THE HOLY FAMILY OF JESUS, MARY & JOSEPH

DECEMBER 30, 2018
The Center of Family Life

In the gospel today, we hear that even the Holy Family experienced challenges in family life. We dive into the story of how Jesus stayed behind in the Temple in Jerusalem, not telling Mary and Joseph. Of course, we hear how worried Mary and Joseph became, until they found Jesus and were reunited.

Parenting is a great joy, but it also can send parents on a rollercoaster of emotions and worry, depending on the different situations life throws at us. Parents simply want the best for their children, no matter how old they are; that they’ll be safe, happy, and lead a good life.

What holds the family together is the love they share. And that’s most fully realized in faith. St. John the evangelist reveals that God is love, so the center of relationships is our faith in Jesus Christ. And Christian families anchored in faith are especially aware of this.

Our statue of the Holy Family reveals that in a profound way. Mary, Joseph and Jesus seem to form a circle through the power of touch with Jesus front and center. It’s meant to capture the truth that what binds the Holy Family together, making it holy, is Christ himself.

And that’s true in all our families—our biological family, but also the human family with God as our Father. As Christians, we realize that the one who centers us is Christ, and so he anchors us to common values, attitudes, and ways of treating each other.

The second reading from St. Paul’s letter to the Colossians (3:12-17), which is an option today, puts it all into perspective and is worth repeating:

Put on, as God’s chosen ones, holy and beloved, heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience, bearing with one another and forgiving one another, if one has a grievance against another; as the Lord has forgiven you, so must you also do.

And over all these put on love, that is, the bond of perfection. And let the peace of Christ control your hearts, the peace into which you were also called in one body.

And be thankful.

May God be with all of us as we bring in a new year, seeking the faith, hope and charity that centers us on the gospel and brings Christ front and center in all we do. We’re grateful for our parish community and the good things that we’re doing together to help others.

How to have holy families

The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph
Sirach 3:2-6, 12-14
or Colossians 3:12-21
Psalm 128:1-5
Matthew 2:13-15, 19-23

The scriptures for this Feast Day instruct us on how to have holy families. The reading from Sirach tells children (young and old) to "honor" and "revere" their parents, to be considerate of them when they get old and feeble and to be kind to them even if they fail to love us well. It does not say that we have to obey our parents all the time. This scripture never uses the word "obey".

We are to only obey God, and if a parent instructs us to do what God wants us to do (as in the responsorial Psalm), then by obeying Mom or Dad, we’re obeying God, but if a parent disobeys God, we are not to follow him or her into sin. We can honor and revere our parents by respecting their personhood even while refusing to cooperate with their sins.

The reading from Colossians instructs us to "put on love, the bond of perfection", and to make sure that the peace of Christ controls our hearts. How? Saint Francis de Sales put it this way: "Never be in a hurry; do everything quietly and in a calm spirit. Do not lose your inner peace for anything whatsoever, even if your whole world seems upset."

Verse 18 is not saying that wives should do this by obeying their husbands as if in a child-father relationship. To understand this scripture, replace the word "subordinate" or "submit" with "accept his loving protection". God has put the husband in charge of providing protection for the family (which is why in the Gospel reading it's Joseph, not Mary, who was given the dream). This includes spiritual protection, teaching holiness and leading the family to heaven. In other words: The husband is in charge of providing God’s radical love to the family.

Notice that the husband is commanded to love his wife. Why isn’t the wife told to love her husband? Because by nature she’s a nurturer and a care-giver. But the man, created to protect, is by nature a warrior. To be holy, the husband overcomes his innate urge to protect himself so that he can make loving sacrifices to protect his family – just like Jesus.

When a wife submits herself to the protection of her husband, if he is being the man whom God created him to be, she is placing herself into God’s protection. And the husband is giving her Christ’s radical love.

Reflect & Discuss:
1. Which of your family relationships needs to become holier?
2. How does the husband’s protective nature imitate Christ?
3. How does submission to this protection nurture the marriage?
4. How is this similarly played out in a priest’s relationship with his parish?

If you are like I am, you most likely act out a certain cycle every year. Each January 1, you make New Year’s resolutions, keep them for a while, and then, eventually, sometimes by January 2, break them and fall back into old habits.

If you are like I am, you also have a certain sense of why this is going on . . . even as you are seemingly powerless to change things. Old habits, especially bad ones, are hard to break.

Aristotle said that habit is second nature, it replaces instinct. Augustine, who knew more than most about the difficulty in breaking old habits, once put it this way: “I longed to give myself wholly to you, Lord, but I was bound by my own will, as by a chain. Because my will was perverse it changed to lust, and lust yielded to become habit, and habit not resisted became necessity. These were like links hanging one on to another—which is why I have called it a chain—and their bondage held me bound hand and foot.”

In a former time, before we had psychological words such as obsession, dysfunction and neurosis, this was called being possessed by a demon. There was more wisdom and accuracy in that than our age sees fit to acknowledge. In our bad habits we are indeed possessed!

Given all of that, it is no big wonder that we so easily break new resolutions. The wonder is that we continue to make them, knowing our own histories. Why do we? Why do we continue to want to make new resolutions when we know that, barring miracles, we will not, in the end, succeed in keeping them?

Robert Frost says that there is something inside of us that hates a wall, that wants it down. That is also true for the wall of bad habit and the part that wants it down is the best part of us. Stated positively, there is something inside us that hates our own moral fat, that refuses death, even in this sense.

There is something inside of us that is driven to the higher, that refuses to settle for second best, that wants to sing the new song that the psalmist speaks of, that believes in the possibility of resurrection. There is something inside of us that needs to keep on keeping on.

Thus it is a sign of health that we keep making new resolutions, despite a life-long history of failure. Why? Because in striving to renew ourselves in the face of our own falling we are making an important act of faith: First of all, in making new resolutions we are saying: “I believe in a God who continues to love me, even when I can’t live up to it.” Every time I pick myself off the floor after a fall and begin again with some hope in my heart looking for a new start, I am saying the creed in a way that is considerably more radical, in terms of expressing actual belief in God, than is my too-easy Sunday recital of it.

To make a new resolution is to believe in God.

But it is more. To make new resolutions is to express faith in the God of the resurrection. To try for new life, for a fresh start, precisely when bad habit has kept me so long in a certain helplessness, is to say: “I believe in the resurrection and the life!”

Why do I say this?

Martin Luther once put it this way: “Just as God in the beginning of creation made the world out of nothing, so his manner of working continues unchanged.” For anything to really change, including our capacity to live beyond our own wounds and selfishness, God still had to defy the impossible.

Our inner world, akin to the physical world, is, to all outward appearance and to our own feeling of it, a closed system, determined entirely by history, by cause and effect. Within it, certain things are possible and certain things are impossible. What has been will continue to be.

There is, it seems, and so says Qoheleth, nothing new under the sun. The case for the impossible is pretty strong, especially when the judge knows the history of failed resolutions.

That is where faith and the resurrection enter in. As the angel Gabriel tells Mary: “For with God nothing is impossible.” Somewhere, deep inside of us, in that place where we want to make New Year’s resolutions, we still carry that faith. In that place we still say the creed and still believe in the resurrection. Because of that belief, because of new year’s resolutions, God can still make something out of nothing!

Our next food collection dates are January 5th & 6th

With the hustle bustle behind us, we should give thought to the coming year. Our whole world is in such discord. I am forever trying to think of some way I can help to make things better, but what can one person alone do? It takes many!

This is why I am so passionate about our Community Life Ministry’s Food Drive. It’s one thing that we can come together and do to make a huge difference for mankind. We may not conquer the world, but we are starting with our own little neck of the woods!

Please join me in giving a little faith in God, in mankind, and helping those who find life so hard in these times!

Peace to all God’s people.

A parishioner, Patrick Fleming, has offered to repair broken rosaries. There will be drop off receptacles at the ministry station in the narthex, and rosaries can be dropped off there. (The Ministry Station is the large brown cabinet by the main entrance on the South side of the church. There are slots on the left side of the station, and the receptacle for Rosary drop off is marked.) Patrick suggests putting any rosary to be repaired in an envelope with your name and phone number on it for return purposes. When repaired, we will call you to let you know you can pick it up.

Please donate any unused, broken rosaries so that their parts can be used to repair member’s rosaries.

In addition to repairing rosaries, Patrick makes rosaries for the missions, and he also accepts any rosaries people wish to donate. Those can also be dropped off in the narthex in the receptacle marked “Rosaries.”

GIFTS OF THANKS

Our parishioners are extremely generous. In addition to on-going donations of time, service, and helping those in need, some also ask how they can help give back to St. Hubert with additional financial help. In addition to the regular ways of giving, there are some short-term and long-term methods that some parishioners have used in the past, but are not always immediately known. As the holiday season and end of the year approaches, here are a few different vehicles some people have used for their charitable giving.

Tax Efficient Ideas

Please be sure to consult your tax accountant or financial advisors in regard to the effect of these ideas based on your individual income tax situation.

- Gifts from an IRA. If you are over 70-1/2, you must take Minimum Required Distributions from your IRA or pay a stiff penalty on the amount not taken. Funds transferred from the IRA directly to the parish by check or wire transfer are considered Qualified Charitable Distributions, which may be excluded from taxable income on the Federal and State of Illinois income tax returns up to $100,000 annually.

- Gifts of Appreciated Stock. These may be tax advantageous when it comes to capital gains. The parish works through the Archdiocese of Chicago to accept gifts of stock or other securities. If this is of interest, please contact our parish business manager, Teresa McCutchan, for more information.

Other Charitable Vehicles

- Matching Gifts. Parishioners and friends of the parish can double their gift to St. Hubert if their employer has a matching gift program. Contact your employer’s HR or benefits manager to learn more.

- Special Donations. If you would like to make a special end-of-the-year donation, you can do so through the regular collections at Mass, electronically through Give Central at givecentral.org, through the mail, or dropping off a donation at the parish offices. The amounts received will be included on the contribution report you receive at year end.

St. Hubert School Alumni

St. Hubert School has a rich history and many traditions that date back nearly 60 years. The first graduating class of St. Hubert School was the Class of 1963. Since then, there have been over 3,000 graduates. This year our goal is to reach out to as many of those alumni as possible. We have created an Alumni Association in hopes to better facilitate a relationship with our alumni community.

The mission of the St. Hubert Alumni Association is to engage and enrich our alumni. The Alumni Association is looking to create a mutually beneficial relationship between the school and its community of alumni, and hoping to facilitate communication and strengthen the bonds of our St. Hubert School Community.

We will be hosting Alumni events throughout the year. Please like our Facebook page "St Hubert School Alumni" to keep in touch and reminisce with us as we share photos from years past or email alumni@sthubertschool.org to learn more.
