Watch! Emanuel is Coming!

Today, Jesus will give us a word we can put on our fridges, post on our Facebook pages, or use as a screen saver to keep us focused on December 25: “Watch!” Advent—which begins today—is the spiritual journey that comes with looking for Christ and to realize that he can be found, just like the Magi discovered after their long journey to the manger in Bethlehem.

When we realize that God wants to be with every single one of us, we begin to understand Christmas. The longing for it, the anticipation of it, the comfort it can bring us, is to understand Advent. It’s a short season, especially this year, but it helps get us ready to experience Christ in our world and in our lives.

And that’s what we hope will happen during these next few weeks as we experience our time together at St. Hubert—that the spiritual longing for Christ and realizing his presence can be felt and experienced, not only during our time of prayer, but also in our charitable works, and the opportunities we have for spiritual growth.

In a world that seems so chaotic, harsh and uncertain—especially in all that’s happened during the last six months—it’s comforting to be together in our house of prayer where we can find peace, stillness and the hope that comes from believing in goodness and being with our God who cares.

There is a simple elegance to Advent that’s captured so beautifully in our art and environment. It hints of the season to come, but also focuses us on the ambo and altar. Those are the two places we watch for Christ to make himself known to us.

To keep us attentive during these next few weeks, we’ll bless our Advent Wreath, which is a great Catholic tradition. Each Sunday we light a new candle as we grow closer to Christmas, but also as we grow in insight. When we experience Advent well, we’ll become more attune to seeing Christ active among us as the closer we get to Christmas.

With this in mind, as you go through the bulletin you’ll see that there are several opportunities for spiritual development, to help give us insight. Fr. Fred will return on Wednesday for a special presentation on practicing the art of contemplative prayer. Later in the month, our seminarian, Ryan Brady, is offering a session on how to experience the birth of Christ through scripture.

Our website will feature daily inspirational messages along with video messages from Bishop Barron, one of the country’s leading evangelists. We are also working with St. Marceline on a joint Advent Reconciliation Service.

This week is also the week to take a tag from the Giving Tree if you would like to buy a gift for someone who is struggling right now to make ends meet. As we heard last week, when we help someone in need, we can find Christ among us.

We watch for Christ in many ways, to discover in the end that he’s with us waiting to be found. I pray this time of Advent will help you prepare your heart for the great feast that we’re watching and waiting for. May God bless us on our journey!

Prayer Shawl Ministry

Meets Sunday!

The St. Hubert Prayer Shawl Ministry will meet this Sunday, December 3, at 1:15 PM in the Dorothy Day Room of the Parish Ministry Center. New members are always welcome. We share friendship and prayers at our meetings while working on beautiful shawls that are given to members of our community who are in need of the comfort that these shawls provide. Yarn and directions are provided for you!

If you have questions, please call Karen Starke, at 847-882-7592 or karen.e.starke@gmail.com.

Liturgy Corner

1st Sunday of Advent

"Be watchful! Be alert! You do not know when the time will come." On this First Sunday of Advent, Jesus gives us a wakeup call. This is no time for slumber. Now is the time to be on our toes, alert, attentive, ready. But for what? For the coming of "the Lord of the house."

During Advent, the Church does her best to help us get ready for the second coming of Christ. We don't know precisely when he will return, but we know that he will. And the fact is, even if it doesn't happen in our lifetime, each and every one of us will still have to face the Lord at an unknown hour-namely, the hour of our death.

So let us be prepared! Let us be on the watch for anything that would threaten this most important of all encounters. We want to recognize the Lord as a friend and master, so that on seeing him we don't cower in fear at his awesome power and strength. Instead, we hope to rejoice in finally being able to behold him face-to-face. This of course is the result of a healthy and holy relationship with Christ.

To nurture such a relationship this Advent season the Church urges us to recommit to a life of prayer, worthy reception of the sacraments, and a commitment to following God's loving laws through a life of virtue. With these priorities in order, we can wait for the second coming with joyful anticipation, just as we joyfully await the celebration of Christmas.

During these weeks as we prepare our homes for the festive holiday season, may we also set aside some time and effort to prepare our hearts. Then, not only will we appreciate the yuletide wonders around us, but we can also look forward to the eternal wonders that lie in store.

Watching & Waiting for Christmas

This year, the 4th Sunday of Advent and Christmas Eve fall on the same Sunday. That will affect our Mass times. So that you can plan, here are the Mass times for each.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP ADVENT REFLECTIONS

Last year, parishes across North America gave out the printed booklet, Everyday Stewardship Advent 2016. THIS YEAR, Everyday Stewardship Advent 2017 will be entirely ONLINE! Receive an Advent reflection and spiritual challenge straight to your inbox. All content will be brand new for 2017 and written by Tracy Earl Welliver.

Thomas Merton's Practice for Contemplative Prayer

“While living contemplatively begins with one’s self, it invites us to be active participants in the world around us. We are led to embrace not only our true self but to deepen our relationships with God, humanity, and all of creation.”

Thomas Merton taught his novices a way of praying that allowed them to enter the school of wisdom provided by their most personal experiences.

We will explore the spiritual teachings of Thomas Merton. An emphasis will be given to Merton’s insights into the contemplative path along which we learn to live in habitual awareness of God’s presence. We will examine key texts from Merton’s writings featuring the monk’s understanding of the value of his relationships with others as guidance for creating his own destiny to love and seek God. Our hope is that this evening will lead us in a new way of meditation as a practice for ourselves.

Whether you are new to St. Hubert or have been here for a while but have not had time to register...

Experiencing the Birth of Christ

How do Matthew, Luke and John explain this great mystery in their Gospel accounts?

Presenter Seminarian Ryan Brady

Wednesday, December 20
7:00 - 8:30 PM
Lower Level of the Church in the Community Room

Come and hear Ryan speak about the Scripture stories that speak of the birth of Christ in history, about the Word becoming flesh.

Christmas celebrates more than a birthday. It celebrates salvation and redemption! It celebrates God’s love! The Word became flesh so that thus we might know God’s love: ‘In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him.’ (1 Jn 4:9) ‘For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life.” (Jn 3:16)” (see CCC 458).

For more information: Call 847-885-7700, ext. 101 or email speakerseries@sainthubert.org.
Let’s Go Christmas Caroling!

Please join us for an old fashioned caroling experience. We will gather on Monday, December 4 at 6:30 PM in the Narthex of the church. As we walk the close-by neighborhood and offer our songs to willing listeners, we will gift them with candy canes. After warming the hearts of our neighbors, we will return to the narthex and warm our noses and toes while enjoying hot chocolate and cookies. We can promise easy to read music sheets and a truly enjoyable time, so please plan to join us and sing along. All are welcome – adults and children too. We look forward to seeing you there!

Simbang Gabi

For nine days before Christmas many Filipino Catholics celebrate Simbang Gabi. This novena to the Blessed Virgin Mary is celebrated with Mass early in the morning at 4:00 or 5:00 AM. The early time is a remnant from the days when many Filipinos worked in the rice fields and sugar cane plantations and so needed to perform their religious duties before the work day began. Parols, large decorated lanterns fashioned in the shape of a star, would guide the faithful to Mass in the hour before dawn. The novena concludes on Christmas Eve day, with the Misa de Gallo, or "Rooster’s Mass," celebrated with great fervor by the entire community. Many communities hold competitions for the best parol, which remains in church until the Epiphany as a reminder of the star of Bethlehem.

As we prepare for Christmas, of course we’re thinking about how to show fondness and appreciation to the special people in our lives by choosing gifts that will be meaningful to them. And yet, assuming that we can actually find (or make) something that will be appreciated, will the gift really make a difference in the long run?

Since Christmas is the celebration of the birthday of Jesus, let’s give him a gift, too—a long-lasting gift. But what can we give to someone who already has everything?

Or does he?

What gift can you give to Jesus that will have an eternal impact, a gift that no one else can give him, a gift he doesn’t already have? Here’s the answer: What have you been withholding from him?

Today’s first reading reminds us that God is our Father. The responsorial Psalm asks the Father to help us turn to him. The second reading gives thanks to God for all that he has done for us. So—what gift can you give to God to express your appreciation for what he has given to you?

In the Gospel reading, we’re reminded of the need to prepare—to actually do something that makes a difference—for the coming of Christ. This not only refers to his Second Coming, it’s also about the day when he comes for us as we breathe our last earthly breaths. And it’s about the way he wants to come to you this Christmas. And it’s about the way he is coming to you right now, today.

There’s something new that he wants to give you. When he offers it, will he find you doing what’s right (as in the first reading)? Will he find you using your spiritual gifts (as in the second reading)? Will he find you alert and ready to do his bidding (as in the Gospel reading)?

Advent is an opportunity to take notice of the gifts he gives us and become aware of the gifts we can give to him that he doesn’t already have. It should make an eternal difference—for him and for us.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. List the gifts that God has given to you. Then think about how much appreciation you have given to God for the gifts on that list. Do you know how much he appreciates your appreciation?

2. Name ways that Jesus comes to us today.

3. What will you do this Advent to become more aware of Jesus coming to you?

4. How will this make you more ready for Christmas?

In his autobiography, Report to Greco, Nikos Kazantzakis recounts a conversation he once had with an old monk. Kazantzakis, a young man at the time, was visiting a monastery and was very taken by a famed ascetic, Father Makarios, who lived there. But a series of visits with the old monk left him with some ambivalent feelings as well. The monk’s austere lifestyle stirred a certain religious romanticism in Kazantzakis, but it repelled him too; he wanted the romanticism, but in a more-palatable way. Here’s their conversation as Kazantzakis records it:

“Yours is a hard life, Father. I too want to be saved. Is there no other way?”

“More agreeable?” asked the ascetic, smiling compassionately.

“How human, Father.”

“One, only one.”

“What is that?”

“Ascent. To climb a series of steps. From the full stomach to hunger, from the slaked throat to thirst, from joy to suffering. God sits at the summit of hunger, thirst, and suffering; the devil sits at the summit of the comfortable life. Choose.”

“I am still young. The world is nice. I have time to choose.”

Reaching out, the old monk touched my knee and said:

“Wake up, my child. Wake up before death wakes you up.”

I shuttered and said:

“I am still young.”

“And the young loves the young,” the old man replied. “The inferno loves the young. Life is like a lighted candle, easily extinguished. Take care – wake up!”

Wake up! Wake up before death wakes you up. In a less dramatic expression that’s a virtual leitmotif in the Gospels. Jesus is always telling us to wake up, to stay awake, to be vigilant, to be more alert to a deeper reality. What’s meant by that? How are we asleep to depth? How are we to wake up and stay awake?

How are we asleep? All of us know how difficult it is for us to be inside the present moment, to not be asleep to the real riches inside our own lives. The distractions and worries of daily life tend to so consume us that we habitually take for granted what’s most precious to us, our health, the miracle of our senses, the love and friendships that surround us, and the gift of life itself. We go through our daily lives not only with a lack of reflective-ness and lack of gratitude but with a habitual touch of resentment as well, a chronic, grey depression, Robert Moore calls it. We are very much asleep, both to God and to our own lives.

How do we wake up? Today there’s a rich literature that offers us all kinds of advice on how to get into the present moment so as to be awake to the deep riches inside our own lives. While much of this literature is good, little of it is very effective. It invites us to live each day of our lives as if it was our last day, but we simply can’t do that. It’s impossible to sustain that kind of intentionality and awareness over a long period of time. An awareness of our mortality does wake us up, as does a stroke, a heart attack, or cancer; but that heightened-awareness is easier to sustain for a short season of our lives than it is for twenty, thirty, forty, or fifty years. Nobody can sustain that kind of awareness all the time. None of us can live seventy or eighty years as if each day was his or her last day. Or can we?

Spiritual wisdom offers a nuanced answer here: We can and we can’t! On the one hand, the distractions, cares, and pressures of everyday life will invariably have their way with us and we will, in effect, fall asleep to what’s deeper and more important inside of life. But it’s for this reason that every major spiritual tradition has daily rituals designed precisely to wake us from spiritual sleep, akin an alarm clock waking us from physical sleep.

It’s for this reason we need to begin each day with prayer. What happens if we don’t pray on a given morning is not that we incur God’s wrath, but rather that we tend to miss the morning, spending the hours until noon trapped inside a certain dullness of heart. The same can be said about praying before meals. We don’t displease God by not first centering ourselves in gratitude before eating, but we miss out on the richness of what we’re doing. Liturgical prayer and the Eucharist have the same intent, among their other intentions. They’re meant to, regularly, call us out of a certain sleep.

None of us lives each day of our lives as if it was his or her last day. Or can we?

The Holidays and Domestic Violence

The holidays are often thought of as the best time of the year. It is a time for loved ones, celebration, and joy. However, for victims of domestic violence, the holidays can be a very dark and scary time. Unrealistic expectations, financial pressures, and the increased consumption of alcohol can raise stress levels, which can contribute to incidents of domestic violence.

Since the holiday season is supposed to be the best time of the year, many people have set expectations too high with the best gifts, getting along with family, etc. Many people can become stressed while trying to live up to these heightened expectations.

Financial pressures and the stress of having a tight budget can feel more overwhelming during the holidays. Another component of the holidays is the serving and drinking of alcohol. Sometimes, individuals will use alcohol and other substances to cope with holiday stress. However, drinking as a coping strategy often doesn’t help because the ability to cope decreases as the amount of alcohol consumed increases.

Domestic violence is more likely to occur when stress levels are high. During the holidays, unrealistic expectations, financial strain, and alcohol can increase stress, and therefore, incidents of domestic violence. However, remember domestic violence is about power and control. Many factors can aggravate domestic violence, but are not the cause of domestic violence.

If you or someone you know is being abused, seek help today. In an emergency, please dial 911. For all other help, please call: Illinois Statewide Domestic Violence Helpline 877 TO END DV (877-863-6338), 877-863-6339 TTY or call WINGS 24-hour hotline 847-221-5680.

Members of the community who want to help victims of domestic violence and their children, who are not fortunate enough to experience the joy of the holidays within safe, loving families, should contact WINGS, one of our local domestic violence non-profit organizations, to find out ways they can offer their support. Presenter: Gina Sannasardo
Cost: $20

Join us for tea, cookies and conversation as we explore the life of Mary as our model for spiritual growth in this holy season of Advent. Mary’s life challenges us to trust in God, to offer our fiat, our resounding yes to God, even when we can’t see the road ahead. As our spiritual mother, Mary invites us to gently rest in Her love and in the love of Her Son Jesus as we prepare for the great feast of Christmas.

Please register by calling our offices at 630-852-9000 or online at www.mayslake ministries.org/events/38/walking-with-mary-advent-tea.

One Hour A Week

Is all it takes to ...
Help an older adult remain independent in their own home.

Last year Kenneth Young Center Volunteers delivered 26,000 meals to at-risk, home-bound Older Adults in Schaumburg and Elk Grove Village. All it takes is one hour a week (11 am to 12 pm) to bring friendship and nutritious meals to them.

We REALLY NEED YOU NOW!
Take a moment and reflect about making an important difference in someone’s life...

VOLUNTEER TODAY!

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born. Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
