2nd Sunday of Advent
John wore clothing made of camel’s hair and had a leather belt around his waist. His food was locusts and wild honey. - Mt 3:4

Thinking in Harmony

In the second reading today, Paul encourages us to “think in harmony with one another.” We can do that because we share our life with Jesus Christ. Jesus is the one who unifies us and brings us together. Paul calls this harmony the Body of Christ. Just as a body works together to function, so does the Church, our parish community, and our families.

He’s not saying we won’t have differences, or that we need to sacrifice our individuality. Instead, it’s about using our strengths and individuality to work for the benefit of the whole. It seems to be a timely message these days, especially when we see a lot of division and holding on to differences.

In the gospel, John the Baptist is the voice calling for a new perspective. To welcome Christ in our lives requires eyes, ears and hearts ready to accept a unique vision—Christ’s vision. If we hold onto it, we’ll be able to “produce good fruit” as a sign that we’ve embraced it. These are the signs that show what living our Catholic faith can bring to others: mercy, gratitude, kindness, charity, joy, gentleness and peace.

In the first reading we’ll hear all about the kind of harmony that is longed for—when natural enemies are able to sit down and live together, not in fear or hate, but in peace.

That’s what makes the readings we hear today perfect for Advent. If this vision could only “come into being” (which is what the word “advent” means), the world would be the way God envisioned it from the very beginning. Christmas is the beginning of this new way of seeing. However, as we know, the reality is that we have a long way to go.

But the vision is there, and always will be. One day it will be fulfilled when Christ comes again. In the meantime, the Body of Christ is active in the world, producing good fruit for those who need it, allowing a version of the vision to be seen.

May God bless us on this Advent journey together,

—Fr. Mike

Cheerfully Giving: A Note of Thanks

Paul once said, “God loves a cheerful giver” (2 COR 9:7). And it is so true of our community who made November a real thanksgiving. Thank you to everyone who donated food to help families in need enjoy a Thanksgiving meal, to those who volunteered their Sunday afternoon to deliver the food to our friends at St. Aloysius, to everyone who brought in a backpack to share with students in poverty in Cambodia, for those who donated treats and stuffed stockings for children in need, for those who supported our seminarians in prayer, for everyone who came to see the St. Damien play to help support our veterans, and for all those who continue to pray for those struggling with health issues or trying to get by. We are a community with a great heart. Thank you for giving, and giving cheerfully!
Next Week’s Readings:

Peace is the theme of the Second Sunday of Advent. The first reading describes Christ the Messiah, who came from the line of Jesse, the father of King David. It also describes how to obtain peace—a peace that sustains us even in the midst of troubles: “The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him.” Can you feel the Holy Spirit “resting” on you?

We experience true peace when we're in a restful relationship with God, i.e., when we're not struggling against him and his ways and his plans for us. Peace does not depend on bringing to an end the struggles we have with people or the problems we have with financial shortages or addictions or health, etc. We can work hard to accomplish peace in any trial, win the war, and still not be at peace.

Peace comes to us in the wisdom and understanding that we get from the Holy Spirit. Peace comes from following the Spirit’s counsel. Peace comes from gaining knowledge of the truth, in total submission, obediently acting upon the truth.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What turmoil is going on in your life? What has stolen your peace?

2. Where is Jesus? What obstacles (e.g., unforgiveness or resentment) do you need to repent of to see him and feel his peace?

3. What methods do you use to settle down and rest in the Spirit of Jesus when turmoil is spinning around you? What kind of prayer helps? Do you go on retreat or confide in a spiritual director? What are some other ideas?
John the Baptist tries to prepare the way for Jesus by calling people to repentance: “Repent for the kingdom of heaven is near.” Whatever else that means, it includes the idea that one of the best ways we can prepare for Christmas is by making a good, honest, searing confession. To repent means to confess our sins.

This notion has fallen out of favor. The idea of confession is very much challenged today. At a practical level, less and less people are in fact going to confession. The old line-ups at the confessional box are becoming shorter and shorter. As well, more and more people are challenging, theoretically, the idea of sacramental confession. Arguments against it take many forms: “I don’t find it meaningful!” “It’s too privatized!” “There isn’t any need to do this to have one’s sins forgiven! God doesn’t need our mediation.” “It gives undue power to the priest!” “This is an affair between God and myself.” “It’s adolescent!” “The priests don’t have time to do it properly.”

Whatever the objection, and there are many, less and less people are going to confession.

This is an unfortunate development because private confession is one of the pillars of the spiritual life. At a certain point in one’s growth, there is no progress without it. Why? Why confession? Why the need to tell ones sins to a priest? Surely the radical mercy and forgiveness of God are not contingent upon telling our sins to a priest? Surely God’s mercy cannot be controlled by or limited to one prescribed ritual? In both scripture and church tradition it is clear that our sins are forgiven through sincerity of conscience and through touching the body of Christ (and this has many forms). The Christian community itself is the radical sacrament of reconciliation and God’s mercy can never be tied down to just one vehicle of grace. So why confession?

Simply put, confession is the sacrament of the mature and one grows mature by confessing one’s sins. Mature people face themselves and apologize explicitly – and people grow mature by apologizing. The critics of the sacrament of reconciliation are right in saying that God is not tied down to one vehicle as an avenue for the forgiveness of sins. They are wrong however when they denigrate the importance of private confession. One may not have to confess one’s sins explicitly to another human being to have them forgiven, but one does have to confess them explicitly if he or she hopes to live a transparent life, free of addictions, rationalization, and dark skeletons in the closet.

“You are as sick as your sickest secret!” That’s an axiom popular among people working in 12-step programs. They know the truth of that through personal experience. They also know that until one faces oneself, in searing honesty, before another human being and there acknowledges openly his or her sins, there will always be addictions, rationalization, and lack of real transparency. It has taken us a long time to understand the nature of addictive behaviour and even longer to learn how to deal with it. One of the things we have learned, and this is a pivotal and non-negotiable step in every 12-step program, is that there has to be an open, honest, and searing admission of sin, face to face, before another human being. Without this, at a certain point, all real growth stops. The church has always had its own version of this. We called it confession, the sacrament of reconciliation.

It can of course still be argued: Why before a priest? In the letter of James in the New Testament, we are encouraged simply to confess our sins to each other. So why a priest? Because a priest symbolically represents the whole community. In confessing to a priest, we are, in a manner of speaking, confessing to the entire community. A friend of mine is fond of saying that sacramental confession, as presently practiced, is an unhappy compromise, far from ideal. That is correct, though not in the way my friend thinks. We owe our confession to the whole community (since it is the entire community that is wounded by our sin) and the ideal way to confess would be to go in front of a packed church on a Sunday morning and begin our confession by saying: “Bless me community – for I have sinned!”

Confession is not so much about having one’s sins forgiven as it is about coming to maturity within the community and being able to live a transparent life, free of dark secrets, addictions, and rationalization.

The Baptist’s message is as true today as it was 2000 years ago. To make straight the path for the coming of the Savior, to make a proper advent, to prepare ourselves to have Christ born in our lives, we need to undergo a baptism for the remission of sin. In simple talk, that means, among other things, making a searing, honest, open, confession.

What is The Marriage Course?
The Marriage Course is a series of 7 dinner dates over a 7 week period with dedicated time for a couple to focus on each other and enrich their marriage. The course is designed to help couples continue to learn more about each other, communicate more effectively, and resolve differences well.

What can we expect?
You will be seated at your own table for two each week. Every session will include dinner, a practical video presentation and time for private discussion between the two of you. You never share anything about your relationship with anyone other than your partner. Background music ensures that you can chat in complete privacy.

Who is it for?
The Marriage Course is for any couple, whether married a short time, many years, or somewhere in between. Some couples do the course to intentionally invest in their relationship; while others are looking to address more specific challenges. Either way, the course offers essential tools and practical ideas to help build a relationship that lasts a lifetime.

The Marriage Course is based on Christian principles but designed for all couples with or without a church background.

Over 7 evenings you will explore:
- Building Strong Foundations - Learn to understand each other’s needs
- The Art of Communication - How to listen and communicate effectively
- Resolving Conflict - Develop methods to resolve conflict and disagreements
- The Power of Forgiveness - Learn how to apologize and forgive as a couple
- The Impact of Family, Past and Present - Explore the impact of family on your relationship
- Good Sex - Find ways to develop greater sexual intimacy
- Love in Action - Learn your partner’s ‘love language’ and how to love them well

Our Stewardship of Treasure Report outlines the collections received in the month of October as well as a cumulative report from the beginning of our fiscal year (July 1) to the end of October. We’re truly grateful for all those who are helping to support our parish.

As we experience a shortfall, if you haven’t had an opportunity to contribute yet, it would go a long way to helping us continue to serve our community.

For those who would like to explore it, electronic giving can be a way to give that is not only in-line with the way many people work today, it can be more convenient than envelopes. It also offers a lot of advantages, including easy to receive year-end reports. To learn more about our electronic giving platform, Give Central, visit our website.

2020 Vision Corrections from the Annual Report:
In the annual report published last week, there was an error on the amount of the official five-year campaign goal. The campaign goal is $2.4 million.

The amount allocated to the Fire Prevention Sprinkling System is estimated at $1.5 million. On the annual report, it was listed as $150,000.

Please contact Teresa McCutchan if you have any questions. Thank you.

Make a gift and lower your taxes!
The standard deduction may have been increased, making it less likely that charitable gifts will be itemized, but there are still many ways to make a tax-advantaged gift to the Parish.

Gifts from IRA accounts
For donors 70½ or older, gifts up to $100,000 can be made directly from an IRA account. These gifts not only count toward meeting minimum required distributions, they are not subject to income tax and can lower a donor’s total income.

Gifts of Stock
Gifts of appreciated stock are among the best ways to give, since those gifts are not subject to capital gains tax, saving you up to 20% on your gift.

“Bunching” Annual Gifts
If you would like to maintain your current annual charitable giving, but are concerned that you might not be able to itemize those gifts, consider “bunching” several years’ worth of annual gifts into a single year. You might be able to itemize in your year of giving and then take a standard deduction in the following years, resulting in tax savings.

Please consult your tax and financial planning professionals to determine the best charitable giving strategy for you and your family. If you have questions, please do not hesitate to call or email.

With Advent and the Christmas Season upon us, we have again put up the Wishing Tree in the Narthex for parishioners to take gift tags for children, families, and seniors in our area and at St. Al’s, our Sharing Parish in Chicago.

Many of you took tags last week and may have noticed that we are working with some new agencies this year—Catholic Charities and the Children’s Advocacy Center. Both of these agencies work with families with children of all ages and appreciate our responding to assist them in providing gifts to their clients. They have asked us to respect their policy of protecting and monitoring the gifts that they receive—therefore, instead of wrapping them, put them in bags with the gift tag attached when returned to the Narthex.

Presents for families from Catholic Charities, need to be returned by next Sunday, December 8th, so they can be picked-up before next weekend.

All other presents for Children’s Advocacy Center, St. Hubert, St. Al’s, and Alden Poplar Creek need to be returned by Noon, on Sunday, December 15th.

We will also need volunteers to help deliver the presents to St. Al’s on December 15th.

And again, on behalf of St. Hubert Community Life and St. Al’s Sharing Parish Ministries, I want to thank you for helping others to be able to share in the joy of this Christmas Season and experience Christ’s love and caring for them through your generosity.

May God Bless you and your families during this Christmas Season.

Deacon Dick Lawson

The truth of the matter is that the holidays are an incredibly busy time. The gifts, the parties, the baking, the family—or perhaps the absence of these things—can make the season stressful and chaotic. Wouldn’t it be a great to carve out a few minutes to re-focus our hearts on what the coming of Jesus really means?

If you are looking for an oasis of calm amid the holiday rush, join us for this spirit-filled evening of prayer and song that will renew and enliven your faith as we wait in joyful hope for the One who is the cause of our joy, and Who is coming soon.

Impacting the World Through Christ
Compassion ~ Service ~ Perseverance
Feed the body and the soul...
Home-Delivered Meals Drivers Needed!

- Bring nutritious meals, peace of mind, hope, and kindness to at-risk, home-bound older adults in your neighborhood.
- Meals are delivered weekdays from about 11:00 to 12:30 p.m.

- Last year Home-Delivered Meals Volunteers provided over 36,000 meals to people in Elk Grove and Schaumburg Townships.
- 59% of Meals recipients live alone. For many of them, the person delivering the meal is often the only person they will see all day.
- You help older adults remain more independent and more safely in their own homes.

Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

Baptisms

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

Marriages

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

Reconciliation

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

Eucharist for the Sick and Homebound

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
If you have provided for St. Hubert in your will, please let us know by contacting Father Mike.
