PASTOR'S COMMENTS

Borrowed from Paul Turner

Strapped for Cash

Every pastor eventually asks for contributions, and Saint Paul was no exception. He had lived several years in Corinth, a city with an advantageous location, right on the isthmus that joined the upper and lower parts of Greece. There Paul founded a Christian community. Later, he sent letters to help the people grow in faith. He criticized the factions that were forming. He explained how to celebrate the Eucharist.

And he asked for money. Other Christian communities were not as well off as the Corinthians. It wasn't fair. The first Christians shared what they owned within these small communities. Paul saw a bigger picture. Just as people cared for one another within these groups, they should share among the groups as well.

"As a matter of equality," Paul appealed to the Corinthians, "your abundance at the present time should supply their needs." Paul had them imagine the tables reversed: "Their abundance may also supply your needs." Paul envisions a Church where those who had much "did not have more," and those who had little "did not have less."

From time to time we are asked to support the needy in other places. They may be within our own diocese, the nation, or the world. When we have the opportunity to share from our abundance, we are fulfilling a command that goes all the way back to Paul. "As you excel in every respect, may you excel in this gracious act also."

We do not understand the Cross if we do not understand sin. If we deny there is sin, the Cross loses its meaning. That is why it is difficult in our time to speak about the Cross. One no longer knows what sin is.

FOR PEOPLE ALWAYS IN A HURRY

God can work through you better when you are not always hurrying. Go very slowly, very quietly, from one duty to the next, taking time to rest and pray between. Do not be too busy. Take everything in order.

Venture often into the rest of God and you will find peace. All work that results from resting with God is good work.

Claim the power to work miracles in human lives. Know that you can do many things through God's Power.

Know that you can do good things through God who rests you and gives you strength. Turn regularly to rest and prayer.

Around The Corner

Around the corner I have a friend,
In this great city that has no end,
Yet the days go by and weeks rush on,
And before I know it, a year is gone.

And I never see my old friends face,
For life is a swift and terrible race,
He knows I like him just as well,
As in the days when I rang his bell.

And he rang mine but we were younger then,
And now we are busy, tired men.
Tired of playing a foolish game,
Tired of trying to make a name.

"Tomorrow" I say! "I will call on Jim
Just to show that I'm thinking of him",
But tomorrow comes and tomorrow goes,
And distance between us grows and grows.

Around the corner, yet miles away,
"Here's a telegram sir," "Jim died today."
And that's what we get and deserve in the end.
Around the corner, a vanished friend.
