REFLECTION

Excerpts from “Caring for Loved Ones at Life’s End”

By the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops

Read the full article at www.usccb.org/endoflifecare

We are created to depend upon one another and to walk together in suffering. But when family members or friends approach life’s end, we may not know how to provide compassionate care. Here are some concrete ways to do so:

- 1. Invite God In: As your loved one moves through the dying process, a sacred time, ask God to accompany both of you.
- 2. Listen: Try to discover your loved one’s values and how best to honor his/her wishes. Listen with a non-judgmental ear so your loved one feels free to speak openly.
- 3. Inform Yourself: A person’s wishes for refusing ordinary treatment – or for pursuing assisted suicide – are usually rooted in concerns about dependency, helplessness, or pain. Be available to discuss these or any concerns. Consider the benefits of hospice care. Understand the Catholic Church’s teaching on end-of-life care, which can help you provide authentically loving support that respects life.* For more information, visit www.usccb.org/ToLiveEachDay
- 4. Be Steadfast in Compassion: Compassion means 'suffer with'. Recognize ups and downs as part of a natural process. Surround the patient with love, support, and companionship. His/her suffering can be alleviated by your empathy, as well as by quality hospice care by medical personnel.
- 5. Help Them Achieve Closure: Help your loved one define the personal projects, concerns, unresolved relationships, or other matters that occupy his/her mind. Creating and accomplishing a list of unfinished business can help the person discover a sense of purpose and feel more at peace.
- 6. Provide Opportunities for Resolution: Saying "I love you," "I'm sorry," "I forgive you," and "Thank you" can promote much-needed healing during the dying process. Facilitate opportunities for reconciliation with others and for mutual expressions of love and gratitude. Offer to invite a priest to hear confession and to administer the Eucharist as viaticum and the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, all of which heal the soul and prepare us to meet the Lord.
- 7. Reminisce: Your loved one may still enjoy the tastes and aromas of favorite foods and special memories they evoke. Think of other small comforts you can provide that would spark meaningful memories, like special photos or mementos.
- 8. Provide a Peaceful Presence: Your quiet, patient presence can provide important support as your loved one prepares emotionally and spiritually for passing. Placing the phone in another room, playing music, reading or praying together, or simply sitting quietly with him/her can all be very soothing.
- 9. Show Tenderness: Gently brush hair, apply lotion, or hold hands. Tell stories, laugh, and share memories to reassure the person that he/she is a cherished gift, not a burden in any way.
- 10. Bear Their Transition Patiently: Transition, the time immediately preceding death, may bring rapid physical, mental, and emotional changes. Be patient. Ask God for the wisdom to know what final words to say – if any – and when. ex. You might say, "I love you. It's okay to go home now."

“[God] comes to assist us in our weakness... Day after day, touched by His compassion, we also can become compassionate towards others.”

--Pope Francis

TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

First Reading: Isaiah 53:10-11

Isaiah speaks of how the Servant of God will have to give his life up for the sins of other people. Because of this suffering the Servant will receive eternal life for himself and all the people whose sins are forgiven because of him.

Second Reading: Hebrews 4:14-16

Jesus is considered to be the new high priest and mediator between God and his people. Fortunately, Jesus has experienced the same temptations as other people, and so he has more tolerance of our weaknesses.

Gospel: Mark 10:35-45

Two of the disciples ask Jesus that they be allowed to sit at his right and left side when he comes into his glory. Jesus explains that they should not be concerned with their position. Instead they should concern themselves with serving others just as Jesus was planning to serve many in giving his own life for their sins.

THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

First Reading: Jeremiah 31:7-9

Second Reading: Hebrews 5:1-6

Gospel: Mark 10:46-52

SPIRITUAL ENRICHMENT

WE BELONG TO GOD

This week the young people of the parish preparing for Reconciliation reflected on Baptism, which marks us as belonging to Jesus Christ, the Son of God. One of the central images the writers of the Sacred Scripture used to describe God's love for his people was the image of God as the shepherd of his people. How are we as a parish helping children to grow in a deep love for God?

DO YOU NEED A SPIRITUAL "TUNE-UP"?

"Keeping The Fire Alive: Navigating Challenges In The Spiritual Life" is a six-session video presentation given by Fr. Albert Haase, OFM and it will be offered here in Cassidy Hall at 7:00 to 8:30 PM starting October 30th. Follow-up discussion and fellowship should make for an enriching experience. All are welcome.

THANK YOU

The Respect Life Committee would like to thank the many parishioners who bought raffle tickets on the weekend of Sept. 22-23 to benefit New Jersey Right to Life. We sold 102 tickets and raised $1,020 for their good works. We also thank the numerous parishioners who signed postcards after the Masses on Oct. 6-7. We gathered about 465 signed postcards which were delivered last week to the offices of State Senator Steve Oroho and Assemblymen Parker Space and Harold Wirths. These three gentlemen already support the "New Jersey Pain Capable Unborn Child Protection Act," which would ban abortions past 20 weeks here in New Jersey, but our postcards will urge them to continue their work recruiting fellow legislators to pass this bill. Thank you once again for all your gifts of money, time, and prayers on behalf of protecting human life.
