1ST SUNDAY OF LENT
MARCH 1, 2020

BREAD

“One does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God.”

MATTHEW 4:4

As we head into Lent, this first Sunday the Church has us face the devil, because it’s one of the first things Jesus faced as he began his journey to the cross.

The Evil One, as we hear in the first chapters of Genesis, is cunning. That plays itself out in the three temptations that he puts in front of Jesus. He tempts him with pleasure, pride and power—the same kind of human temptations that pull at each one of us.

Just as Jesus is tempted, we realize we’re tempted, too. These temptations can also be cunning because the devil has a way of making things look good, even when they're not. The best thing we can do is be sure to test those seemingly good things to make sure they’re good for us, good for others, and good for our relationship with God. One obvious test is to determine whether or not the temptation pulls us into ourselves at the cost of what’s good all around us—including our faith life and our life in the Church.

We learn that from Jesus. In each of the three temptations, the devil assures Jesus he will be satisfied. But, what Jesus counters with is the realization that there’s more to it than just himself. He knows he is in a relationship with God. He knows who to trust.

And that’s why, even though the devil knows scripture, Jesus knows it better. Being anchored to God’s word gives us wisdom. The scriptures are clear about this. It gives us the wisdom to resist temptations that seem too good to be true.

When tempted to turn stones into bread, Jesus says, “One doesn’t live by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God” (Matthew 4:4). What’s really remarkable is that this reminds us of the Eucharist. The Eucharist begins as bread, but when we hear the words from the mouth of God the Son, it becomes His very presence. The bread we receive is the Bread of Life.

God’s word brings power. So if you’ve been reading daily reflections this Lent, or going to the word of God each day for spiritual nourishment (we have resources on our website if you’re looking for something), it’s one of the best things we can do. Temptations will hit us. What we discover during spiritually significant times, like Lent, is that we have the power to overcome them.

We have the words of life. And along with the Eucharist, those words give us exactly what we need in a confusing world with many temptations—sustenance.

May God bless us on our journey toward Easter,

—Fr. Mike

A Musical Note

We congratulate our Music Director, Ed Magistrado and his wife, Mae, on the birth of their daughter, Celine! Ed will be taking parental leave to care for the family for the next couple of months. In the meantime, Chris Severin, our accomplished pianist and parishioner, has graciously agreed to watch over things in his absence. We’re very grateful.

At that time Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil.
—Matthew 4:1

Life can easily spin us out of control. While there are so many wonderful opportunities before us, we can also get easily distracted and exhausted. There is always something to do, respond to, or check. The clutter of our lives can take us off course, and the best remedy for getting back on track is the experience of the desert. Here we can face our demons square on, resist them, and get back on course. We desperately need the season of Lent. This simple time of year forces us into greater awareness and grounds us in what is good and true.

What weighs you down and keeps you trapped? Maybe you are trying to do too much and please too many people. It could be that your fragile self-image is always pushing you to prove yourself and find success. Anxiety and worry, ultimately due to a lack of faith, can quickly tempt you with despair. It could be that you are listening to too many voices and allowing all of the negativity that is present erode the genuine goodness in your heart and in all of God’s creation. Or maybe you struggle too much with fear. Perhaps so much so that you are far too preoccupied with your own agenda and goals and left with little psychological or spiritual room to consider and respond to the plight of your neighbor. Do anger, bitterness, stubbornness, and hatred have homes in your heart? How about greed, gluttony, pride, apathy, or lust?

For many, their passions and what can be found on the internet are their downfall, and they are robbed of their inner life and freedom. What is it, specifically, that tempts you away from a childlike trust in God? Define this and use the next few weeks to allow God to chart you a course away from them. Silence, being alone, grace, honesty, struggle, tears, and dryness are all found in the desert. You will also find God and your true self in this holy place. Ready to go?
A number of years ago, accompanied by an excellent Jesuit director, I did a 30-day retreat using the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. In the third week of that retreat there’s a meditation on Jesus’ agony in the garden. I did the meditation to the best of my abilities and met with my director to discuss the result. He wasn’t satisfied and asked me to repeat the exercise. I did, reported back to him, and found him again dissatisfied. I was at a loss to grasp exactly what he wanted me to achieve through that meditation, though obviously I was missing something. He kept trying to explain to me that Ignatius had a concept wherein one was supposed to take the material of a meditation and “apply it to the senses” and I was somehow not getting that part.

Eventually he asked me this question: “When doing this meditation, have you been sitting comfortably inside an air-conditioned chapel?” My answer was yes. “Well,” this wise Jesuit replied, “no wonder you aren’t able to properly apply this to your senses. How can you really feel what Jesus felt in his agony in garden when you are sitting warm, snug, secure, and comfortable in an air-conditioned room?” His advice was that I redo the exercise, but do it late in the evening, outside, in the dark, cold, subject to nature’s elements, and perhaps even a little afraid of what I might meet physically out there.

He made a good point, not just for my struggle with this particular spiritual exercise but about one of the major deficiencies within contemporary spirituality. Simply put: Our prayer and spiritual quests are not enough connected to nature. For all of our good intentions and hard work, we are too-platonic, too much trying to have our souls transformed while our bodies sit warm, safe, and uninvolved. The physical elements of nature and our own bodies play too small a role in our efforts to grow spiritually.

This is the major critique that Bill Plotkin, an important new voice in spirituality, makes of what he sees happening in much of Christian spirituality today. From our church programs, to what happens in our retreat centers, to the spiritual quests people more deliberately pursue, Plotkin sees too little connection to nature, to the sun, to storms, to the wilderness, and to the desert that Jesus himself sought out.

Plotkin, who doesn’t work out of an explicitly Christian perspective but is sympathetic to it, runs a wilderness center out of which he directs people who are searching spiritually. One of the things that his center offers is a wilderness quest. People are offered the option of going out into the wilderness for some days alone, taking very little to protect themselves from what they might meet there. While sensible precautions are taken and prudence isn’t irresponsibly bracketed, the people doing these quests nonetheless often find themselves pretty vulnerable to the elements and battling a good amount of fear.

And the quests are effective mainly because of that. Real transformation often happens and it is very much attributed to the battle that the one doing the quest had to wage in the face of fear and the physical elements. Plotkin’s book, Soulcraft, contains a number of powerful testimonies of people who share how what they experienced in the wilderness - real exposure and real fear - led to real transformation in their lives. For something to be real it has to be real!

Jesus knew that and went on his own “wilderness quest”, 40 days alone in the desert where, as the Gospels tell us, he did his own battle with “the wild beasts”. We read accounts in the Gospels too of how he spent whole nights outside, alone, praying. It’s no accident that his struggle to give his life over takes place in a garden and not in an air-conditioned church. Beautiful church buildings have power to transform but so too do the sun, storms, the wilderness, and the desert. It’s good to seek out both places, and lately Christian spirituality has been too negligent of the latter.

And it not just the things in nature that batter us and cause us fear to which we need to expose ourselves. Nature also waters the earth. There are few things in life that can induce the joy we can experience by drinking in nature. As the Canticle of Daniel (3,57-88) so wonderfully celebrates it, many things in nature nurture the soul and fill it with life: the sun, the moon, the stars, winds, fire and heat, cold and chill, dew and rain, ice and snow, light and darkness, lightening and clouds, mountains and hills, seas and rivers, plants and animals. Each of these can trigger special memories and special joys, if we stay awake to them.

We need to let nature touch more of our bodies and our souls, both for our spiritual health and for our health in general. For something to be real it has to be real!

Franciscan Father Ed Shea is the third of eight children from St. Giles Parish in Oak Park. A 1974 graduate of Fenwick High School and a 1978 graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Father Shea joined the Franciscans in 1980 and was ordained a priest in 1987. Father Ed has spent most of his priesthood in parish work, including four years as the priest-presider for the St. Giles Family Mass Community in Oak Park, IL and five years as the pastor of St. John the Baptist Catholic Church in Joliet, IL. He was also pastor of St. Joseph Parish, a predominantly Hispanic community in Chicago’s famous Back of the Yards neighborhood. Father Ed has served on his Provincial Council and as Director of Vocations and Formation for the Franciscans of the Sacred Heart Province. Fr. Ed is currently stationed at St. Peter’s Church in downtown Chicago, and he’s been there since 2011. During the past several years he has done a good deal of itinerant preaching, in the Chicago area and beyond; he has spent some time living and working in Teutopolis, IL, and he even went on a couple of pilgrimages to Tanzania, Africa! A Franciscan priest who loves to sing and tell stories, more than anything he thrives on celebrating the sacraments of the Church. A true follower of St. Francis, Father Ed finds reasons to rejoice often in the goodness of God’s presence in our world.

Our Teens are Doing Amazing Things

What a lot of us don't realize are the incredible acts of kindness and goodness that take place in our parish week after week, often silent and unseen.

We have parishioners giving other parishioners a Helping Hand—anything from companionship to shoveling a walkway to giving someone a lift to Mass.

Our Job Ministry program is actively helping people in the Chicagoland area build up their resumes, interviewing skills, and networks to get them back to work.

And our teens are involved, too. They're actively doing works of service. Just this past week, almost 40 teens made blankets to give to children at St. Alexius Children's hospital. They also donated blankets to the Prayer Shawl ministry to offer to someone in a wheelchair warmth and comfort. Those of you who stopped by the Prayer Shawl table last Sunday (another incredible ministry) may have noticed them and even took one to pass it on.

This past November, 6th graders went shopping and prepared a box of food so a family in need could enjoy a thanksgiving dinner.

And just a few weeks ago, the same group prepared a meal to serve at the local PADS shelter for the homeless.

Our teens are empowered to do these things, because our parishioners are giving their own time to instill it within them along with their families.

We have an incredibly generous community of faith! It's good to be a part of it.

Save The Date / Spring Blood Drive

St. Hubert Church will be holding our annual Spring Blood Drive on Sunday, March 22, 2020 from 8:00 AM to 2:00 PM in the Lower Level of Church.

Every two seconds someone needs blood. You have an opportunity to support life in our community at the upcoming blood drive. Please give area patients strength, hope and courage. Donate blood, support life. It is very rewarding to know that you have the power to impact lives.

To schedule an appointment, contact Vitalant at www.vitalant.org or call 847-543-3768 and use code STO. Life source is now Vitalant.

The Community Life Food Drive is on March 7th & 8th

We have such a wonderful turn out of donations every month from our parishioners. This has been a great show of support for our neighbors who would silently go without much if it wasn’t for your help! Most folks are just trying to keep their head above water. These are the people we should continue to assist. It’s hard to spend limited funds on incidentals when food is needed. Please keep in mind paper products, detergent, shampoo, deodorant and other things you yourself find as necessities! (Snacks for the children always brings a happy smile!)

Thank you for all your support!

Your game card is randomly assigned 8 teams (2 teams from each region) that will play in college basketball’s national championship tournament in March. The teams are represented by their seed numbers and regions in the tournament. All cards have seeds 1 thru 8 so everyone has an equal chance of winning. At the end of the tournament, prizes are awarded to the 70 game cards whose teams score the most combined total points throughout the tournament, and the 5 cards that score the fewest total combined points. Teams that have been eliminated from the tournament get zero points in rounds they do not play. If two or more game cards are tied with the same score, the total combined free throws made by all teams on the card is used as the primary tiebreaker. See website www.charitymania.com for complete tiebreaker rules. Minimum odds of winning: 1 in 19 per card. No purchase necessary to play. Void where prohibited. Sweepstakes ends after last game. Helping Hands Ministry

Story 2

The Helping Hands Ministry continues to enrich my life through the friendships made while assisting others. One such memory is that of a parishioner who requested help running errands and yard work as she was physically and visually impaired. A trip to the grocery store or pharmacy turned into a friendly visit. Being homebound, this senior was longing for human interaction and companionship. I recall pulling weeds in her front yard as she sat outside in a chair to watch and talk. Thus, our visits evolved into a deep friendship. When she passed, another helping hands volunteer and I were asked to help select and read passages at her funeral service. I’m not sure who benefitted most from this relationship. What a gift!
