Zeal for Our Father’s House

In today’s gospel, we hear the account of Jesus cleansing the Temple area where the moneychangers and vendors were. He was angered because this house of prayer was becoming a marketplace.

In experiencing Jesus doing what he did, it made the disciples think of Psalm 69: “Zeal for your house will consume me.”

Zeal is having great enthusiasm about something or being determined to do something. For Jesus his zeal was for the place where God was prayed to and honored. And for so many of us here at St. Hubert, zeal is what drives us to focus on our parish and church where we discover God alive in our lives.

What drives our parish—our zeal—is the desire to build a community centered on Christ so that we are empowered to live the Gospel as disciples. And it’s happening.

Take a look at the zeal that has driven our parishioners just within the last week or so:

- A big thank you to the Stewards who organized the Parish Bowling Party last Sunday—a way to bring the community and families together. It was really a great time with almost 150 parishioners enjoying the event. (I’m not going to reveal my score, but let’s just say no one invited me onto their league!)

- Last Sunday, the Prayer Shawl Ministry gave away 18 homemade shawls—one of the most fruitful weekends in a long time. This really is a labor of love—a zeal to do something for others. The crafters pray as they knit or crochet the shawls. When they finish, they offer them to us to use for ourselves or to give to someone we know could use it. The shawl is a sign of prayer, comfort and God’s care. Prayer shawls are available at any time and are not sold—they’re freely given. If you’d like to pick one up to give to someone you think could use it (even yourself), please stop by the parish office during business hours and we’ll help you select one.

- A couple of weeks ago, one of our parishioners volunteered to repair broken Rosaries. He also said he’d take it upon himself to send any donated rosaries to the missions. This past week he mailed a package of rosaries to The Family Rosary Mission in North Easton, MA—weighing five pounds! If you’d like to donate used rosaries to the missions or have a rosary repaired, you can drop them off at the ministry counter in the Narthex.

- Some parishioners have said it would be great if we had a Spring Cleaning Day to get the church ready for Easter. What a great way to show zeal for this church we love very much. We’re in the planning stages and will follow up shortly.

These are a few examples; there are many more. It’s great to see the zeal for our own house of prayer, which is a sign that the gospel has taken root in our lives.

May God continue to strengthen us on our journey toward Easter.

—Fr. Mike

WORSHIP
In our RCIA/CMI process, the scrutinies are opportunities for our catechumens to begin to look closely at their commitment to Christ and His Church. It is also a time for those of us who are already publicly committed Christians to model self-reflection and sorrow for our sins.

Let us prayer for our catechumens this weekend as they celebrate their first scrutiny at the 12:15 Mass.

Good and gracious God,
We pray in earnest this day for our catechumens.
They look forward to the Easter Vigil
when they will receive Baptism, Confirmation and their First Eucharist.
Help us to help them ponder your word in their lives.
May they humbly confess their sins
as we also confess our sins
with the sure and certain knowledge of forgiveness.
We ask all this through Christ our Lord,
who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit.
Amen.

Adore and Worship
Thursday, March 15, 7:00 – 8:15 PM
Eucharistic Adoration and Inspirational Music

The purpose of Lent is to be a season of fasting, self-denial, spiritual growth, conversion, and simplicity. Lent, which comes from the Teutonic word for springtime, can be viewed as a spiritual spring cleaning: a time for taking a spiritual inventory and then cleaning out those things which hinder our personal relationships with Jesus Christ and our service to him.

We invite you to join us for this spirit-filled evening of prayer, song, and silence; to reflect upon our own Lenten calling for prayer, fasting, abstinence, and almsgiving. Don't miss this opportunity to deepen your personal relationship with the Lord.

Divine Mercy Devotion
Every Thursday, beginning on March 8 after the Communion Service (about 7:30 AM), we will pray the chaplet of the Divine Mercy.

Everyone is invited to participate. If there is a question, call Pat in the Parish Ministry Office at 847-885-7700, ext. 104.

The final paragraph of the Gospel reading is very revealing: Jesus did not "trust" himself to the converts whose faith in him was based on the signs and wonders that he had done. The reason: He did not want anyone to testify (i.e., spread the faith) about the limitations of human nature.

Faith based on signs and wonders is human nature: It's easier to put faith in what we can humanly see, touch, and hear than to believe in a God who is invisible and who usually sounds very silent. There is nothing supernatural about this kind of faith, but God is very supernatural.

What happens to our faith when we pray and pray and pray for God's intervention and there are no signs indicating that we'll get what we want? Our reaction to unanswered prayers is an indicator of how natural or supernatural our spiritual life really is.

Jesus knew that his physical presence was the greatest sign of all, but it would soon be taken away. Don't we sometimes wish that Jesus would appear in front of us and make himself audible to our human ears? We think it would make our faith stronger.

Typically, we base our faith on many signs: prayers being answered, love being evidenced, peace and happiness filling our hearts, etc. But what happens to our faith when we enter the dark night of trials and difficulties? Do we continue to trust God when we can no longer see or feel signs that he cares?

The kind of faith we need when faith matters most comes from trusting God for who he really is and how much he really cares, rather than on what the evidence seems to say.

To succeed in this, we need supernatural faith. When we're united to the divinity of Christ, we join ourselves to his faith. We then trust him so much that we don't need signs.

Remember this the next time you receive Jesus in the Eucharist. Not only are you consuming his body, you are also uniting yourself to his divinity. And he is uniting himself to you! What he wants to give you most of all is HIS ALL.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What signs do you rely on to believe that God truly cares?

2. How do you feel when those signs are taken away? Are these feelings based on the reality of God's love or on fear?

3. Have you ever wished that Jesus would appear to you? Why? Did God provide what you needed some other way?

4. How do you remind yourself that God cares during those difficult times when you can't see it or feel it?
More than twenty-five hundred years ago, Moses gave us the ten commandments. The centuries since, the Enlightenment notwithstanding, haven’t given us a single reason to doubt the validity and importance of any of those precepts. However, as we struggle to live them out, it might be helpful if Moses again descended from that same mountain with two new tablets of stone, spelling out some rules for better befriending each other, God, life, and ourselves. Perhaps this second set of commandments might read like this:

1) Befriend humanity …

To be human is to be fallible, wounded, scarred, sinful, and living in a far-from-perfect history, body, family, church. Don’t look for anyone to blame, to sue, to be angry at. This is called the human condition. Make friends with it. Grieve, don’t rage. Think of chaos, not blame. Our parents called this “original sin”. We talk of “dysfunctional families”. It has ever been thus. Don’t live in a sulk.

2) Befriend what’s best in you …

As long as we look out at the world through our wounds we will always fill with self-pity, bitterness, and jealousy. If, however, if we look out through the prism of what’s best in us, our jealousy can turn to appreciation and we can again be astonished at others’ goodness. We have two souls, a grand soul, where we carry the image of God and the memory of our blessings, and a petty soul, where we carry the bitterness and jealousies that comes from our wounds. We need to attach our eyes, our ears, our speech, and our attitudes to our grand soul. We need to be better friends with what’s best in us.

3) Befriend those who love you …

There are only two potential tragedies in life: To go through life and never love and to go through life and not express love and affection to those who love us. We need to make better friends with our friends, to express more readily our affection, our gratitude, our appreciation, and our contrition. Thank those who love you for loving you. Never take their love for granted, or as owed. Give out a lot more compliments. Say thank-you constantly.

4) Befriend chastity …

So much of our pain and restlessness comes from our lack of chastity and much of our subsequent rationalization and bitterness come from not admitting this. We have sophisticated ourselves into unhappiness. For all of our knowing, we aren’t happy. Make friends with chastity. Children and virgins, scripture assures us, enter the kingdom easily. Be post-sophisticated. Learn to believe in Santa and the Easter-Bunny again. Enjoy second-naiveté. Ride a merry-go-round. Make a searing, honest confession soon.

5) Befriend your own body …

Don’t be afraid of your own body, of its goodness, its sexuality, its pleasures, its tiredness, its limits. It’s the only one you’ve got in any case. Befriend it. Don’t punish it, don’t spoil it, don’t denigrate it. It’s a church, a temple. Give it enough rest, enough exercise, enough discipline, and enough respect.

6) Befriend the other gender …

The mothers and the fathers, the wives and the husbands, are fighting. Small wonder the children are suffering. Never trivialize the issues of gender. We are being called to a new level of mutual respect and mutual sympathy. Make friends with what seems most threatening to you in the other gender.

7) Befriend your father …

Father-hunger is one of the deepest hungers in the Western world today. Reconcile with your own father, with other fathers, and with God the Father. Your father’s blessing will de-constrict your heart. Forgive him his inadequacy. Acknowledge your hunger.

8) Befriend your mortality …

Death comes to us all. Make friends with aging, with wrinkles, with grey hair, with a body that is no longer young. Accept, let go, grieve, move on. Bless the young. Share your wisdom with them. Give away what’s left of your life. Let the zest, beauty, and color of young people enliven you.

9) Befriend humor …

In our laughter we taste transcendence. Humor takes us above the tragic. Laughter gives us wings to fly. Thomas More cracked a joke to the man who was about to be beheaded him. That’s a quality of sanctity that we too often neglect.

10) Befriend your God …

The gospel is not so much good advice as it is “good news”, it tells us how much God loves us, what God has already done for us. God is as proud of us as is any mother of her children. Peace comes to us when we can enjoy that favor. Befriend the God of love and the God of the resurrection, the God who is completely relaxed, whose face beams like a marvelous symphony, whose power to raise dead bodies from the grave assures us that in the end all will be well and all will be well and every manner of being will be well. Befriend the God who tells us 365 times in scripture not to be afraid. Walk in that confidence.

HOW CAN I HELP STAMP OUT DOMESTIC VIOLENCE???
The Catholic Church states strongly that violence is never justified; violence is sinful, and every person is encouraged to build safe, healthy relationships. Yet, the statistics are staggering:

- 1 in 3 women and 1 in 7 men experience violence by their partners in their lifetimes.
- 1 in 4 women and 1 in 6 men are sexually abused before the age of 18.
- 1 in 5 women and 1 in 16 men are sexually assaulted while they are college students.
- 2 in 3 acts of sexual assault involving college students are by repeat abusers.
- There are more than 21,000 phone calls placed to domestic violence hotlines in the U.S a day.

We can help overcome this paralysis by:

- Becoming educated – read articles informing you as to what constitutes domestic violence.
- Supporting domestic violence organizations – through donating or volunteering.
- Reaching Out – if someone else is experiencing abuse, steer them to the right sources.
- Praying – for victims, abusers, and peaceful resolutions to partner conflict.
- Examining our own attitudes toward relationships – ask ourselves how we can do better.

Domestic violence can happen to persons of either gender, any race, age, sexual orientation, religion, educational level, or financial status. Reasons for abuse to others are complex, but abuse is not acceptable in our Church or our society.

If you or someone you know is being abused, seek help. In an emergency, please dial 911. For all other help, please call: Illinois Statewide Domestic Violence Helpline 877 TO END DV (877-863-6338), 877-863-6339 TTY or call WINGS 24-hour hotline 847-221-5680

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments
A Transitional Housing Program for Homeless Families: January, 2018 Update

Family #30
Our new family consists of a single 23 year old African American mom and her two sons, ages 4 and 2. She became homeless due low income status and had a history of being homeless during her high school years.

Our mom is working on her goals and looking for another full time job. She is in desperate need of a car and is spending a lot of money on transportation (Uber and Lyft). She hopes to buy a used car with her IRS refund check. Her brother and sister assist her much as possible with rides. Since she does not have transportation, she is looking into an online GED program to complete her certification. Her children are doing well and are stable.

Her goals are to save up at least 3 month’s rent and save her IRS tax refund, obtain her GED, and apply for low income housing

Family #31
This family consists of a single mixed race 24 year old female and her two sons, ages 7 and 5. She became homeless due to emotional abuse from her ex and his family, with whom they lived. Her oldest child is from another relationship.

Our mom has not yet been able to resolve her issues with the State and does not have health insurance or food stamps at this time. She feels an increase of income with her recent job promotion has left her ineligible for Medicaid and SNAP. She has appealed her case and is waiting for a response.

Her job will send her to Texas for additional training and things are going well at work. She is still attending classes and doing well in school. She feels very stable and organized—it has been a long time since she has felt like this.

Her goals are to save up at least 3 month’s rent and save her IRS tax refund, maintain employment and school as scheduled, and apply for low income housing

These families are grateful to have the support of the Peace and Justice Cluster. New Hope is proud to continue this collaboration assisting families in need.
The St. James Respect Life Ministry is hosting nationally known bioethicist, Fr. Tad Pacholczyk, the Director of Education for the National Catholic Bioethics Center. He will discuss important life issues in two talks:

1. The Gift of Human Life: Begotten Not Made
2. Ethical Decision Making in Sickness and End of Life Situations

Attendees will have the opportunity to have their specific questions answered after each talk.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.
