PALM SUNDAY OF THE PASSION OF THE LORD

Palm Sunday

It Was Nine O'clock In The Morning When They Crucified Him

Palm of Passion Sunday commemorates our Lord's entrance into Jerusalem, the place of his passion and death, but also of his resurrection. Jesus loves the city very much, but Jerusalem will put him to death.

As he enters the city on a donkey, the crowds greet and welcome him as a king. But this same crowd will taunt and despise him as he will hang on the cross. Today, as we, too, wave our palms to welcome Christ into our lives, hopefully we remember what his entrance to Jerusalem means for us: that he bravely faces the prospect of a violent death for love of us, for our sake.

Once Jesus enters Jerusalem, the power of darkness represented by the angry and jealous religious authorities begins to step up its resolve to incriminate and destroy him. And they manage to produce supposed witnesses that Jesus is out not only to undermine the Jewish religion and blaspheme God by making himself equal to God, but also to subvert the nation by challenging the imperial rule. Surprisingly, Jesus says nothing to defend himself. He is expected to muster an excellent self-defense in the same way that he wowed the crowd with his authoritative teachings as he went around Galilee and Judea. He appears, in Isaiah's description, "like a lamb led to slaughter or a sheep silent before shearers, he did not open his mouth" (Is 53:7).

Actually, it is not that his is completely helpless. After all, he proved himself innocent of the crimes of which he was accused. Pilate could really have saved him, he (Pilate) having the authority to do so, based on his findings of innocence. But, alas, we have a weakling, a crowd-pleaser, and an indecisive official in Pilate. Ironically, his symbolic washing of hands also sealed that fate of Jesus.

As we relive, then, the great and loving act of Jesus to enter Jerusalem and undergo his passion, let us remember also those who, like him, continue to suffer every day—from violence, hatred, discrimination, injustice, and dehumanization. And let us pray that may we be able to carry our "crosses" daily, following Jesus who gave his life out of his great, great love for us.
