too.

Thank you for all you are doing to make a difference in people’s lives. Let’s continue to pray for one another for strength, help, encouragement, healing and peace as we pray together.

Hurricane Harvey Emergency Appeal
On August 26, Hurricane Harvey, a powerful Category 4 storm, made landfall along the Gulf Coast of Texas, causing several deaths and injuries, and bringing catastrophic flooding and property damage to the region. Catholic Charities USA is working to provide emergency relief and support to those affected by the devastation. Please consider donating to support our brothers and sisters in the midst of their suffering.
A second collection will take place at parishes across the Archdiocese of Chicago on the weekend of September 9 and 10 for those affected by Hurricane Harvey. Thank you for your prayers.

23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time
23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

"For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." This is a fascinating promise. Jesus enlightens us today about the power of communal faith. He emphasizes that a gathering of like-minded believers, small though it may be, has a powerful effect. As he tells his disciples, "If two of you agree on earth about anything for which they are to pray, it shall be granted to them by my heavenly Father."

Alright then, what are we waiting for? We should take Jesus up on this amazing offer! Going to Mass is one way to do so. When we gather together every Sunday, we do more than listen to readings and receive the Eucharist. We also PRAY together. The priest leads us in these prayers, of course, but we are meant to join with him, as the Second Vatican Council put it, with "fully conscious, and active participation" (Sacrosanctum Concilium, #14). We are to make the prayers our own by attentively joining in with them from our hearts. Mindlessly reciting "Amen" or absentmindedly whispering the words of the Our Father likely loses the effect Jesus was talking about in today's Gospel. But truly praying together with our parish community certainly fits the bill.

We need not be at church to fulfill this kind of prayer, however. It only takes two! Those of us who live with others can exercise communal prayer every day in our own homes, just by joining each other for a few moments of petition or praise. Those who live alone may need to reach out more deliberately, but it only takes a phone call to "gather together" with another believer and offer up our prayers. May we have the courage to invite others to join us as we bring our needs to God.

Children’s Ministry of Initiation (CMI)

This is an invitational process that provides families and students with an opportunity to explore issues of faith and to receive the Sacraments. CMI process helps students deepen their faith through an experience of God and other people on a journey of faith.

This children/teen program is for children of catechetical age (7 and above) who:

✦ Have never been baptized.
✦ Were previously baptized in another Christian Tradition (Protestant or Orthodox) and wish to become part of the Catholic tradition.
✦ Were baptized Catholic but did not receive Eucharist in Grade 2.

Regular attendance of both the child and at least one parent is expected. For more information, contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

The Catholic Church serves millions of people by helping them answer important life questions and by leading them to faith fulfillment through Jesus Christ. St. Hubert Parish invites you to find out about Jesus and the Church He founded. Come learn his teachings and discover how to put these teachings into practice by living in a Catholic community, through worship, prayer, and service.

Call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org for more information.
Religious Education Teachers Urgently Needed

The success of our Religious Education program is due to our dedicated, committed, volunteers, who faithfully come week after week to teach our children. We need more people to join them for the coming school year.

New Altar Server Training

Do you wish you could be part of a ministry at Sunday Mass, but are told you are too young? Well, here’s an opportunity for you! If you are entering 5th grade in the fall, you can be an altar server at Mass. This is a great way to become even more familiar with the Mass, be involved and begin giving back to God and the Church.

Training for new servers will be held on Monday, September 25th in the church from 6:30—8:00 PM. We request that one parent/guardian attend training with the new server.

It is not necessary to register, but if you have questions, please contact Carol Blotteaux at cblotteaux@comcast.net.
What would you do if you weren't afraid to fail?

Join us for a special screening of the film “The Empowerment Project: Ordinary Women Doing Extraordinary Things” and we'll explore this question together. This film is not about encouraging girls and young women to try to ‘have it all’ but to be leaders of their lives and go after their dreams without fear, and in a realistic way. It’s also a story of friendship and transformation, as the filmmakers turned the cameras on themselves capturing their journey to redefine empowerment.

Good teachers provide good answers, but exceptional teachers ask great questions

Did you ever think that Jesus seemed to be more interested in questions than giving answers? When people asked Jesus a question, often he gave them a question back. In fact, he hardly ever gave a direct answer to anything. In the Gospels, Jesus asks over 100 questions. Jesus used questions throughout his ministry, not to find out something he didn’t know, but to probe into people’s deepest, most unsettled spaces.

Come join us for three evenings as we listen to the questions first-century listeners were asked.

We will look at how Jesus asks us the same questions for us in our own spiritual growth. In our spiritual lives, each question draws us into a greater understanding of God. At the same time, each question probes deeper into the unsettled spaces within our life.

Jesus loved questions. We should, too.

A Thank You Dinner for Parish Volunteers

A Thank You Dinner will be given by the parish for all of those in the parish that volunteered for various activities in the past year.

Friday, November 10

6:00 PM Fellowship
6:45 PM Dinner

Child care will be provided and your companion is welcome join us. Mark your calendar today!

To those of you who haven’t yet volunteered their time for the parish, it is strongly recommended that you give it a try. The members of the ministry that you might join, or at least investigate, will be most cordial—and I can assure you that the experience will more than please you. You will find the atmosphere low-key and low pressure. Just drop in and chat with Marie Staffa and learn about the various ministries available.

Most groups are run very informally. It is very easy to just assume that things will happen without stopping to consider who does these "things" - such as, change and water the flowers, take care of the altar cloths.

Become a volunteer. The parish needs you.

To become a volunteer minister, please contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700 ext 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

The Dream Act of 2017, S. 1615, was recently introduced in the Senate. If passed into law, this bipartisan bill would protect immigrant youth who entered the U.S. as children with "conditional permanent resident status" and a path to full lawful permanent residency and eventual citizenship. This includes the 780,000 young people who received temporary relief from deportation and employment eligibility through the Department of Homeland Security' DACA program.

ACTION: The Catholic Church believes in protecting the dignity of every human person and has long supported DREAMERS. Ask your senators to co-sponsor the Dream Act of 2017, by visiting the USCCB website www.JusticeforImmigrants.org.

23rd Sunday of Ordinary Time

Ezekiel 33:7-9
Ps 95:1-2, 6-9
Romans 13:8-10
Matthew 18:15-20

This Sunday's readings all speak of the need to stand up for what is holy and right and true in a way that invites others to turn away from sin. If we don't, we indirectly play a part in the sins he or she commits, and we will be held accountable (see the first reading).

If we do take a stand against sin but without compassion and mercy and unconditional love, that too is a sin (the second reading).

Jesus shows us in the Gospel reading that in our efforts to stop a fellow Christian from sinning, it's important to rely on our Christian community for advocacy and prayer support. How?

First, we speak to the sinner. When we know that someone is harming himself and others (all sins are harmful even when we can't see the harm), if we don't try to impart this knowledge to him or her at least once, our silence is unloving and uncaring.

Once we've shared the truth, even if the sinner does not change, we're free of any guilt. But we must not stop trying, and so we take one or two others with us in a stronger effort to help the sinner understand and repent.

And if that fails, we try again with still more backing.

When every attempt to help someone has failed, only then do we quit. In reality, it's not us who's walking away. The sinner is the one who has chosen the path of separation. However, remember how Jesus treated the Gentiles and tax collectors (i.e., the outsiders, the separated ones): He never stopped loving them. He still chose to die for them.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Whose sins have greatly disturbed you lately?

2. What have you done about it? How loving and caring have you been while handling it?

3. What bothers you about the way some people have pointed out your sins or the sins of others? How could they have been more compassionate?

4. Share the story of a time when someone successfully led another into repentance and growth. Explain why the effort was effective.
“I am a citizen, not of Athens or Greece, but of the world.” Socrates wrote those words more than twenty-four hundred years ago. Today more than ever these are words which we would need to appropriate because, more and more, our world and we ourselves are sinking into some unhealthy forms of tribalism where we are concerned primarily with taking care of our own.

We see this everywhere today. We tend to think that this lives only in circles of extremism, but it is being advocated with an ever-intensifying moral fervor in virtually every place in the world. It sounds like this: America first! England first! My country first! My state first! My church first! My family first! Me first! More and more, we are making ourselves the priority and defining ourselves in ways that are not just against the Gospel but are also making us meaner in spirit and more miserly of heart. What’s to be said about this?

First of all, it’s against the Gospel, against most everything Jesus taught. If the Gospels are clear on anything, they are clear that all persons in this word are equal in the sight of God, that all persons in this world are our brothers and sisters, that we are asked to share the goods of this world fairly with everyone, especially the poor, and, most importantly, that we are not to put ourselves first, but are always to consider the needs of others before our own. All slogans that somehow put “me”, “us” “my own”, “my group”, “my country” first, deny this. Moreover, this doesn’t just apply at the micro-level, where we graciously step back in politeness to let someone else enter the room before us, it applies, and especially so, to us as whole nations. For us, as nations, there is a certain immorality and immaturity in thinking first of all, and primarily, of our own interests, as opposed to thinking as citizens of the world, concerned for everyone’s good.

And the truth of this is found not just in Jesus and the Gospels, but also in what’s highest and best in us. The very definition of being big-hearted is predicated on precisely rising above self-interest and being willing to sacrifice our own interests for the good of others and the good of the larger community. The same is true for being big-minded. We are big-minded exactly to the extent that we are sensitive to the wider picture and can integrate into our thinking the needs, wounds, and ideologies of everyone, not just those of their own kind. That’s what it means to understand rather than simply be intelligent. When we are petty we cannot understand beyond our own needs, our own wounds, and our own ideologies.

We know this too from experience. On our best days our hearts and minds are more open, more willing to embrace widely, more willing to accept differences, and more willing to sacrifice self-interest for the good of others. On our best days we are gracious, big-hearted, and understanding, and, on those days, it’s unthinkable for us to say: Me first! We only put ourselves first and let our concerns trump our own goodness of heart on days when our frustrations, wounds, tiredness, and ideological infections overwhelm us. And even when we do revert to pettiness, part of us knows that this isn’t us at our best, but that we are more than what our actions betray at that moment. Below our wounds and ideological sicknesses, we remain riveted to the truth that we are, first, citizens of the world. A healthy heart still beats below our wounded, infected one.

Sadly, almost everything in our world today tempts us away for this. We are adult children of Rene Descartes, who helped shape the modern mind with his famous dictum: “I think, therefore, I am!” Our own headaches and heartaches are what’s most real to us and we accord reality and value to others primarily in relationship to our own subjectivity. That’s why we can so easily say: “Me first! My country first! My heartaches first!”

But there can be no peace, no world community, no real brother and sisterhood, and no real church community, as long as we do not define ourselves as, first, citizens of the world and only second as members of our own tribe.

Admittedly, we need to take care of our own families, our own countries, and our own selves. Justice asks that we also treat ourselves fairly. But, ultimately, the tension here is a false one, that is, the needs of others and our own needs are not in competition. Athens and the world are of one piece. We best serve our own when we serve others. We are most fair to ourselves when we are fair to others. Only by being good citizens of the world are we good citizens in our own countries.

Putting ourselves first goes against the Gospel. It’s also poor strategy: Jesus tells us that, in the end, the first will be last.

Saint Hubert Girl Scouts and their families tended to the garden in front of Saint Hubert School this summer. Summer events to beautify the school have been a tradition for the Girl Scouts for 8 years through the Adopt-A-Plot Ministry. This year members of Troop 41260 picked up litter, mulched, pruned, and watered the flowers. They also added mums to their garden to add a bit of color just in time for the first day of school. Each scout will receive a patch for their time volunteered.

September 10, 17, 24, October 1, 8
7:15-8:30 PM Church Lower Level

The world has changed. The modern presentation of personhood has challenges that didn’t exist in the past. Today teens are given conflicting messages on a daily basis, and an approach based simply on rules to be followed is not enough. They need to know that not only is each teenager a unique, unrepeatable gift of God, but so also is their sexuality, and all aspects of their lives.

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS
To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES
Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION
Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound
If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick
Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
