Jesus said to his disciples: “The Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you. Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you.” - Jn 14:26-27a

Our world is not a very peaceful place. We unfortunately see a lot of conflict, violence, unrest, injustice, and maybe even anger—not just between nations, but sometimes very close to us. For instance, I’m amazed sometimes how fast someone is to lay on their horn and start cursing if someone delays even two seconds when a light turns green.

The question the gospel seems to put in front of us today is this: is peace possible?

Jesus is saying “yes” it is. True peace can be experienced only in Him, not the way the world can give it (because it seems we’re not really ever at peace). We can find peace within. There is a sacred center in all of us. We call it the “heart” or “soul,” but it’s the place where God rests within us.

Jesus says God the Father loves whoever loves him, which we show by following him. And so, he promises something we need to hear: God shows his faithfulness by coming to us to make his dwelling place within (John 14:23).

That, of course, takes on its ultimate meaning in the Eucharist. That is the moment, as Catholics, that we enter into communion with God, who shares his very self and comes into our heart and soul.

The peace of Christ is the peace of knowing we’re not alone, despite any loneliness we may feel. It’s knowing that God stays with us, even during the hardest moments or trials we may face. We unite our own suffering to Jesus who faced his own. Jesus knows our life, our experience, our joy and our pain.

And so, he gives us the peace of knowing he’s with us. And we respond through prayer, and even saying something as simple and heartfelt as “Jesus, I trust in you.” Jesus helps us get through.

Odds & Ends

- On Monday, we’ll show our gratitude to those who have served in our military forces and gave their lives in service to our nation. It’s a day that many families gather together to remember, but also to celebrate the bonds of family and friendship which are the most important things we hold onto in life. Please join us for Mass at 9:00 AM as we pray for the souls of those who served and rest in the peace of Christ.

- Our St. Hubert 8th Graders are getting set to graduate this Friday! We will have a special Mass and graduation service beginning at 7:00 PM in the church. Congratulations not just to them, but to all those in our parish who move forward from grade school, high school, college and grad schools. Peace be with you!

And may we find the peace of Christ in our hearts through prayer, communion, and being together.

With God all things are possible, we forget to rely on the Holy Spirit who teaches us how to keep the commandments. Or we don't know how to be aware of his guidance. We have God’s full assistance, but we react to life's challenges as if we must handle it by ourselves.

Here's a spiritual exercise to stay open the sound of Holy Spirit guiding you: Sanctify each hour. Set your watch or a timer app on your cell phone to beep an alarm at the top of each hour. Whenever it beeps, say a few words thanking the Holy Spirit for being with you and guiding you through the next sixty minutes. After doing this for a few weeks, you'll become automatically and constantly aware of the presence of God and his ever-available help.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. How often do you pray specifically to the Holy Spirit for guidance and insight and understanding?

2. What would you like the Holy Spirit to explain to you right now? Ask for the help, and then wait, watch and listen for God to open your heart to the truth.

3. How has the Holy Spirit been a teacher to you? How has God filled in gaps in your understanding of scripture and Church teachings and their real-life applications?

4. What sources has he used to convey the information (e.g., a homily, a song, a friend)?

Who’s a real Christian and who’s not? Who’s faithful to the teaching of Christ and who’s selective in following him? Who’s morally committed and who’s not?

Everywhere, in the name of religion, truth, morality, ideology, or political-correctness, we’re erecting various tests of orthodoxy and morals. Usually one issue of morality, dogma, dress, or political-correctness is set up as the litmus test. How you stand on that issue determines how you are judged in general and, depending whether you’re liberal or conservative, that issue can be anything from abortion, to feminism, to gay marriage, to war, to poverty, to capital punishment, to clerical dress, to (inside of Islam) whether or not a woman covers her face in public. But, invariably, there is a litmus test, one issue on which you are judged.

So it’s worth asking: Did Jesus have a litmus test? Is there one issue, principle, or dogma within his teaching that can function as a criterion for judgement so that we are, in effect, a Christian or not, depending upon where we stand on that issue?

The question isn’t a simple one: On the one hand, it asks the question of essentials: What’s essential and what’s negotiable in the teachings of Jesus? But it asks, as well, whether there is any one thing inside the teachings of Jesus that can serve as a defining criterion as to what makes one uniquely Christian?

Regarding the question of essentials, I submit, that there are four things that Jesus asks of anyone who would be his disciple:

First, that he or she “keep the commandments”, both the larger commandment of the heart “to love God and neighbor” and the ten commandments. “If anyone loves me, he will keep my word.” An essential component of Christian discipleship is having a private relationship to Jesus and being faithful in the area of private morality.

Second, Jesus mandates social justice as non-negotiable, not optional, within Christian discipleship. This is clear from Jesus’ own life, from the text on the last judgement in Matthew’s gospel, and from the fact that in the gospels, on average, one out of every eight lines is an imperative from Jesus to reach out to the poor.

Third, as Jesus defines it, discipleship demands involvement within a concrete community of faith. Christian discipleship is not something we do alone. We’re asked to journey to God with each other, as part of an ecclesial community, as part of a church. As the First Epistle of John, puts it: “The one who claims to love a God that he cannot see and does not love a neighbor whom he can see is a liar.”

Finally, what Jesus asks of us as an essential component of discipleship is a mellow, warm, grateful heart. Discipleship isn’t just about what we do; it’s also about the spirit within which we do it. We need the right truth, but also the right energy. Nothing counts for much, no matter how right or orthodox the action, if it doesn’t issue from love and gratitude. In T.S. Eliot’s words: “The last temptation that’s the greatest treason, is to do the right thing for the wrong reason.” When our concern for truth, orthodoxy, justice, or morality comes out of a place of anger, bitterness, or judgement, we are no longer acting as disciples of Jesus, no matter how right the cause. No action rooted in bitterness, anger, jealousy, self-righteousness, or in a desire for revenge can ever justify itself in Jesus’ name.

Thus these things – private integrity, social justice, involvement in ecclesial community, and mellowness of heart – are the essentials of Christian discipleship. But there’s still a further question: Is there anything in Jesus’ teaching and his challenge to us that might serve as a litmus test? Is there any one, singular, teaching that can serve as a criterion as to who is and who isn’t a true disciple of Jesus?

There is. For Jesus, the litmus test for a disciple, at least for a mature disciple, is this: Can you love an enemy? Can you bless someone who curses you? Can you forgive, and can you forgive even a murderer?

It is precisely to this challenge that Jesus refers when he tells us that our virtue must go deeper than the virtue of the scribes and Pharisees. The scribes and Pharisees were, for the most part, sincere and decent men and women who loved God, tried to help the poor, were concerned about truth and morals, and practiced justice. But loving an enemy and forgiving a murderer aren’t prescribed by justice, the ten commandments, church dogma, human decency, or even sincerity. They’re an invitation to something deeper, an invitation that comes from Jesus’ life and teaching, and an invitation that, in the end, constitutes the litmus test of mature discipleship.

Who’s a real Christian and who’s not? The deepest answer in the gospels would be: The person who can love an enemy, bless those who curse her, and forgive everyone, even a murderer.

Adore and Worship
An Evening of Eucharistic Adoration, Praise and Worship
Thursday, June 6 from 7:00—8:15 PM
Eucharistic Adoration is a posture of love, the placing of oneself in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament. Whether you regularly visit an Adoration chapel, or have never experienced the quiet and peace of praying before our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament, all are invited to participate in this spirit-filled evening of prayer, song, and silence.
You are invited to come as you are, no matter where you are on your spiritual journey. Jesus is there to meet you where you are, and to show you His love and mercy in a new and special way - a way just for you! Don’t miss this opportunity to deepen your personal relationship with the Lord.

FROM THE BUSINESS OFFICE:
Fr. Mike and I would like to express our gratitude to our parish community for all you do to show your support for St. Hubert. We are grateful for your commitment to help, not only with the day-to-day operations, but with a view to the future, making an investment in our 2020 Vision.

As the end of our fiscal year approaches, we are trying to offset some of the unexpected expenses that have come our way:
- Additional days of snow removal, especially on weekends
- Roof repairs to address leaking in the church
- Air conditioning repairs last summer, and again just recently

Below is a report detailing our budget and the corresponding actual collections that we have received to date. Our Finance Council has suggested to Fr. Mike that we add a special “balance the budget” second collection on the weekends of June 8-9 and June 15-16 to help bridge the gap. St. Hubert is known for our generosity, and we’re very grateful.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss this further, please contact me.

IT’S SO EASY TO FORGET TO BRING FOOD FOR OUR COLLECTION UNTIL WE GET TO CHURCH AND SEE THE DONATIONS IN THE DOORWAY. I’VE COME UP WITH A THOUGHT THAT MIGHT HELP TO REMIND US!

IF YOU RECEIVE ENVELOPES IN THE MAIL FOR OUR WEEKLY CHURCH COLLECTION, GO TO THE LAST ENVELOPE AND WRITE ON IT BRING FOOD. THIS SHOULD DEFINITELY GET YOUR ATTENTION. I JUST STARTED DOING THAT—OTHERWISE, I’D WRITE IT ON MY LIST OF THINGS TO DO, AND THEN LOSE THE LIST!

You’ll be shown the process and will work alongside veteran gown volunteers who can easily provide you with help, as needed. Unfinished projects can be completed at home and turned in to a local area coordinator. Wedding dresses, patterns, and samples will be provided - along with lunch. ### Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptism Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
