A Strategic Plan for Catholic School Education

The Catholic schools in the Diocese of Davenport will fulfill the Church’s evangelizing mission by providing parents an outstanding education in the faith for their children. Our schools will infuse a rigorous academic program with the timeless message of Jesus Christ, and deliver it in a safe, respectful atmosphere. Our Catholic schools will promote among our students a lifelong commitment to faith, prayer and virtue, a sense of social justice, greater numbers of religious vocations and a way of life based on responsible stewardship.

A Vision for the Next Decade

The Catholic schools in the Diocese of Davenport will remain relevant, valuable, competitive and effective for the Church, our families and society. Our diocesan schools have a long track record of success, but there is room to reach an even higher level of excellence in all of our schools. The vision of Catholic education for the next decade in the Diocese of Davenport will be achieved by development and articulation of a clear strategic plan for Catholic education promoted vigorously from diocesan leadership and carried out by pastors, teachers, principals, board members, benefactors, members of the faithful, young and old, and with and without children and parents. It will happen with the material generosity, prayers and the support of the whole Catholic community making significant sacrifices because we believe in our children and put their care and education first.

The strategic plan describes what our schools could and should be in the next three to five years. It covers the areas of 1) Mission and Catholic Identity, 2) Academic Excellence, 3) Leadership and Governance, and 4) Operational Vitality.

Mission and Catholic Identity

The Church’s teaching mission includes inviting young people to a relationship with Jesus Christ and deepening an existing relationship with Jesus, inserting young people into the life of the Church, and assisting young people to see and understand the role of faith in one’s daily life and in the larger society. “This unique Catholic identity makes our Catholic elementary and secondary schools ‘schools for the human person’ and allows them to fill a critical role in the future of our Church, our country and our world” (The Catholic School on the Threshold of the Third Millennium, 1997). Excerpt from National Standards and Benchmarks for Effective Catholic Elementary and Secondary Schools.
Goal 1: The Catholic schools of the Diocese of Davenport will continue to be guided and driven by a clearly communicated mission that embraces a Catholic identity rooted in Gospel values, centered on the Eucharist, and committed to faith formation, academic excellence and service.

1.5 Schools will strengthen the relationship between parishes, schools and the diocese by encouraging staff, students and families to be integrated into parish and diocesan life through liturgy, service, and ministerial opportunities.
1.5.1 The diocesan Coordinator of Youth and Young Adult Ministry will communicate with diocesan school principals to encourage awareness and participation in diocesan youth events.

1.5.2 Each school community will develop a definition of what it means to be actively involved in the associated parish communities and continually remind families and staff of this definition.

1.6 The schools, supported by the priests of the diocese, will celebrate regular Masses during the school day, including Holy Days of Obligation and other special occasions, and encourage additional religious activities such as Eucharistic Adoration and the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

1.6.1 The tool created in 1.3 will be used to guide the evaluation of this objective and to make recommendations for each school.

2.2 The Office of Catholic Schools and Office of Faith Formation will determine the necessary Catholic faith formation for all staff members; including members with other faith traditions and Catholics, so they can share in the mission of promulgating the Catholic faith and help students receive the proper formation.

2.3 The Office of Catholic Schools and Office of Faith Formation will help train teachers to infuse Catholic teachings, virtues and values into all aspects of instruction across the curriculum and in all relationships.

Academic Excellence

The Catholic schools in the Diocese of Davenport will become a beacon for parents seeking an outstanding education for their children. Students will continue to be taught by a faculty appropriately credentialed and qualified according to diocesan and State of Iowa Standards, and continue to demonstrate academic excellence on multiple measures of assessment. Not only must our schools be competitive with surrounding districts but they must demonstrate a superior value for tuition paid.

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops affirms the message of the Congregation on Catholic Education that intellectual development of the person and growth as a Christian go forward hand in hand. Rooted in the mission of the Church, the Catholic schools bring faith, culture and life together in harmony. In 2005, the bishops noted that “young people of the third millennium must be a source of energy and leadership in our Church and our nation. And, therefore, we must provide young people with an academically rigorous and doctrinally sound program of education” (Renewing Our Commitment to Catholic Elementary and Secondary Schools in the Third Millennium, 2005).

“The essential elements of ‘an academically rigorous and doctrinally sound program’ mandate curricular experiences, — including co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, — which are rigorous, relevant, research-based, and infused with Catholic faith and traditions.” Excerpt from National Standards and Benchmarks for Effective Catholic Elementary and Secondary Schools.

Goal 3: Each school will provide a comprehensive, challenging and rigorous curriculum and will be recognized in the community for its quality education.

Objectives

3.1 Each school will maintain State of Iowa accreditation and, as part of maintaining our state accreditation, schools will continue to align their curricula with the Iowa Core standards and continue to update and implement the religion/faith formation standards used in the Diocese of Davenport’s schools.

3.2 Each school will create learning opportunities to accommodate students of varying academic abilities that include robust enrichment, remedial, and co-curricular programs and expanded resources for preschoolers and students with special learning needs. Where dedicated programs are not feasible, teachers will receive assistance and support in providing differentiated instruction in the classroom.

3.3 Each school will develop monitoring systems and remedial support services, to meet the goal of all students being proficient in reading and math by the end of third grade. Programming that runs after normal school hours and during the summer may be part of these activities and grade level retention will also be considered for those not meeting grade level expectations. Services will continue for those who fail to meet the end of third grade goals.

3.4 Without losing focus on the mission of Catholic school education, schools will be encouraged to explore unique or innovative curriculum offerings or specializations that meet students’ and families’ needs.

Goal 4: The appropriate use of technology will be integrated throughout the instructional program of each school to enhance student learning.

Objectives

4.1 Each school will develop a technology plan that provide strategies, action plans, and budgets for schools to achieve and sustain their technology goals. Included in the plan should be a goal for the school to reach 1:1 computer/student ratio.

4.2 Each school will provide in-service and support services to develop greater technology competence among teachers.

4.3 The Office of Catholic Schools, in collaboration with broader diocesan resources to the extent possible, will provide schools technology support.

4.4 Diocesan schools will set a goal of being paperless in grades five through twelve (the ability to receive and complete assignments, view rubrics and sample work online.

Goal 5: Catholic schools will recruit, retain and motivate highly qualified teachers who model the integration of faith and daily living.

Objectives
5.1 The Office of Catholic Schools will develop guidelines for determining a recommended just starting salary. These guidelines should be flexible enough to accommodate local market differences with the target set at 80% of local public school salaries.

5.2 A diocesan committee will be established to develop and implement a diocesan compensation model consistent with the mission of Catholic schools and sufficiently competitive to attract and retain outstanding principals and teachers.

5.3 When the Iowa Department of Education issues new guidelines, the Office of Catholic Schools will develop a model for ongoing teacher/administrator supervision and evaluation which will be used by all schools and be based upon current research while maintaining focus on the teacher’s/administrator’s contribution to the Catholic identity of the school.

7.3 Local school leadership and faculty will increase the use of data analysis to guide curricular, instructional and programmatic decisions and communicate the results to school stakeholders.

Operational Vitality

“Catholic schools are temporal organizations committed to the Church and the mission of Catholic education including a commitment to a culture of excellence and rigor. These schools exist in a milieu of constant socioeconomic challenges grounded in continuous need for sustainable financial planning, human resource/personnel management and professional formation, facilities maintenance and enhancement, and the requirement for institutional advancement and contemporary communication. Catholic schools must adopt and maintain standards of operational vitality in these areas and define the norms and expectations for fundamental procedures to support and ensure viability and sustainability. When a school does not maintain the standards for operational vitality, the continuation of academic excellence is in grave jeopardy. Over time, even an academically rigorous school with strong Catholic identity will not survive without operational vitality.

Standards for operational vitality must focus on the ‘operation’ of the school, — how it works and how it is supported — in four key areas: finances, human resource/personnel, facilities, and institutional advancement.” Excerpt from National Standards and Benchmarks for Effective Catholic Elementary and secondary schools.

Goal 8: Each Catholic school will develop a clear understanding of its financial vitality with clear knowledge of current income and expenses, including elements such as tuition revenue and tuition assistance, parish investment, fundraising and development, salaries and benefits, direct and indirect instructional and administrative costs, operational expenses and cost per pupil. Financial vitality should take into account enrollment capacity, future projections, and knowledge of the finances of the parishes and the community.

9.2 The Office of Catholic Schools, in conjunction with the appropriate diocesan consultative bodies, will determine an equitable and just method for parishes that are sending students to other parish schools to assist in funding those Catholic schools.

9.3 For general Catholic school education support or focused support, such as retirement or health insurance for staff, the Office of Catholic Schools along with other diocesan leaders will continue to advocate for diocesan-wide funding options such as utilization of a portion of the Annual Diocesan Appeal (ADA) to support Catholic school education and/or capital campaign for Catholic school education.

Goal 10: The Office of Catholic Schools will continue to work on behalf of each Catholic school to optimize funding from the local public school districts, state and federal government sources (such as title programs) and with leadership of local schools to promote legislation favorable to the financial support of Catholic school education.

12.3 All schools will develop plans to become climate-controlled.

Governance and Leadership

“Central to the mission of the Church is the work of Catholic school education. The success of this mission depends on key components of effective governance, which provides direction or authority, and leadership, which ensures effective operations. Catholic school governance and leadership can be seen as a ministry that promotes and protects the rights of the school community. Governance and leadership based on principles of excellence are essential to ensuring the Catholic identity, academic excellence and operational vitality of the school. Although governance models vary based on the school, those who serve on the governing body or leadership team in Catholic schools provide for an environment for the teaching of the doctrine and Sacred Scripture, the building and experiencing of community, the serving of others, and the opportunity for worship.” Excerpt from National Standards and Benchmarks for Effective Catholic Elementary and Secondary Schools.
