25th Sunday
In Ordinary Time

“If, therefore, you are not trustworthy with dishonest wealth, who will trust you with true wealth?” - Lk 16:11

25th Sunday in Ordinary Time
September 22, 2019
A Better Future

This Sunday, we hear another one of Jesus’ insightful parables from the Gospel of Luke: The Parable of the Unjust Steward. In the parable, the caretaker (or steward) of his bosses’ money and property has been found to be untrustworthy. He’s been less than honest, his injustice discovered and, as such, is being held accountable for his actions.

But the steward does something interesting: in assessing the situation, he does a prudent thing. He settles debts and brings in as much as he can. In other words, he cuts the losses. In what’s become the surprise ending (spoiler alert!) the dishonest steward’s boss praises him for being prudent.

Being prudent is being able to think things through, but also being able to think ahead. It’s looking out for what would be the best course of action.

Jesus isn’t condoning dishonest behavior, but he does value the effort to think on one’s feet to try to restore things as best as possible. Jesus loves the future, because the future can be different from the past. We can learn, adjust, and move forward. It’s the reason why Reconciliation is such a powerful Sacrament. And when we realize we want to live a Christ-centered Catholic life, it’s what drives the personal choices we make every day. The future can be different from the past. It begins with the hard reality of personal (and sometimes public) accountability, but can end in a better future.

Our Good & Trustworthy Stewards!

One of our active ministries here is The Stewards for St. Hubert. They have a simple mission: to promote fellowship while raising funds for parish needs. They are the good and faithful stewards that Jesus commends, the trustworthy ones who sincerely give their all to bring our community together.

One of their amazing annual events is A Taste of Saint Hubert. This year it’s on Saturday, October 5, beginning with the 4:30 Mass and going into the night. It’s a very fun and popular night, so be sure to get your tickets ahead of time before all those favorite dishes run out—like the German Pig Roast, the Polish Golumpki, the Pilipino egg rolls, and so many other delicious international foods. (Tip: I found out last year, if something looks good, go for it otherwise it might not be there the second time around!)

No matter what, it will a great evening of prayer, fellowship, and food, embracing the rich diversity of our community, reflective of the diversity of the Catholic Church.

—Fr. Mike

This is Seminary Sunday!

This Sunday kicks off a new year of the Augustus Tolton Teaching Parish Program. Our parish is one of 80 parishes that opens its doors to Mundelein seminarians from across the country as a place to grow in pastoral formation. Many of you knew Ryan Brady who was with us the last two years. With a decrease in the number of seminarians at Mundelein this year, the Seminary needed to place Ryan at another parish. Some parishes no longer had one, and we were one of the very few parishes that had three! As such, the Seminary is trying to ensure other parishes in the archdiocese have the same blessing that we’ve had.

Ryan was a great help to me and the parish during his internship program. We definitely fulfilled our role as a teaching parish. He has much to give, so maybe it’s God’s way of saying it’s time we share him with another community!

That being said, David Jameson is still with us and is very upbeat about beginning a new year. He’ll be focused on working with teens, mainly through our Confirmation Prep program. And this weekend, he’ll be speaking at all the Masses. Tom Heathershaw, is now Fr. Tom Heathershaw. We’ve invited him to return for a Sunday to preside at a Mass. We’ll keep you posted.

Thank you everyone for all the ways you support our seminarians and our seminary!

Amos 8:4-7
Ps 113:1-2, 4-8
1 Timothy 2:1-8

Poverty, as exemplified by many Saints, is not the only path of holiness. This Sunday's Gospel reading tells us how a person can be affluent and holy at the same time -- as exampled by other Saints.

If we recognize that our possessions are gifts from God that are meant to enhance his kingdom, we are holy. But if we cling to money and material wealth as if they are meant only for our own benefit, we've divided ourselves from God, because God's Word emphasizes the importance of distributing to others a generous portion of everything we receive.

When acquiring wealth is a higher priority than distributing what we already have, God is not our master. This is true not only with material goods, but with everything else that is good, too.

We are all richly blessed one way or another: How readily do we use your riches for the benefit of others?

The "dishonest wealth" of which Jesus speaks is anything that "belongs to another". When we use other people's money (for example, taking out a loan from the bank) to our own advantage, we are not being trustworthy stewards unless it also glorifies the kingdom of God. Likewise, if we misuse time by catering to selfish desires at the expense of those who need our attention, we are untrustworthy in the kingdom of God. Jesus wants to bless people through you. He has called you to be a distributor of his gifts. If we ignore this primary principle of God's economy, Jesus says, "Who will give you what is yours?"

What is ours, if we're trustworthy enough to be good stewards, are riches that will remain with us for all of eternity: the wealth of the spirit, the approval and praise of God, the fullness of love, etc.

To be holy with affluence, we have to first be trustworthy with the love that belongs to others -- the love that God feels for them. Our trust-ability is found in the sharing of our temporal (earthly) goods as well as eternal goods (faith, hope, etc.).

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What are you reluctant to share? What do you fear will happen if you surrender it to God for his use and his purposes?

2. What do you need to do with this fear so that you can become a good steward of God's riches?

3. Name any material possession that seems to be used only for worldly or selfish purposes.

4. Can it be converted into a gift for others and used for the glory of God? If so, how?

We can never be challenged too strongly with regards to being committed to social justice. A key, non-negotiable, summons that comes from Jesus himself is precisely the challenge to reach out to the poor, to the excluded, to those whom society deems expendable.

Therefore the huge, global issues of justice should preoccupy us. Can we be good Christians or even decent human beings without letting the daily news baptize us? The majority of the world still lives in hunger, thousands are dying of Ebola and other such illnesses, countless lives are torn apart by war and violence, and we are still, as a world, a long ways from dealing realistically with racism, sexism, abortion, and the integrity of physical creation. These are major moral issues and we may not escape into our own private world and simply ignore them.

However, precisely because they are so mammoth and important, we can get the impression that the other moral issues we have to deal with, issues of private morality, are not as important. It’s all too easy to conclude that, given the mega-problems in our world, it doesn’t matter much how we live in the deeper recesses of our private worlds.

Our private, little moral concerns can look pretty petty when weighed against the problems of the world as a whole. Do we really believe that God cares much whether or not we say our morning prayers, gossip about a colleague, nurse a grudge or two, or are less than fully honest in our sexual lives? Does God really care about these things?

Yes. God cares because we care. Large, global issues notwithstanding, issues of personal integrity are generally what make or break our happiness, not to mention our character and our intimate relationships. In the end, they aren’t petty concerns at all. They shape the big things. Social morality is simply a reflection of private morality. What we see in the global picture is simply a magnification of the human heart.

When ego, greed, lust, and selfishness are not dealt with inside the private recesses of the heart, it’s naive to think that they will be dealt with at a global level. How are we to build a just, loving world, if we cannot, first of all, tame selfishness inside us? There will be no transparency at a global level as long as we continue to think it’s okay to not be transparent in our private lives. The global simply reflects the private. The failure to recognize this is, to my mind, the elephant in the room in terms of our inability to bring justice to the earth.

Social action that does not have private morality as its base is not spirituality, but simple political action, power dealing with power, important in itself, but the not to be confused with real transformation. The kingdom of God doesn’t work that way. It works by conversion and real conversion is an eminently personal act. Carlos Castaneda, the Native American mystic, writes: “I come from Latin America where intellectuals are always talking about political and social revolution and where a lot of bombs are being thrown. But nothing has changed much. It takes little daring to bomb a building, but in order to stop being jealous or to come to internal silence, you have to remake yourself. This is where real reform begins.”

Thomas Merton makes the same point. During the 1960s, when so many intellectuals were involved in various social struggles, Merton was tucked away in a monastery, far (it would seem) from the real battlefronts. Stung by outside criticism of his monastic seclusion, he admitted that to most outsiders it “must seem like small potatoes” to be engaged mainly in a war against one’s private demons. However, he still believed that he was fighting the real battle: that of changing hearts. When you change a heart, he says, you have helped bring about some permanent structural, moral change on this planet. Everything else is simply one power attempting to displace another.

Private morality and all that comes with it – private prayer and the attempt to be honest and transparent in even the smallest and most secret of things – is the core from which all morality takes its root. Jan Walgrave, commenting on the social importance of mysticism, suggests: “You can generate more energy by splitting a single atom than you can by harnessing all the forces of water and wind on earth. That is precisely what Jesus, Buddha, and Mohammed did. They split the inner atom of love. Great energy flowed out.” John of the Cross, in teaching about the vital importance of honesty in small things, says: “It makes no difference whether a bird is tied down by a heavy rope or by the slenderest of cords, it can’t fly in either case.”

Private morality is not an unimportant, unaffordable luxury, a soft virtue, something that stands in the way of commitment to social justice. It’s the deep place where the moral atom needs to be split.

Eucharistic Adoration is a posture of love, the placing of oneself in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament. We offer Adoration so that Christ has the opportunity to speak to our hearts and for us to encounter Christ in a new and powerful way.

Our world is busy, noisy, and chaotic. We are being constantly bombarded with noise from every direction. Adoration gives us a chance to be silent. To just sit, be, and contemplate.

Jesus desires to be with you, to have you gaze upon Him, as He so lovingly gazes upon you. Don’t miss this opportunity to deepen and strengthen your relationship with the Lord.

Pet Blessing
Saturday, October 6th

We often see an image of St. Francis of Assisi giving God glory as Creator by holding up a small creature or raising his arms in praise.

This blessing gives thanks for the companionship of our pets, asks God to keep them healthy, and that they be a source of pleasure for the Earth and our homes. Children and all households who care for God’s creatures are invited to bring your pet for the traditional blessing of animals. This will take place about 2:00 PM in the parish lot near the School Lunch Room.

It is common to bring dogs and cats, but you can also bring your hamsters, birds, bunnies and the like. It is safer for your small pet, such as these, to be in their cage. Let all God’s creation be kept from harm, abuse, or neglect as we celebrate the feast of St. Francis, who honored God with respect for all God has put on Earth.

Proclaiming the Word: Lector Training Workshop
Training Location: in Church

Lectors have a critical role in the celebration of the Mass. Since lectors proclaim not just any word, but the Word of God, it is essential that they develop the skills required to communicate God’s message competently.

Through the use of voice, eye contact and personal presence, lectors help God’s Word come alive for the assembly.

This training will provide the skills and self-confidence needed for those who wish to become lectors in their own parish or for any lector who would like a “refresher” course.

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

Sacrament of the Sick

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
