Rejoice in the Lord always.
Your kindness should be known to all.

FR. FRED LICCIARDI, C.PP.S.
Farewell and Godspeed

31ST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
NOVEMBER 5, 2017
The Heart of a Servant

In today’s gospel, Jesus challenges us during those weak moments when we may lose sight of not just what’s important—but also who is important in our life. He wants to curb our sense of self-importance in favor of developing the heart of a servant.

In other words, Jesus is urging us to value God’s role in our life, and also to be aware of how important it is to relate well to others. Every servant leads their own life, because they make choices on how to be and how to relate. Good servants anticipate what others may need and then respond appropriately. The Christian life values life—our own, but also those who we encounter day-to-day, year-to-year. Most of all, we value the One who gives it and holds it sacred.

“Well done, good and faithful servants!” (Matthew 25:23)

Speaking of valuing others, in addition to Fr. Rizzo, our associate pastor who has been with us the past two years, Fr. Fred Licciardi, is also retiring. Please join us in the lower level of the church after the 9:00 a.m. Mass to wish him well. Fr. Fred has brought his positive energy, joy and love of the gospel to our community and we will miss him. He’ll be around every now and then to preside at Masses and to continue his popular lecture series this Spring.

Fr. Rizzo was very touched by the beautiful Mass and celebration in honor of his 40+ years of priestly ministry. Thank you to everyone who made this a special day for him, and for the many, many people who brought in desserts and food to share. We have so many people who are very generous in responding to a call to pitch in and help.

We also congratulate our parishioner, Joyce Manfre, who received the Christifideles Award last Sunday from Cardinal Blase Cupich. This award is bestowed upon a layperson in each parish who has used his/her talents to deepen participation in parish life.

Joyce is a Eucharistic Minister, a Minister of Care, leads Communion Services, helps serve at daily Masses, is a member of the Stewards Ministry and Funeral Luncheon team, and has been very helpful at parish events and pitching in when needed. Joyce has found joy and fulfillment in actively participating in the life of the Church and it shows in who she is. Like many people here, she definitely has the heart of a servant, and so it seems so appropriate to acknowledge and thank her for all she does.

Honoring the Gift of Life

On page 5, take a look at an open letter from Lee Krizka, one of our parishioners, about next week’s Blood Drive being coordinated by the Knights of Columbus. It is a touching appeal about how important and life-giving donating blood truly is. If you’re in good health and are able to give, please consider it. It is a true act of service that benefits those in need.

And finally, a heartfelt thank you to all our Veterans as we honor your commitment to service on Friday. The students at St. Hubert School have been working for weeks on a program to say thank you, which will begin at 8:15 a.m. in the Parish Center. We’re also ready to update our military services display in the narthex. If you would like us to hold a member of your family in prayer who is currently serving in the military, or would like to update or display a picture, please contact Lynn Howard ext. 113 at the Parish Center and she will help you.

As we head into the week, may God continue to bless you in the many ways you serve others,

—Fr. Mike
Next Week’s Readings:
Wisdom 6:12-16
1 Thessalonians 4:13-18
Matthew 25:1-13

Blessing of Veterans
There are so many veterans in our county now. It used to be that veterans were a small contingency in our communities. It did not take that much effort to care for and, once a year, thank them. Now, however, with so many wars in violent parts of the world, there are more veterans than we can compassionately care for. There are many men and women who come back from the service who are wounded for life, either physically, mentally, or emotionally. On this Veterans Day, let us remember those who have served our country, but more than remember, let us redouble our efforts to care for those still with us.

Let us pray...

Good and gracious God, you do not condone war. Help us to understand the cause of war and work toward alleviating it from the face of the earth you created.

We ask you to bless the veterans of our country, but also to bless the veterans of our enemies too. War is the ultimate failure on our part to see the needs of our neighbor. Let us remember that our neighbor is our brother.

We ask this in the name of Jesus, our brother and Savior. Amen.

PRAY FOR . . .

Deceased
Mary Pollina, Steve Heller
"For they preach but they do not practice." The scribes and Pharisees may be the ones Jesus was speaking about in today's Gospel, but we must be careful not to dismiss his words when it comes to our own actions. Jesus offered a difficult challenge to those honor-seekers that we must also heed when he said, "The greatest among you must be your servant." This is not the way the world usually works. Generally speaking, the idea of being a servant is considered inferior to being someone who has risen to high levels of leadership or status. But Jesus wants people in positions of authority to selflessly serve those over whom they have influence. And he insists that the leaders who establish laws, rules, and guidelines do not excuse themselves from following their own directives! "Practice what you preach," as the saying goes.

Whether or not we have extensive public influence, almost all of us at certain points are in a position to exercise leadership--with our children and families, with classmates, coworkers, neighbors, friends, and sometimes strangers. When these moments arise, we are called to step into this role without being hypocrites. It's important to be sure we don't issue unrealistic demands on others that we ourselves would find it burdensome or even impossible to fulfill. This requires the virtue of humility. Instead of reveling in the authority we may have at any given moment, instead of creating "heavy burdens hard to carry and lay[ing] them on people's shoulders," we need to be ready and willing to walk a mile in their shoes, and lead accordingly. And Jesus tells us clearly that this servant leadership will be rewarded, for "whoever humbles himself will be exalted."

Dear Friends,

I am deeply grateful for the wonderful celebration we had last Saturday, beginning with the 4:30 Mass, followed by a lively, entertaining, and fun-filled reception. It is an evening I will never forget.

There were so many people who helped make this a memorable occasion for my retirement: the staff, the volunteers who helped plan and execute the party, the choir, environment and art for the beautiful flowers and arrangements, all the liturgical ministers, and especially the 1,000 people who were present to celebrate with me.

I received many gifts, and it may take me many weeks to send out thank you notes, but now that I am officially retired I have the time to write them.

During the Sundays of Advent, Christmas and New Year's, I plan to return for Mass. I hope to see you again and thank you personally.

Fr. Rizzo, Pastor Emeritus

New Altar Server Training

Do you wish you could be part of a ministry at Sunday Mass, but are told you are too young? Well, here's an opportunity for you! If you have already entered the 5th grade, you can be an altar server at Mass. This is a great way to become even more familiar with the Mass, be involved and begin giving back to God and the Church.

It is not necessary to register, but if you have questions, please contact Carol Blotteaux at cblotteaux@comcast.net.

An Open Letter about Donating the Gift of Life

Hi, my name is Lee Krizka. My wife and I and our four children have been parish members since 1967.

I would like to thank Father Mike for giving me the opportunity to make this appeal. As you may have heard, there will be a blood drive here next weekend. For those of you who have given regularly, I would like to thank you, and for those who have not given yet I hope you will consider doing so this time.

One of the reasons for suggesting that you give blood is because of an illness called MDS (Myelo Dysplastic Syndrome). Several years ago I was diagnosed with this disease. What it means, basically, is that my bone marrow does not produce enough red blood cells to keep me going. So at least once a week I need to have a blood transfusion.

So far, I have had over 100 units of blood. Without this life giving source I would not be with you today but I pray that with your help, I will be with you for many days to come.

There are many more people who need blood on a regular basis for a variety of reasons, not only those who have MDS.

To be sure that the blood supply continues, please consider donating blood at our blood drive next week.

Thank you for considering it,

Lee Krizka

Today's Gospel reading contains a verse that, when taken literally, has been used by some Protestants to condemn Catholicism because we call our priests "Father." By that logic, when Jesus said, "Call no one on earth your father," he meant our dads, too, right? Did he never call St. Joseph by the title father? Perhaps when Jesus as a lad had a question about carpentry he said, "Hey dude who's married to Mom!" I don't think so.

To understand what Jesus means in this scripture, we need to read the whole passage: This singled-out verse is actually part of a teaching about equality. He is telling us that we must not consider anyone to be superior to ourselves – no one but God is superior to us.

Jesus says here: "The greatest among you must be your servant." At other times in other scriptures, Jesus says that if we want to be greatest, we have to be the servant of all, because we must not think of ourselves as superior to others. But in today's lesson he's telling us not to think of ourselves as inferior, either. He's trying to cure our low self-esteem.

Do you know, for example, that as a child of God you are not inferior to the pope? This is why he's called the servant of the servants of God. As Christ's representative in Church leadership, he serves us in everything he does, whether it's presiding at Mass or making decisions.

No matter what someone's credentials are, no matter how much authority God has given to our priests and other leaders, and no matter how famous or well-liked anyone is, we are all equally loved by God. We're all equally important to God.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Do you feel served by those who have higher status? Why or why not?
2. When you don't, how much of this is your own attitude of assuming that you're inferior? What will you do to shift your thinking and accept your own value according to God's perspective?
3. When someone's job or talents or position in the family or church seems greater than yours, how do you overcome your feelings of inferiority?
4. How does Jesus convey to you that you are inferior to no one?
5. Describe a time when you felt inferior but then became aware of your equal value. (This story will help others who are struggling to overcome their own feelings of inferiority.)
To try to serve others is to be caught up in many tensions, some that beset from without and others that beset from within. How can we remain energized, effective, and true? Here are some guidelines for the long haul:

Be beyond ideology, be both post-liberal and post-conservative

Have an unlisted ideological number! Refuse to be pre-defined by any ideology of the left or the right. Like Jesus, transcend boundaries, constantly surprise, refuse to be classified. Don’t be liberal and don’t be conservative, be a woman or man of faith and compassion and let that take you down whatever roads it takes you, liberal or conservative.

Strive to incarnate both the kenotic and the triumphant Christ.

Don’t be afraid to be nothing and don’t be afraid to be everything! Christ emptied himself and refused to claim any status or to stand out in terms of public titles, distinctive dress, or in any triumphant display of power. But he is too the Christ who rose triumphant from the tomb and who needs to be proclaimed publicly, with color, pride, and display. He is both the Christ of silent, anonymous witness and the Christ of chanting, public processions. Honor both.

Be for the marginalized, without being marginalized yourself.

Walk a fine tightrope! Take your stand with the marginalized, even as you are known for your sanity and capacity to relate warmly and deeply to every kind of person and group. Be known for your radical stance for the poor even as you are recognized for the wide scope of your embrace.

Lead without being elitist.

Be led by the artist, but listen to the street! Be a leader, an aesthete, an artist, a creative person trying to lead others forward, even as you shun elitism of every sort and ensure that every kind of person is comfortable around you. Be a leader, but with empathy, without disdaining others’ culture, sentiment, or piety.

Be iconoclastic and pious at the same time.

Don’t be afraid to smash idols and don’t be afraid to bow in reverence! The problem is that the pious aren’t liberal and the liberals aren’t pious. Be both, one doesn’t work without the other. Great hearts hold near contradictory principles, lesser ones do not. Help smash the false gods that need to be smashed, even as you are unafraid to kneel often in reverence.

Be equally committed to social justice and to intimacy with Jesus.

Learn to be comfortable leading both a peace march and devotional prayer! Do not choose between justice and Jesus, between committing yourselves to the poor and fostering private intimacy with Jesus. Don’t choose between interiority and action. Dorothy Day didn’t. There’s a lesson there.

Be thoroughly in the world, even as you are rooted elsewhere.

Live in a tortured complexity! Love the world, love its pagan beauty, let it take your breath away, even as you root your heart in something deeper so that the realities of faith also take your breath away. Carry the tension between having a hopeless love for the world and a hopeless love for things beyond it. Love the world as you would a lover with some quirks of character and weaknesses that cause you pain. Pray a lot. Cry occasionally. Sneak off to a church as needed and walk in the sun regularly. The church has secrets worth knowing, and the world is also beautiful.

Ponder, in the biblical sense, by carrying the tension inside the community.

Eat the tension around you! Mary pondered, not by thinking deep intellectual thoughts but by holding, carrying, and transforming tension so as not to give it back in kind. Like Jesus, she helped take sin and tension away by absorbing it, like a water-filter that keeps the impurities, toxins, and dirt inside of itself and gives back only pure water. Be a tension-absorber inside all the communities wherein you live. Absorb the bitterness, the anger, the hardness, the group hysteria, the lack of reconciliation, as a water-filter might. Then drink wine with a friend to rid yourself of your own toxins.

Help incarnate a deeper maturity.

Go into dark places, but don’t sin! Stand up for the God-given freedom we enjoy, even as you model and show others how that freedom can be carried in a way that never abuses it. Like Jesus, who went into the singles-bars of his time (except he didn’t sin), walk in great freedom, go into dark places, but go there not to assert human autonomy but to take God’s light there.

Make love to the song!

Forget about yourself and how others react to you! A bad singer on stage makes love to himself; a more mature singer makes love to his audience; a really mature singer makes love to the song. Service is the same. Forget about yourself, your image, your need to prove yourself, and eventually forget about your audience too so that you and your song are not about yourself or about your people, but about God.

STANDARDS AND BROADWAY, and will be presented by Kym Frankovelgia.

Every once in a while a performer comes along who was literally "Born to Entertain". Kym Frankovelgia is one such person. She is a cabaret singer, and has performed on cruise ships, with many well known professional entertainers and bands, and has entertained at numerous groups within the Chicagoland area. Kym sings the very best music from the 20’s, 30’s, 40’s, 50’s and 60’s. Each show includes music from the Standards songbook, the Big Band era, the Broadway stage, hilarious story songs, and heart-melting ballads. Audiences will laugh and cry at each performance.

This show is a tribute to "The Great American Songbook" as well as Broadway, and will be a crowd pleasing musical program. The stage is Kym’s own personal playground, where the audience is invited to play along. This is what sets her apart from so many others who seem to get lost once the music stops. Kym’s unique blend of warmth and humor along with a huge catalogue of music in her repertoire will provide an evening you won’t easily forget.

This show is a combination of standards, big band, Broadway and comedy. It’s a relaxed and spontaneous program, and the audience is often the catalyst for any particular selection. Kym is very good at reading an audience, and she will take the direction that the audience leads her. If they are laughing, she will focus on humorous songs; if they are pensive and romantic, she will perform more romantic selections. It all depends on them.

Come One, Come All...
First-time author Karen Kelly presents her new book, Angels on Your Pillow, a tale of unconditional love through the presence of angels. A Schaumburg businesswoman and Hoffman Estates resident, she grew up in St. Hubert parish.

In an age where social media captures the imagination and expression of people, books seem an ancient way to present stories.

Karen Kelly had a dream more than 10 years ago of writing a story to promote God’s unconditional love for everyone. The goal was to tell it in a way that would interest both children and adults.

Following her faith, Karen believes “angels are the bridge that connect human beings to pure and unconditional love,” an example of God’s love for all people.

Karen will tap into the power of storytelling. Come and learn about her inspiration and what went into the process of writing her book.

Karen’s books will be on display. Following her presentation, guests will have an opportunity to do an artistic project in which all generations can participate. Suggested ages: children 4–8 with a parent, grandparent, other relative or friend.

All ages are welcome.

A portion of the book’s proceeds will be donated to various charities.

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments:
A Transitional Housing Program for Homeless Families, September 2017 Update

Family #28

Our mom has made some progress with securing death benefits for her two children, whose father passed away last year. She is still on the Section 8 Housing waiting list for Gary, IN and has been told she is at the top of the list. She is trying to secure arrangements because her lease is over this month.

Things are better with her oldest daughter. She is in the home helping and showing that she wants to be a mother to her baby. She is also attending school regularly and wants to go to a Chicago city college next year. Her other children are also stable at this time.

Goals

- Save at least 3 to 6 months’ worth of rent.
- Staying compliant with New Hope program for a smooth transition.
- Follow up with Gary, IN Section 8 Housing on a weekly basis.
- Continue to save for move to buy new furniture and pay for movers.

Family #29

Our mom is doing quite well and is thinking about moving back to Lake County to be close to her parents for support for her child. Things are going very well with his father. He has consistently visited over the last 2 months, has been helping financially, and supporting her when she is working. They have agreed on how to move forward co-parenting together. She is very happy with how things are going. The father also took their son on vacation to California. Mom is currently looking for an apartment in her desired location and continues to grow her savings account.

Goals:

- Continue to keep mental health stabilized.
- Save as much as possible before October 31, 2017.
- Secure affordable housing in Lake County near parents.

Both families are very grateful for all the help from the Peace and Justice Cluster parishes and parishioners.
