Sunday in Ordinary Time

“Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest.” - Mt 11:28

LEANING ON GOD

“Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves. For my yoke is easy, and my burden light.”

Matthew 11:28-30

Today we hear Jesus give this simple and comforting message. But it can also seem too good to be true. He lets us know that when things get difficult in our lives we can lean on him. He doesn’t promise to remove the difficulties, but to help carry us through with the inner strength of knowing he’s holding us up.

What opened this scripture passage up for me was a chapter in Cardinal Bernardin’s book about his journey through cancer, The Gift of Peace. The “yoke” Jesus mentions is something that was found on a farmer’s field, even back in ancient times. It’s the heavy piece of equipment that the farmer would put over the shoulders of a pair of oxen who would then pull the plow through the fields.

The image that emerges is striking: the two oxen make a team. They literally plow through the hard, tough ground together. In walking with us through what we go through, we learn from someone who carried a cross on his shoulders. So he knows. We just have to go to him and he will put on the yoke.

Why can this message be difficult? For me, I think it’s because it requires the freedom and trust to share our life with him—even problems, sins, worries, failures and fears. It requires a letting go to someone we cannot readily see. But when we’re able to do that, that’s when rest comes. Many times, when I wake up in the middle of the night worried about something, after tossing and turning, turning and tossing, I eventually realize what I really need to do, is turn to prayer; when I do it leads me back to sleep. And as Mom always would tell me, things will become clearer in the morning, and many times they are.

God knows all the struggles of the last few months that have come our way. He knows we’re worried, angry, afraid, sad, frustrated—you name it—because of the changes that we’ve had to accept. And his heart goes out to all those who have faced struggles, even way before the pandemic hit—the abused, the persecuted, those who have been discriminated against because of their race, those struggling with addiction; those who feel isolated, alone and abandoned.

Our faith in Jesus Christ allows us to know we’re never all alone or not understood. We have a place to turn when it seems hopeless, because we have someone to turn to. We have a teammate we can go to who will help us shoulder it through.

WELCOME JULIE MARTIN!

This week, Julie Martin joined the Saint Hubert family as the new principal at Saint Hubert School. Turn to page 9 to learn more about her background. We’re very blessed to have her with us and to lead our school.

As we keep plowing forward, let us continue to pray for one another. See you at Mass...or online!

Pray for... Those who are sick, recently deceased, or otherwise in need of prayers considered for inclusion in the Prayer of the Faithful during our Sunday liturgy, please go to the website, www.sainthubert.org and click on the Prayer Request button or call the parish office at 847-885-7700, ext. 102.

A Spiritual Communion Prayer Service will be available every Sunday throughout this time when we do not have Mass. It is patterned after the Mass, is unique to St. Hubert with a reflection by Fr. Mike, and provides a way to keep our community connected and in prayer. When we cannot receive the Eucharist in person, we can still receive it by desire. Spiritual Communion is a profound prayer of longing to be with Christ. If you have a crucifix or an image of Christ on holy card or a statue, consider using it as a focal point for your time of prayer. Click the box "Spiritual Communion" on the front page of our website: www.sainthubert.org.

We are all familiar with the refrain, “You have put on Christ. In him you have been baptized. Alleluia, alleluia!” In Baptism, we “put on” Christ. In putting on Christ, we put on all that Christ is and represents: hope, faith, and love. We are no longer bound to the sins and failures of the flesh, that part of us that resists God and relies exclusively on human means. It also means that we are not in debt to our past, complete with its sins, failures, regrets, fears, and unfulfilled dreams. There is always hope. In putting on Christ, we put on God’s vision for the world, for all of His children and for us. We have been given a road map to guide our paths and a blueprint to follow for our life’s journey.

There is no need for regret, and we are not tethered to our past. Is there anything in your past that you regret? Any decision or memory that continues to haunt you? We have all made mistakes, and we have this uncanny ability to continue beating ourselves up over things we can no longer do anything about, except learn from them. To put on Christ means that I can now bring God’s unconditional love to my hurtful memories and sinful choices. With each new moment and every new choice, I can start clean and live in freedom.

Imagine adults when the disciples were preaching and baptizing. They came to baptism not really knowing who they were, with pasts that were broken, seeking to live the joy of the Gospel they heard spoken to them and wanting the love they saw witnessed in the lives of those who believed. What tremendous celebrations their baptisms must have been! They could now have the support of a community, full participation in the sacraments of the church, focus for their disordered lives, consolation, healing, and an understanding of what life is really all about.

Our lives are meant to be celebrations of the Spirit we have received in Baptism. How does that joy get expressed in and through you? When we truly understand that we have put on Christ, our burdens can become much lighter. It is odd that so many Christians look like they are carrying the weight of the world on their shoulders. Wouldn’t it be wonderful if those weights could be lifted and joy experienced!

The Restless Spirit

By Ron Rolheiser, O.M.I.

In the preface to Elizabeth O’Connor’s book, Search for Silence, N. Gordon Cosby writes: “The one journey that ultimately matters is the journey into the place of stillness deep within one’s self. To reach that place is to be at home; to fail to reach it is to be forever restless.”

That’s a scary thought, especially for those of us who are restless and who find it difficult to be comfortable alone and with silence. Yet there is no doubt that Cosby is right, not to reach inner stillness is to be forever restless. So it is good to make our peace with this.

And that peace is not easily won. The journey inward to that quiet centre, that central silence, where one’s own life and spirit are united with the life and Spirit of God, is long and arduous. Moreover, very little invites us to make it.

First of all, we are born restless, overcharged for our own lives, so on fire with eros and energy of every kind that simply sitting still is already itself a considerable task. This restlessness, which is the heartbeat of a human soul, is the fire of God within us and is God’s assurance, written into nature, that we will not settle for anything less than everything.

As Augustine so aptly put it: “You have made us for yourself, Lord, and our hearts are restless until they rest in you.”

Still, given all this, spontaneously our restlessness pushes us outward rather than inward. When we are restless, almost invariably, there is the compulsive desire to seek rest in something or somebody outside of ourselves. Rarely, when we are deeply restless, are we drawn inward, to seek a solution to our yearnings in stillness and silence.

In addition, almost everything within our world militates against journeying inward towards stillness and silence as a remedy to the painful obsessions that we experience in our restlessness. This in a double way. The world both intensifies and trivializes our restlessness.

Our culture invites excitement, not silence; activity, not stillness. Thus we find ourselves constantly titillated and overstimulated in our restlessness. Somehow the impression is out there that everyone in the whole world is finding something that you are not, that everyone’s life is more full and complete than yours, that your life, as it is, is too small and timid . . . and that only if you bring many more people, things, places, and experiences into your life will you find peace and calm.

The world suggests that the solution to your restlessness lies outside of yourself, in building a bigger and more exciting life. If you are lonely, find a friend; if you are restless, do something; if you have a desire, fulfill it.

Beyond this, the world trivializes our restlessness, inviting us in a thousand ways to forget that God has called us to make an inward pilgrimage. The world, while not necessarily against God, invites us to forget God.

“Distract yourself,” it says. “Lower your ideals. Forget about immortal longings and eternal peace and think of your immediate frustrations, your lack of self-expression, your yearning hormones and of how little of the good life you’ve actually got. Do more things, change marriage partners, make a career change, have a better sex life, travel more, read more books, go to more movies—or write a book, plant a tree, have a child. Find enough life and leave some mark and you won’t be so restless.”

Given all of this, it is not easy for us to believe that the ultimate solution to our restlessness lies in a journey inward. Given all of this too, it is not easy to have the courage to make that journey, even when we know that it must be done.

Cosby’s challenge—"The one journey that ultimately matters is the journey into the place of stillness deep within one’s self. To reach that place is to be at home; to fail to reach it is to be forever restless"—should be written in bold letters in the preface of every spiritual book today. Too much inside of us and around us invites us to forget this and it is too dangerous to forget it. It’s our rest, our peace, that’s at stake here.

When Christ invites is to make the preferential option for the poor, he also spells out the consequence of ignoring the invitation, namely, at the last judgment the King might not recognize us since he never met us in the least of our brothers and sisters.

The invitation to move inward, in silence, to gently calm our raging restlessness with an inner stillness that comes from union with God is just as non-negotiable. To ignore it is to take a bad risk.

LIVE THE LITURGY
INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

The flesh is our old self of yesterday and the one we left behind in baptism. It is the self of doubts and fears, sin and error, reluctance, untamed passion, and errors in judgment. It is also the self of missed opportunities and roads untraveled. Although we were baptized many years ago, every day is another day to live, not according to the flesh of yesterday with its regrets and misgivings, but rather to live the life of the spirit of today and tomorrow. The burdens of our personal baggage and of life itself can weigh us down. The love of Jesus Christ and the life of the spirit can pick us up, refresh us, and provide us with the hope for new opportunities and discoveries. Because we have been baptized in Christ, we need not be anxious about what we did or did not do yesterday or anxious about what will come tomorrow. We need only to seek out the love that is before us, around us, and in us and learn.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Faith Like a Child

If you Google Search recommendations on how to raise generous children, almost every list of ideas begins with — or at least contains — the directive for adults to be good models of generosity themselves. Our children learn from our actions much more than from our words. Of course, when I think back over the years while my children were growing up, I think I may have learned as much from them as they learned from me. There is a time between early childhood and middle school where a child seems to be freer to give and share than at any other time in life. It is around the age of First Communion when the cries of “mine” turn to laughter and smiles, and the urge to be a part of something bigger than oneself leads to sharing. Before you know it, the child hits the pre-teen years, and once again, he or she becomes the center of the universe.

I believe that the previous paragraph is all true, however, the stages described seem to repeat themselves throughout adulthood. Don’t you agree? Sometimes we fall into seeing ourselves as the center of the universe, or we become consumed by our state in life or with what we have acquired. Also, we at times are generous and loving people. It is sin that draws us back into ourselves and away from any meaningful life of stewardship and generosity. In order to be freed for love, we need role models to help us see what really matters. We need to reflect on the example of many of our brothers and sisters in Christ. And, yes, we need to look to children who may be at the point in their lives where sharing is fun, and love is something in abundance.

Introducing St. Hubert Virtual Groups
Building up the Body of Christ with welcoming arms, loving hearts and joyful worship is our mission statement. We’re pretty good at that in person, we’re trying to be good at that now that we are meeting virtually.

We’re forming Virtual Groups to bring us together. We believe that for us to flourish in our relationships with God & people we need to prioritize being in real relationship with others who are also pursuing Jesus.

These groups will meet online once a week for 4 weeks. We’ll focus on building relationships, discussing the Sunday scriptures, and caring for one another.

Sign ups have begun. Check our website for details on how to join.

REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

First Reading
The prophet Zechariah envisioned a future king for the people of Israel who would rule the nations with justice and humility. How do you see these virtues as a strength in leadership?

Second Reading
Paul speaks of the promise of the resurrection from the dead for believers who reject the flesh and live according to the Spirit. What spiritual exercises do you practice that help reject the flesh?

Gospel Reading
Jesus praises his Father for the irony of the wise and learned who are unable to see what is revealed to the childlike. What does this tell us about the kingdom of heaven?

Want to Feel Closer to God?
St. Hubert’s Centering Prayer group meets via Zoom every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning at 8:00.

Centering Prayer is simply resting in God beyond thoughts, words and emotions. It’s a way of quieting the mind, resulting in the felt presence of God and a deepening of faith in God’s abiding presence.

The prayer practice of Lectio Divina (literally divine reading) is a way of becoming immersed in the Scriptures very personally. The Christian form of Lectio Divina is a way of developing a closer relationship with God by reflecting prayerfully on His word.

Centering Prayer and Lectio Divina are ideally practiced together; we do Centering Prayer for the first 20 minutes and then move into Lectio Divina. If you’d like to give it a try, you can join us for either or both forms. There’s no obligation - you can join us whenever you’re able.

An Official Welcome to Our New Principal, Julie Martin!

Dear St. Hubert Parish and School Community,

My name is Julie Martin and I am honored to introduce myself as the next Principal of St. Hubert School. You have a very special community and I can’t wait to be a part of it and to begin this role come July 1st.

I am a product of Catholic Education in the Archdiocese of Chicago, having attended Queen of the Rosary Grade School and Sacred Heart of Mary (St. Viator) High School. I’m excited to be back in “my old neighborhood!”

I have been blessed to work in Catholic Education for 30 years, both as a teacher and administrator. My Catholic educator career began at St. Luke Parish School in Brookfield, Wisconsin where I served as a Middle School Social Studies and Religion teacher for 19 years. During this time, I raised my family and when they were older I went back to school for my Master’s and Administrative License from Marquette University. I was blessed to begin my Administration career at St. Andrew School in Delavan Wisconsin where I served as Principal for 3 years.

Seven years ago I moved back home to Chicago and began my role as Principal of Old St. Mary’s School in the South Loop, and recently served as Principal of St. Luke School in River Forest. I have served as a mentor Principal in the Archdiocese of Chicago and have been a member of the Office of Catholic Schools Curriculum Advisory Committee, and have recently taken on the role as an adjunct faculty member at DePaul University.

My husband Chris and I have 5 children and 3 grandchildren with a 4th due in September, and love spending time with family and friends. We are very much looking forward to being able to do that again very soon.

I am so impressed with your wonderful community and am looking forward to meeting and getting to know the students, faculty, staff, parents and parishioners and to working with all of you. Change and transition can be difficult and especially given the circumstances that we find ourselves in, but we will work together to make this transition in leadership as smooth and comfortable as possible for all.

I am keeping all of you in my thoughts and prayers and pray that very soon we will be able to meet face to face and that God’s love and hope will be with all of us during these days and the days ahead.

Again, I am honored to have been given the chance to serve as your next Principal for the 2020-2021 school year and I am looking forward to meeting each and every one of you.

God Bless You,

Julie Martin
Sharing the Gospel

Jesus knows that you can get tired. Doing your best in school is hard work. You also may feel tired, sad, or left out on the playground. Whenever you start to feel tired, remember that Jesus is with you. Learn from Jesus. Follow his example. Be honest. Be kind. Help others do the right thing. Jesus will help you.

Prayer

Jesus, I thank you for helping me when I'm tired.

Mission for the Week

Look for someone who is alone on the playground, and ask her to play.

Something to Draw

Draw a picture of Jesus beside you at school.
Read the Gospel and Color

Sharing the Gospel

When you are tired and upset, go to God. Talk things over with him. Tell him the whole story. God is a good listener. He has a gentle heart. He will say to you, "I love you. I forgive you." Then snuggle up with your favorite blanket and take a nap. When you wake up, you will feel much better. Then you will share your love by saying, "May I help you?"

Prayer

Lord Jesus, fill me with love for my family, friends, and neighbors.

Mission for the Week

I will tell God when I am tired and upset. He will calm me.

Something to Draw

Draw God holding you on his lap while sitting in your favorite rocking chair.

Puzzle

Draw a place you like to rest.

Helping Each Other: Our Sunday Offering

In tough and challenging times, we are grateful for all those who are making an effort to send in their contributions either through the mail or by dropping them off at the church or parish office. We’re also grateful to those who are giving electronically at Give Central—which is becoming more popular in today’s world, and another way to give when you’re not physically present.

Our mission is to be able to build up the Body of Christ in our world around us, and we’re making every effort to keep it going. Thank you for continuing your support in these extraordinary times.

— The St. Hubert Finance Council

Helping Hands Ministry

We’d like to believe that when needing support, we all have a family member or friend close by to help out. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Or perhaps, a great deal of support is needed requiring more support than family members are able to provide. The Helping Hands Ministry was formed to assist members in our parish, free of charge, in various ways:

- Rides to appointments, grocery store, Mass
- Relieving a caregiver by sitting with homebound family member
- Handy work or yard work
- Housework/cleaning
- Meals for those recovering from illness, Just ask!

To request assistance or to volunteer, please contact St. Hubert’s front desk at 847-885-7700 ext.102 and your request will be shared with the Helping Hands Coordinator.

For us to offer more opportunities, we need more volunteers!

We’re now in Phase 2 of the Cardinal’s Re-Opening plan.

Phase 2 includes resuming Sunday and Daily Masses—for groups of 108 (25% of our seating space). As we do this, we are very mindful of the protocols we’ll need to follow, which includes proper social distancing, the wearing of face masks, the use of hand sanitizer and the necessary things we need to do to clean and disinfect all common areas.

The goal is not just to re-open, but to create a worship space that is conducive to keeping us safe and healthy.

Help Needed

To make this work, it’s going to require a team of parishioners who are willing, ready, and able to help out. Of course, if you’re in a vulnerable group, it’s understandable to allow others to step forward.

Phase 2 Volunteers are needed to help us resume Masses. We’ll need people who are interested in serving as Greeters (welcoming you and making sure you have a place to sit) and Ushers (helping us through the services, including Communion). We’ll also need a team to help us get ready and clean and sanitize afterward.

Count Me In!

If you’re interested in helping—and teens under 18 are welcome to help with a parent’s permission—please sign up on our website.

Thank You Saint Hubert! Our strength has always been doing God’s work together, with Jesus Christ leading the way. We’re all looking forward to that day when we can see one another again and pray together in person.
The St. Hubert Job & Networking Ministry is a fellowship of men and women with a common desire to become employed or seek career advancement through a Christian forum. There are no dues or fees for membership. We are self-supporting through our own contributions.

Job Support Group Meeting
Every Monday Morning from 9:30—11 AM
The Saint Hubert Job and Networking Ministry continues in its mission to assist the job seeker and job changer with the introduction of “virtual” Accountability/Job Support Group meetings via Zoom. The meetings are a way to address your career and job connection concerns with one of our team members, as well as one another, learn more about the resources available to job seekers, and to share information and support with a small group of attendees.

If you would like to register for this event:
1. Send an email with the name of the event, “Accountability/Job Support Group,” to Mike Ritter, at sainthubertjobministry@gmail.com.
2. You will receive an invitation to Zoom.com, a video conferencing platform, to join the group on your computer, tablet, or mobile device.
3. Click on the link within that email invitation to join the Accountability/Job Support Group on Zoom.com. Please send any questions to Mike Ritter at sainthubertjobministry@gmail.com.

Job Seeker’s Exchange July 13, 6:00–7:00 PM
Whether you are a newcomer to the Saint Hubert Job Support Group or one of our members, feel free to attend the meeting, for job seekers, which precedes our regular Monday meeting. Stop in to the Job Seeker’s Exchange prior to the start of our regular meeting.

Navigating The Steps Toward Landing Your Next Opportunity July 13, 7:00–9:00 PM
How do you find your next professional opportunity? What do you do to get ready for your next interview? Craig Johnson, Sales Manager at LaSalle Network, will explain how to identify your next professional opportunity, the “dos” and “don’ts” of a resume, and how to prepare for, and perform during, an interview.” If you would like to register for this event:
1. Send an email with the name of the event, “Job Seeker’s Exchange” or “Navigating the Steps Toward Landing You Next Opportunity,” to sainthubertjnmpresentation@gmail.com.
2. You will receive an invitation to Zoom.com, a video conferencing platform, to view the presentation on your computer, tablet, or mobile device.
3. Click on the link within that email invitation to join the presentation, “Job Seeker’s Exchange” or “Navigating the Steps Toward Landing You Next Opportunity,” on Zoom.com.

Free Resume Review July 18, 9:00–11:00 AM
Consult with a Human Resources/Job Search Professional for a 30 minute review of your resume. Send us an email at sainthubertjnmpresumereview@gmail.com with your resume and phone number. The resume reviewer will provide you, via telephone, with suggestions and guidelines for your resume. Why not take advantage of this career-enhancing opportunity? Learn how to transform your resume!

Job Seeker’s Exchange July 27, 6:00–7:00 PM
Whether you are a newcomer to the Saint Hubert Job Support Group or one of our members, feel free to attend the meeting, for job seekers, which precedes our regular Monday meeting. Stop in to the Job Seeker’s Exchange prior to the start of our regular meeting.

Interview Strategy Session July 27, 7:00–9:00 PM
This session will help job seekers who have specific questions on interviewing strategy to develop and practice interview responses, strengthening their candidacy for successful consideration in the hiring process. This will allow participants to learn from each other, and will be facilitated by Bob Placko, retired Senior Vice President of Human Resources at Motorola, and a member of the St. Hubert Job & Networking Ministry Core Team!

Please send any questions to sainthubertjnmpresentation@gmail.com.
MARY FRIEND AND MOTHER TO ALL, through your Son, God has found a way to unite himself to every human being, called to be one people, sisters and brothers to each other.

We ask for your help in calling on your Son, seeking forgiveness for the times when we have failed to love and respect one another.

We ask for your help in obtaining from your Son the grace we need to overcome the evil of racism and to build a just society.

We ask for your help in following your Son, so that prejudice and animosity will no longer infect our minds or hearts but will be replaced with a love that respects the dignity of each person.

Mother of the Church, the Spirit of your Son Jesus warms our hearts: pray for us.

Amen
