

Dear Parents:

Tomorrow is an E-Learning day and students will not report to school. Please keep in mind that this is our first year using E-Learning, so we are still striving to improve this process. We have met as a staff and continue to go over the expectations for E-Learning days and I believe we will continue to improve so we can make these days as effective as possible. The objectives for the E-Learning Days are to maintain work continuity between traditional and nontraditional educational opportunities for students and to provide professional development for our staff. E-Learning will help our students be better prepared to become successful students in a knowledge-based society through 21st century learning methods. We thank you for your patience and support!

God Bless,
Mr. Detzel

Character Council of Greater Cincinnati “Kindness Matters Challenge” – The Character Council of Greater Cincinnati is sponsoring a “Kindness Matters Challenge”. Each week they pick a different character quality and post a challenge for you to complete. The challenges are very short and fun things to do. This week’s character quality is gratefulness and the challenge is to write a Thank You Note to someone. It is a great way to show kindness to others and to develop Christ-like qualities. If you are interested, visit www.CharacterCincinnati.org/kcc2020 to get started.

+ Pre-Reading Background – Knowing something about the topic or setting makes a tougher book easier to comprehend. If your youngster is reading a novel set in China, they could talk to someone who has been there or look up the country online (try a children’s site like kids.nationalgeographic.com).
