Divine Worship

Dear Parishioners,

Continuing from Archdiocesan Liturgical Handbook (ALH) Chapter 1D states:

Section 1.20.2: “The Order for the Blessing of Readers may be used when readers first begin their ministry.⁷³ However, any ceremony associated with the deputation of readers should be simple and sober and must not have any resemblance to the rites of sacred ordination, nor may such ceremony have a form analogous to what is prescribed by the liturgical books for the conferral of the ministries of lector or acolyte.”⁷⁴

Section 1.20.3: “Readers deputed on a more permanent basis should be truly suited to perform this function and should receive careful preparation, so that the faithful by listening to the readings from the sacred texts may develop in their hearts a warm and living love for Sacred Scripture. They must also possess the skills necessary for an effective proclamation of the Word or service at the altar, be fully initiated members of the Catholic Church, be free of any canonical penalty, and live lives which befit the ministry to be undertaken.”⁷⁵

Section 1.20.4: “In the dioceses of the United States of America, readers may wear the alb and cincture or other suitable vesture or other appropriate and dignified clothing. However, in the Archdiocese of Portland, it is preferred that they not wear albs, so as to distinguish their role from that of instituted lectors.”

Section 1.20.5: The carrying of the Book of the Gospels in processions is reserved to vested Deacons or vested instituted lectors. In the Archdiocese of Portland, it is preferred that readers not process with the ministers of the altar, again to distinguish their role from that of instituted lectors.”

Section 1.20.6: The reading of Scripture during a celebration of Holy Mass in the Catholic Church is to be done by Catholics. On exceptional occasions and for a just cause, the Archbishop may permit a baptized non-Catholic to take on the task of reader.”⁷⁶
