Palm Sunday of Our Lord’s Passion

April 14, 2019
Jesus’ Passion

Today we hear the powerful account of Jesus’ last days and final moments. We use the word “passion” to describe the time between the Last Supper and his death, which is exactly the gospel that we will hear today, this year from Luke.

The word “passion,” which comes from the Latin word passio actually means suffering. But we also use the word “passion” in other ways as well, such as the intense drive we feel within us about something we believe with all our heart. Love, in the classical sense, is a passion. And love is directed outward.

And so, as we hear the Passion of the Christ proclaimed today, and again on Good Friday, we can’t help but think of the intensive love that Jesus has for human beings, which drove him forward, step by step, to the cross...for us. It was God’s will, but then God is love (1 John 4:8). What Jesus did was out of love for you, me and all those who discover that a relationship with God is a relationship that we simply want to have forever. Jesus opened the way.

The passion narrative will end with Jesus being laid in the tomb. But, as we know, it’s not the end of the story. To complete the story, we’re given...

...AN OPEN INVITATION

Please join us as we celebrate Holy Week, and especially the Triduum: the three holiest days of our year that form one story, one celebration of Jesus’ love for us.

On Holy Thursday (7:30 PM) we’ll enter into the evening of the Lord’s Supper to witness the institution of the Eucharist and the model Jesus gave us to serve one another. Following the Mass, we’ll have time up until midnight to visit Jesus in the garden as we adore his Eucharistic presence in the tabernacle.

On Good Friday (3:00 PM) once again we’ll enter into the Passion of our Lord and will venerate the cross—the great icon of faith, hope and love. At 7:30 PM, we will pray the Stations of the Cross, reliving Christ’s journey to Calvary through the eyes of St. Paul.

At the Easter Vigil (7:30 PM) we’ll experience the joy of the resurrection and the witness that Christ is alive, especially through the lives of those who will be baptized and those receiving the sacraments of initiation for the first time. It’s the holiest night of the year and the first opportunity to sing the song we’ve been longing to sing all through Lent.

If you’ve never experienced the Triduum—these three holy days—please consider it. It’s a remarkable Catholic experience that confirms Jesus’ greatest passion—a life with us that’s never meant to end!

We should rejoice gratefully for this every Sunday with hosannas and admiration, for in the Eucharist we reunit- e ourselves to that tremendous love. In this communion, why aren't we grinning like lovers who have become joined to their beloved? The answer to that is: Our "colts" are still tied to the post.

Jesus has sent his disciples to you to ask you to share your "colt" with Jesus. They are at the altar consecrating the Eucharist for you. They are writing bulletin "help wanted" blurbs. They are interrupting you at work asking for your prayers or counsel or other assistance. They are the strangers who are in need of your charitable donations.

Who have you heard asking you to become more involved in the plans of God's kingdom?

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Make a list of the "colts" in your life. Which ones would you like Jesus to put to good use?
2. Describe a "colt" in your life that Jesus has need of.
3. How can giving control of it over to Jesus help him complete his Good Friday sacrifice in today's world?

Palm Sunday teaches us that he deserves to be glorified for his awesome love, which he made visible on the cross. Who else would die for you -- with that much suffering? Jesus sacrificed his comfort and his body and blood to take the punishment that we deserve for our sins.

The old manuals in moral theology made a distinction between two kinds of ignorance, culpable and inculpable. The latter, also termed invincible ignorance, was seen as something which excused one from sin and moral blame.

For those who consider such distinctions medieval casuistry, there are Christ’s words at the time of his crucifixion: “Father, forgive them; for they know not what they are doing.” (Luke 23,34). Jesus, himself, refuses to consider anyone a sinner who acts in ignorance.

Nobody can sin in ignorance … and this has implications beyond those immediately evident. My own hunch is that there is, in fact, a lot less sin around and a lot less need to assign moral blame than both the critics of the new and old morality suspect. We are all morally inept. We all do things that we shouldn’t do and we all neglect to do things that we should do.

However, while the damage to others and ourselves that arises out of this is real, there is, I submit, habitually an extenuating ignorance and naiveté. For the most part, we are innocent because we don’t know what we are doing! Not because, many times, we do not know that we are doing something wrong, since we do know, but because we are ignorant of how much we are loved. If we knew how deeply we are held in love, we would be very different persons.

All sin is a betrayal of love. Accordingly when there is no real felt experience of love there can be no real felt experience of sin either. This is true as regards our relationship towards both God and community. When we don’t experience ourselves as loved by community, we cannot sin against community. When we don’t experience ourselves as loved by God, we cannot sin against God. To not know love is to be unable to sin. When we don’t know that we are loved then we don’t know what we are doing morally either.

Several years ago, I wrote an article entitled “Being a loved sinner”. A woman wrote to me shortly afterwards commenting: “I liked the gist of your article; but the expression loved sinner is a tautology. One can only sin if one is loved. I am 49 years old and can honestly say that for the first 46 years of my life I did not commit a sin. This is true not because I didn’t, during those years, do many bad things, but because during those years I never felt loved. Three years ago, I fell in love. Now, when I do something wrong, I know I am sinning. I can truly say that, until I had an experience of being loved, I didn’t know what I was doing even when I thought I did!”

When Christ asks God to pardon his executioners on the basis of their naiveté and ignorance “they do not know what they are doing” the excusing darkness is not so much an ignorance of right or wrong or even of the fact that they were crucifying the Christ, but of the fact that they, and those who had put them up to this, did not know how they were loved.

Not realizing how we are loved is the real darkness, the real inculpable and invincible ignorance. In ignorance we crucify the Christ! In ignorance we compromise ourselves! In ignorance we sell ourselves short, settle for second best, abuse others and ourselves, abandon our ideals, fill with rage and jealousy, and give in to every kind of masturbatory compensation and paranoia. When we do these things, many of us know that we are doing wrong … and we are! What we don’t know is how much we are loved! Most of what, in the full light of love, would be sin is, in the darkness of our ignorance, nothing more than the acting out that follows upon despair and resignation. We are not so bad or malicious as we are wounded and despairing of love.

Christ’s words: “Forgive them; for they do not know what they are doing!” are a challenge to us to let some light into our darkness. But the light that leads to a real moral sense does not emanate, first and foremost, from the realization that we have been, in ignorance, crucifying God’s presence on earth, nor does it depend upon achieving the correct sensitivities and moral tuning. Rather, we will realize that we have been in ignorance and darkness, crucifying Christ and others and compromising ourselves, when we sense how much we are loved and how precious we really are. That realization is the root of all morality and its absence is the inculpable darkness which lets us go on naively crucifying Christ, others, and ourselves.

Morris West once wrote: “All miracles begin with the act of falling in love.” Christ’s executioners acted in a darkness that resulted from never properly having had that experience.

Man from Galilee

Who is this man from Galilee, for whom people have fascination?
Could he be a rabbi, to be drawing such attention?
None could deny that He is a teacher with an extraordinary message;
All who heard him with open heart and mind left with joy and leverage.

Curing the sick and giving sight to the blind, to a human mind was a marvel!
No wonder the lepers came running to him seeking for such a miracle.
Who expected that the dead could be raised and given new life, we pondered.
It all came about by the power of the man who obediently surrendered.

He did not hesitate to speak with command and authority in the name of the Lord.
People searched deep within and soon recognized the prophet of God.
He spoke of today and of tomorrow with courage and audacity.
The leaders could not challenge him, they chose to live in duplicity.

The man from Galilee was no ordinary person!
The whole creation came about for this very reason.
He was the messiah, the Son of God, come to give us salvation.
Everyone should lift his voice in praise and adoration.

He spoke of love of God and love of man. Of all commandments, none is greater.
He taught mankind the will of God, His Father, our Creator.
His love revealed, in arms outstretched on the cross, He died to set us free.
Live in His love, and you will behold the peace of the Man from Galilee.

His quest to establish the kingdom of God goes on with every generation,
How long it endures is not ours, to make such determination.
To attain a place in your life for love and serenity,
Simply put your hands in the hand of the man from Galilee.

Parishioners, as we get closer to Easter, the Knights of Columbus Council #6964 is encouraging families to attend the Good Friday Service at 3:00 PM on April 19 or Stations of the Cross at 7:30 PM.

Good Friday is central in the heart of Christianity. The liturgy of the Lord’s passion and death reminds families of the suffering Jesus endured through his passion and resurrection, thereby opening the gates of heaven for each of us. Join all of us in our parish community, along with the Knights of Columbus.

Consider bringing someone with you who is searching for meaning in their life. The story of Jesus is the story of Emanuel—which means “God is with us.” It is the ultimate realization that good defeats evil.

A parishioner, Patrick Fleming, has offered to repair broken rosaries. There will be drop off receptacles at the ministry station in the narthex, and rosaries can be dropped off there. (The Ministry Station is the large brown cabinet by the main entrance on the South side of the church. There are slots on the left side of the station, and the receptacle for Rosary drop off is marked.) Patrick suggests putting any rosary to be repaired in an envelope with your name and phone number on it for return purposes. When repaired, we will call you to let you know you can pick it up.

Please donate any unused, broken rosaries so that their parts can be used to repair member’s rosaries.

In addition to repairing rosaries, Patrick makes rosaries for the missions, and he also accepts any rosaries people wish to donate. Those can also be dropped off in the narthex in the receptacle marked “Rosaries.”

Dear Jesus,
In this Holy Week, we remember the time from your triumphal entry as a king in Jerusalem to your tragic death as a criminal on Golgotha. In this week, give us the grace to imitate you in our everyday lives. As you washed the feet of your apostles, help us to serve others without thought of ourselves. As you forgave Peter for his denial of you, help us to forgive those who have wronged us. As your apostles were faced with their own weaknesses, help us know our own limits, and our need for your aid. Most of all, give us the grace to remember that you died for love of us.
Amen.

February, 2019 Update

Family #30
Our mom is still on track for reaching her goals and things seem to be falling into place. Issues she had previously had with her neighbors have quieted down. However, she still plans to move when her lease is up in August. Her goal is to remain in the community because the kids are well adjusted and enjoy going to their neighborhood school.

Mom is doing well and continues to build her savings. She plans to file her taxes in the beginning of April and will add her anticipated refund to her savings account.

Goals:
- Save up at least 3 month’s rent
- Obtain a CNA certificate
- Secure affordable housing before June 2019

Our moms and kids are doing very well thanks to your continued support for our families. It has truly been a blessing having assisted 31 families with these awesome Peace and Justice Cluster parishioners!!

Family #31
Our mom is doing better and continues to work at a restaurant. Things are going well and she reported they want to promote her to a Manager position. She feels ready to accept the position. She realizes it may be challenging because things are unorganized; however, she feels confident that she can get things running smoothly. She is also training for a part-time job as a server. Both jobs are necessary, since each one is part time.

Kids are doing great! Dad is back and helping as much as he can. They are getting along well co-parenting.

Goals:
- Save up at least 3 months rent
- Attend work and school as scheduled
- Apply for low income housing
- Look for full-time employment
- Save up for a car

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
