Divine Worship

Continuing from Archdiocesan Liturgical Handbook (ALH) Chapter 1J states:

Section 1.56.3: Use of a Eucharistic Prayer for Masses with Children is restricted to Masses that are celebrated with children alone or Masses at which the majority of the participants are children. A community of children means one so considered by the Directory for Masses with Children, that is, one consisting of children who have not yet reached the age referred to as preadolescence.²¹⁹

Section 1.56.4: The Eucharistic Prayer is to be recited by the priest alone, or with concelebrants, in full.²²⁰ Concelebrants are reminded that parts spoken by all the concelebrants together, and especially the words of consecration, which all are bound to say, are to be said in such a way that the concelebrants speak them in a very low voice (sotto voce) and that the principal celebrant's voice be clearly heard.²²¹

Section 1.56.5 Especially during the Eucharistic Prayer, in the celebration of Holy Mass, deacons and lay persons are not permitted to offer prayers, or to perform actions which are proper to the celebrating priest.²²²

Section 1.56.6 In the Eucharistic Prayer, ancient Christian liturgical and ecclesiological tradition permits the specific mention only of the names of persons who are in full communion with the Church.²²³

Section 1.56.7 The people are always involved actively and never merely passively in the Eucharistic Prayer: for they silently join themselves with the priest in faith, as well as in their interventions during the course of the Eucharistic Prayer as prescribed, namely in the responses in the Preface dialogue, the Sanctus, the acclamation after the consecration and the Amen after the final doxology.²²⁴

Section 1.56.8 A little before the consecration, when appropriate, a server rings a bell as a signal to the faithful. According to the custom in the Archdiocese of Portland in Oregon, a server may also ring a bell as the priest elevates the consecrated host and then the chalice.²²⁵

“God gave to me to bring completion for you the word of God, The message which was a mystery hidden for generations and centuries and has now been revealed to his holy people.” —Colossians 1:26

Dear Parishioners,

St. Paul is encouraging all of us to share our faith with other people, especially our families, friends, relatives, etc. In doing so we become good stewards of God’s message—The Good News of Salvation.

Fr. Nicolaus Marandu
(Pastor)

Christmas Bazaar

It is time to start gathering items for the Christmas Bazaar. If you do any spring cleaning remember that we could use items that have been gently used. Please bring items to the office.

We need Sure-Jell, 1/2 pint jars, sugar, juices, and berries to make jams and jellies this fall. Please keep this in mind this summer when picking berries.

Thank you,
Women’s Society

St. Frederic Garage Sale

Friday, August 9 &

Saturday, August 10

9-2 p.m.

Time is running out to donate items for the garage sale. Please bring items to the office. We do not have space for clothing. Help is needed to sort and price on August 5—August 8.

Please Pray for Those who have Died

Especially Kathryn Diane Mildenberger, wife of John Mildenberger who died on Saturday, July 14.

Please keep her and her family in your prayers.
