FEAST OF CORPUS CHRISTI

Thursday, May 31 is the Feast of Corpus Christi (the Body of Christ). Following the 6:00 p.m. High Mass there will be an outdoor Eucharistic Procession to three altars for benediction. In case of inclement weather the procession will be held inside the church. Sunday, June 3 is the External Solemnity of Corpus Christi. As per the indult given in the USA on November 25, 1885 under Pope Leo XIII, the Mass of Corpus Christi with the Eucharistic Procession will be repeated following the 10:30 a.m. High Mass, but will be held indoors and without triple benediction.

PILGRIM IMAGE OF ST. PEREGRINE

In conjunction with the National Shrine of St. Peregrine at the Basilica of Our Lady of Sorrows in Chicago, Holy Innocents has a small pilgrim image of "the Cancer Saint" to travel to the homes of our parishioners who suffer from cancer or other serious life-threatening illnesses such as AIDS, their loved ones, caregivers and health care providers. If you would like to welcome this special image to your home for a week or more of prayer, please contact the parish office. Included with the image are prayer cards and leaflets as well as petition slips which you can mail to the Shrine in Chicago.

FIRST FRIDAY VIGIL

For the next 4 months on a trial basis the All-Night Vigil will end with benediction at 12 midnight. This change is due to a variety of reasons (lack of servers for the early morning Saturday Mass, the on-going problem of the church being used as a flophouse for the night with eating/drinking and a mess being left for the sacristan on Saturday morning, etc.) Over a year ago a proposal was made that order is to be maintained in the church throughout the night or the Vigil would be suspended all together. There was an improvement for a while but now it is back to where it was a year ago. This is no one's fault but the reality of being very near Times Square in the heart of the City of Manhattan. Sleeping/snoring, lounging, eating, drinking and talking are all disrespectful behaviors toward the Blessed Sacrament and is not to be tolerated under any circumstances. Hopefully the abbreviated Vigil will help in this.

WITH DEEP GRATITUDE

We appreciate the parishioner who donated the remaining $400 toward the Priest's cinctures, offered In Memory of Roy Joseph Mirro. May our good Lord reward you a hundredfold.

VOTIVE MASS OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT

On the seven days following the Feast of Corpus Christi, a 2nd class votive Mass of the Blessed Sacrament may be celebrated followed by a Eucharistic procession. This option will be done here at Holy Innocents on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday (June 4-6) at the 6:00 p.m. Mass. PLEASE NOTE WELL: for this week only, due to the Eucharistic procession, the Wednesday Novena in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help will be prayed in its abbreviated version at 5:50 p.m. and not after the Mass as is usually done.

MAY - Month of Our Lady

Some quotes from St. Josemaria Escriva on Our Lady:

“When we were little, we kept close to our mother in a dark alley or if dogs barked at us. Now, when we feel temptations of the flesh, we should run to the side of Our Mother in Heaven, by realizing how close she is to us, and by means of aspirations. She will defend us and lead us to the light.”

“So your strength is failing you? Why don’t you tell your Mother about it? ... Mother! Call her with a loud voice. She is listening to you; she sees you in danger, perhaps, and she—your holy mother Mary—offers you, along with the grace of her son, the refuge of her arms, the tenderness of her embrace ... and you will find yourself with added strength for the new battle.”

“Have confidence. Return. Invoke Our Lady and you’ll be faithful.”

“Before, by yourself, you couldn’t. Now, you’ve turned to Our Lady, and with her, how easy!”

“The holy Virgin Mary, Mother of Fair Love, will bring relief to your heart if you turn to her with confidence.”

VISITATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY — May 31

“We walk in haste towards the mountains, to a town of the tribe of Judah (Luke 1:39). We arrive. —It is the house where John the Baptist is to be born. —Elizabeth gratefully hails the Mother of her Redeemer: Blessed art thou amongst women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb! —How have I deserved to be thus visited by the Mother of my Lord? (Luke 1:42-43)

“The unborn Baptist quivers... (Luke 1:41) —Mary’s humility pours forth in the Magnificat... —And you and I, who are proud —who were proud—, promise to be humble.”

ST. JOAN OF ARC - May 30

Joan of Arc was born on January 6, 1412 in Domremy, near the province of Lorraine. At a very early age, she was said to have heard the voices of St. Michael, St. Catherine, and St. Margaret.

At first the messages were personal and general, but when she was 13-years-old, she was in her father's garden and had visions of Saint Michael, Saint Catherine, and Saint Margaret, each of whom told her to drive the English from French territory. They also asked that she bring the Dauphin to Reims for his coronation.

Joan arrived at Orléans on April 29, 1429, where Jean d'Orléans, the acting head of the ducal family of Orléans, ensured she was excluded from war councils and kept ignorant of battles. Following their march to Troyes, Joan and the French military made its way to Paris, where politicians failed to secure Duke Philip of Burgundy's agreement to a truce. Joan was present at the following battles and suffered a leg wound from a crossbow bolt. Despite one failed mission - taking La-Charité-sur-Loire" - Joan and her family were ennobled by Charles VII in reward of her actions on the battlefield.

A truce with England came following Joan's ennoblement but was quickly broken. When Joan traveled to Compiègne to help defend against an English and Burgundian siege, she was captured by Burgundian troops and held for a ransom of 10,000 livres tournois. There were several attempts to free her and Joan made many escape attempts, including jumping from her 70-foot (21m) tower, landing on the soft earth of a dry moat, but to no avail. She was eventually sold to the English for 10,000 gold coins and was then tried as a heretic and witch in a trial that violated the legal process of the time.

Clerical notary Nicolas Bailly, who was responsible to collect testimony against Joan, was unable to find any evidence against her. Without evidence, the courts lacked grounds to initiate trial but one was opened anyway. They denied Joan the right to a legal advisor and filled the tribunal with pro-English clergy rather than meeting the medieval Church's requirement to balance the group with impartial clerics.

When the first public examination opened, Joan pointed out that the partisans were against her and she asked for "ecclesiastics of the French side" to provide balance, but her request was denied. Joan was held in a secular prison guarded by English soldiers, instead of being in an ecclesiastical prison with nuns as her guards per Inquisitorial guidelines. When Joan appealed to the Council of Basel and the Pope to be placed in a proper prison, Bishop Cauchon denied her request, which would have stopped his proceeding.

While imprisoned, Joan wore military clothing so she could tie her clothing together, making it harder to be raped. There was no protection in a dress, and a few days after she started wearing one she told a tribunal member that "a great English lord had entered her prison and tried to take her by force." Following the attempted rape, Joan returned to wearing male clothing as a precaution and to raise her defenses against molestation.

When she returned to male clothing, she was given another count of hersy for cross-dressing, though it was later disputed by the inquisitor presiding over court appeals after the war. He found that cross-dressing should be evaluated based on context, including the use of clothing as protection against rape if it offered protection.

Despite the lack of incriminating evidence, Joan was condemned and sentenced to die in 1431.

Eyewitness accounts of Joan's execution by burning on May 30, 1431 describe how she was tied to a tall pillar at the Vieux-Marché in Rouen. She asked Fr. Martin Ladvenu and Fr. Isambart de la Pierre to hold a crucifix before her and an English soldier made a small cross she put in the front of her dress. After she died, the English raked the coals to expose her body so no one could spread rumors of her escaping alive, then they burned her body two more times to reduce it to ashes so no one could collect relics. After burning her body to ash, the English threw her remains into the Seine River and the executioner, Geoffroy Thérage, later said he "... greatly feared to be damned."

A posthumous retrial opened following the end of the war. Pope Callixtus III authorized the proceeding, which has also been called the "nullification trial," after Inquisitor-General Jean Bréhal and Joan's mother Isabelle Romée requested it.

The trial was meant to determine if Joan's condemnation was justly handled, and of course at the end of the investigation Joan received a formal appeal in November 1455 and the appellate court declared Joan innocent on July 7 1456.

On May 16, 1920, Pope Benedict XV canonized her and she is patroness of soldiers and of France.

Often children who have died before birth have no grave or headstone, and sometimes not even a name. At The Church of The Holy Innocents, we invite you to name your child(ren) and to have the opportunity to have your baby's name inscribed in our "BOOK OF LIFE". Here, a candle is always lit in their memory. All day long people stop to pray. On the first Monday of every month, our 12:15pm Mass is celebrated in honor of these children and for the comfort of their families. We pray that you will find peace in knowing that your child(ren) will be remembered at the Shrine and honored by all who pray here.

We will inscribe the names of babies who have died before and at birth in our Book of Life, and as always, we invite you to visit the Shrine if you are in New York City.
