Divine Worship

Dear Parishioners,

Continuing from Archdiocesan Liturgical Handbook (ALH) Chapter 1E states:

Use of Low-Gluten Hosts and Mustum

Section 1.25.1: "The ordinary is competent to give permission for an individual priest to use low-gluten hosts or mustum for the celebration of the Eucharist. Permission can be granted habitually, for as long as the situation continues which occasioned the granting of permission."¹⁰⁴

Section 1.25.2 The authority to permit the lay faithful to use mustum and low-gluten hosts in the reception of Holy Communion is hereby delegated to pastors.¹⁰⁵

Section 1.25.3: Priests should show great pastoral sensitivity and compassion to anyone afflicted with Celiac Sprue disease, but especially to the parents of children with a gluten intolerance at the time of their First Holy Communion. Many people so afflicted can receive Holy Communion with low-gluten hosts. "Low-gluten hosts (partially gluten free) are valid matter, provided they contain a sufficient amount of gluten to obtain the confection of bread without the addition of foreign materials and without the use of procedures that would alter the nature of bread." Note that the amount of gluten necessary for validity in hosts is not determined by a minimum percentage or weight, but hosts which have no gluten at all are invalid matter for Mass.¹⁰⁶

Section 1.25.4: Those who cannot consume even low-gluten hosts have a right recognized by the general law¹⁰⁷ to receive the Precious Blood, even in cases where the chalice is not being offered to the congregation as a whole.¹⁰⁸

Section 1.25.5: Some people have a low tolerance for the normal amount of alcohol in wine used for the celebration of the Eucharist. Mustum, which is grape juice that is either fresh or preserved by methods that suspend its fermentation without altering its nature (for example, freezing), is valid matter for the celebration of the Eucharist."¹⁰⁹

How shall I make a return to the Lord for all the good He has done for me? — Psalm 116:12

Dear Parishioners,

Stewardship is a recognition that everything we have comes from God. Our responsibility then is to be grateful and help each other. The whole point really is to be ready to go to heaven when we leave this world.
