Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Blessed are you who fear the LORD.

— Psalm 128:1a

Today's Readings

First Reading The woman who fears the LORD is to be praised (Proverbs 31:10-13, 19-20, 30-31).

Psalm Blessed are those who fear the Lord (Psalm 128).

Second Reading Brothers and sisters, you are children of the light (1 Thessalonians 5:1-6).

Gospel Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities (Matthew 25:14-30 [14-15, 19-21]).

The English translation of the Psalm Responses from Lectionary for Mass (c) 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved.

The letters of Paul to the Thessalonians are among his earliest writings, and are driven by his belief and the belief of the entire early Christian community that the return of Christ was imminent, and that devoting time or attention to anything else was foolish.

As time progressed, this fervor subsided a bit. Today we may wonder, when we hear these readings about the coming end-times, if we should take them to heart, if we really believe that Christ still may come upon us as a "thief at night" (1 Thessalonians 5:2). Does this mean that we are to stop our long-range goal-setting, get rid of our yearly calendars and planners, or stop putting money in the college education fund? Of course not. What it does mean is that we need to change our lives, living like children of the light and illuminating the world around us with the light of the gospel. Then, on that day, when the details of our daily living become unimportant, we will be ready to find our peace and security in Christ Jesus.

You are invited to travel with Jonah into the belly of the whale. Jonah was an angry, disobedient, and narrow-minded person. Yet, God loved him and called him to be a prophet. As we spend this day exploring Jonah's journey, let us observe how God is calling each one of us - with our own sins and foibles - to a deeper and more loving relationship with our God and with each other. From what or whom do we want to escape? Yet, what draws us closer?

"Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you have been faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities."
- MATTHEW 25:21

God calls us to nurture and develop the gifts He has given us and then generously return a portion with increase. He doesn't want us to waste or hoard the gifts He has given us. He expects us to grow our gifts, use them wisely and be generous with them. Unfortunately, many of us are not generous in proportion to all that God has given us.

Gratitude Is Creative

Minute Meditation by Franciscan Media

Gratefulness brings joy to my life. How could I find joy in what I take for granted? So I stop "taking for granted," and there is no end to the surprises I find.

A grateful attitude is a creative one, because, in the final analysis, opportunity is the gift within the gift of every given moment. Mostly this means opportunities to see and hear and smell and touch and taste with pleasure. But once I am in the habit of availing myself of opportunities, I will do so even in unpleasant situations creatively.
