Dear Parishioners

Today we celebrate Mother's Day as well as our ACGC High School graduation. I hope everyone will be able to spend some quality time together as a family and let your mothers know how much you appreciate them. We, of course, want to let our graduates know that they have also accomplished something wonderful as well.

In an article written by the History.com staff in 2011 about Mother's Day, we find some interesting facts about the day's origins and the way it is celebrated. I would like to share a few of these with you.

A woman by the name of Anna Jarvis created the special day in 1908 and in 1914, President Woodrow Wilson made it an official U.S. holiday. Anna would later come to denounce what the day had become through the commercialization and materialistic way it was being celebrated.

Prior to Anna Jarvis' efforts, her mother Ann Reeves Jarvis worked to establish "Mother's Day Work Clubs" to teach local women how to properly care for their children.

Earlier history tells us of celebrations of mothers and motherhood traced back to the ancient Greeks and Romans, but the modern precedent for Mother's Day is the early Christian festival known as "Mothering Sunday."

This was once a major tradition in the United Kingdom. It was a day - traditionally celebrated on the fourth Sunday in Lent - that was meant to be the time when the faithful would return to their "mother church" for a special service.

However you celebrate with your mother, try to keep in mind the beauty and true meaning of what she's done for you.

Summer Tips from Catholicmom.com

Editor's Note: Thanks to Wendell Teltow, Executive Director of Prevent Child Abuse Texas for sharing the following article.

The summer is a joyous time when loved ones come together. But for many families, the summer can also be a time of stress and frustration, sometimes unintentionally resulting in an increased risk to the child.

Prevent Child Abuse Texas offers the following tips to help families enjoy the summer while keeping tension to a minimum:

- Establish a budget for summer spending. Be realistic about what you can afford to spend on entertainment, special foods, travel, etc.

- Hold a family meeting to discuss summer plans. Ask for ideas from the children for family activities that would appeal to them.

- Post a calendar of family activities in a place where all family members will see it.

Habitat for Humanity Project

Jeff Lamoreux, associate director of "Heart of Iowa Habitat for Humanity", has announced a new project that will begin in Stuart on Saturday, July 8th, and will last for five consecutive Saturdays. The organization is asking area churches to volunteer to help for one of each of the five Saturdays. The help needed is for hands-on carpentry skills, painters, general labor, clean-up, and food items for the day's work. This is a great opportunity to offer works of mercy to our neighbors. This particular project is in Stuart, however the Heart of Iowa group is always looking for projects in Guthrie County.

If you know of someone in need or you are interested in volunteering with a group of people from the parish, please contact the church office for further information.

How Your Heart of Iowa Habitat for Humanity is Organized

Each county has four Operating Committees:

Family Programs –

Recruits, interviews and recommends applicant families to the County Board for final approval. Supports families during and after construction activities.

Church and Volunteer Relations –

Recruits and coordinates volunteers on jobsites. Organizes the church community through "Circle of Twelve" congregation coordinators.

Construction –

Recruits and coordinates volunteer construction leaders to plan, organize and carry out the actual construction projects. Selects vendors and coordinates subcontractors.

Fund Development –

Creates, organizes and promotes an annual fundraising event (or events).

Summer Tips (cont'd from the front page)

- Check community calendars and local lists of events to find inexpensive or free activities for children. Write all possibilities on individual slips of brightly colored paper and put them in a "summer fun jar." When children have been especially cooperative with other family members, allow them to choose a slip of paper from the jar. Then, the family can enjoy an afternoon of fun activity together.

- Have your children make a list of elderly or shut-in neighbors in your area. Plan to share a meal, some of your time, or run errands for these neighbors. Explain to children that helping and sharing are important elements.

- Find time to relax and reflect on the simple joys of the summer. When you feel yourself becoming overwhelmed, take a break to get a better perspective on what needs to be done and what can be done.

If you find that it is becoming difficult to avoid being verbally or physically harsh with your children, STOP. Don't take out your anger on your kids. Instead, try the following: Take a deep breath and count to 20. Phone a friend. Take a walk outside, or use another form of exercise. Laugh. Even a comedy show on television will help relieve stress. Spend one hour doing something you really enjoy.
