4th Sunday
IN ORDINARY TIME

When the people in the synagogue heard this, they were all filled with fury. But Jesus passed through the midst of them and went away. - Lk 4:28, 30

4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

February 3, 2019
Being Accepted

In today’s gospel, we hear the aftermath of what happened when Jesus revealed that the words of the prophet Isaiah (the mission we heard him reveal in last Sunday’s gospel) would be fulfilled in him.

The people in his own home town became skeptical (“Physician, cure yourself!”) and began to put the labels on him (“Isn’t this the son of Joseph?” i.e., the carpenter’s son?). We also hear that he angered the people so much that they drove him out of town to the cliff, ready to hurl him off the hill! (See Luke 4:21-30).

Sometimes the people who know us the best don’t always see who we truly are. It’s often a frustration teens and young adults talk about as they transition into adulthood and begin to find their place. But it’s not unique to them, we can all struggle with this. Being accepted can be a long journey. Labels, prejudices, misunderstandings, and closed minds can often be road blocks to understanding.

The Christian mind and heart looks deeper. There is often more to people than we think. The only way to know for sure is to talk it out; to listen and try to really hear. Talking, listening, thinking and hearing can open doors to understanding.

My dad was an architect and lived in the world of creative ideas. He once told me he would get frustrated with some of the colleagues in his office when they would resist making a change the client wanted, based on creative differences. He told me, that to be creative is to realize there’s more than one way to do something, and that his own way, or his colleague’s own way, may not always be the best. And maybe, just maybe, the client had it right.

My dad taught me to look at different perspectives—and not just to apply this to creative ideas, but more importantly when it came to working with people, which is one of God’s greatest creative expressions there ever was. Different perspectives can lead to greater understanding, which comes from a desire to learn more and know more, all in an atmosphere of mutual respect.

It’s interesting. At the end of the passage today, Luke tells us Jesus passed through the angry crowd and walked away. We don’t know what allowed this to happen. But maybe he was able to convey to the crowd he wasn’t the person they thought he was. There was an opening, a moment of grace, that didn’t lead to violence, but led to peace.

We survived the bitter cold, now as we head into hopefully warmer days, let’s pray for one another. It has the power to give us strength.

Peace and good things,

—Fr. Mike

Odds & Ends

- Seminarian Ryan Brady has moved into the rectory and will be with us full-time for the next three months. He is here for his pastoral internship. Learn more about Ryan and the internship on page 9.

- The extreme weather may have interrupted some of the activities of our Catholic Schools Week, but it didn’t dampen the spirit. Last Tuesday, after an all-school Mass our principal, Kelly Bourrell, revealed the school’s new mantra: “Impact the world through Christ”. She also introduced the three Christian virtues that define our St. Hubert Knights: Service, Persistence and Compassion. The students wore their 2020 Vision t-shirts as we remembered everyone, with gratitude, who is helping us prepare for the 2020s. See page 10 for more of the story.

Take a close look at this Sunday's Gospel story. Jesus has just finished reading the scripture that we heard last Sunday ("The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, he has anointed me to bring good news to the poor," etc.). He tells the people in the synagogue that this scripture is now being fulfilled through him, and they all speak highly of him. But by the end of this scripture, they're furious.

What changed their attitude?

Their awe turned into confusion when they remembered, "Isn't this the son of Joseph?" Unlike those who would meet Jesus for the first time in later chapters of the story, these people had experiences with Jesus the toddler who fell when learning to walk, Jesus the teenager who bled from mistakes made while learning the carpentry trade from his father, Jesus the young man who wept at his father's funeral.

Their attitude changed when they stopped listening with their spirits and started listening with their pre-conceived notions. This disconnect from the divine then stirred up their emotions.

Think of how people react when you confuse them by doing or saying something out of character, that is, out of the character that they expect from you. If you're perceived as too young or too old to do what you are in fact capable of doing, or if your education level doesn't include a formal degree that proves that you know what you do already know, or if you don't tell people what they want to hear, their surprise turns into confusion that triggers an emotional response against you.

We expect them to believe us, and when they don't, our surprise turns into confusion and self-protective anger. But how did Jesus handle it when they treated him this way? He calmly spoke a truth that was inspired by the Holy Spirit. Did he have an emotional reaction? Sure! He was human like us; we were all created by the Father to have emotions. The problem is not in the emotions; the problem occurs when we listen through our emotions instead of our spiritual connection to the Holy Spirit.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. How much time do you spend training your ear to hear the Holy Spirit within you?
2. When life is busy happening around you, do you mostly react to it or are you on some level praying about it?
3. What can you do this week to develop a more automatic connection to the Spirit of God?
4. What are some of the ways you listen to the Holy Spirit?
5. Keeping in mind a surprising challenge that happened to you recently, describe the differences between an emotional reaction and a spiritual action.

Several years ago, a friend shared this story with me: Raised a Roman Catholic and essentially faithful in going to church and in trying to live an honest moral life, he found himself, in his mid-forties, plagued by doubts, unable to pray, and unable (when he was honest with himself) to even believe in the existence of God.

Anxious about this and looking for spiritual guidance, he went to see a Jesuit priest who had a reputation as a spiritual director. He anticipated the usual counsel about dark nights of the soul and how these are given to us to purify our faith and, already familiar with that literature, he wasn’t expecting much. Certainly he wasn’t expecting the advice he received.

His Jesuit guide didn’t try to engage him in any deep theological reflections on doubt and dark nights of faith. Instead, like Elisha to Naaman, the Syrian leper, he gave my friend a counsel that sounded so simplistic that it triggered irritation rather than hope: The Jesuit simply told him: Make a promise to yourself to sit in silent prayer for half an hour a day for the next six months. I promise you that if you are faithful to that promise, you will, by that time, recover your sense of God.

My friend, beyond being upset with what he felt was an over-simplistic bit of advice, protested that the biggest part of his problem was precisely that he couldn’t pray, that he couldn’t talk to a God whom he didn’t believe existed: How can I pray when I no longer believe that there is a God?

The Jesuit persisted: “Just do it! Show up and sit in silent prayer for half an hour a day, even if you feel like you are talking to a wall. It’s the only practical advice I can give you.”

Despite his skepticism, my friend took the Jesuit’s advice and faithfully sat in silent prayer for half an hour a day for six months and, by the end of that time, his sense of God had returned, as had his sense of prayer.

This story, I believe, highlights something important: Our sense of God’s existence is very much linked to fidelity to prayer. However, and this is the catch-22, it is hard to sustain a life of prayer precisely because our sense of God is often weak. Simply put, it is not easy to pray. We have easy words about prayer, but we struggle to sustain, long term, real prayer in our lives.

Prayer is easy only for beginners and for those who are already saints. During all the long years in between, it is difficult. Why? Because prayer has the same inner dynamics as love and love is sweet only in its initial stage, when we first fall in love, and again its final, mature stage. In between, love is hard work, dogged fidelity, and needs willful commitment beyond what is normally provided by our emotions and our imagination.

Prayer works in the same way. Initially when we first begin to pray, like someone young and in love, we tend to have a period of fervor, of passion, a time when our emotions and our imaginations help give us a sense that God exists and that God hears our prayers. But as we grow deeper and more mature in our relationship to God, just as in a relationship to someone we love, reality begins to dispel an illusion. It’s not that we become disillusioned with God, but rather that we come to realize that so many of the warm thoughts and feelings we believed were about God were really about ourselves. Disillusionment is a good thing. It’s the dispelling of an illusion. What we thought was prayer was partly a spell of enchantment about ourselves.

When that disillusionment sets in, and this a maturing moment in our lives, it is easy to believe that we were deluded about the other, the person we had fallen in love with or, in the case of prayer, God. The easy response then is to back away, to quit, to see the whole thing as having been an illusion, a false start. In the spiritual life, that’s usually when we stop praying.

But it the opposite is called for. What we need to do then is to show up, just as we did before, minus the warm thoughts and feelings, bored, uncertain, and stripped of our enchantment about ourselves. The deeper we go in relationships and in prayer, the more unsure of ourselves we become, and this is the beginning of maturity: It’s when I say, I don’t know how to love and I don’t know how to pray, that I first begin to understand what love and prayer actually are.

Hence, there is no better advice than that given by this Jesuit priest to my friend who thought himself an atheist: Just show up! Sit in humility and silence long enough so that you can begin to hear someone else, not yourself.

What is The Marriage Course?
The Marriage Course is a series of seven evenings, designed to help couples invest in their relationship and build a strong marriage.
Nicky and Sila Lee, authors of The Marriage Book, developed The Marriage Course for couples looking for practical support to strengthen their relationship. The course is designed to help couples build strong foundations, learn to communicate more effectively and resolve differences well.

What can we expect?
On The Marriage Course you are seated at your own table for two. Every session will include dinner, a practical talk and a time for private discussion between you and your partner. You never share anything about your relationship with anyone other than your partner. Background music ensures that you can chat in complete privacy.

Who is it for?
The Marriage Course is for couples who are seeking to strengthen their relationship. Some couples do the course to intentionally invest in their relationship; others are looking to address more specific challenges. Either way, the course offers essential tools and practical ideas to help you build a relationship that lasts a lifetime. It is appropriate for any couple, whether married a short time, many years or somewhere in between.

The Marriage Course is based on Christian principles but designed for all couples with or without a church background.

Over seven evenings you will explore:

- Building Strong Foundations - Learn to understand each other’s needs
- The Art of Communication - How to listen and communicate effectively
- Resolving Conflict - Develop methods to resolve conflict and disagreements
- The Power of Forgiveness - Learn how to apologize and forgive as a couple
- The Impact of Family, Past and Present - Explore the impact of your family on your relationship
- Good Sex - Find ways to develop greater sexual intimacy
- Love in Action - Learn your partner’s ‘love language’ and how to love them well

As a Teen, Am I in an Unhealthy or Abusive Relationship?

A relationship does not have to involve physical violence to be unhealthy. Here are some additional warning signs your relationship is in trouble:

- Controlling behaviors, such as not letting you hang out with your friends, telling you what to wear, having to be with you all the time, and calling or texting you frequently to "check up" on you.
- Verbal and emotional abuse that involves calling you names, jealousy, cutting you down, and threatening to hurt you or a family member if you don’t do what they want.
- Sexual abuse that includes unwanted touching and kissing, etc.

What If I Am in an Unhealthy or Abusive Relationship?

Some teens involved in unhealthy or abusive relationships think it’s their fault. They may feel helpless to stop the abuse, or feel threatened or humiliated. You must understand that nothing you say or do gives anyone the right to abuse, intimidate, or hurt you.

Trust your gut feelings. If something feels uncomfortable or wrong with the relationship, then it is not healthy. You must end the relationship. Here are some tips for ending an unhealthy or abusive relationship:

- Get help immediately. Don’t keep your concerns to yourself.
- Break the silence. Talk to someone you trust, such as a parent, teacher, or a school counselor. Discuss how you have been treated.

Seminarian Ryan Brady Begins His Pastoral Internship at St. Hubert!

As part of his seminary formation experience, Ryan Brady will be here at St. Hubert Parish, full-time, from February 1 through the end of April. St. Hubert was selected by Mundelein Seminary as a Teaching Parish in 2017. Since then, Ryan, along with Deacon Tom Heathershaw and David Jameson, have been coming on weekends during the school year and have been engaged in parish ministry. The Pastoral Internship is an important time in a seminarian’s life where they experience first-hand everyday parish life.

You will see Ryan around the parish doing many things and getting lots of experience. If you haven’t already introduced yourself, please say hello. And, please pray for him! It’s one of the ways we can help provide the spiritual support he needs.

–Fr. Mike

My name is Ryan Brady and I’m in 2nd Theology at Mundelein Seminary. I expect to be ordained in May of 2021. I’m from St. Christina Parish in the Mt. Greenwood neighborhood of the southwest side of Chicago. I graduated from Marist High School in 2001 and from Loyola University Chicago in 2005. My first two years at Loyola, I studied at St. Joseph College Seminary.

Before entering Mundelein Seminary, I managed the Development Office of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago. On Saturdays, I would serve as sacristan at Holy Name Cathedral. Both experiences gave me excellent perspectives on the Church. I was able to witness the Spiritual and Corporal Works of Mercy daily. I was also very close to the Sacraments. Thanks to those two wonderful careers, and 14 years after leaving college seminary, I finally came to understand an unmistakable call of Jesus Christ to priesthood.

I’m very grateful to be continuing my seminary formation at St. Hubert Parish. From now until May, I will be living with Fr. Mike and serving full time in the parish. This opportunity is a great blessing! I look forward to growing closer to Jesus Christ with you and through you. My experience at St. Hubert will be an incredible experience, and what I learn during this internship will help me as a priest.

I want to be a holy and happy parish priest one day for you: the people of God. Please pray for me as we journey together over the next few months. There are many friendships that I know will grow stronger during my internship at St. Hubert. There are also many friendships that will begin. If we haven’t met, please stop me and say hello! Please know that it is my great joy and pleasure to pray with you and for you.

Students are celebrating Catholic Schools Week in many ways. As a school we “Celebrated our St. Hubert Community” with a special all school mass and assembly. Students gathered wearing their 2020 Vision shirts and heard from students who shared how St. Hubert School has impacted their Faith. Faculty and students shared how they can “Impact The World Through Christ,” and the important virtues in being a St. Hubert Knight. Through perseverance, compassion, and Faith, students learned much can be accomplished.

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
