[Jesus] answered him, “Let the dead bury their dead. But you, go and proclaim the kingdom of God.” - Lk 9:60
Fire from Heaven

As we return to the Sundays of Ordinary Time, we find ourselves inside an interesting conversation between Jesus and his disciples. As he focuses intently on going to Jerusalem, they have to pass through Samaria. One of the villages they were entering didn’t welcome them; the implication was because they were Jews. In those times, Jews and Samaritans did not usually associate with one another (see John 4:9).

James and John (who Jesus called “the sons of thunder”—see Mark 3:17) thought Jesus should call down fire from heaven to consume them. Instead, Jesus rebuked the two. His next step was to go to another village where they were accepted.

Even though this took place 2000 years ago, it seems like it could have been a conversation that took place last week. When we’re insulted, most likely we all have a little bit of the sons of thunder in us. We want to get even. Human nature doesn’t change.

But, Jesus has us see there is another choice—to take the high road. Instead of getting even, we can also find an alternative way. Jesus is basically saying, “move on.”

The rest of the passage is about the demands of following him. Jesus knows his way challenges the norm, so he urges us to look at things differently. If we’re looking for an easy way to follow him, and to simply rest in what’s comfortable, he says think twice: “the Son of Man has nowhere to rest his head.” Jesus is constantly moving. As such, he urges us to always think, react, and choose where he’s leading us to be.

In the end, following Jesus moves us to think like him. He moves us to look ahead, not behind, with a whole new set of eyes. He moves us to wholeness, to respecting people (even if we don’t agree with them, and even if they insult us), and to avoid harsh, quick judgements with the aim of tearing another down. He moves us to forgive, which is a movement toward peace.

Odds and Ends

The Boomers—and St. Hubert—win! We had a great time at last Friday’s Boomer’s game from start to finish. Soon-to-be 3rd grader, Rachel Chirinos, threw in the first pitch. We watched the Boomers win an exciting game. We huddled together to stay warm—even though it was the first day of summer! And, the fireworks show was pretty awesome. Thank you St. Hubert Stewards, St. Hubert School, and Knights of Columbus for a great night at the ballpark!

St. Aloysius Celebrates 135 Years as a Faith Community. We congratulate our sharing parish, the good people at St. Al’s, as they celebrate 135 years of worshipping together. They celebrated with a Mass on their feast day followed by a gala. We’ve had a special relationship with this parish for 40 years—a real sharing of communities. So their joy is ours, too. Save Saturday afternoon, August 10, for our annual parish picnic with the St. Al’s community. More details to come.

Thank you to everyone who contributed to our special “Balance the Budget” collection. We have a generous community that does a lot to support the everyday good work of our mission, and a community that is helping us prepare for the 2020s, too. You respond when there is a need, and we’re very grateful. May God bless us in the days and weeks ahead.

—Fr. Mike

How well do you handle rejection? Today’s Gospel reading shows us how the disciples reacted to rejection. They had entered a Samarian village ahead of Jesus, as he had asked them to do, to gather an audience. But because the Samaritans had an anti-Jewish prejudice, they didn’t want to hear Jesus. Their hearts were closed to anything he might say. And so they missed an opportunity to experience the Savior of the world.

At the end of this scripture, Jesus explains that following him is always a forward motion. We’re always walking away from something — away from rejection, away from our unloving reactions to prejudice, away from the close-heartedness of those who are as yetunteachable — and moving into the loving embrace of Christ.

To move forward, remember that the Holy Spirit is the only one who can prepare a heart to receive Jesus. When we try to bring someone to Jesus and fail, we’re not really failing; we’re planting seeds rather than harvesting the crop. Let the Holy Spirit finish the work while you move on to other fields.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Who is frustrating you because he/she is not willing to change? What can you do to “walk away” lovingly and to give yourself a break? (It might not be a literal departure.)

2. When did someone reject you because you spoke the truth? How did you feel about it? Did you walk away?

3. How did (or might) the Holy Spirit work on that person’s heart to prepare them to eventually accept the truth?

A friend of mine jokingly says that when she dies she wants this epitaph on her gravestone: There was always something!

And there always is! All of us appreciate her frustration. Invariably, there’s always something, big or small, that casts a shadow and somehow keeps us from fully entering the present moment and appreciating its richness. There is always some anxiety, some worry about something that we should have done or should be doing, some unpaid bill, some concern about what we need to face tomorrow, some lingering heartache, some concern about our health or the health of another, some hurt that is still burning, or some longing for someone who is absent that mitigates our joy. There’s always something, some loss, some hurt, some anxiety, some bitterness, some jealousy, some obsession, or some headache, that is forever draining the present moment of its joy.

Henri Nouwen once gave a very simple, poignant expression to this: “Our life,” he writes, “is a time in which sadness and joy kiss each other at every moment. There is a quality of sadness that pervades all the moments of our life. It seems that there is no such thing as a clear-cut pure joy, but that even in the most happy moments of our existence we sense a tinge of sadness. In every satisfaction, there is an awareness of limitations. In every success, there is the fear of jealousy. Behind every smile, there is a tear. In every embrace, there is loneliness. In every friendship, there is distance. And in all forms of light, there is the knowledge of surrounding darkness.” There’s always something!

Jesus had his own way of expressing this. There is an incident recorded in the Gospels wherein Peter approaches Jesus and asks him what reward a disciple will receive for following him. Jesus replies that anyone who gives up father, mother, spouse, children, house, or land in order to be his disciple will receive these back (mothers, spouses, children, houses, lands) one hundred times over. But then he adds a rather unwelcome clause: “though not without tribulation”. There will always be something – some stress, some jealousy, some persecution – which can wipe out both the recognition and the enjoyment of the hundredfold. In effect, what Jesus is saying is that we can have everything – and enjoy nothing! Why? Because there will always be something impaling itself into the present moment that can cause us to lose perspective and thus lose the richness and joy inside of our own lives.

In Luke’s Gospel, Jesus specifies what that something often is, namely, jealousy. We can have everything and enjoy nothing because we are jealous of what other people have. How true. How often do we denigrate our own lives and talents, failing to see and savor their richness, because we would like to be someone else, someone rich and famous, someone set apart. Our lives are rich, but we are not content within them because we would want what someone else has.

There is a rich literature today, both within religious and secular circles, that tries to challenge us to not let our anxieties, heartaches, jealousies, and worries block us from entering fully into the present moment. Most of that literature is good since it formulates the right challenge. Sometimes, however, some of these authors give us the impression that, if you focus your attention and work hard at a few techniques, this is an easy thing to do. It’s not! Entering into the present moment, truly entering it without being waylaid by our own heartaches and headaches, is one of the most difficult psychological and spiritual tasks in all of life.

Our lives are rich, and that is true for all of us, not just for the rich and famous. At the height of his fame, the poet, Rainer Marie Rilke, received a letter from a young man, complaining that he wanted to be a poet but was handicapped because he lived in a small town where nothing exciting or noteworthy ever happened. Rilke wrote back to him and telling him that if his life seemed poor to him than he probably wasn’t a poet after all because he couldn’t pick up the riches of his own life. Every person’s experience is the stuff of poetry. There are no lives that aren’t rich; but most of us are blocked from entering into the richness of our own lives and can never appreciate the hundredfold … because there’s always something.

The challenge is to be present to the richness inside of our own lives, and that means learning to celebrate the temporary, the imperfect. That means learning how to go to the great banquet that lies at the heart of life, even while our lives are not yet fully healthy and complete. And part of that means accepting too how difficult this is, enjoying the times when we do get there, forgiving ourselves for mostly falling short, and having an epitaph engraved for ourselves that reads: There was always something!

Are you getting ready for the Holiday? I'm sure there will be more picnics and family get-togethers, especially due to the long delay of nice weather! The grocery stores are gearing up with big sales! There are many “buy one, get one free” deals going on. I hope you will take advantage of these sales and think of our collection when you do. With many people going on vacation, there is always a drop in the amount of food brought in during the summer months. You'll be shopping for those fun days ahead, so please be generous and help others worry less about their everyday lives! Have a fun Holiday and stay safe!

Baptismal Ministers

The Sacrament Of Baptism

The Baptism team needs help!
We need extra hands to help with Sunday Baptisms. It will not take a lot of your time and I promise you will find it rewarding.

Time/Talent Needs:
Baptismal Ministers provide a climate of hospitality for the parents of the babies coming for baptism, as well as their relatives and friends. These ministers also assist the priest or deacon as necessary.

Qualifications:
- A sense of hospitality.
- An ability to make others feel comfortable and welcome.
- A love for children.
- Training will be provided on the baptismal ritual and theology. Also, there will be an opportunity to observe one Sunday afternoon baptism.

Level of Commitment:
Baptismal Ministers are scheduled in teams of 2 based on their availability. Baptisms take place every other Sunday afternoon at 1:30 PM, except during the Lenten season. This amounts to attending a baptism once every six weeks.

Contact:
Please call Mike Keenan at 847-885-7703 or email mkeenan@sainthubert.org.

It's your responsibility!

It is said that St. Francis of Assisi once commented to his friars, "Go and preach, using words if you must." That same challenge is given to each one of us by virtue of our baptism. We are called to be witnesses of our faith and to share who God is in our lives with others. Whether we are aware of it or not, the way we live our lives and the way we give ourselves to others speaks volumes to those who come into contact with us.

Perhaps, someone you know has shared with you how you have touched their life or how they can tell that God is important to you. Maybe some of these people have experienced an interest in learning more about your faith. Perhaps, you would be interested in sharing more with others as a sponsor in the RCIA process.

The RCIA offers participants the opportunity to reflect on the scriptures and discover how those scriptures apply to their lives; to look at the teachings of the Church; and to grow in faith through prayer and community. If you know someone who might be interested in this process, please have them call Marie Staffa for an initial conversation. We also ask you to keep these individuals in your prayers. The encouragement and prayers of the faith community is one of the greatest supports they can have! Call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

Children’s Ministry of Initiation (CMI) is an invitational process that provides families and students with an opportunity to explore issues of faith and to receive the Sacraments. The CMI process helps students deepen their faith through an experience of God with other people on a journey of faith.

This children/teen program is for children of catechetical age (7 and above) who:

- Have never been baptized.
- Were previously baptized in another Christian Tradition (Protestant or Orthodox) and wish to become part of the Catholic tradition.
- Were baptized Catholic, but did not receive Eucharist in Grade 2.

Regular attendance of both the child and at least one parent is expected. For more information, contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

A parishioner, Patrick Fleming, has offered to repair broken rosaries. There will be drop off receptacles at the ministry station in the narthex, and rosaries can be dropped off there. (The Ministry Station is the large brown cabinet by the main entrance on the South side of the church. There are slots on the left side of the station, and the receptacle for Rosary drop off is marked.) Patrick suggests putting any rosary to be repaired in an envelope with your name and phone number on it for return purposes. When repaired, we will call you to let you know you can pick it up.

Please donate any unused, broken rosaries so that their parts can be used to repair member’s rosaries.

In addition to repairing rosaries, Patrick makes rosaries for the missions, and he also accepts any rosaries people wish to donate. Those can also be dropped off in the narthex in the receptacle marked “Rosaries.”

A Time for Grieving

We, at the Funeral Luncheon Ministry, provide a place for families to find comfort in their time of grieving. By offering families a place to have a luncheon, we hope they find an inviting place to celebrate the life of one they have lost. We cater the warm portion of the meal, but look to volunteers to offer a personal touch by providing salads and desserts, homemade or store bought, to complement the meal. We are hoping that you'll prayerfully consider assisting us. It is such a rewarding ministry, as evidenced by the comments guests share with us. Over the meal, families share sorrow and tears, laughter and warm memories. If you feel you'd like to be part of our mission, you could contact either myself, Alberta Fuger at jfuger@sbcglobal.net or Kathy Krebs at kdkrebs@comcast.net.

We'll return your e-mail with more information about what to expect. We thank you for your consideration.

Volunteers Needed!

This year, St. Hubert has the privilege of hosting a Joyful Again Retreat the weekend of October 12-13. Joyful Again is a unique program that has been designed to help widowed individuals, with God’s help, to move through bereavement toward spiritual and emotional wholeness.

It will take many hands to ensure the success of this retreat. Here are some of the areas where volunteers are needed:

1. Meals -- prep, serve and clean up
2. Bakers needed for desserts
3. Unloading JA supply bins from vehicle
4. Registration/meeting room set up
5. Audio/Visual equipment assistance
6. Final clean-up
7. Loading JA supply bins into vehicle

For further details or to volunteer, please contact Lynn Howard at lhoward@sainthubert.org.

<td>To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born. Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.</td>
