Labor Day Holiday

Dear Parents,

We are going to have a great year in second grade! These first three days have been fun and I look forward to getting to know your child better as we head into our first full week of school.

Most of the time, I will be posting class information on our class webpage. Please check it often for classroom news, curriculum information, spelling and vocabulary words, and important dates.

This week we will start teaching the children how to use their weekly planner. This is where we will write our new spelling words, homework assignments, and information about upcoming quizzes and tests. Please remind your child to bring their planner back to school every day as we might make changes to it during the week.

Our first homework assignment was given out on Friday. It is a "Me" poster project. Please check your child's folder for the instructions. It is not due until Monday, August 26th.

Our first unit in reading and language arts will be a novel unit and we will read the book together in class. If your child might like to have a copy of the book to read along with as the story is read out loud, you are welcome to purchase the book and send it in with your child. This is completely optional. The novel we will be reading is The Year of Billy Miller by Kevin Henkes.

Please plan on attending the Second Grade Parent Information Night in the classroom, Tuesday, August 27, at 6:00 p.m. I look forward to seeing you all there!

Blessings,

Miss Kincer
