Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

August 25, 2019

Turn your ear, O Lord, and answer me!

Borrowed from Paul Turner

Inviting All People

The greatest music ever written appeals to people of every culture. People who do not speak a common language can all enjoy the same music. If the music is well written, it will touch the spirit of any human.

The same can be said of architecture, sculpture, and painting. People of all cultures connect with the same treasures. This is also true of many sports like soccer and athletic achievements like running a marathon.

It is also true of the gospel. The message of Jesus Christ appeals to believers all over the world because it proclaims the news that all can be saved.

In the prophecy of Isaiah, God promised to gather together people of every language. Representatives from Israel would go to foreign nations and distant coastlands. Foreigners would hear about God and would come back to Jerusalem to make an offering there. New leaders would be raised up from these foreigners. It is a bold vision proclaiming the universality of God's intent.

In both the Old and the New Testament, it slowly became evident that God intended to invite all people of all nations into a holy relationship.

How do you help God's work? Do you know the names of people at church? Do you invite your neighbors and friends? Do you introduce yourself to newcomers? Anyone can understand the Christian message, but first it must be heard.

God Is Always Waiting for Us

God was, and is, always waiting. There is never a time when he is not longing for us to come to him. The invitation is ever-present. The human heart was made for God and will only be fully satisfied when in union with him. How correct Saint Augustine was when he said that our hearts are restless until they rest in God. If we are quiet and still, we can feel his tugging; we can detect his summons. He is always calling us to more and wanting to draw us to himself. Our very life is a pilgrimage, always being enticed further, being brought closer to Christ. At times our lives are too chaotic for us to hear God's invitation, but if you are able to get away from the madness and be still, you can hear it; you can sense it. It is in the quiet that we understand why we are walking. It is in the stillness that we more fully understand what or whom we are walking toward.

Community Outreach Clothing Drive

The community shelters and the local Operation Stand Down facility in Johnston have requested CLEAN, used clothing for infants to adults. If you have summer or fall clothes you no longer want or have outgrown, please consider donating them.. You can bag them and drop them off at church. (Please mark the bags either Carolyn Hansen or Marge Catanzaro)

If you are in The Dollar Store, pick up a TRAVEL/TRIAL size personal hygiene item such as a deodorant, toothpaste, sun screen, shaving cream, etc.and leave it in the vestry. We want to collect these trial size items for a future project. Also, if you travel and collect these trial size moisturizers, hand cream, etc but don't use them, drop them off too.

Knitters, Crocheters, Sewers

To those who have already donated prayer shawls, blankets, hats, gloves and scarves, thank you. Please continue making them so that we can build up an inventory for the colder months. As always drop off your handcrafted items at church. If you have any questions, need patterns, dimensions or would like a prayer shawl, please call Carolyn 231-5864

ADULT FORMATION CLASSES

Our Adult Formation and sacramental preparation program provides a comprehensive and systematic presentation and exploration of the core elements of our Catholic faith.
