29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

“For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many.” - Mk 10:45

October 21, 2018
The One Who Knows
In today’s second reading from the letter to the Hebrews, the author shares an incredible insight into Jesus Christ:

“We do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who has similarly been tested in every way, yet without sin.” (Hebrews 4:15)

Jesus understands our human life and human needs. He understands everything from living in poverty, to suffering, temptation, frustration, injustice, and being misunderstood, but he also knows the joy and peace that comes in being in relationship to God our Father—something he wants each of us to experience as well.

When things seem hopeless, we have someone who hopes in us and urges us to “come to him” so he can help us carry the burden and help us through. (See Matthew 11:28)

Today at our 12:15 pm Mass, we welcome those in our parish community who are struggling and feeling weak right now, either in mind, body or spirit. In the sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, Jesus makes his presence felt through prayer and the oil that is rubbed on foreheads and hands. In this powerful sacrament, Jesus sympathizes with what weighs heavy within us; he saves us and lifts us up.

Odds & Ends

● 2020 Vision Capital Campaign. Thank you again to everyone who made a pledge to the capital campaign, and to many who are still considering it. We are in the process of compiling the pledges from last week and the pledges that are still coming in. We will be able to share an update next weekend. Thank you to Zee and Roger Malinski and Lisa and Jim Elder, our co-chairs for the campaign, and to the host of volunteers who have spent many, many hours of their summer to help us in this effort. It has truly been a labor of love for the parish we love.

● The Great St. Hubert Thank You Party. For everyone who has volunteered in any way at St. Hubert—in the church or school, in ministry, helping with the 2020 Vision campaign, helping at sporting events, in service groups, in any way—it’s time to celebrate your service and say thank you! You won’t want to miss it. Join us Friday, November 9 in the Parish Ministry Center as we salute you for all you do and who you are. See page 7 for more details.

● World Mission Sunday. Today, we join Catholics everywhere as we celebrate the missionary effort of the Church in the world. According to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, “World Mission Sunday calls us to be in solidarity with communities of faith where the Church is young, struggling and economically strained, particularly in Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands, and parts of Latin America and Europe.” Through our modern day missionary efforts, the gospel is still reaching the ends of the earth.

As we head into the heart of Fall, and the beauty it brings, we are thankful for God who allows us the opportunity to experience it. Have a blessed week,

—Fr. Mike
Next Week’s Readings:
Jeremiah 31:7-9
Hebrews 5:1-6
Mark 10:46-52

This October, Pope Francis has encouraged the Church around the world to pray the rosary along with the following two prayers from our Catholic tradition.

We fly to Thy protection,
O Holy Mother of God;
Do not despise our petitions
in our necessities,
but deliver us always
from all dangers,
O Glorious and Blessed Virgin. Amen.

The second is the prayer to St. Michael which was composed by Pope Leo XIII:

St. Michael Archangel, defend us in battle, be our protection against the wickedness
and snares of the devil; may God rebuke him,
we humbly pray; and do thou,
O Prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God,
cast into hell Satan and all the evil spirits who prowl through the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Others Those who protect at home and overseas
To be great in the kingdom of God means to be a servant, says Jesus: We are to serve the needs of others for the benefit of the kingdom.

This does not mean that our own needs and desires and dreams don’t matter. Being a servant for God is not slavery; it’s an honor and a blessing, because it unites us to the saving servanthood of Christ.

Being a servant like Christ means that we are treated by the Father the same way Jesus was treated. Our Master will not belittle us, disrespect us, nor over-work us.

The alternative is to be a slave to our worldly passions and possessions and the ways of the world. Worldly enslavement does belittle us. It reduces us to less than what God created us to be.

The ways of Christ empower us to be like Christ himself: free to enjoy all of the benefits of the kingdom of God, free to live a holy life, and therefore, free to be great in the eyes of our Father.

In this freedom, there is great joy. Although the ways of Christ are not easy and sometimes lead to the Cross, this cup of suffering increases our holiness and makes us even greater in heaven. When we make sacrifices for the benefit of others and we understand that our sufferings are part of our growth in holiness, they become much more bearable, because what had seemed like a curse is redeemed into a very significant blessing.

Do you know anyone whose prayers have not been answered? It’s not because God doesn’t care, nor because he can’t help them. He answers the prayers of others through our servanthood. Jesus serves others through us.

Our top priority must always be our own relationship with God, so that we receive an abundance of whatever he wants us to share with others in service to their needs. We cannot give what we don’t have. We cannot serve others well – we cannot be the presence of Christ for them – unless we ourselves have first been served by Jesus.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What has God blessed you with abundantly? What insights, gifts, talents, wisdom, etc., do you have?

2. How are these indications that Jesus has served you?

3. Share how you have passed this service onto someone else (or would like to). For example, how has he served you with his unconditional, forgiving love? Or how has he served you by meeting an unmet need? In turn, how has this helped you to be a loving servant for others?
There is an Aztec poem called, Ultimate Problem. It runs something like this:

In the Aztec design
God is in the little pea
that is forever rolling out of the picture
And all the rest extends bleaker
because God has gone away.

In the white man’s design
God is everywhere
but hard to see.
The Aztecs frown on this:
How do you know He’s everywhere?
And how did he get out of the pea?

You could say that if you are walking the roads of life these days
and if you are looking for God,
or a piece of God
You should be looking down.

For if God’s going to be found these days
it’s going to be in small things
it’s going to be close to the ground
it may even be below the ground.

Looking for God, these days requires the willingness to investigate the small to descend
to look down
to look down
to look down.

The incarnation, the central mystery of our Christian faith, invites us to look down, to investigate the small, to descend. Why? Because that is what God did in the incarnation. He emptied Himself, taking on the form of slave. He became small, a helpless baby.

Unfortunately, even though we all know this theoretically, we find it hard to do practically. Usually when we look for God we look the other way, towards the sky. We investigate the powerful. We try to ascend.

A friend of mine who is a counsellor tells me that, more and more, when people come to him they complain of their powerlessness and ask him to help them find ways of being more empowered. His response generally surprises them. Frequently, when they complain of powerlessness and ask to be more empowered, he asks them this question: “Why do you want to be more empowered? Most people who do have power are pretty unhappy and often they are pretty self-centered as well. Do you really want to be like that? Maybe your experience of powerlessness is a privileged avenue in your quest to know God and your own soul and its depth. Maybe you need to investigate more your experience of powerlessness to see what riches can be found in it.”

The movement of God in Jesus Christ is a downward one. Thus, among other things, it invites us to enter into the experience of powerlessness, it invites us to look down, to investigate the small. It invites us to look for God in the baby rather than in corporate magnate, the president, the prime minister, the rock star, the star athlete, the brilliant writer, the Nobel prize winning scientist, or the Hollywood god or goddess. It is not that God cannot be present in these. It is just that, given the movement of the incarnation, if we are looking for God these days, we should be looking close to the ground, we should be investigating the small, we should be looking at the baby.

Beyond telling us where we should be looking, the incarnation also tells us which way we should be travelling, namely, downwards. To be Christian, to be persons who keep giving flesh to God in this world, we must, ultimately, be free of the tyranny of ambition and achievement, of measuring our meaning and success from what gives us upward mobility. A useful criterion to discern whether we are following Christ or following our own desires (under the guise of following Christ) is precisely whether we are moving upward or downward? Are we deeming equality with God as something to be grasped at? Are we growing in power, prestige, and admiration? Or, are we emptying ourselves and assuming the powerlessness of the poor?

There should be no delusion. The Christ-movement is downward.

RCIA

Are you curious about religion? Would you like more information about acquiring or maintaining a rich, rewarding faith life? Have you ever considered exploring the Catholic faith or becoming Catholic?

What is the RCIA?

RCIA stands for the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults and it is the process through which people join or complete their initiation into the Catholic Church.

Is the RCIA for me?

The RCIA is for three groups of people:

- Those who are not baptized.
- Those who were baptized into another Christian denomination and wish to enter into full communion with the Catholic Church.
- Baptized Catholics who were never formed in the Catholic faith and have not completed their initiation; that is, who have received neither of the sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist.

Call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

Please note, if you are an adult whose only need of completing your initiation is through the Sacrament of Confirmation, or if you are fully initiated but have been away from the Church and interested in returning, know that we have separate ministries to welcome you into or back to the fullness of our Church.

Remember those who have gone before us

You are invited to enter a name of a deceased loved one into our Book of the Names of the Dead and also place any pictures or mementos of your deceased loved ones in the niche. Entering the names of the deceased in a book dates back to ancient times. Making a shrine with pictures, symbols and articles associated with the deceased continues today in many cultures.

As we prepare to celebrate the feast days of All Saints and All Souls we are reminded that the communion of saints is both the living and the dead, both the canonized saints and the faithful holy men and women we know as our ancestors.

The Book of the Names of the Dead will remain in the narthex throughout November and each day, at one of our liturgies, we will pray their names aloud with all who have died, adding a petition to our Sunday liturgies as well. The pictures and mementos on the pedestals remind us of their life and their stories and can be shared with family members as well as our parish community.

Today is World Mission Sunday. We celebrate this day by remembering the revitalizing mission at the heart of our Christian faith - to bring the Gospel to all! The collection today for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith ensures the work and service of the Mission Church, as it supports priests, religious and lay leaders who offer the Lord’s mercy and concrete help to the most vulnerable communities in the Pope’s missions. Thank you for your generosity.

Why the Internet Fails Us in Job Search
October 22, 7:00—9:15 PM
PMC Club Room
Job seekers have been drawn into the on-line job sites for over 15 years and yet they are still only considered to be responsible for approximately 10-14% of the hires in today’s market. This has caused a great deal of frustration for the job seeker. We’ll attempt to shed light on this topic to give you greater insight as to why the Internet fails us and how to use it more effectively. Our presenter is Bob Podgorski, Ministry coordinator and President of his firm R.P.P. Enterprises LLC, a career coaching firm.

For questions regarding the St. Hubert Job Ministry events, contact Bob Podgorski at careerguy1@gmail.com.

JOB SEEKER’S EXCHANGE:
Whether you are a newcomer to the Saint Hubert Job and Networking Ministry or one of our members, feel free to attend the Job Seeker’s Exchange meeting before the regular general meeting, each 2nd and 4th Monday. What to do when you think someone you know is being physically or mentally abused? This is a four-part series.

PART II
WHAT YOU CAN DO TO GET AN ABUSED PERSON HELP?
If you are worried about someone that maybe physically or mentally abused, there are actions you can take to help. For starters:

- Inform yourself. Gather all the information you can about domestic abuse. This source is a great place to start.
- Call the helpline. One of the biggest myths is that a helpline is only for people experiencing abuse directly, but one of an advocate’s most important roles is to help others in the community offer real support to the survivors they know. An advocate can be an excellent source of support for both you and the person you want to help. Do not call the helpline for someone else. Call to educate yourself and find out how to be most supportive and helpful to someone who is being abused.
- Ask the questions. And believe the answers. Often, people experiencing abuse are experiencing isolation and control. They are frequently told that no one really cares what happens to them, or that no one will believe them. By asking them about their experience without judgment or agenda, you are sending the message that you care about what is happening to them.
- Let them know that no one deserves to be abused. Abuse is not God’s will. The Catholic Church has clearly emphasized that no person is expected to stay in an abuse marriage.
- Initiating this conversation can be difficult. Some tips to help:
  - Say what you see: “I heard your partner yelling at you the other evening…”
  - Express concern: “I am worried about you.”
  - Show support: “No one deserves to be treated that way.”
  - Refer them for help: “I have the phone number to the Illinois Domestic Violence helpline (877-863-6338)

Proclaiming the Word: Lector Training Workshop
Lectors have a critical role in the celebration of the Mass. Since lectors proclaim not just any word, but the Word of God, it is essential that they develop the skills required to communicate God’s message competently.

Through the use of voice, eye contact and personal presence, lectors help God’s Word come alive for the assembly.

This training will provide the skills and self-confidence needed for those who wish to become lectors in their own parish or for any lector who would like a “refresher” course.

School news:
A very generous gift has been given to Mrs. Campion and the Music program at St. Hubert School.

A $2,500.00 grant has been given to our Music program in honor of the legacy of Brett Anderson, a graduate of St. Hubert School, who died tragically in 2011. The Anderson family hosts a “BBQ for Brett” fundraiser every year to honor his memory and to celebrate his talents as a musician. This year, the family has determined that our Music program will be the recipient of the proceeds.

Mrs. Campion taught Brett, in addition to his younger sister Courtney and younger brother Chad. We are very grateful to this generous family, and their efforts to continue Brett’s legacy and promote the study of Music at St. Hubert School!

Dying to be Happy:
Discovering the Truth about Life
November 10, 9:00 AM—Noon
If you knew you were going to die today, what would you do? How would that reality change you? Would you be more forgiving, more merciful?
Embracing our mortality — on a daily basis — is key to happiness in this life and the next. That’s the Gospel truth! Because if you can lie to yourself about the fact you’re going to die, you can lie to yourself about anything. So, let’s wake up for heaven’s sake. Join Catholic author, Chris Stepien, as he shares the life-changing inspiration he gained from his wife Ellen’s breast cancer diagnosis. That experience led him to write his latest book from Beacon Publishing and Dynamic Catholic, Dying to Be Happy: Discovering the Truth About Life.
Location: St. Mary of Gostyn, Gathering Place (Downers Grove)
Cost: $30 (includes light breakfast)
You can register for this event on our website at mayslakeministries.org or by phone at 630-852-9000.
