22nd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“Do not recline at table in the place of honor. A more distinguished guest than you may have been invited.” - Lk 14:8bc

SEPTEMBER 1, 2019
Being Grounded

The readings this week focus on building character. As we’ll hear in the gospel, one of the qualities that Jesus feels is important is acquiring the virtue of humility.

The virtues are those interior qualities we have that help define our character. So in our Catholic faith, we place a high value on them. When we say someone is a good person, we’ll often point to their virtues—the qualities they have that we notice and admire because we see them at work.

Even though it’s up to us to grow in the virtues, we never do it alone. God’s grace is working within us, too. Growth happens when we “practice the virtue” we’re trying to build and we ask God to help us along the way.

When I was in the seminary, my spiritual director pointed out that the word “humble” is from the Latin humus, which means “earth” or “soil.”

I used to think being humble somehow meant having to be meek. And to avoid a sense of being “too proud,” it was better to discard any kind of feelings that I was good at something. But my spiritual director quickly corrected me. He said that humility is really more about realistically seeing things the way they truly are—especially ourselves. And we do that in relation to know who God is and how we interact with others. It’s about being grounded.

In that sense, it’s absolutely realistic to realize that we’re good at some things, and not so good at other things. There’s freedom in that. We don’t have to pretend we’re good at everything; we can admit we have weaknesses, too. So, then we can focus on our areas of strength, while letting others take the lead or help us in areas where we need it. I don’t need to be who I’m not or ever will be; instead I’m meant to concentrate on who I am, faults and all. And so we don’t need to be jealous of others; there’s no perfection, simply different strengths and weaknesses, which we all have.

I asked Pat Aschom, our parish secretary and a wise companion in the spiritual journey, what she thought, and she put it this way: “Humility is accepting the gifts God has given us, acknowledging we possess them, being grateful that God has given them, and desiring to cooperate with the graces He gives us to use them.” Amen! I like that a lot.

As we grow in the spiritual life, it’s good to realize that not everyone has all the answers, especially those surrounding the great mysteries of our faith, but that we search for meaning together—guided by the Church and the great Catholic thinkers of the tradition (including those who have never written a book!).

In thanksgiving for the ways God helps us and leads us in life,

—Fr. Mike

Wedding Banns

II JACLYN CATANES + JAKE MASTRANGELI

22nd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
22nd Sunday of Ordinary Time

Sirach 3:17-18, 20, 28-29
Ps 68:4-7, 10-11
Heb 12:18-19, 22-24a
Luke 14:1,7-14

This Sunday's Gospel reading raises the question: What are my expectations (my motivations) when I do good? How other-centered are they? How self-centered?

If benefiting others is done for the sake of receiving something in return, our motive is not Christ-like.

Jesus explains this with the example of inviting to a banquet those who cannot return the favor. He's not saying that we have to do this to be holy. That interpretation would be too literal; it misses the point.

The real message is that whatever we do, we should do it for the sake of love, rather than for repayment, i.e., for our own gain. We should do good to others for the sake of the benefit it will give to them. This seems like a no-brainer, but stop for a minute to think about how much you'd like to be thanked and appreciated. What else do you hope to get from the good you do?

Even when someone sins against us and we pray for them to repent, our prayer should be offered out of concern for their souls. Sure, we also wish they would change so that our own lives will be easier, but that should not be our primary concern.

As followers of Christ, if we receive any blessings in return for the good we do, that's our bonus, not our motive. We can rightly look forward to such bonuses, but our joy does not depend on them.

By becoming aware of our motives and expectations, we gain the freedom to choose to be more like Jesus. As he promised, "You will receive your reward at the resurrection of the righteous." The fulfillment of this promise begins now, in the moment that we decide to be like the Resurrected One, our Lord Jesus.

The reward he gives us here and now is the grace that enables us to do whatever he asks and to do it generously and cheerfully. We'll receive other blessings besides, but that's not our main motive.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. How upset do you get when others treat you unkindly after you've been nice to them?
2. When the give-and-take in a relationship is unequal, do you withhold goodness from that person?
3. As the Holy Spirit to help you notice your selfish motives this week. Take your anger to the Sacrament of Reconciliation and ask Jesus to empower you to care more about those people who have been upsetting you.
4. Describe a situation when you gave more than you received. How did God bless you in that? How was your sacrifice an example of Christ?
In his latest book, The Return of the Prodigal Son, Henri Nouwen suggests that one of the main things that has to happen in order for us to come to conversion and purity of heart is that we must move from being judge to being repentant sinner.

From judge to repentant sinner, what is being suggested here? Psalm 50 haunts the heart with the refrain: “A humbled and contrite heart you (God) will not spurn.” Our problem is that, despite considerable sincerity, our hearts are rarely humble and contrite. The norm is judgment of others, anger at them, and a certain moral smugness and self-righteousness.

Rarely are we on our knees with our heads against the breast of a forgiving God, contrite about what we’ve done and left undone—our betrayals, our sins, our inadequacies. Most of the time our posture is that of the judge. Our own faults are rarely at issue as we adjudicate others’ need for contrition and pronounce judgment on their faults.

Our own judgmental attitude and self-righteousness is, most of the time, hidden from us. In our own eyes we are never the hypocrite, the one sitting in judgment on somebody else’s life. No. We are the honest ones, the compassionate ones, the humble ones.

Yet, that is rarely the way we are seen by others, especially by those closest to us. Almost always they feel judged by us and almost always they see in us a self-righteousness and a moral smugness that offends them. People around us are only too aware that we are much more the judge than the repentant sinner, even as we ourselves are little aware of it.

Thus, for example, if our temperament puts us at home in liberal circles, there is a good chance that we nurse a fair amount of anger against our more conservative and traditional brothers and sisters. Invariably they will appear to us as morally smug, holier-than-thou, complacent, timid, rigid, dogmatic, fundamentalistic, power-hungry and intellectually backward—and yet as claiming the moral and religious high ground.

Moreover, we feel that they are judging us, believing that we no longer pray, that we have sold out in terms of sexual morality, and that we are not really Catholic and Christian in the true sense.

And this double awareness—of their hypocrisy and of being judged by them—will dominate our self-awareness much more than will any self-criticism or awareness of our own duplicity, sin and betrayals.

Little are we aware that they, the conservatives, feel judged by us, that they feel us as intimating that they are stupid, backward, sexually hung-up, racists, sexists, blind to justice, legalistic, naive of real human experience and fundamentalistic. Little are we aware that they, whom we label as holier-than-thou, consider our attitude as “holier-than-thou.”

The converse is just as true: If we find our home among those of a more conservative mindset, there is a very good chance that we harbor a lot of anger against our more liberal sisters and brothers—against feminists, against social justice groups, against a lot of artists and against theologians. Invariably they will appear to us, precisely, as morally smug, as posturing (more-sensitive-and-inclusive-than-thou), as intellectually arrogant and bullying, and as claiming, in pharisee fashion, the religious and moral high ground.

And we will feel them as judging us, believing that we are intellectually backward, fundamentalistic, unenlightened, hung up on sex, insensitive to the needs of the poor, a racist, a sexist, a dinosaur from another age.

Little are we aware that they, on their part, feel so judged and put down by us. That they perceive us as the bully, the power to be feared, the person who is anti-life, the dealer of un-freedom and death.

Strange how each of us so clearly sees the judgmental attitude in the other and yet is so unaware of how brutally judgmental we ourselves are. One man’s prophet is another man’s fanatic; one woman’s freedom fighter is another woman’s terrorist; and one person’s pro-life struggle is, for another person, the dealing of death!

What is true here in terms of the self-righteousness and self-blindness that exists within our ideological circles is perhaps even more true within the ordinary give and take of our daily lives. We are invariably judge, never repentant sinner.

Conversion begins when we stop standing as judge in order to kneel as sinner. When we are humble and contrite of heart we will not be spurned by God—nor by each other.

A sponsor accompanies a person on the journey of faith. The person may be a Catechumen seeking Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist; a baptized Christian of another tradition seeking to join our Catholic community; or a baptized Catholic who is preparing for the sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist. CHILDREN’S MINISTRY OF INITIATION CMI

The Catechumenate for Children/Teens, which is an Adaptation of the Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (R.C.I.A.), is the process by which unbaptized young people of the age of reason come into the Church. (Infant Baptism is only for those children under the age of reason.) Older children who are already baptized, but who are uncatechized, can also prepare to celebrate the sacraments of Confirmation and Holy Eucharist together with their peers during the Easter Vigil or a Rite of Full Communion.

The following is the criteria for attendance for CMI: Does your child fall into one of these areas?

- Unbaptized children over the age of 7 who wish to learn more about the Catholic Faith and possibly become Catholic.
- Baptized Christian Children from other denominations who would like to learn more about the Catholic Faith and possibly be received into the Catholic Church.
- Baptized Catholics who would like to prepare for Eucharist and Confirmation renewing their understanding of their Catholic Faith.

Bereavement Ministry

10 Week Grief Support Group:
FINDING HOPE/HEALING HEARTS

This educational support group is returning to St. Mary to offer adults who are grieving the death of a loved one (spouse, parent, child, or friend). Participants will have the opportunity to gather with others and to heal from their loss.

The Finding Hope/Healing Hearts Group will use two books by Dr. Alan Wolfelt, a national expert in the field of loss. The Ten Essential Touchstones that will be addressed:

1. Open to the presence of your loss.
2. Dispel misconceptions about grief.
3. Embrace the uniqueness of your grief.
5. Recognize you are not crazy.
6. Understand the six needs of mourning.
   7. Nurture yourself.
8. Reach out for help.
9. Seek reconciliation, not resolution.
10. Appreciate your transformation.

“Think of your grief as a wilderness—a vast, inhospitable forest. You must journey through this wilderness. To find your way out, you must become acquainted with its terrain and learn to follow the sometimes hard-to-find trail that leads to healing. In the wilderness of your grief, the touchstones are your trail markers. They are the signs that let you know you are on the right path. When you learn to identify and rely on the touchstones, you will find your way to hope and healing. Writing can be a very effective form of mourning, or expressing your grief outside yourself. And it is through mourning that you heal in grief. The Understanding Your Grief Journal is a companion workbook and is designed to help mourners explore the many facets of their unique grief through journaling. Specific questions are offered and writing space is provided for the many questions raised.” - Dr. Wolfelt

Thursdays 1:00-2:30pm
September 19th through November 21st 2019

There is a $40.00 registration fee which covers the cost of the two books and materials. Register in the St. Mary of the Annunciation parish office. Group size is limited so register now!

“But we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers and sisters, about those who have died so that you may not grieve as others who have no hope. For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have died.”—1 Thessalonians 4:13-14

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptism Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
