28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus looked at them and said, “For human beings it is impossible, but not for God. All things are possible for God.” - Mk 10:27
Pastor’s Letter

Giving Leads to Receiving

Today, we’ll hear the story of the rich, young man as told in the gospel of Mark. The young man is committed to doing God’s will in the world. He follows the commandments, he knows what God asks of him, but Jesus also helps him see what he lacks.

Mark tells us Jesus loved the young man, but that doesn’t mean he stopped short of challenging him, just like the gospel continually challenges us.

When Jesus challenges him to give up all that he has to follow him, the young man goes away sad. He couldn’t do it. He lacked the freedom to surrender to God’s infinite desire to take care of him. He held onto things.

The young man desired eternal life, but didn’t seem to realize that we don’t take things to Jesus when the time comes, we take ourselves—who we are as people. We take our kindness, compassion, mercy, gratitude, integrity, and how we think about and care for others. We take ourselves, and hopefully the people we’ve inspired to follow Christ, too.

Jesus told the apostles, who did give up everything to follow him, that God won’t overlook it; instead he notices it. Those who give will receive—both now and in the life to come. It’s one of the universal laws of generosity that never seems to make logical sense, but somehow, in some mysterious way, works. Givers, who freely give, receive a lot more in return. With God, what might seem impossible or counterintuitive becomes possible.

Our 2020 Vision: It’s Becoming Clearer & Clearer!

We are pleased to announce that, as of this week, we have raised over 75% of our goal: just over $1.8 million! We are extremely grateful to the hundreds of families who are keeping us focused on the 2020s, so that we are able to keep our buildings safe, functional, and well maintained. What seemed to be an impossible goal, is becoming possible because the burden isn’t left to one person to hold. When we do things together for the good of all, good things happen. Thank you, very sincerely!

For those of you who haven’t had an opportunity to complete a pledge, you will have a chance to do so today during Mass.

St. Hubert has been a center of Catholic education, faith, hope and charity in the Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg area for almost 60 years. We have benefited from the sacrifices of the families that helped us build our community and get to where we are. Now we are in a period of preserving and maintaining what we have for us, and the next generation, who will carry on the work of the gospel.

So, thank you for considering making a pledge or a gift, whatever your decision is. Thank you to those of you, who despite a fixed income and a lot of concern for making ends meet, gave a gift because you wanted to help. Your kindness and love for the people of St. Hubert and those we help mean everything. Thank you to those who responded and said you wanted to help, but just can’t right now for a number of reasons. What’s most important is your presence in our community and your prayer. We need to support each other.

We put our community into God’s hands and trust in his infinite care.

—Fr. Mike
There is more value in a little study of humility and in a single act of it than in all the knowledge in the world.

Jesus asks the rich young man, "Why do you call me good? Only God is good." What's he trying to achieve?

First, if the young man truly believes that Jesus is good and that his teachings are good, and if he has observed his miracles and behavior, then it should be obvious to him that all this goodness is proof that Jesus is God.

Also, Christ's question offers the young man an opportunity to become more humble. If he truly believes what Jesus says, then he should realize that since only God is good, no one else, including himself, obeys the commandments perfectly. Such a realization should have opened his heart to the truth that Jesus explains next:

"There's only one thing keeping you from being holy like God: earthly attachments. To gain freedom from this world and possess only what belongs to the kingdom of God share your treasures."

If we remain attached to earthly stuff, we distance ourselves from God and hurt those who would benefit from our generosity. However, to achieve complete freedom from attachments, we cannot rely only on our own efforts. It's often very difficult to let go and become willing to share everything.

The good news is that Jesus made it possible by taking our sins to the cross and sharing with us his own Holy Spirit, who empowers us to do whatever he asks of us. Our lives on earth become more fulfilling when we dare to share. The more we give to others in a spirit of love, the more we receive the treasures of heaven. Indeed, we become one of heaven's treasures!

Reflect & Discuss:

1. In comparison to the holy ways of dealing with life's circumstances that Jesus modeled for us, how unlike Jesus – how worldly – are you today?

2. And how divine is your behavior? What earthly treasures have you given away?

3. Decide upon an action that will help you detach from earthly treasures this week.

4. Share the story of a time when you gave away an earthly treasure even though you really didn't want to detach from it. What motivated you to give it away? How did God repay you?
The gospel is not as much about worthiness as it is about surrender. What God wants from us is not a million acts of virtue, but a million acts of surrender, culminating in one massive surrender of soul, mind, and body. When we have given up everything and are completely helpless to give ourselves anything, as we will all eventually be when we face death, then salvation can be given us.

And that is the key, salvation can only be given us. It can never be taken, earned, or possessed by right. Hence nothing we have or can accumulate in this life – fame, fortune, health, good looks, a good name, or even moral virtue, religious fidelity, personal sanctity, or the practice of social justice – tips God’s hand towards us. What tips God’s hands is helplessness, surrender in grace.

This idea is everywhere in the Christian and Jewish scriptures, but let me illustrate it with just one, clear example, the exchange between Jesus and the rich young man, complete with the subsequent reaction of the disciples.

In terms of a paraphrase, this is what transpires: A young man, rich in material possessions, approaches Jesus and asks: “What must I do to possess eternal life?” In Jesus’ reply there is a subtle, gentle correction that is often missed: “If you would want to receive life (you can never possess it) then go, sell all that you have, give the money to the poor, and come and follow me.” The rich young man, however, is not able precisely to surrender his possessions and declines Jesus’ offer. For his part, then, Jesus turns to his disciples and explicates the moral of this story: “It is harder for a rich person to enter the Kingdom of heaven than for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle.”

And the disciples are stunned: “If that is the case, who then can be saved? If that is the case, we are all hopeless to give ourselves salvation!” Ironically, even though the disciples’ reaction might seem rather limp and uninspiring, this is one of the few times in scripture where they get things right. They surrender, they admit their helplessness, and thus Jesus is able to tell them the real moral of the story: “For humans, it is impossible, but all things are possible for God.”

I suspect that all of us understand part of this: No amount of material or physical wealth will give us heaven. However, what Jesus is saying, and what is harder for us to grasp, is that no amount of virtue, either, will give us heaven. Heaven is given us not for anything we possess but when we surrender everything we possess.

C.S. Lewis, in his little masterpiece on heaven and hell, The Great Divorce, makes this point in a very simple way. He has a fantasy of some (ten) interviews between someone in heaven trying to coax someone not there to come to heaven. Each of the ten persons seeking entrance into heaven is blocked by some major flaw, pride, anger, idolatry, the incapacity to forgive, shame, lust, and the like. In each case, irrespective of the flaw, the person in heaven keeps telling the other: “All you have to do is to give me your hand and let me lead you there. All you have to do is surrender!”

All you have to do is surrender! For the first forty or so years of our lives perhaps this is not so true because we are still seeking to come to bloom. We are young and looking to grow and thus are like a flower that still needs to take in things in order to bloom and come to seed. There is then more place for assertion, ambition, achievement, for accumulating. The rich young man was still young. His case would be infinitely more tragic had he been an old rich man who declined Jesus’ offer.

In the ideal order of things, surrender is for the mature, for the flower that has come to bloom and needs to give off its seed. That is less true of us during the first half of our lives, for we are still building, but it becomes the deepest truth of the second half of life. After forty, understood religiously, life is not about claiming worthiness, or about building things, especially our own egos, but about getting in touch with helplessness.

Age brings us physically to our knees and more and more everything we have so painstakingly built up begins to mean less and less. But that is the order of things: Salvation is not about great achievements, but about a great embrace and, as C.S. Lewis puts it, all we have to do is surrender.

Communal Anointing of the Sick
Sunday, October 21st at the 12:15 PM Mass, the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick will be celebrated. Those suffering from serious illnesses, whether physical or psychological, those facing surgery or dealing with the limitations of aging are encouraged to receive the sacrament. It is open to those in need of physical and spiritual strengthening as they deal with health crises, no matter their age. Caregivers are also welcome to receive the sacrament to aid them in their care of their loved ones.

Since sacraments are for the whole Church, even those present to witness and to pray for those being anointed receive benefits from the anointing liturgy. Theologians tell us that one of the effects of the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick is a healing of the separation between the individual and the Church created by sickness.

As the whole community joins in prayer for our sick members, we enflsh the Church’s promise to remain faithful to the sick, the suffering, the weak, and the struggling. Caregivers find support in our standing with them. In this sacrament the sick minister to us as well, as modeling hope in and union with Christ in his dying-rising way.

Ministers of Care will assist in the Communal Anointing rituals by welcoming people, giving them directions for anointing, introducing the sick to the priest anointers, and standing as the community’s support of our sick members.

Please alert relatives and neighbors to the possibility of receiving this sacrament. Even if you will not be present for these liturgies, remember to pray for the sick of our parish. For more information please contact Lynn Howard at 847-885-7703 or lhoward@sainthubert.org.

The heart of RCIA is more than just preparing for membership in the Church. It is ultimately about developing a deeper love for Christ through the Scriptures, through the Church’s Tradition, and especially through the sacraments—the real signs of His presence in our world. The heart of the process involves weekly sessions that begin in August and run until Pentecost. These gatherings consist of those who are inquiring about the faith (catechumens), their sponsors, the RCIA team members (catechists) and Fr. Mike. The first several sessions make up the Period of Inquiry. During this time, we present a general overview of living a life of faith. It is an opportunity to voice questions and concerns, an opportunity to inquire. No commitment needs to be made at this time.

What to do when you think someone you know is being physically or mentally abused?

This is a four-part series.

PART I: WHAT DOMESTIC ABUSE MAY APPEAR TO LOOK LIKE

Abuse looks different in every circumstance. However, there are some common indicators that should give us reason for concern. While many of the factors alone may not be cause to suspect abuse, considered within the context of the other factors, they can indicate a pattern of Power and Control that characterizes domestic abuse.

Does the person about whom you are worried...

- Act like something is wrong? People experiencing abuse may display a range of emotions, including anger, anxiety, sadness, stress, or fear. They may seem restless, preoccupied, jumpy, or agitated. They may try to hide their emotions or be reluctant to share their feelings openly, or to discuss their partner or relationship.
- Seem to be withdrawing from friends, family and community, perhaps by changing plans, backing out of commitments, or not answering the phone or the door? Isolation is a common tactic that abusers use to keep their partners from having a healthy support system.
- Miss work unexpectedly, arrive late, or frequently call in sick? Do they receive lots of personal phone calls from their partner while at work? Do they try to arrange their schedule according to their partner’s wishes? Do they seem unable to focus on the job? Abusive people frequently focus their tactics on their partner’s job, because that job affords the partner things that represent a threat to their control—for example, income, emotional support, connection with supportive people, etc.
- Have to ask a partner’s permission to have or spend money? Abusers often use access to finances as a way of controlling behavior and rendering their partner dependent upon them.
- Have bruises, broken bones, black eyes or other unexplained injuries? These can be signs of physical abuse—especially if seen often or repeatedly.

These are just some potential warning signs; the list is not meant to be exhaustive, but instead is a starting place for concerned questions. There are many ways abuse manifests.

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments:
A Transitional Housing Program for Homeless Families
August, 2018 Update

Family #30: Our family consists of a mom and her two sons, ages 4 and 2.

We are happy to report our mom is doing great! She loves her new job as a CNA assistant working 4 days per week and rotating weekends. This job will pay for her CNA certification after 90 days of employment. The children are doing well. Her youngest child failed the hearing test at the doctor and at school and needs to see an audiologist. He also needs glasses. She is focused on addressing his needs so he excels and feels confident at school.

Goals:
- Save up at least 3 month’s rent.
- Obtain a CNA certificate and new job.
- Apply for low income housing.

Family #31: This family consists of a 24 year old female and her two sons, ages 7 and 5.

Our mom is currently experiencing some setbacks. She was let go from her job because she had to bring her kids with her to work on two occasions due to a lack of dependable child care. She has had a difficult time over the last couple months between work and her transportation issues. She has a job interview for a customer service representative position. She is excited because it might be more manageable than her previous job. She has applied for other state assistance programs to get her through this time of transition. She feels very fortunate to still be with New Hope while she is going through this tough time.

Goals:
- Save up at least 3 month’s rent.
- Attend work and school as scheduled.
- Apply for low income housing.

New Hope and these two families are very grateful to be a part of the Peace and Justice Cluster Parishes!

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
If you have provided for St. Hubert in your will, please let us know by contacting Father Mike. Persons interested in including the parish in their will, or questions about how to make a bequest to St. Hubert or to any other archdiocesan program and/or institution, please call the parish office, 847.885.7700, or contact directly:
