15th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus summoned the Twelve and began to send them out two by two and gave them authority over unclean spirits. - Mk 6:7

It Comes Down to Trust
In today’s gospel, Jesus sends the 12 apostles out on a mission to help the sick, those with demons, and to encourage people to get ready for God in their lives. He sent them ahead of him to open a pathway to the heart. John the Baptist would prefer to call it a highway.

Jesus was also very clear to give them instructions: travel in pairs, don’t take anything but a walking stick, and stay where they are welcome not taking advantage of people’s kindness.

This mission seems like a daunting task. But what Jesus helped them see, which in turn helps us, is that on a mission like this, the only thing they could do was trust. Because they were in pairs, they needed to trust each other, but they also had to rely on the inner strength that comes with knowing that God is with us in our lives.

We don’t travel alone and don’t have to. Jesus is with us. It’s the good news of Christianity.

And that helps us on our own mission. Each time we gather at Mass, we’re sent into the world on a mission. The deacon or priest tells us to “Go!” and we leave to glorify God with our lives, or to announce the gospel of the Lord, or to bring peace into our corner of the world.

The dismissal at Mass launches us into the day and into the week to be the Body of Christ in our world. We need the strength and trust to do it—especially in our world that is becoming more and more divided, and where something as simple as watching the news causes tension.

At the core of our being are the Christian values that unite us to what is good and just and true. When we bring compassion and goodness into our world, and build up all the many different relationships we have in life, we are proclaiming the gospel and preparing a highway for God to enter into people’s lives. We’re part of the mission. And, as we learn from St. Paul today, we all have the gifts and talents to participate in it because we trust in Jesus Christ who leads us.

Still Being Sent!
It started with Jesus sending the 12, and over 2,000 years later, the Church is still sending people out to help improve the lives of others. Every summer, we are blessed to learn about actual missions taking place in different parts of our world as part of Mission Sunday, which is coordinated through the Archdiocese of Chicago.

This year, we welcome Sister Mary Rose Michael, who will speak at the Masses today about the amazing efforts taking place at Sacred Heart Primary School in Tanzania—a school of hope for young people who are empowered to live gospel lives and build up their communities. Our second collection today will benefit this mission.

In other news, I will be on my annual retreat this week and will be praying for all of us as we continue the mission of our parish—Being God’s People, Becoming God’s People and Building Up God’s People. We are empowered to do this together and I feel very blessed to be on this mission with you.

Let us continue to pray for one another,

--Fr. Mike

In this Sunday’s Gospel passage, Jesus teaches us about trust. If we’re to fulfill our calling as God’s missionaries of love in this world, if we’re to fulfill our calling to share the Good News, we must trust God and the resources he provides.

And we must trust that he will always provide exactly what we need when we need it, even though it doesn’t always seem sufficient. It’s important that we don’t feed the inclination to distrust him by expecting anything other than what he provides.

Every Mass ends with a re-commissioning rite for the calling we all have. The final blessing is a sending forth after we’ve been renewed in our relationship with Jesus. His presence in the Word and in the Eucharist and in the Church community re-energizes us (when we pay attention) to boldly go and do all that he asks of us.

Through the priest, Jesus sends us into the world to be the visible proof that he is real and that he’s alive and that he cares. With Jesus, and in him and through him, we are all evangelizers who can make a difference in the world.

Yes, all of us – all of us who have participated in the Eucharistic celebration with conscious awareness of what we are saying and praying and receiving during Mass. Go forth in bold confidence! Jesus is sending you out from the church with his Spirit and his sufficiency.

However, when we do the packing and decide what to take with us on the mission, we like to take an abundance of stuff, just in case we might need it. Thus, we fail to show others that God is reliable and trustworthy.

To be effective evangelizers, we have to surrender over to God whatever baggage interferes with our mission.

Remember this: Surrender is not truly surrender unless we no longer want what we surrendered. If we still have some desire for it, we’re attached to it by a bungee cord that yanks us back to it, yanking us away from our true purpose in life.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. In what areas of your life do you rely upon the Lord?
2. What areas do you still need to entrust to him? What will you do to surrender any distrust?
3. What kind of “food” do others serve you when you rely on God to provide for your needs through them? How does their service to you help them understand God?
4. What kind of baggage should be left at home instead of carrying it into ministry? How does letting go of this better reveal Jesus to others?

I grew up in a church which was concerned with apologetics. We were forever worried about making ourselves credible. A lot of effort went into showing that the faith made sense, that being a Christian fulfilled rather than denigrated humanity. We devised all kinds of arguments intended to impress or discredit non-believers: proofs for the existence of God, arguments demonstrating why the human person needs God, and schemae that tried to demonstrate the validity of the church as an institution.

As a young man studying theology, I often met this kind of question in a classroom: “Imagine you are traveling on a bus and you meet an atheist, how would you talk about God to such a person?” Or, for those of us who were Roman Catholics, we got more specific: “Imagine you are on a train and meet a Protestant, how would you attempt to show that the Roman Catholic Church is the right one?”

Most of these arguments didn’t get beyond the safety of the classroom. I have been in ministry for 15 years and have, rarely, on bus, train, boat, or plane, met that questioning atheist or Protestant. Most talk on buses and trains revolves around sports, entertainment, politics, and food. Despite this, the old apologetics had some value, it helped make the faith more credible to those within it.

We still need an apologetics. However, its audience has radically changed. If I wrote or taught on apologetics today, I would pose the question this way: “Imagine you are sitting at your family table... where some of your own family no longer attend church or take seriously the church’s moral teachings, how would you try to prove that faith and Christianity are credible?” We’ve come a long way from the theoretical atheist on the bus!

The problem of faith in our time is the problem of unbelief among believers. For too many of us, faith in Christ is little more than a hangover…toxic residue from a former activity. What do I perceive as the issue behind this? The problem, I submit, both within and without, is a problem of crediblility, the faith is no longer believable to, nor livable for, many in our age.

Why? Why is Christ known, but not really believed in? When I scan religious literature, I see various proposed explanations: Conservatives blame our present malaise upon lack of prayer and the failure of our age to keep the commandments, pure and simple. If we don’t pray and our moral lives are shabby, how can we expect to have a vital faith? Liberals point to slow renewal within the church as the cause. We are not really renewed, they argue. We still pray to God, talk about God, and worship God in mythical and medieval images.

We are schizophrenic in regards to religion. We live modern lives but try to live an old-time religion. Ultimately, this freezes God out of all the important areas of life. Religion becomes the great art form and the church becomes the great museum.

Social justice advocates submit that the problem is one of affluence. If Christ made a preferential option for the poor and Christianity is seeing life from the bottom, it is, quite simply, impossible to live as affluent and selfishly as we do and still have a vital connection to Christ.

There is some truth in each of these, but, in the end, the real reason for the erosion of faith and hope in Christ is something beyond all of these. What, singularly, are we missing today within Christianity that could make us credible to the world and to our own families?

Community. The greatest need in our time is, as Jim Wallis puts it, “not simply for kerygma, the preaching of the Gospel; nor for diakonia; service on behalf of justice; nor for charisma, the experience of the spirit’s gifts; nor even for propheteia; the challenging of the King.

The greatest need of our time is for koinonia, the call simply to be church….to offer to the world a living, breathing, loving community of church. This is the foundation of all answers.” (Jim Wallis, The Call to Conversion, Page 109)

In the end, people are as agnostic about faith, Christ, and the church as they are about the experience of community. When there is a strong experience of community there is generally a strong faith. For example, wherever today we see a strong faith, we see, invariably, strong community... RCIA groups, cursillo groups, marriage encounter groups, social justice groups, charismatic groups, Bible study groups, third order groups. These are pockets of fervor within the church and it is no accident that all of them are linked to strong community experiences. As well, even in those Christians who are deeply committed and beyond first fervor, we see that ultimately their strength issues from community, the Eucharist, common prayer, and a shared morality and life within the Holy Spirit.

Christianity, in the end, is a communal endeavor. We believe in it when community works, we stop believing in it when community and family break down. Our primary task today is to live community. If we can do that, then the visible body of Christ, the church, will have an incredible resurrection.

(First of a two-part series. In my next article I will develop this further, showing how, outside of vital community, we cannot even preach the Gospel.)

Sister Mary Rose Michael will be speaking at all Masses this weekend for the Mission Appeal for the Sacred Heart Primary School. Through the Missionary Cooperation Plan, the Archdiocese is able to foster mission vitality and inspire discipleship in our parishes. These appeals not only provide much needed support of missionary efforts in Africa, Asia, The Caribbean, Latin America, and Pacific Islands, but they also offer a way for our own parish communities to become engaged in sharing Christ with the world.

Sacred Heart Secondary School (SHSS) was founded by Children Outreach and Community Empowerment, Inc., a 501 (C) charitable organization whose mission is to educate and empower needy children in northwest of Tanzania. SHSS has and continue to positively change lives of needy children and the community at large. A good number of our graduates are enrolled in several universities in Tanzania.

SHSS is positioned to produce better results. Its impact on the enrolled and future students is more promising. SHSS’ academic stats sores, they are projecting bright and better future fruits. In 2015 Form Two (Tenth Grade) Mock Exam, a standardized exam, SHSS was awarded a certificate of appreciation by Muleba Education department for scooping the second position with class GPA 3.94. The numbers are getting better everyday. SHSS was rated 5th out of 226 schools in Kagera region (State). SHSS does not only differentiate itself from other schools based on good academic performance but also on good formation of students’ mind, body and spirit.

The present SHSS students and staff members received a new year’s gift- a special visitor. Bruce Becker, a COCE board member and continuous financial supporter of this mission visited SHSS and the community in January 2016. It was his fourth visit to the school. Mr. Becker motivated the entire SHSS community. While addressing Twelve Grade students, he said:
Missionaries go across the world to evangelize in remote, struggling, and persecuted communities, the poorest of the poor. They form priests, educate adults and children, offer medical care, provide safe homes, administer the Sacraments, and much more. The Second Collection this weekend will support the Summer Mission.

“Sacred Heart Secondary School (SHSS) has been a labor and love of this man, (Fr. Kiiguta) and many generous people. I want to encourage you to love and keep SHSS clean. We want to make sure this school is maintained well inside and out.”

Mr. Becker had an opportunity to visit and motivate the community at large too. He visited over twenty homes most of which came SHSS students and alumni and interacted with many family members. All families appreciated his visit. Some said “Fr. Kiiguta thank you for bringing us a ‘Mzungu’ (white person) to our home and we love his positive encouragement.”

This life and live changing mission continues. “All this positive impact to the needy children and the local community at large has been possible due to the prayers and financial support of many generous people. I pray that God return favors to them.” Fr. Kiiguta

Are you curious about religion? Would you like more information about acquiring or maintaining a rich, rewarding faith life? Have you ever considered exploring the Catholic faith or becoming Catholic?

What is the RCIA?
RCIA stands for the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults, and it is the process through which people join or complete their initiation into the Catholic Church.

Is the RCIA for me? The RCIA is for three groups of people:

- Those who are not baptized.
- Those who were baptized into another Christian denomination and wish to enter into full communion with the Catholic Church.
- Baptized Catholics who were never formed in the Catholic faith and have not completed their initiation; that is, who have received neither of the sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist.

For more information, call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaff@sainthubert.org.

-------------------

Please note, if you are an adult whose only need of completing your initiation is through the Sacrament of Confirmation, or if you are fully initiated but have been away from the Church and interested in returning, know that we have separate ministries to welcome you into or back to the fullness of our Church.

When Are Sponsors Needed?
St. Hubert Church asks sponsors to attend right from the start of RCIA. In the early sessions, sponsors help to provide a welcoming atmosphere to the newcomers. Many recent RCIA participants say that friendly hospitality of the St. Hubert community was an important factor in their decision to join the Church. After about 8 weeks, RCIA participants who wish to seriously explore membership in the Catholic faith are paired with a parish sponsor. A candidate may ask you to serve as his/her sponsor or the RCIA team might match you with a candidate or catechumen who needs a sponsor.

If you are interested in more information or in becoming a sponsor companion, please contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext 124 or mstaff@sainthubert.org.

Sacramental Life

- Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms
To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages
Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation
Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound
If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick
Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
