3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring glad tidings to the poor.”
-Lk 4:18a
Theophilus...All of Us?

In today’s gospel, Luke tells us that “many” people compiled a report about Jesus Christ—from eyewitnesses who experienced him alive and resurrected, to ministers of the word. He tells us he also was up to the task.

He goes on to say he prepared his gospel for a person named Theophilus, who Luke described as “most excellent.” The scholars tell us that the name Theophilus (say that 10 times fast!), translated literally from Greek to English, means “loved by God” or “friend of God.” And that’s an interesting thing to reflect on.

Biblical scholars debate who exactly this person was, but the spiritual masters will tell us that maybe the whole point is that it doesn’t matter. The gospel is directed to each one of us—friends of God, loved by God. The gospel was compiled for a man hungry to know the facts about Jesus, just like we are.

The gospel is for you and me.

We’re hungry and eager to know more and more about Jesus and the way he moves in our lives.

In the letter from Paul today, we’ll hear that very familiar passage about the body of Christ. Paul uses the human body as a metaphor to describe how we aren’t meant to journey through life alone. Rather, there is greater wholeness and fullness when we work together. (Even the Lone Ranger had a side-kick!) The body functions as a whole, not as separate parts.

Christ doesn’t work alone, either. He invites all of us to work through Him, with Him, and in Him, together. Together, we share the work of being Christ’s hands, eyes, ears, feet, and heart. We’re not good at everything, but each one of us is good at something. When we work together, we can accomplish the “everything” Christ wants us to be.

As Theophilus-es, friends of God and loved by God, we are the ones eager to embrace the gospel and proclaim it by how we live. That’s what makes St. Hubert a special parish. It’s filled with people, like you, wanting to belong to a community that empowers us to live the gospel together.

Peace and good things,

--Fr. Mike

Luke 2:22-40

In today’s Gospel, we see Jesus announcing the reality of his ministry: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set the oppressed free, and to proclaim a year acceptable to the Lord.... Today this Scripture passage is fulfilled in your hearing."

Did this ministry come to an end when he ascended to heaven and disappeared off the face of the earth? As the reading from Corinthians points out, we are now the Body of Christ on earth.

We are all - every one of us - important parts of this body! Do not underestimate yourself. God created you and brought you into the Church because you can make a significant difference. No one else can do what you can do, the way you can do it, in the plans that he has for making this world a better place through you.

We Christians are, as a community of believers, the Body of Christ on earth. Every time we receive the Body of Christ in Holy Communion, we receive what we are, and thus we’re renewed in the continuation of Christ’s ministry. His mission is our mission.

By receiving Jesus in the Eucharist, we consume not only Jesus in his full humanity and his full divinity, we also consume his ministry. The Spirit of the Lord comes upon us. Every Mass is a renewal of our vocation to bring good news to the poor, to proclaim liberty to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set the oppressed free, and to proclaim what is acceptable to God.

Whenever the prayers of others are not answered, whenever evil is allowed to prevail, whenever souls suffer because they have not heard the good news of salvation in Jesus, it’s because the parts of Christ’s earthly body that can do something about it are not doing it. God provides everything that’s needed on earth through us! Jesus continues his ministry on earth through us!

Reflect & Discuss:

1. How does it feel to know that you’re called to continue Christ’s ministry? Reflect on how important you are to the Body of Christ and his mission.

2. What are you good at? What do you feel passionate about? What particular evils disturb you most? This is where you can make a difference!

3. Name ways that ordinary people can bring good news to the poor, or free captives, or help the blind see, or set the oppressed free, or proclaim what is acceptable to the Lord.

4. What are your experiences doing this?

What you dream alone remains a dream, what you dream with others can become a reality. Edward Schillebeeckx coined this phrase as a way of expressing the important truth that effective compassion is a collective endeavour. Private charity, be it ever so generous, is, in the end, not fully effective. Let me try to explain this by way of an example:

I belong to a religious order, the Oblates of Mary Immaculate. A couple of years ago, we had a General Chapter which brought together Oblates from around the world. The intent of any General Chapter is, of course, renewal. So we met and agonized: What could we do to renew ourselves so that, through our presence and ministries, Christ would be more present in the world?

At one stage, we were put into small groups and each group was asked the same question: Given the situation in the world and the church today, what, singularly, should we do so as to try to be more effective missionaries of God’s love and compassion? In the end, all of us came to one answer, and it was not the answer we had imagined prior to deep prayer and common reflection.

Our answer? We came to realize that if we would want to be more effective instruments of God’s love, we must be more together in community, linked more strongly to each other, living out more selflessly the truth that where enough people of goodwill are together in one mind and body an effective compassion can occur. We realized too why presently we, like so many others, are often ineffective. We have good private sentiments, good individual talents, and good individual energies, but unless we are linked and acting as one body we are no larger, no more powerful, and no more effective than each of our own small persons. Alone you can make a splash, but not a difference. Great individual charisma, and even heroic acts, are not enough. Our helplessness lies in our individuality. Alone we are no larger or more powerful than our individual talents. No one person, working alone, can change this world. A community, living a common ideal, can. Community, and community alone, can make our dreams come true.

What has the power to change life is community, the type of community that the New Testament describes. Alone we can do effective private charity, but we can do little to change the overall situation; alone our individual talents and gifts are often more the instruments of self-aggrandizement and the objects of jealousy than they are gifts for the betterment and joy of the whole; and alone we generally watch the evening news with a lot of discouragement at our own helplessness.

When we watch the evening news and see all that is wrong in our world, the feeling that comes over most of us is one of helplessness. What can I do to change any of this? We go to bed discouraged and a bit guilt-ridden. I should be doing more, but, concretely, what can I do?

Why do we feel so helpless and discouraged? Because we are watching the news alone … and alone we cannot do much. That is the point; alone we are in fact quite helpless.

Now, speaking figuratively, imagine that a parish would watch the news together. They would still be pretty helpless, but they could more than one individual. Next, imagine that a whole diocese would watch the news together. They would still not have it in their power to change all that is wrong with the world, but they could do a lot more than any individual parish. Then, suppose all the churches of a country would watch the news together. They would still not have it in their power to change the moral, social, and economic forces that perpetuate hate and chaos, but they could do much more than any one individual diocese. Finally, imagine, (and what an image of Christ’s Kingdom this is!) that all the churches in the whole world would watch the news together. This body could effect the change that is needed; it could bring about an effective compassion in the world.

The truth that needs to be added is that until this happens, until all the churches of the world do watch the news together, we will be unable, effectively, to bring about love and peace on this planet. Effective compassion is collective. What we dream alone remains a dream, but what we dream with others can become a reality. Why?

Because private sentiment is not enough. Watching the news alone leaves us helpless and guilt-ridden. Our helplessness lies in our individuality. Alone we are no larger or more powerful than our individual talents. No one person, working alone, can change this world. A community, living a common ideal, can. Community, and community alone, can make our dreams come true.

What is The Marriage Course?
The Marriage Course is a series of seven evenings, designed to help couples invest in their relationship and build a strong marriage. Nicky and Sila Lee, authors of The Marriage Book, developed The Marriage Course for couples looking for practical support to strengthen their relationship. The course is designed to help couples build strong foundations, learn to communicate more effectively and resolve differences well.

What can we expect?
On The Marriage Course you are seated at your own table for two. Every session will include dinner, a practical talk and a time for private discussion between you and your partner. You never share anything about your relationship with anyone other than your partner. Background music ensures that you can chat in complete privacy.

Who is it for?
The Marriage Course is for couples who are seeking to strengthen their relationship. Some couples do the course to intentionally invest in their relationship; others are looking to address more specific challenges. Either way, the course offers essential tools and practical ideas to help you build a relationship that lasts a lifetime. It is appropriate for any couple, whether married a short time, many years or somewhere in between.

The Marriage Course is based on Christian principles but designed for all couples with or without a church background.

Over seven evenings you will explore:

- Building Strong Foundations - Learn to understand each other's needs
- The Art of Communication - How to listen and communicate effectively
- Resolving Conflict - Develop methods to resolve conflict and disagreements
- The Power of Forgiveness - Learn how to apologize and forgive as a couple
- The Impact of Family, Past and Present - Explore the impact of your family on your relationship
- Good Sex - Find ways to develop greater sexual intimacy
- Love in Action - Learn your partner's 'love language' and how to love them well

There are many negatives for the folks in need right now! People just making it by are now joined by the Government workers who need assistance too. Add snow with freezing temperatures and additional money is needed for heating bills, warmer clothes, etc.

I went through my kitchen cabinets. Anything that was expiring or just expired I brought to people living on the street. We do not accept expired food at church, but the people on the streets were more than happy to have it!

After going through our sweatshirts, coats, scarves and gloves, I brought items to a school close by where I know, first hand, that some children show up in flimsy coats, without hats or gloves.

If you’re willing to help others, bringing food to church is appreciated by so many! Please don’t forget toiletries, soaps and paper towels are also in need. Stay warm!

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS
To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES
Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION
Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND
If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK
Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
