A Prayer By John Henry Cardinal Newman

God has created me to do Him some definite service;

He has committed some work to me

Which He has not committed to another.

I have my mission -

I may never know it in this life, but I shall be told it in the next.

...I am a link in a chain,

A bond of connection between persons.

He has not created me for naught.

I shall do good;

I shall do His work;

I shall be an angel of peace;

a preacher of truth in my own place, while not intending it, if I do but keep His Commandments.

...Therefore I will trust Him.

Whatever, wherever I am;

I can never be thrown away.

If I am in sickness, my sickness may serve Him;

in perplexity, my perplexity may serve Him;

in sorrow, my sorrow may serve Him

...He does nothing in vain.

...He knows what He is about.

FAQs about Marriage & Annulments

What does it mean if I've remarried without an annulment? Remarrying after divorce without receiving a prior annulment does affect a person's communion with the Church, not because the Church rejects this person, but because he or she has chosen to live in a relationship that contradicts his or her previous wedding vows. All of us struggle to live in full accord with the gospel. A person in this situation is still a beloved member of the parish community, and should participate in parish life as fully as possible. A person who persists in a sexual relationship outside of marriage, in any situation but including remarriage after divorce without an annulment, should not present themselves for sacramental communion but instead should seek a spiritual communion, praying for God to dwell more fully in his or her heart.

What is spiritual communion? Spiritual communion is a devotional practice where a person prays to be united to God. This prayer can be spontaneous, or from multiple forms that can be found online, and it can be said when a person is unable to receive Holy Communion, i.e., actually consuming the body and blood of Jesus. At Mass a person who is only receiving Christ spiritually can either remain in the pew during communion, or they can come forward with their arms crossed in order to receive a blessing from the communion minister.
