3rd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

"Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men." - Mt 4:19

Dropping Everything
There’s an incredibly simple definition of faith in the Catechism: faith is a response to God’s revelation. God reveals himself and then we respond in some way.

That comes to play in today’s gospel. We hear the well-known call of the fishermen—Peter and his brother Andrew; James and his brother, John. We have a stark, abbreviated narrative of the events. Matthew tells us when he saw them, he simply threw out the invitation to follow him (as if he were casting hook into the water). And they do!

That captures my attention every time I hear the account; there was no hesitation. They heard the invitation and immediately responded. They left their old life behind and began to learn a whole new way of life from Jesus. That’s what faith is.

It’s natural to think, “well that was them; I couldn’t do something like that.” But…maybe we have! Each week, in the midst of the craziness of our everyday lives, we drop everything to find a way to come together for Mass—responding to God’s invitation to be with Him. I know some of our parishioners go to great lengths to get here, especially families because we all know that’s not always easy. We have parishioners who take Ubers, busses, connect with our Helping Hands ministry for a ride, walk, whatever it takes.

We do drop everything, because we gather to worship our God who gives us life. I know I sound like a broken record sometimes when at the beginning of Mass I say “it’s good to be together,” but I really mean it. It’s an amazing, wonderful, beautiful expression of faith.

We Love Our School!
Today we begin Catholic Schools Week with Mass and an Open House. In a difficult time when we turn on the news and hear those heart wrenching news stories about the closing of some Catholic schools, it’s natural to think about our own.

It’s true that we don’t have the kind of enrollment we used to have 5 years ago. We have challenges, but through the guidance of our school administration, our Finance Council, our School Board, and the Office of Catholic Schools, we have made adjustments and continue to be proactive to do everything we can to stay vibrant and fundraise effectively as we stabilize enrollment. We have a wider reach than just our neighborhood, serving multiple parishes in the Hoffman/Schaumburg area. We are an excellent choice for a faith-based education, and now even have a program that prepares students on the proper use of technology in the classroom. Every student now has an I-Pad and every teacher is Apple Certified thanks to a generous family who contributed during our 2020 Vision Campaign.

Our principal, Kelly Bourrell, and assistant principal, Stephanie Wizniak, have prepared a “Report Card” about St. Hubert School so you can be aware of some of our progress. (See page 8.) But, perhaps, the best way to experience it is to come and see for yourself. If you have time, please stop by our Open House this Sunday between 10—Noon, or we’d be happy to show you around or talk about the school at your own convenience.

Our school mantra expresses what the future is about: Impacting the world through Christ. Our students aren’t just learning what they need to know about the world to do well in high school, college and beyond. Partnering with their parents, we’re helping them discover how to be a good person who contributes and participates in our world, building it up. That comes from knowing Jesus Christ. May God continue to bless us and the good things happening at St. Hubert.

III CHRISTINA BROWN + ANDREW BILYK

3rd Week in Ordinary Time
GOSPEL MEDITATION:
ENCOURAGING DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE
3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

It begins! Jesus is doing something new. “He left Nazareth and went to live in Capernaum by the sea.” Jesus leaves his family, his profession of carpentry, and everything he has known and loved for the previous 30 years. He goes because it is time. Something new is beginning, and Jesus will not begin it alone. “As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers … he walked along from there and saw two other brothers.” What does he say to these men? “Come after me.” These words are for Peter and Andrew, for James and for John. They are also for all of us.

"Come after me." The adventure of discipleship will be strange, wild, and unexpected. The Apostles surely didn’t know what they were getting into. But the invitation is accompanied by a promise. “I will make you fishers of men,” Jesus tells the first Apostles. No more will their priorities be limited to this particular village, to the square miles of the Sea of Galilee. Their eyes will be open to the kingdom of God, and their priorities will shift.

Most of us will not be called to roam the countryside, but we are invited to a similar shift of priorities. “Come after me,” Jesus says. “At once they left their nets and followed him.” Drop the nets of what you’ve demanded your life to be. Drop your self-seeking priorities. Drop your concept of religion as a Sunday obligation and no more. Drop your disregard for those outside your immediate social sphere. Whatever it is that keeps you from seeing as Jesus sees, from loving as he loves, start to drop it today. Because the kingdom of God is waiting for your yes!

What is the essence of true religion? What, in the end, constitutes authentic discipleship? There is a lot of tension within and among the churches today about precisely that question.

For some, religion is all about proper identity, boundaries, doctrine, morality, liturgy, laws, and rubrics. The anxiety then is about measuring up, about being faithful to a tradition.

For others, religion means justice and concern for the poor. The anxiety then is always about proper sensitivity to every structure and action that impacts the poor.

Finally, for some, religion means proper interiority, inner peace, harmony with the earth and with others, forgiveness, being big of heart, and having a personal, intimate relationship with God.

Who is right? In some ways, they all are.

When we look at the development of Judaism, which gave us Jesus, we see that their understanding of religion went through three phases: Deuteronomy, Prophecy, and Wisdom.

Deuteronomy: When the Jewish people first began to form into a religious community, their religious practices (and anxieties) were very much concerned with establishing an unique identity, having proper boundaries, adhering to a certain moral code, and observing, and quite rigorously too, a huge number of rubrics. And this did make for a certain clarity as to who was in and who was out, who belonged and who did not, who was faithful and who was not.

Prophecy: But that notion of religion was eventually challenged. After a time, prophets came along who looked at their religious community and, in the name of true religion, demanded a different focus. Simply put, they began to say: “God cares less about our religious observance than about the poor!” True religion, for them, was about caring for the poor. This became their mantra: The quality of your faith is judged by the quality of justice in the land, and the quality of justice in the land is judged by how the poor, the most vulnerable in society, are faring. Nobody gets to heaven without a letter of reference from the poor.

Wisdom: But the Jewish scriptures do not end with the prophets, eventually something else developed. Another group of religious leaders and teachers came along who, while not discounting the value of proper boundaries and morality or care for the poor, brought another insistence, namely, compassion, the need for a huge, generous heart that can embrace differences. True religion then became compassion, understanding, a wide, generous heart.

What is True Religion?

Where does Jesus land? He ratifies all of these.

On the one hand, he makes it clear that proper identity, teaching, morality, doctrine, and liturgical practices are not negotiable items that may or may not form an integral part of religion. He warns, clearly and strongly, not to be cavalier about the commandments, the law, community practices, the tradition.

However Jesus is also clear, as were the great Jewish prophets, that, at a point, religion is about how we care for the poor, pure and simple. There is perhaps no more frightening text in scripture than Jesus’ teaching on the last judgement in Matthew’s Gospel, chapter 28. He tells that, on the last day, we will be judged by God on one basis: Did we care for the poor? Did we give bread to the hungry, drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked? Notice that there are no orthodoxy tests, no creedal formula to recite, no catechetical requirements to measure up to, nor even questions about private morality, only the question of how we treated the poor.

But there is still a further strand of teaching in Jesus that challenges even beyond the requirement of caring for the poor. He tells us, “Be compassionate as your heavenly father is compassionate.” True religion, for Jesus, is, at a point, about the size and quality of our hearts, about how wide or narrow they are, about how mellow or bitter they are, about how forgiving or angry they are, and about how much they can imitate God’s love which goes out warmly and equally to all, to the bad as well as the good. The final challenge of Jesus is for each of us to have a heart that, like the father of the prodigal son and the older brother, can embrace both the weakness of one and the anger of the other. God’s heart is not a ghetto, neither is heaven, and for us to go to heaven we need to have hearts that are not ghettos.

Perhaps this perspective can help us sort through some of the tensions we live in today as different groups claim one or the other of these emphases as the core of religion. Boundaries, identity, morality, liturgy, rubrics, are important, as is a non-negotiable commitment to the poor.

But, in the end, all of these have to be shaped by a heart that radiates God’s all-embracing compassion, understanding, forgiveness, gentleness, warmth, and non-discriminating love. Otherwise it is an easy and logical step to bitterness, hatred, and violence – all done in the name of God and true religion.

Our monthly Stewardship of Treasure Report outlines the collections received in the prior month, as well as a cumulative report from the beginning of our fiscal year (July 1). We’re truly grateful for all those who are helping to support our parish. Thank You!!

We continue to experience an overall shortfall to our budgeted needs for the fiscal year—about 10%. If you haven’t had an opportunity to contribute yet, or would like to make a special donation to help, your support will go along way to helping us meet the everyday spiritual needs of our parish.

Food Collection Dates: February 1 & 2

We are heading into the 2nd month of the year already! We have been lucky so far, but there have been days that are unthinkable to be outside, and we know more cold weather is coming!

Maybe it’s my age, but it bothers me so much more now, thinking of people living outside in their cars, or not having the money to put the heat up to a comfortable temperature, even with a roof over their head—especially when children are involved.

This probably sounds bogus to some people, but this REALLY is happening right outside our doors!

This ministry does not ask for money, we only ask for food. PLEASE donate what you can in order to make someone’s life a little better! Also needed: detergent, paper products and personal items. (The dollar store is a great source.) Thank you for your generosity!

Dear St. Hubert Families,

As we kick off Catholic Schools Week, we want to take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support of Catholic Education, specifically St. Hubert Catholic School. We celebrate the essential role we play in preparing our students to become successful scholars, responsible citizens, and faith-filled Catholics who will have a life-long relationship with God.

We would like to take this time to update you on the progress we have made in three areas of focus: curriculum, technology, and Catholic Identity.

1. Curriculum:
   - St. Hubert Catholic School has always had a strong academic record. Our students consistently perform above the national average in reading and math. In an effort to continue and strengthen this success record, we now have a new junior high math series, new school wide science curriculum and new literature curriculum for grades K-8.
   - All St. Hubert students in grades PK-8 receive weekly Spanish instruction.
   - An intervention period has been implemented for grades 6-8 that addresses individual student needs.
   - Our “Little Knights” mom and tot program was launched for children 24-36 months old.

St. Hubert Catholic School also remains a STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Math) School. Unlike many schools, we are fortunate to still be able to offer our students weekly classes in Spanish, Gym, Art and Music. Moreover, students have the opportunity to be a part of a widely recognized band program, a youth choir, and several after school clubs, which include Chess Scholars, I-Cook, Lego Robotics, Young Rembrandts and sewing. St. Hubert Knights Athletic Program offers students the opportunity to participate in basketball, volleyball, track, cross country and girls’ softball.

2. Technology:
   - Our dreams of becoming a 1:1 school have come true! All students in grades 1-8 now have their own iPads. All of our classrooms are equipped with Apple t.v.’s and all St. Hubert teachers are Apple Certified.
   - Sphero SPRK technology has been purchased and will be used by all grade levels to increase students’ coding and robotic skills.
   - We have started to transform our library into a media center. It is endowed with flexible seating options and additional computer technology. This year, thanks to a very generous donation, we intend on adding cutting-edge technology items that will further enhance the overall St. Hubert experience.

3. Catholic Identity:
   - We adopted a new St. Hubert mantra, “Impacting the World through Christ,” by living out our Knightly virtues of compassion, service and perseverance.
   - We initiated our “Get Knighted Program” that acknowledges students for demonstrating exceptional acts of compassion, service and perseverance.

Thank you for your continued support of our school and Catholic Education. Please keep us in your prayers and come visit us. We are humbled and honored to serve you.

Wishing you peace,

Kelly Bourrell                       Stephanie Wizniak

Impacting the World Through Christ
Compassion ~ Service ~ Perseverance
Twenty years ago, Saint Pope John Paul II said to an audience of Catholic educators in New Orleans: "Yours is a great gift to the Church, a great gift to your nation." Countless people in our country have been blessed by the many gifts of Catholic schools. However, many adults have lost touch with their local Catholic school community. It is time for those people who have been impacted by Catholic School to reconnect with the community that gave them so much, and give back.

With this in mind, NCEA is pleased to present the online giving campaign: Many Gifts, One Nation: A Day of Giving to Catholic Schools. Make your gift to a Catholic School!

Tuesday, February 18th at 7:00—9:00 PM

Award-winning Storyteller/Actress Megan Wells has written this one-hour story-experience of Holy Week through the eyes of Mary Magdalene. Walk with Mary through the events that we now know as Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, the crucifixion and Sunday’s miracle of resurrection. This living portrayal brings us intimately into the last days of Jesus of Nazareth, so that we can deepen our understanding of forgiveness, love and redemption.

Megan Wells is a story artist and a theater artist. She creates the warm intimacy of storytelling, and more, infuses characters with living souls, and delivers the experience with delicious theatrical timing. A national award-winning storyteller, Megan performs in museums, symphonies, and theaters; entertains families in festivals, libraries, and churches; enhances education for thousands of children; and helps executives, actors and storytellers craft powerful stories to effect change. With over forty-years of experience, Megan has a vast repertoire. She tells traditional tales, multi-cultural myths, historical events, as well as true and personal stories. Megan is also among the top literary storytellers in America. As the Artistic Director of the Ray Bradbury Storytelling Festival, Ray granted Megan permission to perform his works. ### Sacramental Life

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
