26th Sunday in Ordinary Time

“Which of the two did his father’s will?” They answered, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Amen, I say to you, tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you.” — Mt 21:31

The Attitude of Christ

In today’s second reading, from his letter to the Philippians, Paul urges us to have among us the same attitude that is also in Jesus—to not just look out for our own interests, but especially the interest of others. It’s to become outward focused, which, as we know, can require sacrifice. Usually we don’t regret it; it’s a way we love.

And when we share this attitude, we’re growing the Kingdom of God here on earth. We never do this without Christ—we do it through Him, with Him, and in Him. We do it together.

This attitude—of valuing the other, looking out for others, helping those in need—is one of the virtues of St. Hubert Parish. I was blessed to experience it during the years I came to pray with you on the weekends, but have seen it more fully since being welcomed into this incredible community of faith.

It’s a part of who we are, and as we travel through this week’s bulletin, we can truly see that we share the attitude of Christ (which Paul also will name “the mind of Christ”) by the everyday normal activities that are part of parish life. As a parish, we are mindful of others. Here are just a few examples from the pages to follow:

- This Sunday is Right to Life Sunday, which calls us to reflect on our firm belief that all human life is sacred from the moment of conception to natural death. We’re mindful of the other, such as the unborn, immigrants, those abused by others, the imprisoned, the sick, and those facing decisions about the life of another. As Christians, we uphold human life and believe in eternal life—that our life isn’t meant to end, but is lived most fully with God. Our Right to Life ministry will have materials for reflection and education after the Masses and you’ll also find an invitation to join the “Life Chain” with members of six of our neighboring parishes.

- The Taste of St. Hubert is Saturday, October 7 which celebrates the rich diversity of our parish community—especially through our stomachs! St. Hubert Parish values diversity very deeply because we value the dignity of every human being. All human beings are created in the image and likeness of God. And nothing shows that more beautifully than when we gather as a community for Mass. In prayer we are truly one. Together we reflect the universal Church, the Body of Christ in the world.

- We will have a communal celebration of the Anointing of the Sick on October 8 during the 10:45 AM Mass. As a community, we will gather with those who are sick in our parish and pray for their healing and health. As Jesus says, when two or three gather in his name to pray—especially for others—he is there among us.

- Take a look at the St. Hubert School page for a thank you for participating in the Soup-er Stadium Challenge. Together—no matter how young or old we are—we’re looking out for the hungry among us, which is the attitude of Christ. This is a very generous parish, especially when it comes to helping others with basic needs of life. (You’ll also note we’re starting a marketing committee to help share the good news about St. Hubert School. If you have any interest in helping us, whether or not you have a student in the school, we would really appreciate it! Please contact me or our chair, Kerri Largo, at klargo@d211.org.)

The good news is that when we “put on the mind of Christ,” when we “have among ourselves the same attitude that is also in Christ Jesus”—and we do it naturally and instinctively and as part of who we are, we’re living the gospel. St. Hubert Parish is doing it as a part of who we are!

Respect Life

"Only a tender, compassionate love that seeks to serve those most in need, whatever the personal cost, is strong enough to overcome a culture of death and to build a civilization of love.

Let us open our hearts and reflect on how God might be calling each of us to witness the sacredness of human life."

"Amen, I say to you, tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you." Ouch. This had to sting. Jesus spoke these shocking words not just to anybody. He spoke them to "the chief priests and elders of the people." The ones who were professional law-keepers. The ones who were religious leaders and teachers. The ones who were, in truth, self-righteous, pompous, and presumptuous. Jesus must have known how offensive it would be to his audience to share this unpleasant fact. But he said it anyway because he knew they needed to hear it.

But the point wasn't to offend. The point was to amend. Jesus was urging them to change their lives for the better, to come to God with a humble, contrite heart, seeking forgiveness and mercy. These unrepentant upper-crust leaders were plagued by an inability to see their own sins. They were far too focused on identifying where others were going wrong. And, as was his style, Jesus' preaching was adapted according to his audience. These guys needed to get knocked out of their complacency. So Jesus did what he had to do.

It's important to realize, by the way, that the reason tax collectors and prostitutes were leading the line to heaven wasn't because of their sins. It was because of their sorrow. The people Jesus had in mind when he mentioned this--like Zacchaeus and Mary Magdalene perhaps--had repented from their sinful behavior and begun anew. This is why he praises them. And this is what the Lord longs to see everyone doing, including us. Either we need to acknowledge and repent of our sins, or we are placing ourselves in the same category as the pharisaical priests and elders. And that's definitely not the place to be.

Parish Pets' Blessing honors the Feast of St. Francis
Wednesday, October 4th

We often see an image of St. Francis of Assisi giving God glory as Creator by holding up a small creature or raising his arms in praise.

This blessing gives thanks for the companionship of our pets, asks God to keep them healthy, and that they be a source of pleasure for the Earth and our homes. Children and all households who care for God's creatures are invited to bring your pet for the traditional blessing of animals. This will take place about 4:00 PM in the parish lot near the School Lunch Room.

It is common to bring dogs and cats, but you can also bring your hamsters, birds, bunnies and the like. It is safer for your small pet, such as these, to be in their cage. Let all God's creation be kept from harm, abuse, or neglect as we celebrate the feast of St. Francis, who honored God with respect for all God has put on Earth.

Volunteers Needed for the 16TH Annual
Taste Of St. Hubert

Food Collection
October 7th & 8th
The 1st month of the new school schedule is now ending! How did you do? I'm not asking the kiddos—I'm asking you??

I'm glad my children are older, if they were in 3rd grade now, I'd have to hire a tutor for myself!! But with a roof over their head and food on the table, we know all is well. We again have been blessed with lunch and dinner items from our Unknown parishioner(s). I hope you'll add as much as you can to the "Unknowns" so it winds up that we will all be the generous Unknowns! Now you see why I was talking about tutors!

Thanks,
Pegi Meegan

Anointing of the sick
Sunday, October 8th
at the 10:45 AM Mass

A communal celebration of the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick will occur on Sunday, October 8th. Please mark your calendar and join us at the 10:45 AM Mass. Whether you want to receive the sacrament yourself or pray with and for those who are being anointed, you are invited to participate.

The sacrament's name, “Anointing of the Sick” (as opposed to the old “Extreme Unction”), emphasizes the important point that this is a sacrament for the living. It is the church’s ordinary rite for the strengthening of those whose health is weakened by illness or age.

Who might choose to be anointed? The sacrament is for anyone with serious illness. For some it is an ongoing struggle in need of God’s healing strength. For others it is a new, and perhaps soon cured condition with surgery or other treatment. All illness brings anxiety, and often, serious worry. Here are some persons who might choose to receive the sacrament. Those facing surgery, subject to chronic disease, wrestling with depression, anxiety or addictions; those aware of growing weakness; those seeking the healing of loss or grief. Children, as well as adults of all ages, can be anointed. Caregivers who are seriously affected by the illness of a spouse, parent, or child can also be anointed. In the Anointing of the Sick, not only are the sick ministered to, but they minister to us by witnessing their faithfulness to Christ and their move to him in hope, even in the midst of their suffering.

St. Hubert Ministers of Care will assist in the sacrament, signing in those to be anointed, standing with them during the anointing, and introducing them to the priest who comes to them in their row. Ministers of Care cannot know everyone who might receive strength and comfort from this sacrament. Please, if you know someone, invite them to come with you to 10:45 AM Mass on September 8th and assure them of our prayers.

Even if you will not be present for these liturgies, remember to pray for the sick of the parish.

Today's Gospel story was meant to shock people who think they're okay spiritually but do not honestly examine how well they do the Father's will.

Jesus said that tax collectors and prostitutes (professions considered to be the most contemptible and unholy) were entering the kingdom of God ahead of religious experts!

These so-called "experts" knew the correct answer to the question that Jesus posed -- they knew to say yes to God -- but knowing the right answer and actually DOing the right answer is the dividing line between heaven and hell.

God doesn't want right answers; he wants righteous actions. God doesn't want dutiful compliance to Church teachings; he wants obedience motivated by love and an enthusiastic attitude of serving in the mission of the Church.

What's the value of going to Mass every Sunday, for example, if it doesn't result in deeds of holiness outside the Mass?

Do you know someone who's saying "no" to coming to Mass? If they're doing good works because they genuinely love God, who's to say they won't reach full unity with him sooner than people who attend every Mass but do little to help others?

God wants us to do both: know the right answers and be righteous. Go to Mass faithfully and be changed by it. Say yes to his calling to make the world a better place by uniting ourselves to Christ in church and following out him out the door, taking him to everyone we meet.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What opportunities to serve God in your parish or out in the community have you said "no" to? Spend some time praying to understand whether or not that was an invitation from Christ himself.

2. What can you say "yes" to now?

3. What types of people today are despised the most?

4. Who seems least likely to get into heaven? (A terrorist perhaps? An ex-spouse?) How is it possible (to our surprise) that we might be greeted by them when we arrive in heaven? How would you feel about it?
For more and more of us, I suspect, the issue of abortion brings up feelings of helplessness that border on despair. The issue is so important that a conscientious person may not remain silent for long without incurring guilt. But what responses are truly productive? What can genuinely help change this situation? What would Jesus do? Would he organize political lobbies? Lobby for pro-life candidates? Withhold portions of his income tax? Demonstrate outside abortion clinics? Chain himself to a fence?

I honestly don’t know. There is in me neither the vision nor the will to try to answer those questions. What I do want to offer, and rather hesitatingly at that, are the rather meager fruits from my own struggles with these questions. I have always been, and remain, uncompromisingly pro-life. Rightly or wrongly, however, I haven’t always been involved in the active struggle, the political organizing and the demonstrations. Why? Sometimes I rationalize that if God had wanted me to be a prophet, he would have given me greater strength and a less ambiguous vision. As it is, I am Germanic, complete with the proclivity for procrastination and the need for the infallible assurance, before I act, that I am not making a mistake. But, these things aside, my hesitation has also been based upon a belief that this issue, for all its urgency, has no quick solution.

To begin to explain this, I need to speak about power. What kind of power may we seize upon to try to change this situation? Too many people, I am afraid, have placed their hopes in legal power, political power. The belief is that if we work hard enough we can get the laws changed, put abortionists on trial and close down abortion clinics. To this end, we demonstrate, withhold taxes, and organize lobbies and chain ourselves to fences. I am not suggesting that these things do not need to be done; after all, real people are dying. This battle is more than academic. And yet, the only real solution is long-range. This battle, in the end, cannot be won legally and politically. Ultimately, more so than laws, hearts need to be changed.

Conversion is the only effective way of ultimately ending abortions. Abortion clinics will shut down when nobody shows up at their doors any more. To win the battle politically, without a conversion of hearts, will simply roll back the clock, drive people into illegal backroom clinics, allow abortionists like Henry Morgentaler to posture as martyrs, and lead to a renewed effort on the part of the pro-abortionists. It will be a temporary slowing down of abortions, at best. Moreover, this conversion must involve a conversion within relationships. Today, the issue of abortion cannot be fairly thought out because radical feminism has claimed pro-choice as one of its key liberation items. To be pro-life is to be classified as anti-feminist.

This is tragic for both sides on this issue because, consequently, sincere people, including women, are forced to distance themselves from feminism; and feminists, on their part, are all too often forced to distance themselves from one of the things they would most need to change in order to bring about healthier relationships between women and men – namely, the stopping of abortion. Radical feminism has seen, and rightly so, a connection between the abortion issue and feminine oppression. Unfortunately, it has not always, in my opinion, understood that connection correctly, even as it intuited its gravity. The oppression of women in our culture is especially sexual. In a culture that is sexually irresponsible, the inevitable losers are women. They end up suffering the most.

When a culture exists within which men and women do not trust each other, within which sexual irresponsibility is encouraged in (and even, at times, forced upon) young people, and within which women – for reasons which are often far beyond their free choosing, sleep with and conceive children from men whom they hardly know, don’t trust, and do not want to raise a child with – you inevitably have abortion. But it is not the girl or woman who shows up at the abortion clinic who is most to blame, nor perhaps even the boy or man who impregnates her. We are all to blame. The lady who stands before the abortionists is, with her child, victim, the tip of a pinecone of irresponsibility and oppression. And, on her part, abortion is an act of resignation. No woman ever really wants an abortion and no woman is ever happy for having one. As Ginny Soley puts it in a recent Sojourner article: “Abortion is, finally, an act of despair. The decision to have an abortion reflects a woman’s lack of confidence in herself. It means that she does not trust the man with whom she is in relationship. It means that she has no belief in long-lasting, long-term, stable relationships between men and women. In fact, it means that she has lost confidence in life itself.” (Sojourners, October, 1986)

The road to final victory on the issue of abortion is long, the task mammoth. Hearts need to change, relationship need to change, sexual patterns need to change, oppression needs to be recognized; and real villains and real victims must be more accurately named.

The world has changed. The modern presentation of personhood has challenges that didn’t exist in the past. Today teens are given conflicting messages on a daily basis, and an approach based simply on rules to be followed is not enough. They need to know that not only is each teenager a unique, unrepeatable gift of God, but so also is their sexuality, and all aspects of their lives.

Annually, on the first Sunday in October, National Life Chain invites Christians in every city and town across North America to stand along busy streets while praying and holding inoffensive signs opposing legalized abortion. Once again, we will join with our neighboring parishes to form a Life Chain along the south side of Irving Park Road between Barrington and Bartlett Roads. Six local parishes will participate.

We will gather in the St. Hubert parish parking lot at 2:20 PM, select a sign, and car pool to Irving Park. We will spread out to form a long chain. If you have trouble standing for one hour, bring a lawn chair for comfort. Children, teens, and adults of all ages are welcome. You can make a difference!

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
