PENTECOST
MAY 31, 2020

Jesus said to them again, “Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you.”

JOHN 20:21
A DEEP BREATH

Happy Birthday everyone! Today is Pentecost, the day of the birth of the Church in the world; the day when Mary and the Apostles felt the power of the Holy Spirit come into their lives, which emboldened them to unlock the doors of the upper room and head into the world to talk about Jesus Christ.

That’s a packed sentence, no doubt. If you say it out loud it may require taking a deep breath to get through it. And maybe that’s not a bad exercise, because today in John’s gospel we’re meant to focus on Jesus’ breath, which is a sign of life. John tells us when Jesus appeared after his Resurrection, he first gave them his peace, and then he breathed on them giving them the Holy Spirit.

As we profess in the Creed every week, the Holy Spirit is the giver of life. And it almost immediately reminds us of the creation narratives in the first chapters of the bible. We hear that God gave Adam life by forming him out of the dust of the ground. The author tells us God “blew into his nostrils the breath of life, and the man became a living being” (Gen 2:7).

Breath—like wind—is a remarkable image for God’s intimacy in our own lives. Just as we need air to breathe to sustain us, we need God in our lives to sustain us, too. Breath is a moving force of life.

It’s another way to find spiritual communion with God. These days when we’re not able to come to Church to receive the Eucharist—the very presence of God the Son in our lives—we can take in God the Holy Spirit through the simple act of breathing. And when we make it an intentional prayer, it can be a powerful way to feel God with us.

So a very simple spiritual exercise on this Pentecost Sunday, when we’re focused on the coming of the Holy Spirit into our lives, may be to take a few minutes to simply sit down, take a breath, and pray. When we breathe in, we can breathe in the breath of God—God who desires intimacy and communion with us. We can take in his presence, just as we would take in the Eucharist. And as we breathe, we can move our thoughts to God.

The God who breathes life into us, is the God who also wants to let us know he is there as we experience the wealth of emotions that have surfaced during this pandemic. Breathing in and breathing out is a normal reality of life. But so is God.

Congratulations to the Class of 2020!

Our school year has come to an end. After these past couple of months of eLearning, the students at Saint Hubert School are ready for a break and a little bit of fun. And like every year, it’s also time for our 8th graders to celebrate their achievements!

Unlike any other graduating class, this year’s graduation is something they’ll always remember. It’s a different kind of celebration than ever before. We’ll gather separately in cars for a parking lot ceremony, complete with the awarding of diplomas. What will be the same, though, is celebrating and blessing the lives of our students who are ready to move forward to new beginnings. We congratulate them and their families and thank them for their faith in Saint Hubert Catholic School. There’s nothing like a Catholic education, which isn’t just focused on the mind, but the heart and soul, too. Congratulations Class of 2020!

You can feel so small standing by the seashore. The vastness of all that is before you expands much farther than your eye can see. What is happening on the other side? As tides continue to ebb and flow, what occurs as they come and go remains largely a mystery and the effects of their presence unknown in your sight. Yet, things are moving and changing as you gaze upon the water, as the thumbprint of their presence is left behind. The greater the wind and wave, the greater the effect. But even a gentle breeze leaves its humble mark upon the seashore on which you stand. The smallest pebble still makes a ripple in the great blue expanse of ocean waters. It doesn’t need to be big.

You never know the full impact of your smallest gesture or simplest of words. A yes or no, agree or disagree, here or there, this or that can influence time and history in ways you may never know. The Holy Spirit is like that: fierce and torrential, and then almost still and silent, creating and recreating nonetheless. Coming as a gentle breeze or a gusty wind, God’s Holy Spirit continues to move over, around, and into the waters of our lives. The Spirit brings fruit and unknown possibilities to what we humbly bring with us and that same Spirit eventually brings all to fulfillment in Christ.

The first disciples didn’t have much. They possessed simple faith and a willingness to go into unchartered territory with a love of their friend-God, humble offerings, and a knowledge that they were not alone. This allowed them to do amazing things with very little. Do you believe that you are being led and that you have a purposeful life? We often do not realize our value because we do not think that the little we have is good enough. How wrong we are! A little flour mixed with water and embraced by a prayer of blessing transforms simple offerings into the magnificent Eucharistic presence of God. If the Holy Spirit can do such amazing things with these humble gifts of the earth, even more can happen with you. Don’t underestimate the value of the smile you gave a stranger, the door held open for an elderly widow, the listening ear offered to one who was lonely, the tolerance given to the wounded soul who is angry, and the loving shoulder you offered as a cradle under the head of someone in pain. Modest gifts offered with love can be transformed by the Spirit into wondrous blessings you may never know. It’s Pentecost. Trust. You are not alone.
There are different ways to be present or absent to each other.

For example, when Jesus is saying farewell to his disciples he tries to explain to them some of the deep paradoxes inside the mystery of presence and absence.

He tells them that it is better for them that he goes away because, unless he does, he will be unable to send them his spirit. He assures them too that the heaviness and grief they will feel at his leaving is really the pain of giving birth and that this heartache will eventually turn warm and nurturing and bring them a joy that no one can ever take from them.

That is the language of Ascension and Pentecost, not just as it pertains to Jesus leaving this earth and sending his spirit, but it is also as it pertains to the mystery of giving and receiving spirit in all our goodbyes.

Among other things, it points to that perplexing experience we have where we can only fully understand and appreciate others after they go away, just as others can only fully understand us and let themselves be fully blessed by us after we go away. Like Jesus, we can only really send our spirits after we go away.

We experience this everywhere in life: A grown child has to leave home before her parents can fully understand and appreciate her for who she really is. There comes a day in a young person’s life when she stands before her parents and, in whatever way, says the words: “It is better for you that I go away! Unless I go you will never really know who I am. You will have some heartache now, but that pain will eventually become warm because I will come back to you in a deeper way.” Parents say the same thing to their children when they are dying.

We only really grasp the essence of another after he or she has gone away. When someone leaves us physically, we are given the chance to receive his or her presence in a deeper way.

And the pain and heartache we feel in the farewell are birth-pangs, the stretching that comes with giving new birth. When someone we love has to leave us (to go on a trip, to begin a new life, or to depart from us through death) initially that will feel painful, sometimes excruciatingly so. But when that leaving is necessitated by duty or by life itself then, no matter how hard it is, even if it is death itself that takes away our loved one, eventually he or she will come back to us in a deeper way, in a presence that is warm, nurturing, and immune to the fragility of normal relationships.

Many of us, I suspect, have experienced this in the death of someone whom we loved deeply. For me, this happened at the death of my parents. My mother and father died three months apart, when I was twenty-three years old. They were young, too young to die in my view, but death took them anyway, against my will and against theirs. Initially, their death was experienced as very painful, as bitter. My siblings and I wanted their presence in the same way as we had always had it, physical, tangible, bodily, real.

Eventually the pain of their leaving left us and we sensed that our parents were still with us, with all that was best in them, our mum and dad still, except that now their presence was deeper and less fragile than it had been when they were physically with us. They were with us now, real and nurturing, in a way that nobody and nothing can ever take away.

Our presence to each other physically, in touch, sight, and speech is no doubt the deepest wonder in all of life, sometimes the only thing we can appreciate as real. But wonderful as that is, it is always limited and fragile. It depends upon being physically connected in some way and it is fragile in that separation (physical or emotional) can easily take someone away from us. With everyone we love and who loves us (parents, spouse, children, friends, acquaintances, colleagues), we are always just one trip, misunderstanding, accident, or heart attack away from losing their physical presence.

This was the exact heartache and fear that the disciples felt as Jesus was saying goodbye to them and that is the heartache and fear we all feel in our relationships. We can easily lose each other.

But there is a presence that cannot be taken away, that does not suffer from this fragility, that is, the spirit that comes back to us whenever, because of the some inner dictates of love and life, our loved ones have to leave us or we have to leave our loved ones. A spirit returns and it is deep and permanent and leaves a warm, joyous, and real presence that nobody can ever take from us.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

We Are Never Alone

My children want my help sometimes, and other times, not so much. I remember being a teenager and young adult myself. At times, I thought I knew everything. I didn’t need help because I was just so darn smart. Truth is, I needed to find my own way. I needed to stretch my wings and prove to myself and my family I could fly. I assume that is what is happening with my own children as well. It just seems so different now that I’m the parent.

Human beings need help. We need community, and we need to rely on one another. At Pentecost, we reflect on Jesus sending to the Church a helper, the Holy Spirit. God interacting with us in this manner means we are never truly alone. We focus most of the time on the Spirit of God as the assistance we need, and we do need Him for sure. However, since it is that very same Spirit that turned us into “Church” from a band of people looking to carry on after Jesus’ ascension, at Pentecost we gained more than divine help: we gained each other.

Today, the Church needs help in a profound way. We need to lean on the Holy Spirit to blow through the Church with a profound renewal. But we cannot forget that we have been given each other to lean on as well. We are a gift to each other, and together with the Spirit’s help, we are the Body of Christ here on earth. We must be strong and stand for one another. If we do that, this Pentecost will bear fruit that will be with us for many Pentecosts to come.

LIVE THE LITURGY
INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Be who God created you to be.

With Pentecost, the disciples significantly changed. They were charged up and ready to go. They received the Holy Spirit and no longer harbored fear and apprehension. They knew who they were and what needed to be done. With the peace of the Lord and the power of the Spirit within them, they set out to do amazing things with simple means. We have received the Holy Spirit as well. What keeps us from truly understanding the mission of Christ and continuing the advancement of the Gospel? Some may think this was a work of the past and not relevant now. Others may believe that the work set before me is simply about doing what I need to do to merit heaven and has little to do with my brothers and sisters. Take a good look at the world. More are in need of hearing the Good News than there ever were. We have the power to get up and out and start doing life changing things!

Helping Each Other: Our Sunday Offering

In tough and challenging times, we are grateful for all those who are making an effort to send in their contributions either through the mail or by dropping them off at the church or parish office. We’re also grateful to those who are giving electronically at Give Central—which is becoming more popular in today’s world, and another way to give when you’re not physically present.

Our mission is to be able to build up the Body of Christ in our world around us, and we’re making every effort to keep it going. Thank you for continuing your support in these extraordinary times.

Boy Scout Troop 399 Honors the Class of 2020

Troop 399 is very proud of its 44 year history of turning out young men that understand service to the community, citizenship, servant leadership and Duty to God. Over these 44 years, the Troop has been honored to have over 90 boys attain the level of Eagle Scout. This year seven of our scouts will be graduating from high schools in the area. It is a great feat that all seven have stayed in the Boy Scouts, as a group, since sixth grade. But the truly amazing feat is that all seven will be Eagle scouts. We are proud to introduce you to the team:

- Erik Doyle, Eagle, will be attending the Harper Trades program in the fall to become a welder. His project supported the cancer unit at St Alexius Hospital, where his mother was a patient.
- Alex Grogman, Eagle, will be attending Illinois State University in the fall to study Marketing and Professional Sales. His project supported the Westbrook Senior Living facility.
- Nick Johnson, Eagle, will be attending University of Illinois at Chicago in the fall to study biochemistry. His project supported the WINGS foundation.

- Johnny Waite, Eagle, will be attending University of Illinois Champaign in the fall, studying electrical engineering. His project supported the Almost Home animal foundation.

A Spiritual Communion Prayer Service will be available every Sunday throughout this time when we do not have Mass. It is patterned after the Mass, is unique to St. Hubert with a reflection by Fr. Mike, and provides a way to keep our community connected and in prayer. When we cannot receive the Eucharist in person, we can still receive it by desire. Spiritual Communion is a profound prayer of longing to be with Christ. If you have a crucifix or an image of Christ on holy card or a statue, consider using it as a focal point for your time of prayer. Click the box "Spiritual Communion" on the front page of our website: www.sainthubert.org.

SPRING CLEANING MOVES FORWARD

Thanks to a hardworking crew the "Easter cleaning" has been completed. A team of workers from the Stewards, the Arts & Environment Committee and the Knights of Columbus, spent three days this week socially distance cleaning. The group dusted, scrubbed, polished and sanitized every pew, hymnal, surface, window and door. We hope to see you n those pews very soon.
A Plan to Re-Open Begins!

This week Cardinal Cupich announced some very hopeful news: news we’ve been waiting to hear. He has announced a strategic plan to begin slowly opening up our church buildings and resuming some of the sacraments by the end of the month.

The plan involves a two-phased gradual approach. The first phase will include the ability to resume gathering in groups of 10 for Baptisms, Reconciliation, Funerals and Weddings. As part of this phase we will also be able to eventually open the church once again for private prayer and adoration.

The second phase will include being able to gather for Mass again—how many people we will be able to have in the church for each service and when it will begin will depend on conversations the Church is having with state and local officials.

It is the first step to begin to slowly come together again in the place we long to be—with Christ and one another in the church we love.

We have received some more directives geared toward the practical side of things and are forming a team of parish leaders to get us up and running again. Additional information will be provided, as it becomes available. Please check your email and our website for the latest information.

Introducing St. Hubert Virtual Groups

Building up the Body of Christ with welcoming arms, loving hearts and joyful worship is our mission statement. We’re pretty good at that in person, we’re trying to be good at that now that we are meeting virtually.

We’re forming Virtual Groups to bring us together. We believe that for us to flourish in our relationships with God & people we need to prioritize being in real relationship with others who are also pursuing Jesus.

These groups will meet online once a week for 4 weeks. We'll focus on building relationships, discussing the Sunday scriptures, and caring for one another.

Sign ups have begun. Check our website, facebook page or keep an eye open for a flocknote with details on how to join.

Centering Prayer

“Be still and know that I am God”
Psalm 46:10

A form of contemplative prayer, Centering Prayer is a movement beyond conversation to simply rest in God beyond thoughts, words and emotions.

The root of Centering Prayer is listening to the word of God in Scripture (Lectio Divina). It is a way of listening to the texts of Scripture as if we were in conversation with Christ.

If you would like to learn to experience Centering Prayer, we will meet via Zoom on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 8 to 8:30 for four weeks. Then, if the group chooses to continue, we will then add the Lectio Divina.

For more information contact Mary Sullivan at 847-494-8481 or yfmsullivan@gmail.com.
Our 8th Graders celebrate their last week at St. Hubert! The month started with students participating in a virtual May Crowning and Cap and Gown Blessing followed by 8th grade celebrations! 8th grade students played Flamingo Yard Tag, keeping flamingos on the move every 24 hours as they take a turn visiting each home. Students were also surprised with graduation yard decorations compliments of the 8th graduation committee.

We are virtually registering for the 2020-2021 School Year!

When I hurt others, I will say, "I'm sorry. Will you forgive me?"

Sharing the Gospel

The apostles were given the power to forgive sins. When you tell the priest your sins, he has the power to remind you of God's forgiveness. Jesus died on the cross so your sins can be forgiven. Because God forgives you, he wants you to forgive others. Forgiving those who hurt you is very hard when you are angry and hurt. Thousands of children witness domestic violence each year.

How many of them will grow up to be in a relationship where they are abused or the abuser?

YOU have the power to help change this!

For almost 35 years, WINGS has been here for families who want to break the cycle of violence. Through Parenting Classes and Children's Groups, clients and their children are able to work through the trauma they have experienced and find HOPE for a future free from domestic violence.

WINGS is currently the largest domestic violence housing agency in the state of Illinois. They have the capacity to house 251 people per night through two emergency safe houses, three shared homes, 34 independent apartments, and 10 permanent supportive units.

They provide safe homes, housing, and community-based services; which includes community counseling, mentoring and career services.

They empower adults to break FREE from the cycle of domestic violence and teach children what a healthy relationship should be. They can’t do it without outside support.

Your donation would help to provide the funds for WINGS to run Parenting Classes and Children's Groups. This is where each client and child learn anger coping skills, positive behavior, self-regulation, gain self-esteem, and know what healthy relationships should be - which in turn results in homes full of peace, security and hope. Thus, ending the cycle of domestic violence and bringing about freedom with healthy relationships and changing our communities for the better.

We invite you to DONATE TODAY to enable WINGS to transform many more lives.

Helping Hands Ministry

We’d like to believe that when needing support, we all have a family member or friend close by to help out. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Or, perhaps, a great deal of support is needed requiring more support than family members are able to provide. The Helping Hands Ministry was formed to assist members in our parish, free of charge, in various ways:

- Rides to appointments, grocery store, Mass
- Relieving a caregiver by sitting with homebound family member
- Handy work or yard work
- Housework/cleaning
- Meals for those recovering from illness
- Just ask!

To request assistance or to volunteer, please contact St. Hubert Parish Office at 847-885-7700, ext. 102 and your request will be shared with the Helping Hands Coordinator.
